Any person appointed under this section to act for the Chairman or any other officer shall while so acting, have all the powers and be liable to all the restrictions, limitations, and provisions, which the Chairman or other officer for whom he may be appointed to act would, under this Act, have or be liable to.

Allowances during absence on leave.

41. In any case in which leave of absence shall be granted under the last preceding section, the Commissioners may in meeting, by a resolution in favour of which not less than two-thirds of the Commissioners present at the meeting shall have voted, with the sanction of the Local Government, out of the Municipal Fund, pay to the Chairman or other officer aforesaid such allowance during absence on leave as shall to them seem proper.

Commissioners may make rules for pensions and gratuities to their officers and servants.

42. The Commissioners may in meeting, by a resolution in favour of which not less than two-thirds of the Commissioners present at such meeting shall have voted, from time to time make rules for pensions and gratuities to be granted, and to be paid out of the Municipal Fund, their officers and servants, and may repeal, alter, or add to such rules. No rule, and no repeal, or alteration of, or addition to, any rule, shall have effect until the same has been confirmed by the Local Government and published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The Commissioners may in meeting, from time to time, in accordance with such rules for the time being in force, grant such pensions or gratuities to any of their officers or servants as to the Commissioners may seem fit.

Officers, &c., not to be interested in contracts made with the Commissioners.

43. No Chairman or Vice-Chairman, or other officer or servant of the Commissioners, shall be interested directly, or indirectly, in any contract made with the Commissioners, and if any such person be so interested, he shall become incapable of continuing in office or in employment as such Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or other officer or servant, and shall forfeit and pay the sum of five hundred rupees, which may be recovered by suit brought by or on behalf of the Commissioners:

Provided that no person shall, by reason of being a shareholder in, or a member of, any incorporated or registered company, be deemed interested in any contract entered into between such company and the Commissioners.

Penalty on officers, &c., taking unauthorized fees.

44. If any person employed under this Act (not being a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code) shall accept or obtain, or agree to accept or attempt to obtain, from any person, for himself or for any other person, any gratification whatever, other than legal remuneration, as a reward for doing, or forbearing to do, any official act; or for showing or forbearing to show, in the exercise of his official functions, favour or disfavour to any person, or for rendering or attempting to render any service or disservice to any person, with the Commissioners or with any public servant, or with the Government as such, he shall be punished with imprisonment, either simple or rigorous, as provided in section 53 of extend to three years, or with a fine not exceeding five thousand rupees, or with both.

PART IV.—Of the mode of transacting business and entering into Contracts.

Commissioners to provide an office and keep a book for entry of complaints.

45. The Commissioners shall provide and keep an office within the limits of the municipality, and shall at such office, and during all days of business keep open a book in which shall be entered all reasonable complaints made, orally or by letter, by any inhabitant, or the owner or occupier of any house or land within the limits of the municipality, of any matter cognizable by the Commissioners; and the proper officer of the Commissioners shall forthwith enquire into the truth of all such complaints, and report thereon to the Commissioners; and such report shall be entered in the said book, and such book shall be open, at all reasonable times, to any inhabitant, or owner or occupier of any house or land within the limits of the municipality.

Time for holding quarterly meetings.

46. There shall be four quarterly meetings in every year, at which the Commissioners shall meet for the transaction of general business.

The quarterly meeting shall be held in the months of April, July, October, and January, or in any month to which the quarterly meetings first called for the months of April, July, October and January may be adjourned.

Business at ordinary and quarterly meetings.

47. The Commissioners shall, from time to time, as occasion may require at a special general meeting to be convened for that purpose, or at some adjournment thereof, fix and determine the kind of business that may be transacted at the said quarterly meetings: and no business, save such kind of business, shall be transacted at such meetings:

But the Chairman may postpone the discussion of any question that may be raised at any such meeting, and refer the determination thereof to a special general meeting to be convened within fourteen days thereafter.

Special general meetings may be called.

48. The Chairman or, in his absence, the Vice-Chairman, may, whenever he thinks fit, and shall, upon a requisition made in writing by any ten Commissioners, call a special general meeting of the Commissioners.

Previous to any such meeting, at least five days' clear notice, specifying the time and place of such intended meeting, and the purpose for which it is to be held, shall be given by advertisement in at least two of the daily newspapers published in Calcutta.

What business to be transacted at special general meetings.

49. No business shall be brought before, or transacted at, any special general meeting other than the business specified in the notice given under the last preceding section:

Provided that any Commissioner may submit to a special general meeting any resolution beyond the matters mentioned in the notice given of such meeting, if he shall have given not less

All questions to be decided at meetings by majority of vote.

50. All acts authorized or required to be done by the Commissioners, and all questions which may come before them for decision, shall, save as is herein otherwise provided, be done, and decided by, a majority of the Commissioners voting at the meeting before which the matter may be brought.

Who to preside at meetings.

51. The Chairman and Vice-Chairman shall attend all meetings of the Commissioners held under this Act, unless prevented by sickness or other reasonable cause; and the Chairman or, in his absence, the Vice-Chairman shall preside at every such meeting and shall have a second or casting vote in all cases of equality of votes.

In the absence of both the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, the Commissioners present at any meeting shall choose some one of their number to preside, who shall, in case of equality of votes, have a second or casting vote.

The President of any meeting at which a quorum of the Commissioners shall be present, may, with the consent of the meeting, adjourn the meeting from time to time, and from place to place; but no business shall be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which such adjournment took place.

What shall constitute quorum.

52. No business shall be transacted at any meeting unless a quorum of eighteen Commissioners be present at such meeting.

Provided that, if at any meeting there shall not be a sufficient number of Commissioners present to form a quorum as above mentioned, the President (whether he be the Chairman or not) shall adjourn the meeting to such convenient time and place as he shall think fit; and the business which should have been brought before the original meeting, had there been a quorum present, shall be brought before and disposed of by the adjourned meeting in the usual manner, whether there be a quorum present at such adjourned meeting or not:

Provided also that no business shall be brought before an adjourned meeting, unless there are at least ten Commissioners present at such adjourned meeting.

Minutes of proceedings of minutes to be kept, and to be open for inspection.

53. Minutes of the proceedings of all meetings shall be drawn up and fairly entered in a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall be signed by the President after each meeting; and minutes of each meeting shall be laid on the table at the next subsequent meeting, and the said minutes shall, at all reasonable times, be open at the office of the Commissioners to the inspection of any Commissioner without charge, and of any other person on payment of a fee of eight annas.

Declaration by President that a resolution has been carried.

54 At any special general or quarterly meeting, unless a poll be demanded by at least five Commissioners, a declaration by the President that a resolution has been carried, and an entry to that effect in the book portion of the votes recorded in favour of or against such resolution.

Poll how to be taken.

55. If a poll be demanded as in the last preceding section mentioned the votes of all the Commissioners present who desire to vote shall be taken under the direction of the President, and the result of such poll shall be deemed to be the resolution of the Commissioners at such meeting.

Chairman or Vice-Chairman to attend daily for the transaction of business and to exercise the powers of the Commissioners.

56. The Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall, except upon such holidays as shall be allowed by the Government, and unless prevented by sickness or other reasonable cause, attend daily at the office of the Commissioners for the transaction of business connected with or arising under this Act, and when so attending shall have all the powers vested by this Act in the Commissioners; and they may respectively exercise the like powers at all times in carrying out the orders of the Commissioners, or in executing any work sanctioned by them, and generally in the management of the business of the municipality:

Provided that no Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall act in opposition to, or in contravention of, any order passed by the Commissioners at a meeting or of any vote of the Town Council or of a Committee appointed under section 60 until the matter has been brought before the Commissioners in meeting, or exercise any power which by this Act is directed to be exercised only by the Commissioners in meeting.

Mode of contracting by, and on behalf of the Commissioners.

57. The Commissioners may enter into and perform all such contracts as may be necessary for carrying this Act into effect.

Every contract made on behalf of the Commissioners in respect of any sum exceeding one thousand rupees, or in respect of any property exceeding one thousand rupees in value, shall be in writing, and signed by the Chairman (or, in his absence, by the Vice-Chairman) and two other Commissioners, and shall be sealed with the seal of the Commissioners, and no such contract, unless made by the Commissioners in meeting other than an ordinary meeting shall be concluded without inviting tenders thereon and without the approval of a Committee of the Commissioners.

Unless so executed, it shall not be binding on the Commissioners.

The Commissioners may compound with any contractor or other person in respect of any penalty or damages incurred by reason of the non-performance of any contract entered into as aforesaid, whether such penalty be mentioned in any such contract or otherwise, for such sums of money or other recompense as to the Commissioners may seem proper.

Election and appointment of Town Council.

58. As soon as may be, and not later than 1st June in each year, the Commissioners shall proceed to appoint a Town Council for the year, the members of which shall hold office till the election and appointment

The 25 wards shall be divided into 5 groups—

Wards	Nos.	1	to	4.
,,	,,	10	,,	14.
,,	,,	20	,,	25.

The Commissioners elected for each of these groups shall elect two of their number to be members of the Town Council. If the elected Commissioners of any group fail to elect as aforesaid before the 1st May in any year, the Commissioners in meeting shall proceed to elect so many Commissioners not already elected members of the Town Council as are necessary to complete the number of the Council to be elected.

As soon as practicable after the election of ten Town Councillors, the Lieutenant-Governor shall appoint five of the Commissioners to be Town Councillors to complete the number of 15.

Duties of Town Council.

59. The Town Council shall ordinarily meet once a week for the transaction of business. It shall be the Budget and Finance Committee of the Corporation, and shall also transact such other business as may be expressly referred to it by the Corporation, or as may not be referred to any other general or special committee.

A fee of Rs. 20 shall be paid to each member of the Town Council for each attendance at a meeting of the Council.

The proceedings of the Town Council shall be submitted to the Commissioners in meeting, and the Town Council shall be bound by any resolution passed by the Commissioners in meeting:

Provided that when the Chairman and the majority of the Town Council are in accord, and inconvenience is likely to result from delay, it shall not be necessary before action is taken to wait for the confirmation of the Commissioners in meeting, but if the Commissioners in meeting fail to confirm the action of the Town Council, such steps shall be taken to carry out the orders of the Commissioners as may still be practicable.

The Chairman and Vice-Chairman shall be ex-officio members of the Town Council, and the Chairman, or, in his absence, the Vice-Chairman shall preside at its meetings, but no fee shall be paid to either of these officers for their attendance.

Appointments of general and special committees.

60. The Commissioners in meeting may, from time to time, appoint from among the Commissioners such other Committees either general or special, and consisting of so many members as they may think fit for the purpose of enquiring into and reporting upon any matter connected with the conservancy or improvement of the municipality not assigned by this Act, or by the vote of the Commissioners in meeting to, the Town Council, or for the purpose of advising or aiding the Chairman or Vice-Chairman in the discharge of any portion of the duties exerciseable by them under section fifty-six, which in the discretion of the Commissioners would be better regulated or managed with the aid of such Committee.

Provided that the Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall be a member of such Committee.

[illegible] proceedings of every such Committee and the Committee shall be bound by such order as may be passed therein, provided that when the Chairman and the majority of the Committee are in accord, and when inconvenience is likely to result from delay, it shall not be necessary before taking action to wait for the confirmation of the Commissioners in meeting, but if the Commissioners in meeting fail to confirm the action of the Committee, such steps shall be taken to carry out the orders of the Commissioners as may still be practicable:

Provided that if the Commissioners in meeting when appointing a Committee expressly prohibit any action being taken until the decision of the Committee has been confirmed in general meeting, no action shall under any circumstances be taken prior to such confirmation.

Power of Committees to appoint Sub-Committees.

62. The Town Council or any other Committee may appoint such Sub-Committees as they may think fit, and make over to them such duties and functions as they may deem proper.

Power to frame rules for conduct of business.

63. The Commissioners in meeting may frame rules not inconsistent with this Act for the conduct of business at special general or quarterly meetings, and also for the conduct of business at meetings of the Town Council or at meetings of other Committees.

PART V.—Of the Estimates of Income, Expenditure, and Audit.

A budget or estimate of income and expenditure to be submitted annually to the Commissioners.

64. At a special general meeting to be held in the month of February in each year, the Chairman shall lay before the Commissioners a budget or estimate, prepared by him, of the income and expenditure of the Commissioners for the year commencing on the first day of April then next succeeding, in such detail and form as the Commissioners shall from time to time, by order passed at a general meeting direct.

Such budget shall be completed and printed, and a copy thereof, as far as may be practicable, sent by post or otherwise to each of the Commissioners resident within twenty miles of Government House, at least seven days prior to the meeting before which the budget is to be laid.

Budget of expenditure.

65. The budget shall show what expenditure it is proposed to incur during the period to which it relates, and the manner in which it is proposed to meet such expenditure:

Provided that nothing contained in this section shall preclude the Town Council from sanctioning expenditure not provided for in the budget.

66. Such budget shall be referred to the Town Council for consideration with such instructions as the Commissioners in meeting may think fit to pass when making such reference. The Town Council shall consider such budget, modify it at it discretion, and report upon it in Accounts to be audited and examined.

67. The accounts of the receipts and expenditure of the Commissioners shall be audited and examined at least once in every year at such time and by such auditors as shall, from time to time, be appointed by the Local Government.

Powers of auditors.

68. For the purposes of any audit and examination of accounts under this Act, the auditors may, by summons in writing, require the production before them of all books, deeds, contracts, accounts, vouchers, and all other documents and papers which they may deem necessary, and may require any person holding or accountable for any such books, deeds, contracts, accounts, vouchers, documents, or papers, to appear before them at any such audit and examination, or adjournment thereof, and to make and sign a declaration with respect to the same.

Penalty.

69. If any such person neglect or refuse to make or sign such declaration, or to produce any such books, deeds, contracts, accounts, vouchers, documents, or papers, or to make or sign such declaration, he shall be liable, for every neglect or refusal, to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and to a further fine not exceeding seventy rupees for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

Remuneration of auditors.

70. All auditors acting under this Act shall, in respect of each audit, be paid out of the Municipal Fund such reasonable remuneration as the Commissioners in meeting shall from time to time determine.

Ten days' notice of audit to be given.

71. Before each audit and examination of accounts, the Commissioners shall give ten days' notice of the time and place at which the same will be made by advertisement in at least two of the daily newspapers published in Calcutta; and a copy of the accounts to be audited and examined shall be deposited in the office of the Commissioners and be open during office hours thereat to the inspection of all persons interested for seven days before the audit and examination, and all such persons shall be at liberty to take copies of, or extracts from, the same, without the payment of any fee, and within fourteen days after the audit and examination shall have been completed, the auditors shall report upon the accounts audited and examined, and shall deliver such report to the Commissioners at a meeting, who shall cause the same to be deposited in the office of the Commissioners, and to be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Passing of budget and fixing of rates.

72. At a special general meeting to be held in the month of March in each year, the Commissioners shall consider the budget as modified by the Town Council, and shall pass it subject to such further modifications or additions as may be thought fit. The Com-be altered before the special general meeting held in the next succeeding month of March, except by a resolution of the Commissioners in special general meeting.

CHAPTER III.

OF TAXES.

PART I.—Of the Tax on Carriages and Animals.

Tax on carriages and animals.

73. A tax at a rate not exceeding the rates specified in the second schedule shall be imposed upon all carriages and animals kept within the limits of the municipality, and shall be payable in advance. But it shall not be imposed on—

(a) animals belonging to officers doing regimental duty at the Presidency, at the rate of one animal for each Officer;

(b) animals exempt from any municipal tax under section 25 of the Indian Volunteers' Act, 1869;

(c) carriages or animals belonging to the Government or to the Commissioners;

(d) carriages, the wheels of which do not exceed twenty-four inches in diameter;

(e) animals under eleven hands in height;

(f) carriages kept for sale by bonâ fide dealers in such carriages and not used for any other purpose;

(g) animals used by, or in, any cavalry regiment, or by the Police Force.

Owners of carriages, &c., to take out license.

74. The person in possession of every carriage or animal kept within the town shall, on or before the first day of April and the first day of October in each year, forward to the office of the Commissioners a statement in writing signed by him, containing a description of the carriages and animals in his possession liable to the tax.

Such person shall at the same time pay to the Commissioners such sum as shall be payable by him for the half-year commencing on the first day of April or October (as the case may be) for the carriages and animals specified in such statement, according to the rates given in the second schedule.

Any person becoming possessed between the first day of April and the first day of October, or between the first day of October and the first day of April, of any carriage or animal so kept shall, within a week of becoming so possessed, send to the office of the Commissioners a similar statement, together with the amount payable for the whole of the then current half-year, according to the rates specified in the second schedule.

The Commissioners may, if they are satisfied that any such carriage or animal has been kept for only a portion of the then current half-year, remit the whole, or such portion thereof as

On payment of tax, Commissioners to grant license.

75. Whenever any person shall pay to the Commissioners the amount of the tax which, under the two last preceding sections, shall be payable by him in respect of all carriages and animals kept within the town, the Commissioners shall grant to such person a license to keep within the town such carriages and animals during the current half-year ending upon the first day of April or the first day of October which shall occur next after the grant of such license, and no longer.

Penalty.

76. Whoever keeps or is in possession of any carriage or animal without the license required by the two last preceding sections shall be liable to a fine not exceeding three times the amount payable by him in respect of such license, exclusive of the amount so payable.

Commissioners may compound for carriages with livery stable-keepers and others.

77. The Commissioners, at their discretion, may compound, for any period not exceeding one year, with livery stable-keepers and other persons keeping carriages for hire, or animals for sale or hire, for a certain sum to be paid for the carriages or animals so kept by such persons in lieu of the taxes specified in the second schedule.

Penalty.

78. Whoever, having compounded for the payment of a certain sum under the last preceding section, refuses to pay such sum, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding three times the amount payable by him in respect of such composition, exclusive of the amount so payable.

Power to compel production of the books of livery stable-keepers.

79. The Commissioners may, by a notice in writing under their common seal, require any person who shall carry on the trade or business of a livery stable-keeper to produce, for the inspection of the Commissioners, or of any officer authorized by them in that behalf, all books and accounts relating to the business of a livery stable-keeper carried on by such person.

Power to inspect stable, &c., and to summon persons liable to the payment of the tax.

80. The Commissioners, or any person authorized by them in that behalf, may, at any time between sunrise and sunset, enter and inspect any stable or coach-house, or any place wherein they may have reason to believe that there is any carriage or animal liable to taxation; and the Commissioners may summon any person whom they have reason to believe to be liable to the payment of any tax under sections seventy-three and seventy-four or any servant of such person, and may examine such person or servant as to the number and description of the horses and carriages in respect of which such person is liable to be taxed.

Penalty.

81. Whoever neglects or refuses to comply with a notice served under section seventy-nine, and whoever hinders or obstructs the Commissioners or any person appointed by them from, or in entering or inspecting any stable coach-house, or place in the manner provided in the last preceding section, shall be liable a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

at the office of the Commissioners and to be open to the inspection of any person who shall apply for leave to inspect the same, a list of the persons to whom during the then current period of six months a license has been granted under section seventy-five, and of the carriages and animals in respect of which the same has been granted.

PART II.—Of the tax on Profession, Trades, and Callings.

Persons exercising certain professions, trades, and callings in the town, to take out a license.

83. Every person who shall within the town exercise any of the professions, trades, or callings specified in the third schedule shall yearly take out a license, and shall pay for the same such sum as in the third schedule mentioned.

The Commissioners may in their discretion remit any portion of the sum so payable if they are satisfied that any such person has exercised any such profession, trade, or calling for a portion of the year only.

License to be granted by Commissioners and to specify particulars.

84. The license mentioned in the last preceding section shall be granted by the Commissioners, or by some person authorized by them in that behalf, and shall specify—the date of the grant thereof, the name of the person to whom the license is granted, the profession, trade, or calling for which the license is granted, and the sum paid for such license.

Such license shall have effect and continue in force from the commencement of the year in which it is granted until the thirty-first day of December next after the day of the granting thereof, and no longer.

Penalty for exercising trade or profession without a license.

85. Whoever exercises any trade, profession, or calling without the license required by section eighty-three shall be liable to a fine not exceeding three times the amount payable by him in respect of such license, and unless the amount so payable shall have been paid before conviction, not being less than such amount. And such fine shall, when levied, be taken in full satisfaction of the demand on account of such license.

Chairman or Vice-Chairman to classify all persons required by this Act to be licensed.

86. The Chairman, or some other officer authorized by him in that behalf, shall determine under which of the classes mentioned in the third schedule every person to whom a license may be granted shall be assessed, and the Chairman may in his discretion remit the payment of license-tax either in whole or in part to any person classified under clauses 5 or 6 of the third schedule :

Provided that nothing in this section shall relieve any person who is bound to take out a license from his liability to do so, after ascertainment of the amount at which he should be assessed as determined in the last preceding section, appeal against such assessment by delivering at the office of the Commissioners an application in writing stating the grounds of appeal; and such appeal shall be heard and determined by not less than three Commissioners other than Executive Officers of the Commissioners.

No such appeal shall be heard unless the amount of the license assessed as aforesaid has been deposited with the Commissioners.

If no appeal be made within the time limited as aforesaid, the decision of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall be final.

Commissioners may require list of persons in any house.

88. The Commissioners may, by a notice in writing under their common seal, require the occupier of any house to forward to them a list in writing signed by him of the names of all persons residing in such house, and of their respective professions, trades, and occupations.

Penalty.

89. Whoever, being the occupier of any house, fails to forward such list when required to do so under the last preceding section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

Chairman to prepare a list of all persons required by this Act to be licensed.

90. As soon as may be after the first day of April in every year, the Chairman shall prepare a list of the persons licensed under sections eighty-three and eighty-four which shall state—the profession, trade, or calling of every such person therein named, the class under which he is assessed, and the sum paid by him in respect of his license, and such list shall be kept in the office of the Commissioners and be open to public inspection at all reasonable times.

PART III.—Of the Registration of Carts.

Registry and numbering of carts.

91. Every cart kept or used within the limits of the municipalities of Calcutta and Howrah shall be registered in the office of the Commissioners with the name and residence of the owner, and shall have affixed thereto the number of such registration in such manner as the Commissioners shall direct.

Penalties.

92. Whoever keeps or is in possession of a cart not duly registered as required by the last preceding section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding three times the amount payable by him in respect of such registration, exclusive of the amount so payable; and whoever, being the owner or driver of any cart, shall fail to affix the registration number required by the last preceding section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five rupees.

Fee for registration.

93 The registration of carts under the last preceding section shall be made and the number

The Commissioners may in their discretion remit any portion of the fee so payable if they are satisfied that the cart hereinbefore required to be registered has been kept or used, as in the last preceding section mentioned, for a portion of the half-year only.

When any registered cart is transferred within any half-year, it shall be registered anew in the name of the person to whom it has been transferred; and a fee of four annas shall be paid for every such last-mentioned registration.

The total net proceeds of the fees half-yearly received by the Commissioners for the registration of carts shall be divided between the Municipalities of Calcutta and Howrah, and such other Municipalities adjacent to Calcutta or Howrah as the Lieutenant-Governor shall think entitled to a share in such receipts in such proportion as the Lieutenant-Governor may from time to time determine.

Last three sections not to apply to certain carts.

94. The three last preceding sections shall not apply to carts—

(a) which are the property of the Government;

(b) which are the property of the Commissioners of Calcutta or Howrah, or of any adjacent Municipalities;

(c) or which are kept at any place more than eight miles distant from Government House and are only temporarily and casually used within the Municipality of Calcutta and Howrah.

On failure to register, the Commissioners may seize and sell cart and animals.

95. If any person owns or keeps any cart hereinbefore required to be registered, without having caused the same to be registered, the Commissioners, or any officer authorized by them in that behalf, may seize such cart (provided the same be not employed at the time of the seizure in the conveyance of passengers or goods), together with the animals or cattle drawing the same, and may detain them.

And all Police Officers shall, on the application of the Commissioners or their officers, as aforesaid, seize and detain any such cart, animals, or cattle.

If the cart, animals, or cattle so seized be not claimed within ten days, they may be sold by auction by order of the Justice of the Peace, or Magistrate, and the proceds of such sale may be applied to the expenses incurred on account of the seizure, detention, and sale; and the surplus (if any), if not claimed within a further period of twenty days, shall be paid to the Municipal Fund of Calcutta.

PART IV.—Of the Storage of Petroleum.

Levy of tax on Petroleum.

96. The Commissioners may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, levy a tax not exceeding four annas a case on all petroleum brought within the limits of Calcutta for storage or consumption within such limits.

CHAPTER IV.

OF RATES.

PART I.—Of imposing the rates.

... shall, as provided in ... which shall be calculated on the annual value of the said houses and land—

(a) a house-rate not exceeding ten per centum;

(b) a water-rate not exceeding six per centum when the houses and land are situated in streets supplied with filtered water in the manner provided by section one hundred and thirty-seven, and not exceeding five per centum when the houses and lands are situated in streets not so supplied;

(c) a conservancy rate not exceeding three per centum.

(d) a lighting rate not exceeding two per centum.

Rates by whom and when payable.

98. The house-rate shall be payable by the owners of the houses and land.

The water-rate shall (save as is provided in sections one hundred and six and one hundred and seven) be payable by the occupiers of the houses and land.

The conservancy and lighting rates shall (save as is provided in section one hundred and seven) be payable by the occupiers of the houses and land.

All the rates hereinbefore mentioned shall be payable by quarterly instalments.

The house-rate shall be payable on the first of July, the first of October, the first of January, and the 1st of April for the quarters immediately preceding those dates.

The water-rate shall (save as is provided in section one hundred and six) be payable in advance on the dates above mentioned for the current quarter.

The conservancy and lighting-rates shall be payable in advance on the dates above mentioned for the current quarter.

PART II.—Of the Owner's Rate.

If assessment be made at a higher annual value than the amount paid by the occupier, owner may recover difference from him.

99. If the annual value of any house or land as assessed under Chapter V shall in any case exceed the amount of rent payable by the occupier to the owner, the owner may in such case recover from the occupier the difference between the sum assessed upon him and the sum at which he would have been assessed had he been rated only upon the amount of rent actually payable to him, and such difference shall be added to the rent payable by the occupier, and shall be recoverable by the owner from him.

Remission of house-rate when house vacant.

100. Where any house or land whereon the rate is assessed under Chapter V has been vacant for sixty consecutive days during any year, the person assessed to the said rate shall be entitled to a remission of so much thereof, not exceeding one-half of the rate for that year, as shall be proportionate to the number of days such house or land has been vacant, if notice shall have been given in writing to the Commissioners of such house or land being vacant; and the date of vacancy shall be calculated from the date of the delivery of such notice at the office of the Commissioners.

101. No remission shall be made under the ... last preceding section of the house or land on account of which the remission is applied for.

PART III.—Of the Occupier's Rate.

Refund of water-rate when house ceases to be occupied.

100. Whenever any quarterly instalment of water-rate shall have been paid in respect of any house or land, and such house or land shall, during the quarter for which such instalment shall have been paid, cease to be occupied, the person who shall have paid such water-rate shall be entitled to be repaid by the Commissioners three-fourths of such sum as shall bear to the amount paid by him the same proportion which the residue of the quarter bears to an entire quarter, if notice shall have been given in writing to the Commissioners of such house or land being vacant, and the date of vacancy shall be calculated from the date of the delivery of such notice at the office of the Commissioners.

Refund of conservancy and lighting-rates when house ceases to be occupied.

101. Whenever any quarterly instalment of the conservancy and lighting-rates and night-soil fees shall have been paid in respect of any house or land, and such house or land shall, during the quarter for which such instalment shall have been paid, cease to be occupied, the person who shall have paid such instalment shall be entitled to be repaid by the Commissioners such sum as shall bear to the amount paid by him the same proportion which the residue of the quarter bears to an entire quarter, if notice shall have been given in writing to the Commissioners of such house or land being vacant; and the date of vacancy shall be calculated from the date of delivery of such notice at the office of the Commissioners.

No refund of rates unless application made within six months from vacancy.

102. No refund of rates or fees shall be made under the two last preceding sections, unless the same is applied for within six months from the date of cessation of occupation of the house or land on account of which the refund is applied for.

Rate payable on house or land becoming occupied.

103. Whenever any house or land which shall have been unoccupied shall be occupied during any quarter, there shall be forthwith payable in respect of such house or land such amount of the water, conservancy and lighting-rates and night-soil fees as shall bear to the entire quarterly instalments of the said rates and fees for such house or land the same proportion as the residue of such quarter after such house or land shall be occupied bears to an entire quarter.

Person subletting to different persons to be deemed occupier.

104. Whenever any person holding any house or land at a rent from the person liable to pay the house-rate has or may sublet the same to different persons holding in severalty, the person so holding shall, for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be the occupier of such house or land.

Occupier paying water-rate to deduct one-fourth from rent due to owner.

105. Whenever the person from or by whom the water-rate shall have been recovered or paid shall not be the owner of the same from the rent payable by him to such owner.

When house or land unoccupied, owner to pay one-fourth of water-rate.

106. Whenever any house or land has been unoccupied during an entire quarter, the owner of the said house or land shall pay to the Commissioners one-fourth of the sum which would have been payable as water-rate by the occupier if such house or land had been occupied.

The sum payable by the owner under this section shall be payable on the first of July, the first of October, the first of January, and the first of April, for the quarters immediately preceding those dates.

Power to assess owners in certain cases.

107. If any house is occupied by more than one person holding in severalty, or is of less assessed annual value than two hundred rupees, the Commissioners may impose the water, conservancy, and lighting-rates upon the owner of such house, or upon the owner of the land on which such house is situated.

Owner to recover from occupier water-rate paid by owner.

108. If the water-rate is paid by the owner of any house or land under the last preceding section, such owner may, if there be but one occupier of the house, recover from such occupier three-fourths of the rate so paid by such owner; and if there be more than one occupier, he may recover from each occupier three-fourths of such sum as shall bear to the entire amount of rate so paid by him the same proportion as the value of the portion of the house in the occupation of such person bears to the entire value of such house.

Owner to recover from occupier police and lighting-rates paid by owner.

109. If the conservancy and lighting-rates are paid by the owner of any house or land under section one hundred and seven, such owner may, if there be but one occupier of the house, recover from such occupier the entire amount of the rates so paid by such owner; and if there be more than one occupier, he may recover from each occupier such sum as shall bear to the entire amount of rates so paid by him the same proportion as the value of the portion of the house in the occupation of such person bears to the entire value of such house.

Owner to have same power for recovering rates as for recovering rent.

110. Every owner who, under the provisions of the two last preceding sections, may be entitled to recover any sum from the occupier of any house or of any portion thereof, shall have for the recovery of such such sum all such and the same remedies, powers, rights, and authorities as if such sum were rent payable to him by the occupier in respect of such portion of the house as may be in his occupation.

Occupier of house or land may be required to furnish name of owner.

111. The Commissioners may require the occupier of any house or land to furnish them with the name and address of the owner of such house or land, and such name and address when so received shall be duly entered in the 'assessment book' kept under section one hundred and sixteen.

"If the occupier of any house or land shall of such house or land, and on non-payment thereof, the Commissioners may recover the same by distress and sale of any moveable property found in the house or on the land.

"Provided that no arrear of rate which has remained due from the owner of any house or land, for more than one year, shall be so recovered from the occupier thereof."

CHAPTER V.

OF THE ASSESSMENT OF HOUSES AND LAND.

Annual value of house or land how to be ascertained.

112. The estimated gross annual rent at which any house or land liable to rate under this Act might reasonably be expected to let from year to year shall, for the purposes of any rate to be imposed under this Act, be held and be deemed to be the annual value of such house or land.

The value of land so estimated shall not include the value of any machinery thereupon:

Provided that all the unoccupied land, roads, and slopes of the Port Commissioners shall be rated at the rent for which the said land, roads, or slopes might be reasonably expected to let, in the same manner as if the said land, roads, and slopes were used for other than public purposes, and belonged to persons other than a public body, save and except the road extending from the northern boundary of the premises occupied by the East Indian Railway Company at Armenian Ghât to the Chitpore Canal, and the road extending from the Chitpere Road to the river Hooghly at Comartollah Ghât, for a width not exceeding seventy feet and sixty feet respectively, which shall be exempted from assessment of any rate under this Act.

Annual value to be assessed by the Commissioners, assessment to remain in force for six years.

113. All assessments made by the Commissioners prior to the commencement of this Act shall remain in force during the period for which they were so made, and on the expiration of such assessments, the annual value at which any house or land is to be assessed shall be fixed by the Commissioners, and such house or land shall be assessed upon the value so fixed for six years from the date on which it is so fixed.

When substantial improvement made, Commissioners may re-assess.

114. If during the currency of any period mentioned in the last preceding section, any substantial alteration and improvement is made to any such house or land, the Commissioners may cause such house or land to be again assessed, even though such period has not expired, and such last-mentioned assessment shall be in force, and the rate shall be imposed according to it until the expiration of the said period of assessment.

When substantial injury done Commissioners may re-assess.

115. If, during the currency of any period mentioned in section one hundred and thirteen, any such house or land shall receive substantial injury through fire, cyclone, the act of God, or civil commotion, or suffers material depreciation from any cause proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioners to have been beyond the control of the owner or occupier in writing by the owner or occupier of such house or land, cause such house or land to be again assessed, even though the current period of assessment has not expired, and such last mentioned assessment shall be in force, and the rate shall be imposed according to it, until the expiration of the said period of assessment:

Provided that if any substantial alteration and improvement shall be made, prior to the expiration of the said period of assessment, to the house or land which shall have been again assessed as aforesaid, the Commissioners may cause such house or land to be again assessed as under section one hundred and fourteen.

Annual value assessed to be entered in a book.

116. The annual value assessed by the Commissioners as hereinbefore provided shall be entered in a book to be kept at the office of the Commissioners, wherein shall also be written in distinct columns—

(a) the name of the owner;

(b) the name of the occupier, if the occupier is the person liable to pay the rate;

(c) a designation of the property sufficient to identify the same, together with the name and number of the street (if any) in which it is situated;

(d) the amount of the rate assessed thereon; and

(e) the amount of the rate assessed on the house and on the land respectively, whenever any rate is payable by the owner of the land, and the said owner is not the owner of the house situated on the said land.

The book required to be kept under this section is hereinafter called the "assessment book."

When the name of the owner or occupier is not known, it shall be sufficient to designate him in the assessment book as the "owner" or "occupier."

New valuation or measurement to be made.

117. The Commissioners shall from time to time make a valuation or measurement of all houses and land within the limits of the municipality, and for such purpose may divide the municipality into such and so many districts as they may think fit, and proceed to make a separate valuation or measurement district by district, and shall enter the same in the assessment book.

Returns may be required for purpose of valuation.

118. The Commissioners may require the owner or occupier of any house or land to furnish them with returns of the measurements and of the rent or annual value thereof; and the Commissioners, or any person authorized by them in that behalf, may at any time between the hour of seven in the forenoon and sunset enter on, and inspect, survey, and measure such house or land after giving a notice in writing of not less than twenty-four hours.

Penalty.

119. Whoever refuses or fails to furnish any such return for the space of one week from the day on which he shall have been required so to do, or knowingly makes a false or incorrect return, and whoever hinders, obstructs, or prevents any Commissioner, or any person appointed by the Commissioners as aforesaid from entering or shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees for every such offence.

Public notice of valuation and measurement to be given.

120. When the valuation or measurement of any of the districts of the municipality into which it may have been divided by the Commissioners shall have been completed, the Commissioners shall give public notice thereof, and of the place where the assessment book, or a copy thereof, may be inspected, by advertisement in at least two of the English daily newspapers, and in two Vernacular newspapers, published in Calcutta, and also by placards posted up in conspicuous places throughout such district of the municipality; and the person in whose custody the assessment book may be shall permit every person, being the owner or occupier of any house or land included in the assessment or measurement, or the agent of such owner or occupier, to inspect the book and to make extracts therefrom without payment of any fee, and every person, not being such owner or occupier to inspect and make extracts, in like manner, on payment of a fee of one rupee.

Notice when valuation made for first time or increased.

121. The Commissioners shall, in all cases in which any house or land is for the first time assessed, or in which the valuation or measurement of any house or land previously assessed is increased, give special notice thereof to the owners or occupiers of the same, and when the valuation is increased as aforesaid, the said notice shall state the grounds of such increase.

Appeals.

122. Appeals against any assessment made by the Commissioners under this Chapter shall lie—

(a) to not less than three Commissioners, other than executive officers of the Commissioners; or (b) to Court of Small Causes.

In any case of an appeal to the Court of Small Causes, under this section, the said Court may follow the procedure laid down in sections three hundred and fifty-five and three hundred and fifty-six.

Notice to be given by person appealing.

123. Any person desiring to appeal against any assessment made under this Chapter, shall, within fifteen days of the publication of the notice referred to in section one hundred and twenty, deliver at the office of the Commissioners a notice in writing stating the grounds of appeal, and also informing the Commissioners whether he intends to appeal under clause (a) or (b) of the last preceding section.

No appeal shall lie as hereinbefore provided unless the amount of the house-rate for one quarter, under the assessment about to expire, has been deposited with the Commissioners.

and unless the appeal is preferred by the person who at the time the appeal is made shall be recorded in the said book as the owner of the house or land to which the appeal refers, or by [illegible] thereof, or by the agent of either of Every appeal under clause (b) of the said section shall be presented to the Small Cause Court within seven days from the date of the delivery of the notice at the office of the Commissioners under the last preceding section.

Assessment by Commissioners when to be final.

125. The assessment by the Commissioners of any rate, when no appeal therefrom is made as hereinbefore provided, and the adjudication of any appeal under the two last preceding sections shall be final and conclusive.

Assessment to be entered in assessment book.

126. The assessments made by the Commissioners subject to such alterations as may from time to time thereafter be duly made on appeal, shall be entered in the assessment book, and the rate calculated on the said assessment shall, subject to such alterations as aforesaid, be deemed to be the rate for the whole period for which the assessment is made, and this period shall be calculated from the commencement of the quarter next succeeding that in which any such amendment shall be so authenticated; and until such date the old assessment shall continue in force, notwithstanding that the period for which the old assessment was made may have expired.

Alteration or amendment of assessment.

127. The Chairman or Vice-Chairman may at any time amend the assessment book by inserting therein the name of any person whose name ought to be so inserted, or by inserting any house or land liable to the rate, after giving notice to any person interested in the making of the amendment of a day, not being less than fifteen days from the date of the service of such notice when such amendment is to be made; or by striking out the name of any person, or any house or land not liable to the rate, or reducing the amount of the assessment without notice:

and if any amendment shall be made in cases where notice is required, the same shall be deemed to have been made on the expiration of fifteen days after service of the said notice; and any person interested in such amendment may appeal by application in writing to the Commissioners, to be left at their office three clear days before the day fixed in the said notice for such amendment; and the provisions of sections one hundred and twenty-two, one hundred and twenty-three, one hundred and twenty-four, and one hundred and twenty-five shall, so far as may be practicable, apply to such appeal.

New assessment book need not be prepared every six years.

128. It shall not be necessary to prepare a new assessment book at the expiration of each period of assessment, but the Commissioners in meeting may adopt the valuation or measurement and assessment contained in any assessment book for any previous period, with such alterations as may in particular cases be deemed necessary, as the valuation or measurement and assessment for the period next following:

CHAPTER VI.

OF LEVYING THE RATES.

Bills to be presented.

129. When any rate is due, the Commissioners shall cause to be presented to the person liable to the payment thereof a bill for the sum due, which shall also contain a statement of the period and a description of the property for which the rate is charged:

Provided that, whenever any rate is payable by the owner of the land, and the said owner is not the owner of the house situated on the said land, the assessment on the land and on the house shall be separately entered in the said bill.

Notice of demand.

130. If the bill is not paid by the person liable to pay the same within seven days from the presentation thereof, the Commissioners may cause to be severed upon such person a notice of demand in the form contained in the fourth schedule, or to the like effect; and, if he shall not within seven days from the service of such notice of demand, pay the sum due, or show sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Commissioners for non-payment of the same, such sum, with all costs, may be levied by distress and sale of the moveable property of the defaulter, or if the defaulter be the occupier of any house or land in respect of which a rate is due, by distress and sale of any moveable property found on the house or land, under a warrant in the form contained in the fifth schedule, or to the like effect, to be issued for that purpose by the Commissioners.

Distress.

For every notice of demand under this section which the Commissioners shall cause to be served upon any person, a fee, not exceeding one rupee, shall be paid by such person.

Such fee shall be added to the amount of the rate in respect of which the notice is given, and, if not duly paid, shall be levied in the same manner as such rate may be levied.

Inventory—notice of distress.

131. The officer charged with the execution of a warrant of distress under the last preceding section shall make an inventory of the moveable property seized under such warrant, and shall at the time give a notice in writing in the form contained in the sixth schedule, or to the like effect, to the person in possession thereof at the time of the seizure, that the said moveable property will be sold as therein mentioned.

Sale.

132. If the warrant is not in the meantime discharged or suspended by the Commissioners, the moveable property seized shall be sold under the orders of the Commissioners, who shall apply the proceeds, or such part thereof as may be necessary, in discharge of the said arrears and costs; and the surplus, if any, shall be returned on demand to the person in possession of the moveable property at the time of the seizure.

All sales of property under this section shall so far as may be practicable, be regulated by the procedure now in force, or hereafter to be in force, in the Court of Small Causes with respect to sale after distress.

All officers and servants of the Corporation are prohibited from purchasing any property at any such sale.

Goods of defaulter, wherever found, may be distrained.

133. The moveable property of any person from whom any rate is due may be distrained, wherever the same may be found, for default in payment of the money due from him.

Rate due from owner may be recovered from occupier, and deducted by him from his rent.

134. If the sum due on account of any rate from the owner of any house or land remains unpaid after notice of demand has been duly served, the Commissioners may demand the amount from the occupier for the time being of the house or land, and on non-payment thereof, may recover the may recover the same by distress and sale of any moveable property found on the house or land, and, in such case, the occupier may deduct, from the next and following payments of his rent, the amount which may be so paid by, or recovered from, him:

Provided that no arrear of rate which has remained due from the owner of any house or land for more than one year shall be so recovered from the occupier thereof.

Distress not unlawful for want of form.

135. No distress levied under this Act shall be deemed unlawful, nor shall any party making the same be deemed a trespasser, on account of any defect or want of form in the notice, schedule, summons, notice of demand, warrant of distress, inventory, or other proceeding relating thereto, nor shall such party be deemed a trespasser on account of any irregularity committed by him; but all persons aggrieved by such irregularity may recover full satisfaction for any special damage sustained by them in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Commissioners may sue, instead of proceeding by distress.

136. Instead of proceeding by distress and sale, or in case of failure to realize by distress and sale the whole or any part of the sum due in respect of any rate, the Commissioners may sue the person liable to pay the same in any court of competent jurisdiction.

CHAPTER VII.

OF THE WATER-SUPPLY.

The Commissioners to provide water-supply.

137. The Commissioners shall as soon as practicable provide a supply of water within all parts of the municipality, and shall for that purpose cause such mains and pipes to be laid, and such tanks, reservoirs, or other works to be made and constructed, as shall be necessary for the supply of filtered water in all the chief public streets of the municipality, and shall also erect, in all such streets, sufficient and convenient stand-pipes or pumps for the gratuitous use of the inhabitants of the municipality for domestic purpose.

The said stand-pipes or pumps shall as soon as practicable be so placed that there shall not be any portion of any such chief street at a greater

138. A supply of water for domestic purposes shall not include a supply of water for animals, or for washing carriages, where such animals or carriages are kept for sale or hire, or a supply for any trade, manufacture, or business, or for fountains, or for watering gardens or roads, or for any ornamental or mechanical purpose.

What are not domestic purposes.

139. The Commissioners shall, between the hours of six in the forenoon and nine in the afternoon, so far as may be reasonably practicable, keep and maintain in their pipes and mains a sufficient supply of filtered water under a pressure of not less than ten feet for the domestic use of the rate-payers, and shall daily, from the hour of seven in the forenoon to nine in the forenoon, and from the hour of five in the afternoon to six in the afternoon, maintain a pressure of water in the service pipes and mains sufficient to raise the water in all houses and places in which the same may be introduced to a height of not less than thirty feet.

Pressure at which water must be kept.

140. The Commissioners may supply water through a meter, for purposes, other than domestic purposes, provided that the person requiring such supply make application to the Commissioners in writing, specifying the purpose for which such supply is required, and the quantity likely to be consumed.

Supply for business.

The Commissioners may thereupon, subject to such charges or rates as may have been fixed by the Commissioners in meeting, lay down, or allow to be laid down, the necessary communication-pipes and works, of such dimensions and character as may be fixed by the Commissioners.

141. The occupier of every house shall be entitled to have, free of further charge, fifteen hundred gallons of filtered water for every rupee paid to the Commissieners as water-rate on account of such house, to be supplied from the service pipes of the Commissioners for domestic use, through a ferrule of such size as the Commissioners may determine. If the Commissioners have reason to believe that the occupier of any house consumes more filtered water than he is entitled to as aforesaid, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners to provide a water-meter at their own expense, and attach the same to the water-pipes of the said house; and any water which may be used over and above the quantity to which the occupier is entitled as aforesaid shall be paid for by him, at the rate of one rupee for every fifteen hundred gallons;

Householder entitled to certain supply of water domestic use.

Provided that no charge shall be made by the Commissioners for unfiltered water supplied under the next succeeding section.

Nothing contained in the first clause of this section shall apply to houses assessed at less than twelve hundred rupees per annum.

142. It shall be at the option of the Commissioners to provide filtered or unfiltered water for all to stop the supply of filtered water, and in lieu thereof to provide unfiltered water for such latrines and water-closets.

143. All latrines and water-closets now supplied, or hereafter to be supplied, with water filtered or unfiltered, shall be provided with a cistern of such size and description as the Commissioner shall direct; and all such cisterns shall be put up at the cost of the owner of the house or land so supplied with water.

All latrines to be provided with cisterns.

144. Every person paying the water-rate herein before mentioned shall be entitled to lay down communication-pipes from the service pipes of the Commissioners for bringing into his house or land a reasonable supply of water for domestic use; provided that the Commissioners shall be at liberty to cut off the supply of water to any house or land during the time the said house or land is unoccupied.

Communication-pipes, &c., to be made of required dimensions and at expense of house-holder.

The communication-pipes leading the water from the service pipes of the Commissioners into the house of any rate-payer, and the pipes and works within the house connected therewith, shall be of such character, dimensions, and material as the Commissioners shall fix and approve; and shall be made and constructed at the expense of the person requiring the same.

145. The communication-pipes and all fittings thereon leading water from the service pipes of the Commissioners into any house or land, and the pipes, works, and fittings inside the house or land, must in all cases be executed subject to the inspection and to the satisfaction of the Commissioners.

Communication-pipes, &c., must be made to satisfaction of officer of the Commissioners.

Such communication-pipes, works, and fittings may be made by the servants and workmen of the Commissioners upon such terms as may be agreed upon between the Commissioners and the person requiring the supply, or subject to such charges as may be fixed by the Commissioners; and the Commissioners may require the amount necessary for the execution of such works to be paid or deposited before such works are executed; and such charges and expenses shall be recoverable in the same manner as the water-rate.

146. The officer authorized inthat behalf by the Commissioners may, between the hours of seven in the forenoon and five in the afternoon, enter into or on any house or land supplied with water as aforesaid in order to examine all pipes, works, and fittings connected with the supply of water, and to ascertain if there be any waste or misuse of such water; and if such officer at any such time be refused admittance into such house or land for the purposes aforesaid, or be prevented from making such examination as aforesaid, the Commissioners may forthwith turn off the water from such house or land:

Power to enter premises.

Provided that nothing hereinbefore contained

147. In the event of any pipes, works, or fittings connected with the supply of water to any house or land being at any time found on examination by any officer of the Commissioners authorized in that behalf to be out of repair to such an extent as to cause any waste of water, the Commissioners may cause the water to be turned off from such house or land, after giving notice in writing of not less than twenty-four hours, and may recover the expense incurred for turning off the water from the occupier of such house or land.

When pipes are out of repair, Commissioners may turn of water.

148. If any person supplied with water shall shall neglect to pay the water-rate hereinbefore mentioned at any of the times of payment thereof, or the charge made for the said water when supplied for other than domestic purposes, the Commissioners may turn off the water from the house or land in respect of which such rate or charge is payable by cutting off the pipe to such house or land, or by such means as the Commissioners may think fit, and may recover the expense of turning off the water from such person:

Water may be cut off on neglect to pay the rate.

Provided that the stopping or cutting off the the supply of water shall not relieve any person from any penalties or liabilities which he may otherwise have incurred.

149. The occupier of any house or land in which water supplied by the Commissioners under this Act is, from negligence or other circumstances under the control of the said occupier wasted, or in whose house or land the pipes, works, and fittings for the supply of water shall be found to be out of repair to such an extent as to cause any waste of water, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees.

Occupier in whose house water is wasted liable to penalty.

150. Any person causing waste of water supplied by the Commissioners shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five rupees.

Person causing waste of water liable to penalty.

151. It shall be within the discretion of the Commissioners to allow any person not residing within the limits of Calcutta to take or be supplied with water for his domestic use on such terms as the Commissioners in meeting, other than an ordinary meeting, may from time to time prescribe. And any person taking or causing to be taken for use outside the limits of the municipality water supplied by the Commissioners, without the permission of the Commissioners, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees.

Commissioners at their discretion may allow person outside the town to take water.

Penalty.

152. It shall not be lawful for any person to execute any work in connection with the lying on of water from any service pipes of the Commissioners to any house or land unless he shall hold a license from the Commissioners authorizing him to act as a plumber under such rules and regulations as the Commissioners may from time to to time lay down, and which shall be printed on the back of his license. Any person licensed by the Commissioners as a plumber, who shall license at once cancelled by the Commissioners, shall also be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees.

Person executing any work for laying on water must hold a license from the Commissioners.

153. Any owner or occupier of any house or land who shall cause or allow works, pipes, or fittings for the supply of water from the service pipes of the Commissioners to be executed by any person other than a plumber licensed by the Commissioners shall not be entitled to demand a connection with the Commissioners' service pipes.

Owner or occupier when not entitled to demand a connection with the Commissioners' service pipes.

154 Before a connection for the supply of water from the service pipes of the Commissioners to any house or land is sanctioned by the Commissioners, the Engineer of the Commissioners shall cause all the works, pipes, and fittings within the said house or land to be inspected by a duly qualified officer; and the cost of such inspection shall be payable in advance at such rates as the Commissioners in meeting, other than an ordinary meeting, shall from time to time direct, by the person applying for the said connection; and until the Engineer of the Commissioners shall have certified that the said works, pipes, and fittings have been executed and put up in a satisfactory manner, a connection with the Commissioners' service pipes shall not be permitted.

Before connection, Engineer of the Commissioners to cause all works and pipes to be inspected.

155. The connection with the service pipes of the Commissioners, as also the lying of supply pipes under any public road or thoroughfare, shall be executed by an officer of the Commissioners authorized in that behalf and by no other person; and the expense of making such connection shall be payable in advance by the person applying for the same at such rates as the Commissioners in meeting, other than an ordinary meeting, shall from time to time direct.

Connection with service pipes to be executed only by an officer of the Commissioners.

156. If any licensed plumber shall execute any works or put up any fittings within any house or land for the supply of water from the pipes of the Commissioners in a careless and negligent manner, or make use of bad materials or fittings, the said licensed plumber shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees, and upon a third conviction shall be liable to have his license cancelled at the discretion of the Commissioners.

Penalty on licensed plumber who executes works badly.

157. Any person who shall unlawfully flush, draw off, divert, or take water from any water-work belonging to, or under the management or control of, the said Commissioners, or from any water or streams by which such water-works are supplied, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

Obstructing or diverting water.

158. Any occupier holding direct from the owner of any house may, by notice in writing, signed by him, require the owner of such house to perform all such necessary works as may be required for bringing into such house a supply of water for domestic use.

Power to require owner to provide works for water supply.

Every such notice shall contain an agreement [illegible] to pay interest at the on the cost of such works during the residue of his term of occupation:

Provided that, if the house and the premises belonging thereto shall not abut upon some street in which there is a supply-main, such occupier shall, in the agreement, undertake to pay the cost of connecting the house with the nearest supply-main.

Power to occupier to make works in default of owner.

159. If any owner shall not, within the space of three months from the service of such notice as is mentioned in the last preceding section, cause such necessary works as aforesaid to be completed, the occupier, who shall have given such notice, may cause the same to be completed, and may deduct from the rent payable by him the cost of such works save so much of such cost as may be incurred in connecting with a supply-main any house and premises belonging thereto which may not abut upon a street in which there may be a supply-main; and such deduction shall be made by six equal monthly instalments.

Interest on each such instalment shall be payable to the owner by the occupier at the rate of one per centum per mensem, from the time when it shall have been so deducted.

What works to be made for a house.

160. The supply of water to a house shall not be deemed sufficient for domestic use, unless it provides two taps in each floor of such house, one other such tap in the cook-room of or attached to such house, and one other such tap, in the premises, or in or near the stables belonging to such house, and the necessary works for such taps.

But if the annual rent of such house, with the land attached thereto, shall be less than three hundred rupees, it shall be sufficient to provide one tap only within the said premises, and the necessary works for the same.

Estimate and specification of works to be sent.

161. No works for introducing a supply of water to any house shall be commenced by the owner without sending such specification and estimate of the cost thereof to the occupier nor by the occupier without sending such specification and estimate to the owner.

Power to refer to arbitration.

162. In case there shall be any difference between the owner and the occupier respecting the cost or the sufficiency of the proposed works, either the owner or the occupier may refer such difference to the Commissioners, and the written award of the Engineer of the Commissioners, or of any officer authorized by them in that behalf, shall be binding on the owner and the occupier.

Fee on reference.

163. There shall be payable to the Commissioners in respect of every such reference a fee at the rate of two rupees for every hundred rupees of the monthly rent of the house or land in respect of the water-supply to which the difference may have arisen:

Provided that such fee shall in no case exceed [illegible] and shall be paid by the person ing all works connected with the supply of water to such house or land in substantial repair:

Provided that nothing in this section shall affect the liabilities of parties under leases executed or made previous to the commencement of this Act.

Power of recovery by owner of sums payable.

165. Any owner to whom any sum is payable under sections one hundred and fifty-eight and one hundred and fifty-nine may recover such sum from the person liable to pay the same as if the same were rent payable by such person for the house, in respect of which the expenses have been incurred.

Tanks, &c., vested in the Commissioners.

166. All public tanks, reservoirs, cisterns, wells, acqueducts, conduits, tunnels, pipes, pumps, and other water-works, whether made, laid, or erected at the cost of the Commissioners or otherwise, and all bridges, buildings, engines, works, materials, and things connected therewith or appertaining thereto, and also any adjacent land (not being private property) appertaining to any public tank, shall become vested in the Commissioners.

Water fouled by offensive trades.

167. If any person being the proprietor of any gas-works, or being engaged or empoyed in the manufacture or supply of gas, or being the occupier or owner of any place where an offensive trade or manufacture is carried on, wilfully does any act connected with the said business whereby the water in any stream, tank, reservoir, well, cistern, conduit, acqueduct, or other water-works belonging to the Commissioners is fouled or corrupted, the Commissioners may, after twenty-four hours' notice in writing, lay open and examine any pipes, conduits, and works belonging to such person:

and if, upon such examination, it appears that the water has been fouled or corrupted by anything proceeding from, or contained in, the pipes, conduits, or works examined, the expenses of such examination shall be paid by the person to whom such pipes, conduits, or works belong, or under whose management or control they may be;

but if it appear that the water has not been so fouled or corrupted, then such expenses, and all damages occasioned by the examination, shall be paid by the Commissioners.

Application of rates and moneys received from the supply of water.

168. The water-rate and all moneys collected, received, or recovered for or in respect of the supply of water or the execution of works, and all fines connected herewith, or in any respect relating to the water-supply, shall be applied by the said Commissioners in defraying the expense of making, extending, or maintaining the water-works, in paying the interest of money borrowed for the water-works, and in the liquidation of debts incurred in connection herewith, or for some other purpose connected with the supply of water.

proceeds of the house-rate, and shall be used so far as they will suffice for defraying the expenses of the conservancy of Calcutta.

CHAPTER IX.

OF THE SYSTEM OF DRAINAGE FOR THE TOWN AND ITS ENVIRONS.

Commissioners to drain the town.

170. The Commissioners may carry out such a complete system of sewerage and drainage within the municipality as they may think fit, subject to the approval of the Local Government, and to such alterations as may from time to time be ordered by it.

CHAPTER X.

OF THE REGISTRATION OF BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

Commissioners may keep a register of births and deaths, and appoint registrars.

171. The Commissioners shall keep in their office a register of all births and deaths in the municipality, and for this purpose shall divide the municipality into such and so many districts as they shall think fit, and for every such district shall appoint a person to be a registrar of births and deaths within such districts; and the Commissioners shall at each burning ghât and native burial-ground appoint a sub-registrar for the registration of all corpses brought to such burning ghât or burial-ground, for cremation or interment.

Every registrar to live in his district; list of registrars to be published, &c.

172. Every registrar shall dwell within the district of which he is registrar, and every sub-registrar shall dwell in the vicinity of the burning ghât or native burial-ground for which he is appointed; and they shall cause their names, with the addition of registrar for the district, or sub-registrar for the burning ghât or native burial ground for which they shall be so appointed, to be placed in some conspicuous place on or near the outer door of their own dwelling-houses; and the Commissioners shall cause to be printed and published a list containing the name and place of abode of every registrar and sub-registrar in the town.

Commissioners to have register books prepared and numbered.

173. The Commissioners shall cause to be prepared and printed a sufficient number of register books for making entries of all births and deaths which may take place in the municipality, according to the forms prescribed in the eighth and ninth schedules, and the pages of such books shall be numbered progressively from the beginning to the end.

Registrar to inform himself of and register births and deaths.

174. Every registrar shall inform himself of every birth and of every death which shall happen in his district, and shall ascertain and register, as soon as conveniently may be after the event, without fee or reward, the particulars required to be registered according to the forms in the eighth and ninth schedules respectively touching every such birth and every

Information of birth to be given within eight days.

175. The father or mother of every child born in the municipality, or in the case of the death, illness, or absence, or inability of the father and mother, the occupier of the house in which such child shall have been born, shall, within eight days after the day of the birth, give information to the registrar of the district, according to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, of the several particulars by this Act required to be known and registered touching the birth of such child.

Information of death to be given.

176. Some one of the persons present at the death, or in attendance during the last illness, of every person dying in the town, or, in case of the death, illness, inability, or default of all such persons, the occupier of the house, or if the occupier be the person who shall have died, some person living in the house in which such death shall have happened, shall forthwith give information to the registrar of the district, or sub-registrar at the burning ghât or burial-ground, according to the best of his or her knowledge and belief, of the several particulars hereby required to be known and registered touching the the death of such person:

Provided that, in lieu of the information hereinbefore stated, in the case of persons dying in any hospital, it shall be the duty of the medical officer in charge forthwith to send a notice in writing to the Commissioners in the form prescribed in the ninth schedule of the occurrence of any death in the hospital under his charge.

Penalty.

177. Any person whose duty it shall be to give information to a registrar or sub-registrar under the two last preceding sections, who shall refuse or neglect to give such information, or who shall give false information, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees.

Person giving information to sign the register.

178. Every person by whom the information contained in any register of births or deaths under this Act shall have been given shall sign in the register his name, description, and place of abode; and no such registration shall be deemed to be complete or of any effect until such person shall have so signed it:

Provided that the registrar may fill up and sign the register for any person who is unable to write:

Provided further, that in the case of a person dying in any hospital, the registration of the death shall be deemed to be complete on receipt by the Commissioners of the written notice from the medical officer in charge of the said hospital, prescribed in section one hundred and seventy-six.

Corpse must be accompanied by a certificate before it is buried or burnt.

179. It shall not be lawful for any sexton, keeper of a cemetery, burial-ground, or burning ghât to bury, burn, or allow to be buried or burned, any corpse, unless the said corpse is accompanied by a certificate in the form specified in the ninth schedule, and signed by a registrar or sub-registrar appointed under section one hundred and seventy-one, or by a tioned in the last preceding section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

OF TAKING A CENSUS.

Account of population to be taken.

181. At such times and in such manner as the Commissioners may from time to time appoint, an account shall be taken of the number of persons who at the time of taking such account shall be within the municipality; and the persons employed in taking such account shall set down the several particulars respecting the same which are hereinafter prescribed.

Chairman or Vice-Chairman to superintend the taking of an account of the population.

182. The Chairman or Vice-Chairman shall superintend the taking of such account, and shall cause to be prepared and issued, for the use of the persons to be employed, such forms and instructions as he shall, with the sanction of the Local Government, deem necessary; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid out of the Municipal Fund.

Enumeration districts.

183. Each police division of the municipality shall be formed into one or more enumeration districts.

At the appointed time occupiers of houses shall give the required information.

184. At such times as shall be appointed under section one hundred and eighty-one, and as shall be notified in the Calcutta Gazette by the Local Government, every occupier of a dwelling-house, or of any part of a dwelling-house distinctly occupied, and every person to whom a form as mentioned in section one hundred and eighty-six may have been delivered, shall afford such information in regard to all persons who were abiding in his house, or in the place under his charge, on the night immediately preceding, and in such manner as may under this Act be required of them.

Persons to be employed as enumerators.

185. The Chairman shall select a sufficient number of competent persons to act as enumerators; and every such enumerator, under the direction of the Chairman, shall visit every house within his district, and, except as hereinafter provided, shall take an account in writing of the name, sex, age, caste, nationality, and occupation of every living person who shall abide therein on the night immediately preceding the day appointed as aforesaid, and shall also take an account of the occupied houses, and the houses then being built and therefore uninhabited, and also of all other uninhabited houses within his district, and in all respects conform to, and obey, the instructions which may be issued to him by the Chairman in this behalf:

Provided that, in the case of females, no account shall be taken either of their name or age.

Forms for census.

186. The Chairman, when he deems such a course to be advisable, may cause such a form as shall be sanctioned by the Commissioners in meeting, subject to the approval of the Local Government, Military and naval officers and certain others, if required, to act as enumerators.

187. Any military or naval officers in command of bodies of military or naval men, or of vessels of war, or any master of a merchant vessel, or nacodah, or tindal of a vessel or boat, or any person in charge of a lunatic asylum, hospital, or prison, or of any public or private charitable or scholastic institution, or any keepers of hotels or lodging-houses, shall, if required, act as enumerators for the purpose of taking account of persons under their command or charge, or abiding in their houses, on the night immediately preceding the day to be appointed.

Penalty.

188. Whoever, being required under section one hundred and eighty-six to fill in any form, or under section one hundred and eighty-five to act as an enumerator, fails so to do, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence.

Every person so required to act as an enumerator shall receive and conform to all instructions in writing which may be issued to him by the Chairman in that behalf.

Returns of houseless persons.

189. The Chairman shall obtain, by such ways and means as shall appear to him best adapted for the purpose, and as shall be sanctioned by the Commissioners in meeting, returns of the particulars required by this Act with respect to all houseless persons and all persons who, during the said night immediately preceding the day to be appointed, were on out-door night duty, or for any other reason were not abiding in any house of which account is to be taken by the enumerators.

Enumerators to fill in for those unable to write.

190. The enumerators shall fill in all forms for those persons who are unable to write.

CHAPTER XI.

OF CONSERVANCY AND IMPROVEMENT.

PART I.—Of the Streets.

Public streets vested in the Commissioners.

191. All public streets in the municipality (not being the property and kept under the control of the Government) and the pavements, stones, and other materials thereof and also all erections, materials, implements, and other things provided for such streets, shall vest in and belong to the Commissioners.

Power to make and improve streets.

192. The Commissioners, making due compensation to the owners and occupiers of any houses or land which may be required for any such purposes, may—

(a) lay out and make new streets;

(b) build and construct new bridges;

(c) turn, divert, discontinue, or stop up any public street; and (d) widen, open, enlarge, or otherwise improve any such street.

Maintenance and repair of streets.

193. The Commissioners shall, so far as the Municipal Fund permits, from time to time cause the public streets to be maintained and repaired, and for such purpose may do all things necessary for the public safety and convenience.

Gross proceeds of lighting-rate to be applied for purposes of lighting.

194. The Commissioners shall cause the public streets of the municipality to be sufficiently lighted, and the sum applicable annually to the current expenses of lighting the said streets shall be the gross proceeds of the said lighting-rate and no more; but the Commissioners may expend, out of the Municipal Fund, such further sums as may from time to time be requisite for the purchase, setting up, cleaning and maintenance of lamps, lamp-posts, pipes, and other necessary apparatus.

Cleansing streets.

195. The Commissioners shall cause the public streets to be regularly swept and cleansed; and the dust, dirt, filth, and refuse of every kind whatsoever found thereon to be collected and removed.

Dust-boxes in streets.

196. The Commissioners may cause any number of moveable or fixed dust-boxes or other convenient receptacles, wherein dust, dirt, filth, and refuse, arising from the ordinary domestic use of houses, may be temporarily deposited until removed and carried away, to be provided and placed in proper and convenient situations, and may require the occupiers of houses in public streets to cause all such matter as aforesaid to be deposited daily, or otherwise periodically, in such receptacles and between such hours as they may from time to time direct.

Penalty.

197. Every person who, after such receptacles have been provided, and after such requisition as abovementioned, shall deposit, or cause or permit to be deposited, any such matter in any public street, except in such receptacles, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees.

Penalty for depositing dirt in public street, &c.

198. Whoever deposits, or suffers to be deposited, any dust, dirt, filth, or refuse of any kind whatsoever, in any public street, or on any public quay, jetty, ghat, or landing place, or on any part of the river bank, whether above or below high water mark, except in such places, and in such manner, and at such hours, as shall be fixed by the Commissioners, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees for every such offence.

Penalty for allowing sewerage to flow on streets.

199. Whoever causes or allows the water of any sink or sewer, or any other offensive liquid matter belonging to him, or being in his house or land, to run, drain, or be thrown or put upon any street (public or otherwise), or causes or allows any offensive matter from any sewer or privy to run, drain, or be thrown into a surface drain in any street (public or otherwise), shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees for every such offence.

200. The Commissioners shall, so far as the Municipal Fund permits, [illegible] that purpose may provide such works and engines as they may think necessary.

Penalty for making obstruction in public streets.

201. Whoever builds any wall, or erects or sets up any fence, rail, post, or other obstruction or encroachment in any public street, or in or over any drain, sewer, or aqueduct, after the commencement of this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees; and the Commissioners shall have power to remove any such obstruction or encroachment as also all walls, fences, rails, posts, or other obstruction or encroachment erected in any public street, or in or over any open drain, sewer or aqueduct, subsequent to the first of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and the expense of such removal shall be paid by the person erecting the same, and shall be recoverable as hereinafer provided.

Temporary erections on occasions of festivals, &c.

Nothing herein contained shall prevent the Commissioners from allowing any temporary erections in any public street on occasions of festivals and ceremonies, or for building purposes.

Private persons laying out new streets.

202. Every person who wishes to make or lay out any new street, shall give notice in writing thereof to the Commissioners, showing the intended level and width of such street, and the level and width of every such street shall be fixed or approved by the Commissioners; and the Commissioners may, if they think fit, cause any such street laid out or made at a level or width otherwise than in accordance with the level or width so fixed or approved as aforesaid to be altered; or may cause any house erected in any such street otherwise than in accordance with such level and width to be altered, or, if necessary, removed;

and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the person offending.

If no such level or width be fixed, and no approval or disapproval of the level or width proposed be signified by the Commissioners within one month from the delivery of the aforesaid notice at the office of the Commissioners, the intended street may be laid out and made upon the level and of the width specified in the notice.

Penalty.

203. Whoever lays out, makes, or builds upon any such street, otherwise than in accordance with the level and width so fixed or approved, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees.

Paving, &c., of streets.

204. If any street or any part thereof be not levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, they may, by notice in writing to the respective owners or occupiers of the land fronting, adjoining, or abutting upon such parts thereof as may need to be levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered, require them to level, metal, pave, flag, channel, and sewer the same within a time to be specified in such notice; and upon non-compliance, the Commissioners [illegible] the works men-and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owners in default according to the frontage of their respective lands, and in such proportion as shall be settled by the Commissioners or, in case of dispute, as shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses:

Provided that, after such street shall have been so levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered on the requisition of the Commissioners, or by the Commissioners as aforesaid, at the expense of the owners, such owners shall have a right to require that the street shall be declared a public street, to be from time to time repaired by the Commissioners out of the Municipal Fund.

Certain streets to be deemed public and repaired by the Commissioners.

205. If any street be levelled, paved, metalled, flagged, channelled, and sewered, to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, they may, if they think fit, and if three-fourths of the owners of houses in such street signify in writing their consent thereto, by notice in writing put up in any part of such street, declare the same to be a public street, and thereupon the same shall become a public street, and be from time to time repaired by the Commissioners out of the Municipal Fund.

Names of public streets.

Penalty.

206. The Commissioners in meeting shall from time to time cause to be put up or painted on a conspicuous part of some house, wall, or place, at or near each end, corner, or entrance of every public street, the name by which such street is to be known; and whoever destroys, pulls down, or defaces any such name, or puts up any name different from that put up by order of the Commissioners, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees.

Numbers on houses.

Penalty.

207. The Commissioners may from time to time fix a number in a conspicuous place on the outer side of any house, or at the entrance of the enclosure thereof; and whoever destroys, pulls down, or defaces any such number shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees.

Doors not to open outwards.

208. All doors, gates, bars, and ground-floor windows (whether hung or placed before or after the commencement of this Act) which open upon any public street shall be hung or placed so as not to open outwards and cause obstruction; and if any such door, gate, bar, or window be hung or placed so as to open outwards on any such public street, the owner of the house or land to which the same is attached shall, within eight days after notice from the Commissioners to that effect, cause the same to be altered so as not to open outwards; and if he neglects so to do, the Commissioners may make such alteration, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by such owner.

Troughs and pipes to

209. The owner of every house in any public street shall, within fifteen days after notice from the Commissioners shall direct; and in default of compliance with such notice within the period aforesaid, such owner shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees, for every day that he shall so make default.

Penalty.

Projections erected in future from houses to be removed.

210. The Commissioners may give notice in writing to the owner or occupier of any house to remove or alter any projection, encroachment, or obstruction which after the commencement of this Act shall be erected or placed against or in front of such house, or which has been so erected or placed subsequent to the first of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, and such owner or occupier shall, within fifteen days after the service of such notice upon him, remove such projection, encroachment, or obstruction, or alter the same in such manner as shall have been directed by the Commissioners, and in default thereof shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees; and the Commissioners in such case may remove such projection, encroachment, or obstruction, and the expense of such removal shall be paid by the owner or occupier so making default, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided:

Provided that, when the expense shall have been paid by the occupier, except in the case in which such projections, encroachments, or obstructions were made or put up by him, such occupier shall be entitled to deduct the expense of removing or altering the same from the rent payable by him to the owner of the house.

Removal of existing projections from houses.

Notice of removal.

Compensation when to be made.

211. The Commissioners may cause any projection, encroachment, or obstruction erected or placed against, or in front of, any house in any public street previous to the first of June in the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, to be removed or altered as they think fit; provided that they give notice of such intended removal or alteration to the occupier of the house against, or in front of, which such projection, encroachment, or obstruction shall be thirty days before such alteration or removal is begun; and if such projection, encroachment, or obstruction shall have been lawfully made, they shall make reasonable compensation to every person who suffers damage by such removal or alteration, and if any dispute shall arise touching the right of any person to compensation when the right thereto is disputed and the amount thereof, or touching the amount of such compensation when the right thereto is admitted, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Commissioners may allow certain projections from houses.

212. The Commissioners may give permission in writing to the owners or occupiers of houses abutting on any public street or drain or sewer to put up verandahs, balconies, sunshades, weather-frames, and the like, to project from any upper story thereof over any public this Act, shall not be made of grass, leaves, mats, or other such inflammable materials; and it shall not be lawful for the owner of any hut or other building in or near any street (public or otherwise) now having an external roof or wall made of any such material, and which is contiguous to or adjoining to any other building, to suffer such roof or wall to remain after the commencement of this Act, unless with the consent in writing of the Commissioners, and whoever makes any external roof or wall of such materials, or suffers any roof or wall made of such materials to continue contrary to the provisions herein contained, and who shall not remove or alter the same within one month after notice given to him for that purpose by the Commissioners, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees for every day that such roof or wall shall continue.

Penalty.

214. The Commissioners may give notice to the owner or occupier of any house or land to trim or prune the hedges thereof bordering on any public street to a height not exceeding seven feet;

Commissioners may direct hedges to be trimmed.

or to cut and trim trees overhanging any public street, and obstructing the same or causing damage thereto; and if such notice is not complied with within three days from the date thereof, the Commissioners may cause such hedges and trees to be cut in the manner required, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner of the house or land.

215. No person shall deposit any building materials or make a hole in any public street without the permission of the Commissioners in writing; and when such permission is granted to any person, he shall, at his own expense, cause such materials or such hole to be sufficiently fenced and enclosed, until the materials are removed or the hole is filled up and otherwise made secure; and shall cause the same to be sufficiently lighted at night.

No one to deposit materials or make hole in a public street.

216. Whoever deposits materials or makes a hole without such permission, or fails to fence or enclose and light such materials or hole, or does not remove such materials or fill up such hole when the permission has been withdrawn, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and to a further fine not exceeding fifty rupees for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

Penalty.

PART II.—Of the drains.

217. All public sewers and drains, and all sewers, drains, tunnels, and culverts in, alongside, or under the public street, whether made at the cost of the Commissioners or otherwise, and all works, materials, and things appertaining thereto, shall become vested in the Commissioners.

Public sewers, drains, &c., vested in the Commissioners.

218. The Commissioners in making any main or other sewers for the drainage of the municipality may, if necessary, carry such sewers through, across, or under any reasonable notice in writing in that behalf) into through, or under any land whatsoever, making full compensation for any damage done thereby; and if any dispute shall arise with respect to the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Powers of Commissioners in making public sewers.

219. The Commissioners shall maintain, and from time to time repair, and, as they think fit, enlarge, alter, arch over, or otherwise improve all or any of the sewers and drains vested in them:

Commissioners to repair and alter and close sewers.

and may discontinue, close up, or destroy such of them as they may deem useless or unnecessary.

If by reason of anything done under this section any person is deprived of the lawful use of any sewer or drain, the Commissioners shall, at a place within one hundred feet of the sewer or drain of the use of which he is deprived, provide the means of drainage into some public sewer, tidal river, or other place into which the Commissioners are empowered to empty their sewers, and thereupon the owner shall make a drain leading thereunto, of such materials, of such size, at such level, and with such fall as the Commissioners shall direct;

and if he neglect to do so within a reasonable time, the Commissioners may cause the same to be done, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner.

220. The Commissioners shall, so far as the Municipal Fund permits, cause the sewers and drains vested in them to be so constructed, maintained, and kept as not to be a nuisance or injurious to health, and to be properly cleared, cleansed, and emptied; and, for the purpose of flushing, cleansing, and emptying the same, may construct and place, either above or under ground, reservoirs, sluices, engines, and other necessary works; and may also, with the sanction of the Local Government, cause all or any of such sewers and drains to communicate with, and be emptied into, any tidal river or other fit place, or cause the refuse from such sewers and drains to be conveyed by a proper channel to the most convenient site for its deposit, and may sell the same for any agricultural or other purpose as may be deemed most expedient, but so that the same shall not become a nuisance.

Cleansing and emptying sewers.

221. When the contents of any sewer or drain, or any other flow of filth or refuse, are discharged into any river or stream in the bed or channel of which the quantity of water at any season of the year is so much diminished, by natural or artificial causes, as to be insufficient to keep such channel clean or clear, the Commissioners, with the sanction of the Local Government, so far as the Municipal Fund permits, shall make such alteration in the bed of such river or stream as may prevent such sewer and drain-water from spreading over the surface of such bed, or from accumulating and stagnating in parts thereof to the injury of health or the annoyance of the surrounding population.

Bed of stream receiving sewerage to be cleared.

222. If any person, without the written or alters or causes to be altered, any drain leading into any of the sewers or drains vested in the Commissioners, or makes such drain, or carried out such alterations, with materials not approve of by the Commissioners, the Commissioners may cause such branch drain to be demolished, altered, re-made, or otherwise dealt with as they shall think fit; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the person making or altering such branch drain.

Penalty for altering or making unauthorized drains leading into public sewers.

223. Whoever, without the written consent of the Commissioners first obtained, makes or causes to be made, or alters or causes to be altered, any drain leading into any of the sewers or drains vested in the Commissioners by this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Commissioners empowered to make drains from houses which are not properly drained.

224. If any house or land within the municipality, and within a reasonable distance of a sewer fit for use, or of some tidal river or other place at which the Commissioners are empowered to empty their sewers, be at any time not drained to the satisfaction of the Commissioners by sufficient drains or pipes communicating with some sewer, tidal river, or other place as aforesaid, the Commissioners may, if the owner neglects to do so within fifteen days after notice, construct or lay through or from such house or land, covered drains, or pipes of such materials, of such size, at such level, and with such fall, as they shall think necessary for the complete draining of such house or land; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner.

Commissioners may construct certain portions of drains under public drains and streets.

225. The Commissioners themselves may construct and lay down such portions of the drains mentioned in sections two hundred and nineteen, two hundred and twenty-four, two hundred and twenty-seven, and two hundred and twenty-eight as may be carried through or under any public drain, aqueduct, or street, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner.

Supervision of certain works.

226. The Commissioners may cause the works mentioned in the said sections to be supervised while in progress, and from time to time during their execution orde such reasonable, alterations therein, additions thereto, and abandonment of part or parts thereof, as may to the Commissioners appear, on the fuller knowledge afforded by the opening of the ground, requisite to secure the complete and satisfactory execution of such works as aforesaid.

Group or block of houses, &c., may be drained by a combined operation.

227. If it appear to the Commissioners that a group or block of houses may be drained or improved more economically or advantageously in combination than separately, and a sewer of sufficient size already exists, or is about to be constructed, within one hundred feet of any part of such [illegible] the Commissioners

Sewers in streets to be covered with traps, &c.

228. All sewers and drains in streets (public or otherwise) shall be provided by the Commissioners or by the persons to whom they severally belong with proper traps or other coverings or means of ventilation, so as to prevent stench.

If the owner of any private sewer or drain shall, for ten days after notice given to him by the Commissioners, neglect or delay to provide proper traps or coverings or means of ventilation as aforesaid, the Commissioners may forthwith provide and apply the same;

and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner.

Power of Commissioners to erect or affix to building pipes for ventilation of sewers.

229. The Commissioners may erect on, or fix to, any house such pipes as they may deem necessary for the proper ventilation of the sewers belonging to them, and such pipes shall be carried to a height of not less than six feet above the highest part of the house, and erected so as not to occasion any nuisance or inconvenience to any house in the neighbourhood.

Branch drains, privies, &c., to be under the control of the Commissioners, and to be kept in good order by owners.

230. All branch drains, as well within as without the house or land to which they belong, and all privies and cess-pools within the municipality, shall be under the survey and control of the Commissioners, and shall be altered, supplied with water, connected with a sewer, repaired, stopped up, demolished, and kept in proper order at the costs and charges of the owner of the house or land to which the same belong, or for the use of which they are constructed or continued.

and if the owner of any house or land to which any such drain, privy, or cess-pool belongs, neglect, during eight days after notice in writing or that purpose, to alter, lay water to, connect with a sewer, repair, stop up, demolish, or put in good order the same, in the manner required by the Commissioners, the Commissioners may cause such drain, privy, or cess-pool to be altered, supplied with water, connected with a sewer, repaired, stopped up, demolished, or put in good order;

and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner.

Commissioners may alter any drain, &c., made contrary to their order.

231. If any branch drain, privy or cess-pool be constructed contrary to the directions and regulations of the Commissioners, or contrary to the provisions of this Act, or if any person, without the consent of the Commissioners, constructs, rebuilds or unstops any branch drain, privy, or cess-pool which has been ordered by them to be demolished or stopped up, or not to be made, the Commissioners may cause such amendment or alteration to be made in any such drain, privy, or cess-pool as they think fi; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the person by whom such drain, privy, or cess-pool was improperly constructed, rebuilt, or unstopped.

Act, or, without the consent of the Commissioners, constructs, rebuilds or untops any drain, privy, or cess-pool which has been ordered by them to be demolished or stopped up, or not to be made, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees.

Inspection of drains, privies, and cess-pools.

233. The Commissioners, or any officer authorized by them in that behalf, may inspect any branch drain, privy, or cess-pool, and for that purpose, at any time between sunrise and sunset, after one hour's notice in writing to the occupier of the house or land to which such drain, privy, or cess-pool is attached may enter upon such house or land with such assistants and workmen as are necessary, and cause the ground to be opened where they or he may think fit, doing as little damage as may be;

and if, upon such inspection, it appears that such drain, privy, or cess-pool is not in good order and condition, or that it has been constructed contrary to the provisions of this Act, the expenses of such inspection shall be paid by the person to whom such drain, privy, or cess-pool may belong;

but if the drain, privy, or cess-pool be found to be in proper order and condition, and not to have been constructed in violation of the provisions of this Act, the Commissioners or officer as aforesaid shall cause the ground to be closed and made good as soon as may be, and the expenses of opening, closing, and making good such drain, privy, or cess-pool, shall in that case be paid by the Commissioners:

Provided that nothing hereinbefore contained shall authorize an entry into any room appropriated for the zenana or residence of women, which by the custom of the country is considered private, unless a notice in writing of not less than four hours be given.

Penalty for throwing rubbish into sewers.

234. Whoever throws or puts, or permits his servants to throw or put, any earth, dirt, ashes, garden, kitchen, or stable refuse, or any broken glass or earthenware, or other rubbish, or, until suitable sewers shall be provided, any night-soil into any sewer or drain belonging to the Commissioners, or into any drain communicating therewith, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every such offence, and to a further fine, not exceeding thirty rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

No latrine to be constructed within fifty feet of a tank.

235. No person shall, without the permission of the Commissioners in writing, construct or keep any latrine, urinal, cess-pool, house-drain, or other receptacle for filth, sewage, house-drainage, or other offensive matter within fifty feet of any public tank, or a tank which the inhabitants of any locality are entitled to use. Any person upon whose land any latrine, urinal, cess-pool, house-drain, or other receptacle so situated shall be now existing or hereafter constructed, shall remove the same within forty-eight hours of the receipt of a written notice from the Commissioners.

236. Any person failing to comply with the notice mentioned in the last every day that the latrine, urinal, cess-pool, house-drain, or other receptacle remains within the limits aforesaid.

PART III.—Of General Conservancy.

Removal of night-soil.

237. The Commissioners from time to time may appoint—

(a) the hours within which night-soil or other offensive matter may be removed;

(b) the kind or cart or other receptacle in which it may be removed;

(c) the route by which such cart or receptacle shall proceed.

Penalty.

238. When the Commissioners have fixed such hours and given public notice thereof, whoever removes or causes to be removed along any street (public or otherwise) any such offensive matter at any time, except within the hours so fixed, and also, whoever at any time, whether such hours have been fixed by the Commissioners or not, uses for any such purpose any cart, carriage, or other receptacle or vessel other than that approved and sanctioned by the Commissioners, or slops or spills any such offensive matter in the removal thereof, or does not carefully sweep and clean every place in which any such offensive matter has been slopped or spilled, or places or sets down in any public place any vessel containing such offensive matter, or drives or takes, or causes to be driven or taken, any cart, carriage, receptacle, or vessel used for any such purpose as aforesaid, through any street (public or otherwise), or by any route other than that, from time to time, by public notice, appointed for that purpose by the Commissioners, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees for every such offence.

239. The Commissioners shall from time to time appoint or provide places for the deposit of dust, dirt, filth, and any other refuse whatsoever collected and removed in accordance with this Act; and for keeping all cattle, carts, implements, and other things required for the above or any of the purposes of this Act.

Penalty.

240. Whoever, being the occupier of any house or land, keeps or suffers to be kept any dirt, dust, filth, or refuse of any kind whatsoever for more than twenty-four hours, otherwise than in a proper receptacle, or suffers such receptacle to be in a filthy or noxious state, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and to a further fine, not exceeding thirty rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

Filth and refuse to be the property of the Commissioners.

241. All dirt, dust, filth, and any other refuse whatsoever, collected from the streets (public or otherwise), houses, privies, sewers, and cess-pools shall belong to the Commissioners, who may sell or dispose of the same as they may think proper, and the money arising from the sale thereof shall form part of the Municipal Fund.

ownership, or other cause, shall remain untenanted, and thereby become a resort of idle and disorderly persons, or become in a filthy or unwholesome state, or be complained of by any two or more of the neighbours as a nuisance, or if any land tenanted by persons without leases and enjoying no security of tenure seems to the Commissioners to be in a filthy or unwholesome state, the Commissioners, after due enquiry, may cause notice in writing to be given to the owner, or to the person claiming or believed to be the owner, if he be known and resident within the limits of their jurisdiction, and shall also cause such notice to be put on the door of the house or some conspicuous part of the land requiring the persons concerned therein, whoever they may be, to secure, enclose, clean, or clear the same;

and if such notice shall not be complied with within eight days the Commissioners shall cause the necessary work to be executed, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner, or, in case of abandonment or disputed ownership, by the sale of any materials found upon such house or land, and the provisions of section two hundred and sixty-nine shall be applicable to such sale.

Common necessaries.

243. The Commissioners may provide and maintain in proper and convenient situations, so as not to create a nuisance, common necessaries and urinals and shall cause the same, when provided, to be kept in proper order and to be daily cleansed.

Licensing of public necessaries and tola mehters' depots.

244. The Commissioners may license, for any period not exceeding one year, such necessaries for public accommodation and such tola mehters' depots as they may, from time to time, think proper; and may at any time, on giving one month's notice, cancel any license granted under this section, if it shall seem proper to them to cancel it.

No person shall carry on the business of a tola mehter without obtaining a license from the Commissioners.

Mode of recovering fees.

All fees shall be payable under any license granted under the last preceding section, shall be recoverable from the persons liable to pay the same, as if the amounts payable in respect thereof were rates due to the Commissioners from such persons, under the provisions of Chapter VI.

Penalty.

245. Whoever keeps any public necessary or any tola mehters' depot without a license as mentioned in the last preceding section, or, having a license, suffers such public necessary or tola mehters' depot to be in a filthy or noxious state, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, for every such offence, and to a further fine, not exceeding seventy rupees, for each day [illegible] after he

262. The Commissioners, in executing any works under this Act, shall provide and make, at their own expense, a sufficient number of convenient ways, water-courses, drains, and channels in the place of such as may be interrupted, injured, or rendered useless by reason of the execution of such works; and if any difference arises between the Commissioners and the persons affected thereby, such difference shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Bars to be erected across streets during repairs, and lights placed at night.

263. The Commissioners shall, during the construction or repair by them of any of the streets, sewers, or drains, vested in or belonging to them, take proper precaution for guarding against accident, by shoring up and protecting the adjoining houses; and shall cause such bars, chains, or posts to be fixed across or in any street (public or otherwise), to prevent the passage of carriages, carts, cattle, or animals, while such works are carried on as to them shall seem proper; and shall cause any sewer, or drain, or other works in streets (public or otherwise), during the construction or repair thereof by them, to be sufficiently lighted and guarded during the night.

264. If any building, tank, well, or hole, [illegible] for want fails to comply with such requisition during eight days from the service thereof, the Commissioners shall cause the same to be repaired, protected, or enclosed, so as to prevent danger therefrom; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner of the property so repaired, protected or enclosed.

Penalty.

265. Whoever, being an owner of land, fails to comply with the requisition mentioned in the last preceding section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, and to a further fine, not exceeding fifty rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

PART IV.—Of Building Regulations.

Houses may be set forward for improving lines of public street.

266. The Commissioners may, upon such terms as they shall think fit, allow any house to be set forward for improving the line of any public street in which such house is situated.

Houses projecting beyond line of street when taken down to be set back.

267. The Commissioners may prescribe a line on each side of any public street within which, without the permission of the Commissioners in writing, no portion of any building abutting on to the said street shall, after such line has been prescribed be constructed.

A line so prescribed shall be called 'the regular line of a public street.'

When any house, any part of which projects beyond the regular line of a public street, or beyond the front of the house on either side thereof, has been burnt down or taken down in order to be rebuilt or altered, or such portion thereof as projects beyond the regular line of the street has been burnt down or taken down in order to be rebuilt or altered, the Commissioners may require the same to be set back to, towards, the regular line of the street or the line of the adjoining houses:

Provided that the Commissioners shall make full compensation to the owner of any such house for any damage he may thereby sustain; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

House in a ruinous and dangerous state.

268. If any house, or wall, or anything affixed thereon, be deemed by the Commissioners to be in a ruinous state, or likely to fall, or in any way dangerous to the inhabitants of such house or to the neighbouring houses or to the occupiers thereof, or to passengers, they shall immediately, if it appears to them to be necessary, cause a proper hoard or fence to be put up for the protection of passengers, and shall cause notice in writing to be given to the owner, if he be known and resident within the limits of the jurisdiction, and shall also cause such notice to be put on the door or other conspicuous par

If such owner or occupier do not begin to take down, repair, or secure the same within three days after such notice and complete such work with due diligence, the Commissioners shall cause all or so much of such house, wall, or thing as they shall think necessary, to be taken down, repaired, or otherwise secured; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner.

If owner does not take house down, Commissioners may do so.

The provisions of section two hundred and sixty-seven shall apply to houses taken down or repaired under this section.

269. If any such house or wall as is mentioned in the last preceding section, or any part of the same, be taken down as in such section mentioned the Commissioners may sell the materials thereof, or so much of the same as shall be taken down, and apply the proceeds of such sale in payment of the expenses incurred, and shall restore any surplus arising from such sale to the owner of such house or wall on demand.

Sale of materials of ruinous houses.

The Commissioners shall have the same remedies for compelling the payment of so much of the said expenses as may remain due after the application of the proceeds of such sale as by this Act are given to them for compelling the payment of the whole of the said expenses.

270. Before beginning, within the limits of the municipality, to build or rebuild any house, the person intending to build or rebuild such house shall give to the Commissioners notice thereof in writing, and shall accompany such notice with a plan, showing the levels and width at which the foundation and lowest floor of such house are proposed to be laid, by reference to some level ascertained under the direction of the Commissioners.

Notice of new buildings to be given to the Commissioners.

271. Within thirty days after receiving such notice as is mentioned in the last preceding section, the Commissioners shall signify their approval of the proposed levels and width of foundation, or if they disapprove thereof, they shall fix other levels and width of foundation in lieu thereof within the same time.

Commissioners to signify disapproval within fourteen days.

272. If such building as is mentioned in section two hundred and seventy be begun or made without sending such notice and plan as are mentioned in the said section, or at any levels different from those fixed by the Commissioners within the said thirty days, or in any other respect contrary to the provisions of this Act, the Commissioners may, if necessary, cause such building to be altered or demolished as the case may require; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the person failing to comply with the provisions aforesaid.

Houses built without notice, or contrary to provisions of this Act, may be altered by the Commissioners.

273. If the Commissioners fail to signify in writing their approval or disapproval of the levels and width of foundation shown on such plan as is mentioned in the last preceding section, and to [illegible] width of foundation within tained, proceed to build or rebuild the house therein referred to according to the levels and width of foundation shown on such plan:

If Commissioners fail to signify approval, &c., within fourteen days, parties may proceed without.

Provided that such building or rebuilding be otherwise in accordance with this Act.

The word "house" in this and the three last preceding sections does not include a hut.

274. Every person intending to build or take down any house, or to alter or repair the outward part of any house, where any public street will be obstructed or rendered inconvenient by means of such work shall, before beginning the same, cause sufficient hoards or fences to be put up, in order to separate the house where such works are being carried on from the street, and shall keep such hoard or fence standing and in good condition, to the satisfaction of the Commissioners, during such time as the public safety or convenience requires, and shall cause the same to be sufficiently lighted during the night:

Hoards to be set up during repairs.

Provided that no person shall put up a hoard or fence without the written permission of the Commissioners, and shall not keep up the said hoard or fence for a time longer than allowed in the said written permission.

275. Every person who begins to build, or to take down, or alter, or repair any house contrary to the provisions of the last preceding section, or who, without license, erects or sets up any hoard, scaffolding, or fence whatsoever, or who, being licensed, fails to put up such fence or hoard, or to continue the same standing, or to maintain the same in good condition, or who does not, while the same hoards or fences are standing, keep the same sufficiently lighted during the night, or who does not remove the same when directed by the Commissioners within eight days, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every such offence, and a further fine, not exceeding twenty rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

Penalty.

276. No house shall be newly erected over any sewer or drain belonging to the Commissioners without their written consent;

House over sewers, &c., not to be erected without consent of the Commissioners.

and if any house be so erected, the Commissioners may cause such house to be pulled down or otherwise dealt with as they may think fit; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the person so erecting the house.

277. No house shall be built within the limits of the municipality upon a lower level than will allow of the drainage of such house or building being led into some public sewer then existing or projected, or into some tidal river or other place into which the Commissioners are empowered to empty their sewers.

Level of houses hereafter built within the town.

278. If any house newly erected or rebuilt within the municipality have such means of drainage as in the last preceding section mentioned existing within one hundred feet thereof, the owner shall make a drain leading thereunto from the site of such Houses hereafter built to have drains constructed under the orders of the Commissioners.

and if he neglect to do so within a reasonable time, the Commissioners may cause the same to be done, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the owner.

Erection of new huts to be under the control of Commissioners.

279. It shall be lawful for any person to erect a hut, or any range or block of huts or sheds, or to add any hut or shed to any range or block already existing at the commencement of this Act, without previous notice to the Commissioners, and the Commissioners may within thirty days of the receipt of such notice by them require such huts or sheds to be built, so that they may stand in regular lines with a free passage or way in front of and between every two lines, of such width as they may think proper for ventilation and to facilitate scavengering, and with such number of privies and with such means of drainage as to them may seem necessary, and at such a level as will admit of such drainage, and with a plinth at least two feet above the level of the nearest public street.

Power to direct removal of huts built without notice.

280. If any such huts or sheds be built without giving such notice to the Commissioners, or otherwise than as required by the Commissioners, the Commissioners may give notice to the owner or occupier thereof, by affixing a notice to some conspicuous part of some one of such huts or sheds, to take down and remove the same within one month, or to effect such alterations as they may deem necessary; and it shall be lawful for the Commissioners, if they shall think fit so to do, to cause the same to be taken down and removed; and the expense incurred thereby shall be paid by the said owner or occupier thereof, and shall be recoverable as hereinafter provided.

Penalty.

281. Whoever erects a hut, or any range or block of huts or shed, or to adds to any hut or shed, or any range or block already existing, contrary to the provisions of section two hundred and seventy-nine, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees for every such offence, and to a further fine, not exceeding twenty rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

PART V.—Of Sanitary Measures with regard to Blocks of Huts.

Power of Commissioners as to inspection of huts.

282. Whenever the Commissioners in meeting are satisfied, from inspection, or by report of competent persons, that any existing block of huts in the municipality is, by reason of the manner in which the huts are constructed or crowded together, or of the want of drainage and the impracticability of scavengering, attended with risk of disease to the inhabitants or the neighbourhood, they may cause the locality to be inspected by two medical officers, who shall make a report in writing on the sani-

[illegible] block of huts and shall

On receipt of report Commissioners may cause notice to be served.

283. On receipt of the said report, the Commissioners in meeting may cause a notice to be served upon the owners or occupiers of the huts, or, at the option of the Commissioners, the owner of the land on which such huts are built, requiring them to carry out and execute within a reasonable time, to be fixed by the Commissioners for such purpose, all or any of the works specified in the aforesaid report, or any portion thereof respectively.

Commissioners may carry out works if owners or occupiers refuse.

284. If, after the service of the said notice, such owners or occupiers, or the owner of the land, shall refuse or neglect to carry out and execute the said works within the time appointed, the Commissioners may cause all or any of the said works, or any portion thereof respectively, to be executed; and the expenses thereby incurred, including reasonable compensation to the owners or occupiers of huts destroyed or removed, shall be paid by the owner of the land:

Provided that the Commissioners in meeting may order the expenses so incurred to be recovered by instalments from the said owner, or, if it should appear to them that the said owner is unable by reason of poverty to pay the same, may order the same or any portion thereof to be paid out of the Municipal Fund.

Expenses may be recovered by instalments or remitted in case of poverty.

Sale of huts.

285. If any of the said huts be pulled down, the Commissioners shall cause the materials of each hut to be sold separately, if such sale can be effected, and the proceeds shall be paid to the owner of the hut; or if the owner be unknown, or the title disputed, shall be held in deposit by the Commissioners until the person interested therein shall obtain the order of a competent court for the payment of the same.

The Court of Small Causes shall be deemed a competent court for the purpose.

Power to purchase, improve, and re-sell or lease unhealthy areas.

286. Notwithstanding anything in the three sections immediately preceding contained, the Commissioners in meeting may, upon receipt of the report prescribed under section two hundred and eighty-two, pass a resolution to the effect that the land upon which the block of huts mentioned in such report is situate, is an unhealthy area, and that, in the opinion of the Commissioners, the acquisition of the land, either by purchase or lease, is necessary for the purpose of making the requisite improvements thereon, and shall proceed to make a scheme for the improvement of such land, and shall forward such scheme, accompanied by such plans and particulars as shall be necessary for a due understanding of the same, together with a copy of such resolution, for the consideration and sanction of the Local Government.

The Commissioners in meeting may, with the sanction of the Local Government, acquire such land or any part thereof by purchase or lease, ment of any land acquired by the Commissioners as above provided, the Commissioners in meeting may sell or let any part of the acquired land to any person for the purpose and under the condition that he will, as respects the land so purchased by or leased to him, carry out such scheme, and in particular they may insert, in any grant or lease of any part of the land which may be intended for building sites, provisions binding the grantee or lessee to build thereon, in such manner and within such period of time, as in the grant or lease prescribed, and to make provision for the sanitation and conservancy of the land and the dwellings built thereon to the satisfaction of the Commissioners.

The Commissioners may, instead of selling or letting the land acquired by them as aforesaid, engage with any person to carry out the whole or any part of any duly sanctioned scheme of improvement upon such terms as the Commissioners may think expedient, or may themselves undertake to carry out such scheme.

All expenditure incurred by the Commissioners under this section, in connection with the preparation of any scheme of improvement, the acquisition by purchase or lease of any lands for the purposes of any such duly sanctioned scheme, or the carrying out of any such scheme, shall be deemed to be expenditure to which the Municipal Funds are applicable under section twenty-nine.

For the purchase of any land acquired under this section, and the block of huts or other buildings standing thereon, and for otherwise carrying out any duly sanctioned scheme for the improvement of any such land, the Commissioners in meeting may, with the sanction of the Local Government, from time to time, borrow on the security of the rates, taxes, and dues imposed and levied on account of the Municipal Fund, or a portion of them, and at such rate of interest, and upon such terms as to the time of repayment and otherwise as the Local Government may approve, any sums of money the Commissioners may require for the objects aforesaid.

The Commissioners shall be bound to sell or lease such land in the manner aforesaid, or themselves to carry out such sanctioned scheme of improvement as is above described within the term of two years from the date of their purchase or lease of such land, unless the Local Government shall specially extend such term. But it shall not be lawful for the Commissioners, without the special sanction of the Local Government, to keep in their own possession any land purchased or leased by them under this section for more than five years from the date of the completion of its reclamation and improvement under the provisions of this section, or for more than seven years from the date of its purchase or lease by them.

If Commissioner fail to act, Local Government may take steps.

287. In case the Commissioners should omit to take any action under sections two hundred and eighty-two or two hundred and eighty-three, or in the opinion of the Local Government should fail to give effect to the provisions thereof, the Local Government may cause any block of huts to be inspected by the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal, who shall make condition of the locality is such as to be attended with risk of disease to the inhabitants or the neighbourhood, shall specify the huts which should be removed, the roads, drains, and sewers which should be constructed, and the low lands which should be filled up, with a view to the removal of the said risk of disease.

On receipt of report Local Government may order Commissioners to serve notice on owners.

288. On receipt of the said report, the Local Government may order the Commissioners to serve a notice on the owners or occupiers of the huts, or on the owner of the land on which such huts are built, requiring them to carry out and execute within a reasonable time, to be fixed by the Local Government for such purpose, all or any of the works specified in the said report, or any portion thereof respectively; and upon service of the said notice the Commissioners may proceed as provided in section two hundred and eighty-four, and shall be liable to all or any of the obligations imposed upon them by section two hundred and eighty-five.

If Commissioners make default in carrying out orders, Local Government may carry it out.

289. If the Commissioners make default in carrying out the said order of the Local Government, the Local Government may appoint some officer to perform the same, and such officer may exercise such of the powers conferred upon the Commissioners by sections two hundred and eighty-three and two hundred and eighty-four as are necessary for the execution of the said works, and shall be liable to all or any of the obligations imposed upon the Commissioners by section two hundred and eighty-five; and the expenses incurred by such officer in the execution of the said works shall be paid by the owner of the land:

Expenses may be recovered by instalments or remitted in case of poverty.

Provided that the Local Government may order the expenses so incurred to be recovered by instalments from the said owner, or if it should appear to the Local Government that the said owner is by reason of poverty unable to pay the same, may order the same, or any portion thereof, to be paid out of the Municipal Fund.

CHAPTER XII.

OF SANITARY MATTERS.

PART I.—Of Slaughter-houses, Food, Drink, Drugs and Offensive Trades.

No place shall be used as a slaughter-house without a license from the Commissioners.

290. No place shall be used as a slaughter-house within the limits of the municipality, unless a license in writing for the use thereof as a slaughter-house has been obtained from the Commissioners in meeting, who may, at their discretion, from time to time grant such license.

Whoever uses any place as a slaughter-house without such license shall be liable to a fine of twenty rupees.

Commissioners to provide places for slaughter-houses.

291. The Commissioners in meeting may from time to time, if they shall think fit, provide places within or without the fore provided by the Commissioners for the purpose of being used as slaughter-houses shall be deemed to have been provided under this section.

Markets, slaughter-houses, &c., to be properly drained.

292. Every owner, or occupier, or farmer of any place for the sale of meat, poultry, fish, or vegetables, or of any slaughter-house within the limits of the municipality shall cause such drains to be made therein as shall be considered sufficient by the Commissioners, and (if required so to do by the Commissioners) shall cause all the floors and drains to be paved with stone or burnt brick, and shall also cause a supply of water to be provided sufficient for keeping such place or slaughter-house in a clean and wholesome state.

Penalty.

If such owner, occupier, or farmer, after notice in writing given to him by the Commissioners that such market or slaughter-house is defective in any of the said particulars, and requiring him to remedy the defect specified within not less than thirty days, makes default therein, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for every day during which such default is continued.

Sale of unwholesome food or drink.

293. Any Justice of the Peace, on the application of the Commissioners or any of their officers, setting forth that there is just cause to believe that any article, which has been rendered or has become noxious or unfit for use as food or drink for man, is in the possession of any person for the purpose of being sold, offered, or exposed for sale, may grant a warrant to enter upon the premises of such person and to search for and seize such article; and if it appear to the said Justice of the Peace that any such article whether discovered with or without a warrant under this section is noxious or unfit for such use, he shall order it to be forfeited and disposed of in such way as to him shall seem proper.

Powers to Commissioners to enter and inspect markets, shops, &c., and to seize unwholesome articles exposed for sale.

294. The Commissioners, or any person authorized by them in that behalf, may, at all reasonable times, enter into and inspect any market, building, shop, stall, boat, vessel, wharf, godown or other place used for the storage or sale of meat, poultry, fish, vegetables, corn, bread, flour, wine, spirits, or other food or drink, or as a slaughter-house, and may examine any of the aforesaid articles of food or drink which may be therein; and in case any of the aforesaid articles of food or drink appear to be intended for the food or drink of man, and to be unfit for such food or drink, may seize the same;

and if it appear to a Justice of the Peace that any of the aforesaid articles of food or drink is unfit for the food or drink of man, he shall order the same to be destroyed, or to be so disposed of as to prevent its being exposed for sale or used for such food.

295. Any Justice of the Peace before whom any person is convicted of [illegible] contrary to the this Act, may suspend, for any period not exceeding two months, the license granted to him under section two hundred and ninety; and the Commissioners, upon the conviction of any person for a second or other subsequent like offence, may cancel his license.

Penalty for using slaughter-houses during suspension or revocation of license.

296. Whoever, during the period for which any such license is suspended, or after the same is cancelled as aforesaid, slaughters cattle, or allows cattle to be slaughtered in the slaughter-house to which such license relates, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and to a further fine, not exceeding fifty rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

Registry of shops for sale of drugs recognized by British Pharmacopœia.

297(1). No shop or place shall be kept for the retail sale of drugs recognized by the British Pharmacopœia, not being also articles of ordinary domestic consumption, unless the same shall have been registered in the office of the Commissioners. Any keeper of such shop or place failing to register the same within two months of the passing of this Act, or within two months from the date of the establishment of such place, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees. The Commissioners shall, upon registration, grant the keeper of such shop or place a license, which he shall be bound to display in some conspicuous part of his premises.

(2). No person shall compound, mix, prepare, dispense, or sell any drug in any such registered shop or place unless he be duly certified as a fit person to be entrusted with such duties under rules to be hereafter made for that purpose by the Local Government.

(3). Any person not being a holder of such certificate, who shall compound, mix, prepare, or sell any drugs in any such registered shop or place, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees for each offence, and any owner, occupier or keeper of any such shop or place who shall employ any such uncertified person to perform any one or more of such duties shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, and shall be further liable, at the discretion of such Magistrate, to forfeit his license.

Provided that the provisions contained in clauses (2) and (3) of this section shall not come into operation until after the expiration of a period of six months from the publication of a notification to that effect in the Calcutta Gazette by the Local Government.

Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to apply to the sale of drugs used by practitioners of indigenous medicines, whether these are recognized by the British Pharmacopœia or not, when such drugs are not sold in a shop or place where medicines recognized by such Pharmacopœia are dispensed upon prescription.

298. The Commissioners, or any person [illegible] by them in that in the said place is adulterated, or by reason of age, or the effect of climate, has become inert or unwholesome, or has otherwise become deteriorated in such a manner as to lessen its efficacy, to change its operation or to render it noxious, may remove the same on giving a receipt specifying the nature and quantity of the drug removed and its approximate value; and if it appear to a Justice of the Peace that the said drug removed as aforesaid is adulterated, or has become inert, unwholesome, or deteriorated as aforesaid, he may order the same to be destroyed, or to be so disposed of as to him may seem fit. If it shall appear to the said Justice that the drug so removed is not adulterated or has not become inert, unwholesome, or deteriorated as aforesaid, the person from whose shop or place it has been taken shall be entitled to have it restored to him, and it shall be in the discretion of the said Justice to award him such compensation, not exceeding the actual loss which has been sustained, as such Justice may think proper.

Compensation if drug be not adulterated, &c.

If the drug removed as aforesaid is not brought before a Justice of the Peace, it shall be restored to the person from whose shop or place it was taken, and such person shall be entitled to compensation for any actual loss which he may have sustained by the removal of the said drug, and any dispute which may arise touching the amount of compensation to be given shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses.

Certain offensive and dangerous trades carried on within the municipality to be registered.

299. The owner or occupier of every place within the municipality used for any of the following purposes, namely—

(a) melting tallow;
(b) boiling offal or blood;
(c) as a soap-house;
(d) oil-boiling house;
(e) dyeing-house;
(f) tannery;
(g) brick, pottery, or lime kiln;
(h) sago manufactory;
(i) manufactory or place of business from which offensive or unwholesome smells arise;
(j) or as a yard or depôt for hay, straw, wood, or coal; shall register the same at the office of the Commissioners in a book to be kept by them for that purpose, and the owner or occupier of any such place, who shall omit to register the same, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

No such trades allowed without license.

300. No place shall be newly used within the municipality for any of the purposes mentioned in the last preceding section, except under a license from the Commissioners, who may, at their discretion, from time to time, grant such license.

Penalty.

301. Whoever, without a license, uses any such place for any such purpose, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, and to a

Commissioners may in certain cases order the use of slaughter-house, and the carrying on of dangerous and offensive trades to be discontinued.

302. If it be shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners that any place licensed under section two hundred and ninety, or three hundred, or registered under section two hundred and ninety-nine, is a nuisance to the neighbourhood, they may give notice to the occupier to discontinue the use of such place within one month after the date of such notice.

Penalty.

Whoever, after the expiration of such time, uses such place, or permits it to be used, in such a manner as to be a nuisance to the neighbourhood, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, and to a further fine, not exceeding one hundred rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

PART II.

Of Burial and Burning Grounds.

Burial and burning grounds to be registered.

303. The Commissioners may, if they think fit, cause a survey and measurement to be made of every burial and burning ground, and every place used as such; and every burial and burning ground and every place used as such shall be registered by the owner or the person having the control thereof, or, if there be no owner or person authorized to control the same, by order of the Commissioners, in a book to be kept by them for that purpose.

Penalty.

304. Whoever uses any such place as is mentioned in the last preceding section without the same being registered shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, and to a further fine, not exceeding seventy rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

Penalty.

305. Whoever knowingly buries or burns, or causes, procures, or suffers to be buried or burned, any corpse in or on any ground not registered as a burial or burning ground, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

No vault or burial or burning place henceforth to be constructed without leave of the Commissioners.

306. No vault or grave shall be made within the walls of, or underneath, any church, chapel, or other place of public worship, and no burial or burning ground, whether public or private, shall be opened, made, or formed, otherwise than by, or under the authority of, the Local Government without a license, describing the extent and boundaries thereof, previously obtained from the Commissioners in meeting, other than an ordinary meeting, who may at their discretion, from time to time, grant such license.

Penalty.

307. Whosoever shall bury or burn, or cause, permit, or suffer to be buried or burned, any corpse in any vault, grave or burial or burning ground made or formed without such license,

308. If the Commissioners in meeting, with the sanction of the Local Government, shall certify, in manner hereinafter provided, that any burial ground or place of burial, or that any place used for the burning of corpses, is in such a state as to be dangerous to the health of persons living in the neighbourhood thereof;

Commissioners to issue certificates prohibiting the use of improper burial and burning places.

or that any church or other place of public worship is dangerous to the health of persons frequenting the same, by reason of the state of the vaults or graves within the walls of, or underneath, the same, or in any churchyard or burial ground adjacent thereto; and shall also certify that a fitting place for interment or burning (as the case may be) exists within a convenient distance and is available, no person shall, after a time (not less than two months) to be named in such certificate, bury or burn, or permit or suffer to be buried or burned, any corpse in, upon, within, or under the ground, church, or place of worship to which the certificate relates, except in so far as may be allowed by such certificate.

Every such certificate shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and a translation thereof in Bengali shall, in the case of a burial or burning ground, be affixed conspicuously on some part of the said ground.

309. Whoever after due publication of such certificate, buries or burns, or causes, permits, or suffers to be buried or burned, any corpse contrary to the last preceding section, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees.

Penalty.

310. Notwithstanding any certificate under section three hundred and eight, where, by usage or otherwise, there is any right of interment in or under any church or chapel, or in any vault of such church or chapel, or of any churchyard, burial ground, or place of burial affected by such certificate or where any exclusive right of interment, or any exclusive right to ground for the purpose of interment, has been purchased or acquired, the Commissioners may, if on application made to them, they are satisfied that the exercise of such right or the use of such ground will not be injurious to health, grant a license for such exercise or use during such time and subject to such conditions and restrictions as they may think fit.

Commissioners may, in certain cases, permit interment in churches, &c.

311. The Commissioners shall, from time to time, grant licenses to persons applying for such, for the sale at burning grounds, of fuel and other articles used for the cremation of dead bodies, and shall in meeting, other than an ordinary meeting, prescribe a scale of rates for the sale of such articles; and any person not so licensed who shall, within three hundred yards of any such burning ground, sell or offer for sale any such fuel or other articles, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees.

Power to license fuel shops at burning grounds.

The Commissioners may, on good and sufficient cause, revoke or withdraw any such license they have his license cancelled, and shall also be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees.

The Commissioners shall not be bound to grant a fresh license to any person whose license may have been revoked, withdrawn, or cancelled under the provisions of this section.

CHAPTER XIII.

OF MARKETS.

312. The Commissioners in meeting may, from time to time, if they shall think fit, with the sanction of the Local Government, provide places within the limits of the municipality for the purpose of being used as municipal markets, and the Commissioners may charge such rents, tolls, and fees as to them may seem fit for the use of, or right to expose goods for sale in such markets, and for the use of shops, stalls, and standings therein.

Power to Commissioners to construct markets.

313. All such rents, tolls, and fees which shall be imposed shall be recoverable by the Commissioners from the persons liable to pay the same as if the amounts payable in respect thereof were rates due to the Commissioners from such persons under the provisions of Chapter VI.

Recovery of fees.

314. The Commissioners in meeting may, from time to time, if they shall think fit, with the sanction of the Local Government, acquire land by purchase, lease, or otherwise, in order to provide places within the limits of the municipality, for the purpose of being used as municipal markets, and for the like purpose may purchase or take on lease any land now used as a market, or registered as such, upon such terms, or subject to such conditions as they may consider necessary, and may appropriate any land now vested in, or belonging to them, and may set out the whole or such parts thereof as they may think necessary for the purposes of such municipal markets, and thereupon from time to time may build and maintain such municipal markets and such stalls, sheds, pens, and other buildings or conveniences for the use of the persons frequenting such municipal markets, and for the weighing and measuring goods sold in such municipal markets, and on such land as aforesaid, or on other land purchased for that purpose, and may make and maintain all such roads and approaches thereto as they may think necessary, and from time to time, in addition to the bye-laws provided in Chapter XVI, make such bye-laws as they may think fit for all or any of the following purposes:—

Power to Commissioners to acquire land for markets; and to make bye-laws.

(a) for regulating the control and use of such markets, and the buildings, stalls, pens, and standings therein, and for preventing nuisance or obstructions therein, or in the immediate approaches thereto;

(b) for preventing the use therein of false or defective weights, scales, or measures;

(c) for regulating the sale or exposure for sale of articles, whether by measure, weight, tale, or piece;

(e) for keeping such markets in a cleanly and proper state, and for removing filth and refuse therefrom.

Power to expel persons breaking regulations.

315. The Commissioners may expel from any such municipal market any person who, or whose servants, may be convicted of disobeying any bye-law made under the last preceding section, and may prevent such person, by himself or his servants, further carrying on any trade or business in such market, or occupying any stall or shop therein, and may determine any lease or tenure which such person may have in any such stall or shop.

Power to Commissioners to sell or let markets.

316. The Commissioners in meeting may sell or let to tenants on lease, or otherwise, on such terms as they may think fit, any municipal market, or any part thereof, and may do all things necessary for carrying the provisions of this section into effect.

Power to Commissioners to close markets or to sell or let land formerly used as markets.

317. The Commissioners in meeting may close any municipal market, or any part thereof, or sell, or let out to tenants, on lease or otherwise, any land heretofore used as a municipal market, or any part thereof, on such terms as they may think fit, and may do all things necessary for carrying the provisions of this section into effect.

Power to Commissioners to carry on markets.

318. The Commissioners in meeting may out of the Municipal Fund and out of the moneys borrowed under the provisions of this Act, and out of moneys derived from the rents of buildings, stalls, pens, or standings in any municipal market, and from any fees realised from any municipal market, expend such sums of money as they may think necessary for the construction, maintenance, and keeping such municipal market in repair, and for any other purpose or purposes which the Commissioners may deem necessary for establishing or carrying on the same, or conducive thereto.

Power to grant licenses for markets. Du rationof licenses.

319. It shall be within the discretion of the Commissioners in meeting to grant licenses for the use of any place as a market for the sale of meat, fish, fruit, and vegetables within the limits of the municipality, and every such license shall be in force until the first day of April next ensuing the day therein named for the commencement thereof.

Nothing contained in this section shall be held to impose upon any person the obligation of taking out a license for a market which has been registered under section 6 of Bengal Act VIII of 1871.

Penalty for permitting unauthorised places to be used as markets.

320. Whoever wilfully or negligently permits any place within the limits of the municipality (not being a market which has been registered under section 6 of Bengal Act VIII of 1871) to be used as a market for the sale of meat, fish, fruit, or vegetables, without a license under this Act, shall be liable to a fine [illegible] hundred rupees, and to a Power to close unlicensed place.

321. Whenever three convictions under the provisions of the last preceding section shall have been pronounced in respect of the same place within the space of one year, it shall be lawful for any Police Magistrate of Calcutta, on the application of the Commissioners, to order such place to be closed, and thereupon to appoint persons, or otherwise take order, to prevent such place being so used; and every person who shall sell or expose for sale meat, fish, fruit, or vegetables in any place which shall have been so closed shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten rupees.

Commissioners may define ways in bazars.

322. The Commissioners in meeting may define, fix, and determine what portions of any market or bazar within the limits of the municipality shall be thrown into, and made part of, the existing approaches, roads paths, and ways in such market or bazar for the convenient use of persons resorting thereto; and shall signify the same by affixing, or causing to be affixed, in some conspicuous place or places in the market or bazar, a notice signifying the limits and description of the parts of the said market or bazar so to be kept and used as part of the approaches, roads, paths, and ways.

Commissioners may require works to be executed.

The Commissioners in meeting may, by notice in writing to the owner, proprietor, or lessee of any such market or bazar, require him, within a time to be specified therein, to execute the necessary works and take all necessary measures for the setting out, clearing, widening, and maintaining of the said approaches, roads, paths, and ways; and may, in case of such default by their servants and workmen, enter into and upon the said market or bazar, and clear, set out, and widen the said approaches, roads, paths, and ways, and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid by the person on whom the notice has been served.

Commissioners may alter approaches.

The Commissioners in meeting may from time to time vary and alter the said approaches, roads, paths, and ways as occasion may require, signifying the same by a like notice.

Penalty.

Whoever shall, after such notification, cause any obstruction or encroachment in or on any such approaches, roads, paths, or ways shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and to a further fine, not exceeding ten rupees, for every day such obstruction or encroachment is continued after notice from the Commissioners to remove or discontinue the same.

Minimum of penalties.

323. Whenever any person who shall have been convicted of any offence under this chapter, or against any of the bye-laws made or to be made under this chapter, in respect to markets, shall again be convicted of an offence against the same provision, the fine to be inflicted for the first of such subsequent offences shall not be less than one moiety of the maximum fine provided

CHAPTER XIV.

OF THE GENERAL POWERS OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

PART I.—Rights of Entry.

Power to enter upon houses and land for the purposes of this Act.

324. The Commissioners shall, for the purposes of this Act, have power, by themselves or their officers, between sunrise and sunset, to enter upon any house or land, as well for the purpose of making any inspection, survey, or measurement, as for the purpose of executing any work authorized by this Act to be executed by them without being liable to any legal proceedings or molestation whatsoever on account of such entry, or of anything done on such house or land in pursuance of this Act:

Provided that, except as herein otherwise provided, the Commissioners or their officers shall not enter upon any house or land which may be occupied at the time, unless with the consent of the occupier there of, without previously giving the said occupier twenty-four hours' notice of their intention to do so.

Power to Commissioners to enter on lands adjacent to works.

325. The Commissioners, or their officers or servants, may enter upon the land of any person adjoining to, or being within the distance of one hundred yards of any works by this Act authorized to be made, for the purpose of depositing upon such land any soil, gravel, sand, lime, brick, stone, or other materials, or for any other purposes connected with the formation of the said works, without making any previous payment, tender, or deposit, doing as little damage as may be in the exercise of the several powers hereby granted to them, and making compensation for such temporary occupation of, or temporary damage to, the said land to the owner and occupier thereof from time to time, and as often as any such temporary occupation shall be taken, or such temporary damage done, and making compensation to the owner also for the permanent injury (if any) to such land; and if any dispute shall arise touching the amount or apportionment of such compensation, the same shall be settled in the manner hereinafter provided for the settlement of disputes respecting damages and expenses:

Provided that, before the Commissioners make any such temporary use as aforesaid of any land adjoining or lying near to the said works, they shall give three days' notice of such their intention to the owner and occupier of such land, and shall set apart, by sufficient fences, so much of the land as shall be required to be used as aforesaid from the other land adjoining thereto.

Powers to be exercised by the Commissioners when constructing drains and aqueducts without the town.

326. For the purpose of laying pipes or constructing aqueducts for bringing water into the municipality from any place without the limits thereof, or for the purpose of making sewers or drains to communicate with, or empty themselves into, any public sewer, lake, stream, canal, or water-course, without the said limits, the Commissioners, their officers, and servants may, whenever it may be found necessary for laying down any such pipes, or for the construction of any such aqueduct, sewer, or drain throughout the line of country through which the said pipes, aqueduct, sewer, or drain, are to run, all the powers which by this Act they may exercise within the limits of the municipality, and which may be necessary for the laying of such pipes, or the construction of such aqueduct, sewer, or drain, without being subject to any action or molestation whatever for so doing; and the Magistrate of any district through which the said pipes, aqueduct, sewer, or drain are to run may exercise in respect thereof the like powers and jurisdiction, within the limits of his own district, as a Justice of the Peace may under this Act exercise in respect of any work to be executed by the Commissioners within the limits of the municipality.

Penalty for obstructing persons employed by the Commissioners in their duty.

327. Whoever at any time obstructs or molests any person employed by the Commissioners (not being a public servant within the meaning of section 21 of the Indian Penal Code), or any person with whom they may have contracted under the provisions of this Act, in the performance and execution of their or his duty, or of anything which they are respectively empowered or required to do by virtue or in consequence of this Act; or removes any mark set up for the purpose of indicating any level or direction necessary to the execution of works authorized by this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, or, in the discretion of the Justice of the Peace before whom he is convicted, to imprisonment for any term not exceeding two months.

PART II.—Of the Purchase and Sale of Land.

Commissioners may purchase, sell, and lease land for the purposes of this Act.

328. The Commissioners in meeting, may purchase land, whether within or without the limits of the municipality, for any of the purposes of this Act, and may sell any land vested in them and not required for the purposes of this Act, or may dispose of the same on lease; and the Commissioners may receive the rent of the same on such terms as they may think fit.

Commissioners may rent and take on lease land.

329. The Commissioners in meeting, may from time to time pay rent for, or take on lease, on such term as they may think fit, any land required for the purposes of this Act.

Land may be acquired under Land Acquisition Act.

330. Any land required for the purposes of this Act may be acquired under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870, and on payment by the Commissioners, out of the Municipal Fund, of the compensation payable under this Act, the land shall vest in them for the purposes of this Act.

PART III.—Of Railways.

Power to construct railway.

331. The Commissioners in meeting, may, upon any of the public streets within the limits of the municipality, or upon any land within or without such limits, and use and employ upon any such railway, by them heretofore constructed or hereafter to be constructed, such locomotive engines or other moving power, and such carriages and wagons to be drawn or propelled thereby, carry and convey upon such railway all such passengers and goods as shall be offered to them for that purpose, and make such reasonable charges in respect thereof as they may from time to time determine upon.

Power to permit carriages to run on railway.

332. The Commissioners in meeting, from time to time may enter into any contract with any person for the passage over any railway already constructed by the Commissioners, or hereafter to be constructed by them, of the engines, wagons or other carriages of such person, upon the payment of such tolls or rent, and under such conditions and restrictions as may be mutually agreed upon.

Power to lease railway.

333 The Commissioners in meeting, may, lease any railway constructed or to be constructed by them under the provisions hereinbefore contained, to any person upon such terms and under such conditions and restrictions as may be mutually agreed upon; and every person to whom any such railway shall be so leased by the Commissioners shall, subject to such conditions and restrictions as aforesaid, have all such and the same powers of maintaining the same, and for using and employing thereupon locomotive engines and other moving power, and carriages and wagons to be drawn or propelled thereby, and for carrying and conveying thereupon passengers and goods, and making charges in respect thereof, as the Commissioners would have had if such railway had not been leased.

The Commissioners in meeting, may, from time to time enter into any contract with any person for the purpose of the construction of any railway within or without the limits of the municipality and for the purpose of maintaining and working of the same.

PART IV.—Of Hospitals.

Power to support hospitals.

334. The Commissioners in meeting, other than an ordinary meeting, may apply such sum as to them may seem proper in or towards the maintenance and support of such hospitals for such purposes as they may think fit.

CHAPTER XV.

OF THE MUNICIPAL DEBT.

Power to Commissioners to borrow on the security of rates and taxes.

335. For the construction of works of a permanent nature under this Act, the Commissioners in meeting, may, with the sanction of the Local Government, from time to time borrow by way of debenture, on the security of the rates, taxes, and dues imposed and levied on account of the Municipal Fund, or of a portion of them, and at such rate of interest and upon such terms as to the time of repayment and otherwise as the Local Government may approve, any sums of money the Commissioners may require for the purposes of this Act.

Such debentures shall be in the form contained in the seventh schedule, and shall be transferable by endorsement, and the right to sue in respect of the moneys secured by any of such debentures shall be vested in the holders thereof for the time being without any preference by reason of some of such debentures being prior in date to others.

Payment of moneys due on old debentures by issue of fresh debentures.

337. The Commissioners in meeting, may at any time, with the sanction of the Local Government, raise, by the issue of new debentures, any money that may be required to pay any moneys for the time being due on any debentures issued under the authority of this Act, or of any enactment hereby expressly repealed.

Establishment of reserve fund.

338. The Commissioners shall set aside yearly out of their annual income, before making any disbursements in respect thereof, firstly, such sum as may be required for the payment of the interest which may fall due on any debentures issued under the authority of this Act, or of any enactment hereby expressly repealed;

secondly, a sum of not less than two per cent. on the total sum borrowed by the Commissioners for the purposes of any enactment hereby expressly repealed, exclusive of the sum now due, or of any sum which may hereafter become due, by them, to the Secretary of State for India in Council, and shall appropriate the same, so far as it is required or will extend, to repay the amount (if any) of such loans or debentures issued by them as shall fall due in the course of the year.

Surplus to be invested.

339. The Commissioners shall invest the surplus (if any) of the said sum, after repayment as aforesaid, or in case there has not been any amount due or paid in respect of such loans or debentures during the year, then they shall invest the whole of the said sum in Government securities, or in any securities guaranteed by Government, or in Calcutta municipal debentures, in the names of the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department and the Accountant-General of Bengal respectively for the time being, to be by them held as Trustees for the purpose of repaying at due date from time to time the several loans contracted or debentures issued by the Commissioners. And all moneys and securities now held by any Trustees for the Commissioners, for the purpose of paying off any sums borrowed by them, not being sums borrowed from the Secretary of State for India in Council, shall be held by them upon the trusts hereinbefore declared.

All interest accruing due to the Trustees shall also from time to time be invested by them in like manner and held upon the like trust.

Provision as to repayment of certain future loans.

340. The Commissioners, after providing for all payments directed under section three hundred and thirty-eight, and for any stipulated payments to any sinking or reserve fund held by them or their Trustees against sums borrowed under section three hundred and thirty-five, shall set aside yearly out of their than one per cent. on the net amount of all such loans outstanding on the first day of April of each year: that is to say, a sum of not less than one per cent. on the total amount of such loans, after deducting therefrom the total sum accruing from such one per cent. reservations during the year preceding such first day of April, and shall appropriate the said sum of one per cent., so far as it is required or will extend, to repay the amounts, if any, of such loans as shall fall due in the course of the year.

And they shall invest the surplus (if any) of the said sum, after repayment as aforesaid; or in case there has not been any amount due or paid in respect of such loans during the year, then they shall invest the whole of the said sum in Government securities or in any securities guaranteed by Government, or in Calcutta Municipal debentures, in the names of the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department and the Accountant-General of Bengal respectively for the time being, to be by them held in a separate account as Trustees for the purpose of repaying at due date from time to time the loans contracted by the Commissioners for the purposes aforementioned after the said first day of April 1881.

Appropriation of reserve fund.

341. The Trustees shall from time to time, whenever any loans or debentures shall fall due by the Commissioners, realize the whole or a sufficient portion of the securities held by them as aforesaid and appropriate the sale proceeds thereof, so far as the same will extend, to satisfy such loans or debentures. The Trustees shall, at the end of every year, submit a statement to the Commissioners showing the amount which has been invested during the year under section three hundred and thirty-eight or section three hundred and forty, respectively, and setting forth the date of the last investment made previous thereto, and also the aggregate amount of the securities then in their hands, and the aggregate amount which has up to the date thereof been paid off in respect of the said debentures and loans.

Account of reserve fund.

Such statement shall be laid before the Commissioners and published in the Calcutta Gazette.

CHAPTER XVI.

OF BYE-LAWS.

Power to make bye-laws.

342. The Commissioners may from time to time make bye-laws, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, to regulate—

(a) all matters and things connected with the supply and use of water;

(b) [illegible] and place of bathing for persons

(d) the duties to be performed by tolah mehters under section two hundred and forty-four, and the boundaries within which they are to be performed;

(e) the management and charges for places provided for slaughter-houses under section two hundred and eighty-eight.

(f) the inspection and management of, and conduct of, business in markets and slaughter-houses, and the keeping the same in a proper and cleanly state;

(g) the inspection of places used for any of the purposes mentioned in section two hundred and ninety-seven, and the management and conduct of business within the same;

(h) the inspection and management of burial and burning grounds;

(i) and generally for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

and to repeal or alter them.

341. The Commissioners may from time to time repeal, alter, or add to their bye-laws.

Bye-laws and alterations of them to be confirmed by Local Government.

343. No bye-law, and no repeal or alteration of, or addition to, any bye-law shall have effect until the same has been confirmed by the Local Government.

Bye-laws and alterations of them to be published before confirmation.

344. No bye-law, and no repeal, or alteration of, or addition to, any bye-laws shall be confirmed until the same has been published in the English and Bengali Government Gazettes at least three times, nor till one month has elapsed from the date of the first publication, during which period a copy of such proposed bye-law, or the repeal or alteration of, or addition to any bye-law shall be kept at the office of the Commissioners, and all persons may at any time between ten o'clock in the morning and five o'clock in the afternoon inspect such copy without fee.

After confirmation bye-laws to be published in Gazette.

345. Every bye-law, and every repeal or alteration of, or addition to any bye-law, when confirmed, shall be published in the English and Bengali Government Gazettes, and a copy thereof in English and Bengali shall be painted or placed on boards which shall be hung up in some conspicuous part of the office of the Commissioners.

Penalty.

346. Whoever infringes any bye-law made and confirmed under this Act shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees and to a further fine, not exceeding ten rupees for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

CHAPTER XVII.

taken for the punishment of any person offending against any of the provisions of this Act, and for the recovery of any fines imposed under this Act, and may order the expenses of such prosecutions and proceedings to be paid out of the Municipal Fund:

Provided that nothing herein contained shall preclude any person from instituting a prosecution for nuisance, or from giving information and instituting a prosecution under the next succeeding section.

Prosecutions to be before Justice of the Peace.

348. Every prosecution under this Act, except as provided in section three hundred and fifty, may be instituted before any Justice of the Peace; and every fine imposed under this Act may be recovered by a summary proceeding before any Justice of the Peace upon an information exhibited by order of the Commissioners, and in default of payment of such fine, the same may be levied under the warrant of such Justice of the Peace by distress and sale of the moveable property of the offender, with all such powers for the issuing of such warrant, and upon the return thereof, as are exercised by a Magistrate of Police under the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, or any other Act for the time being in force for regulating the Police of the Town of Calcutta.

And if the fine cannot be so levied, the offender may be punished by such Justice of the Peace with rigorous or simple imprisonment, as defined in section 53 of the Indian Penal Code, for a term not exceeding two months.

Procedure on prosecution.

349. Whenever any prosecution shall be instituted before any Justice of the Peace under this Act, he may summon the person charged to appear at a time and place to be mentioned in the summons; and if such person shall not so appear, such Justice of the Peace may, upon proof of service of the summons, if no sufficient cause shall be shown for the non-appearance of the person charged, proceed to hear and determine the case in his absence.

Such Justice of the Peace may exercise all such powers connected with the summoning and enforcement of the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents as are conferred on a Magistrate by the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, or any other Act for the time being in force for regulating the procedure of the Police Magistrates' Courts in Calcutta.

Prosecution under section forty-four to be instituted as under Penal Code.

350. Every prosecution under section forty-four shall be instituted before such Magistrate or Court as would have jurisdiction to entertain a charge of the nature described in section 161 of the Indian Penal Code.

How a Justice may award a fine.

351. The Justice of the Peace by whom any fine is imposed under this Act may award any portion, not being more than one-half thereof, to the informer, and shall order the remainder or, if he make no award to the informer, the whole of such fine to be paid to the Municipal Fund.

352. No person shall be liable to any fine [illegible] this Act for any the complaint respecting such offence shall have been made before a Justice of the Peace within two months next after the commission of such offence:

Provided that the failure to take out any license under this Act shall be deemed to be a continuing offence until the expiration of the period for which such license is required to be taken out.

Person doing damage to the property of the Commissioners to make good the same.

353. If, through any act, neglect, or default on account whereof any person shall have been fined under this Act, any damage to the property of the Commissioners shall have been committed by such person, he shall be liable to make good such damage, as well as to pay such fine; and the amount of such damage shall, in case of dispute, be determined by the Justice of the Peace by whom such person has been fined; and on default of payment of the amount of such damage on demand, the same may be levied in the same manner as a fine.

CHAPTER XVIII.

OF THE RECOVERY OF DAMAGES AND EXPENSES.

Damages and expenses how to be determined.

354. Where any damages, costs, or expenses are by this Act directed to be paid, the amount and, if necessary, the apportionment of the same in case of dispute, shall be ascertained and determined by the Court of Small Causes:

Provided that, when any work is executed by the Commissioners under this Act in default of the owner or occupier of the house or land doing such work, the expenses thereby incurred may be recovered by the Commissioners as a rate under Chapter VI.

Method of proceeding before a Judge of a Court of Small Causes.

355. In any case which is to be determined by the Court of Small Causes under this Act, the said Court may, on the application of either party, summon the other party to appear at a time and place to be named in such summons.

Upon the appearance of the parties, or, in the absence of any of them, upon proof of due service of the summons, the said Court may hear and determine such question, and for that purpose may examine such parties, or any of them, and their witnesses on oath; and the costs of every such enquiry shall be in the discretion of the said Court, which shall determine the amount thereof.

Recovery of damages by distress.

356. If the amount of damages, costs, or expenses ascertained in the manner above described be not paid by the party liable to pay the same within seven days after demand, such amount may be recovered, under a warrant of the said Court, by distress and sale of the moveable property of such party; and the surplus arising from the sale thereof, after satisfying such amount and the costs of the distress and sale, shall be returned on demand [illegible] summons shall have been

Commissioners may sue in any competent Court instead of realizing by, or on failure of, distress.

357. Instead of proceeding by distress and sale, and in case of failure to realize by distress the whole or any part of any expenses, charges, or damages awarded under the provisions of this Act, the Commissioners may sue the person liable to pay the same in any Court of competent jurisdiction.

CHAPTER XIX.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Limitation of three months to suit against Commissioners or their officers.

358. No suit shall be brought against the Commissioners, or any of their officers, or any person acting under their direction, for anything done under this Act until the expiration of one month next after notice in writing has been delivered or left at the office of the Commissioners, or at the place of abode of such person, stating the cause of suit and the name and place of abode of the intending plaintiff.

Unless such notice be proved, the Court shall find for the defendant.

Every such suit shall be commenced within three months next after accrual of the right to sue, and not afterwards.

If any person to whom any such notice of suit is given shall, before the suit is brought, tender sufficient amends to the plaintiff, such plaintiff shall not recover in any such action when brought; and if no such tender shall have been made, it shall be lawful for the defendant in such action, by leave of the Court where such action shall be pending at any time before issue joined, to pay into Court such sum of money as he shall think fit, and thereupon such proceedings shall be had as in other cases where defendants are allowed to pay money into Court.

Payment out of Municipal Fund for damage done by the Commissioners.

358. The Commissioners may make compensation out of the Municipal Fund to all persons sustaining any damage by reason of the exercise of any of the powers vested in the Commissioners, their officers or servants under this Act.

Fees for licenses under sections 244 and 290, and for permission given under section 212.

359. When any license is granted under section two hundred and forty-four, or two hundred and ninety, authorizing the use of any place for any of the purposes therein described, and when permission is given under section two hundred and twelve for putting up any projection, the Commissioners may charge a fee not exceeding one hundred rupees for such license or permission.

Daily fee for permission given under section 201.

When permission is given under section two hundred and one to make any temporary erection, the Commissioners may charge a daily fee not exceeding one hundred rupees for such permission.

360. When permission is given under section charge rent for any land made use of in pursuance of such permission.

Every person to produce license if required.

361. Every person to whom a license has been granted under this Act shall, at all reasonable times while such license shall remain in force, if thereunto required by the Commissioners, or by any person authorized by them in that behalf, produce such license to the Commissioners or to the person so authorized.

Penalty.

362. Whoever fails to produce his license when required to do so as aforesaid shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees, and to a further fine, not exceeding ten rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

How notice, &c., may be served.

363. Every notice, bill, form, summons, or notice of demand under this Act may be served personally on, or presented to, the person to whom the same is addressed. Or be left at his usual place of abode with some adult male member or servant of his family, or at his place of business with some clerk of the office, or if it cannot be so served or presented, may be put on some conspicuous part of his place of abode, or of his place of business, or of the house or land in respect of which the notice, bill form, summons, or notice of demand is intended to be served.

Service of notice on owners and occupiers of houses and land.

364. Where any notice is required to be given to the owner or occupier of any house or land, such notice, addressed to the owner or occupier, as the case may require, may be served on the occupier of such house or land, or otherwise in the manner in the last preceding section mentioned:

Provided that, when the owner and his place of abode are known to the Commissioners, they shall, if such place of abode be within the limits of their authority, cause every notice required to be given to the owner of any house or land to be served on such owner or left with some adult male member or servant of his family, and if the place of abode of the owner be not within such limits, they shall send every such notice by post in a registered cover addressed to his place of abode, and the same shall be deemed to be good service of the notice.

When the name of the owner or occupier is not known, it shall be sufficient to designate him as "the owner" or "the occupier" of the house or land in respect of which the notice is served.

Commissioners, in default of owner or occupier, may execute works and recover expenses.

365. Whenever any work is required by this Act to be executed by the owner or occupier of any house or land, and default is made in the execution of such work, the Commissioners, whether any penalty is or is not provided for such default, may cause such work to be executed; and the expenses thereby incurred shall be paid

366. If the defaulter, as mentioned in the last preceding section, be the owner of any house or land, the Commissioners may, by way of additional remedy, whether any suit or proceeding has been brought or taken against any such owner or not, require the payment of all or any part of the expenses payable by the owner for the time being from the person who then, or at any time thereafter, occupies the house or land under such owner, and in default of payment thereof by such occupier on demand, the same may be recovered as a rate under Chapter VI; and every such occupier shall be entitled to deduct from the rent payable by him to the owner so much as is so paid by, or recovered from, him in respect of any such expenses.

Power to levy charges on occupier, who may deduct the same from his rent.

367. No occupier of any house or land shall be liable to pay more money in respect of any expenses charged by this Act on the owner thereof than the amount of rent due from him for the house or land in respect of which such expenses are payable at the time of the demand made upon him, or which, at any time after such demand, has accrued and become payable by him, unless he neglect or refuse, upon a requisition made to him for that purpose by the Commissioners, truly to disclose the amount of his rent, and the name and address of the person to whom such rent is payable; but nothing in this section shall affect any special contract made between any such owner or occupier respecting the payment of the expenses of any such works as aforesaid.

Occupier not to be liable for more than the amount of rent due.

368. Whenever default is made by the owner of any house or land in the execution of any work required to be executed by him, the occupier of such house or land may, with the approval of the Commissioners, cause such work to be executed, and the expense thereof shall be paid to him by owner, or the amount may be deducted out of the rent from time to time becoming due from him to such owner.

Occupier, in default of owner, may execute works and deduct expenses from his rent.

369. If the occupier of any house or land prevent the owner thereof from carrying into effect, in respect of any house or land, any of the provisions of this Act, after notice of his intention so to do has been given by the owner to such occupier, any Justice of the Peace may, in writing, require such occupier to permit the owner to execute all such works with respect to such house or land as may be necessary for carrying this Act into effect, Proceedings in case of tenants opposing the execution of this Act.

and if, after the expiration of eight days from the date of the order, such occupier continue to refuse to permit such owner to execute such works, every such owner, during the continuance of the refusal, shall be discharged from liability to any fines to which he might otherwise have become liable by reason of default in executing such works.

370. Whoever, being the occupier of any house or land, fails to comply with any requisition made by a Justice of the Peace under the last exceeding twenty rupees, for each day during which the offence is continued after he has been convicted of such offence.

371. No tax or rate on property made under this Act shall be invalid for defect of form, and it shall be enough in any such tax or rate, or any assessment of value for the purpose of making such tax or rate, if the property rated or assessed is so described as to be generally known, and it shall not be necessary to name the owner or occupier thereof.

Formal defects not to invalidate tax or assessment.

372. Whenever the Commissioners shall have incurred any expenses in the execution of any of the works which under sections two hundred and two, two hundred and seventy-six, two hundred and seventy-eight, and two hundred and eighty, the owners of any houses or lands are required to execute, the Commissioners may either recover the amount of such expenses in the manner therein provided, or, if they think fit, may take engagements from the said owners for the quarterly payment of such sums as will be sufficient to defray the whole amount of the said expenses, with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum, within a period not exceeding five years, and such sums, when due, may be recovered as rates under Chapter VI.

Recovery of expenses on account of improvements to private property.

373. All police officers shall give immediate information to the Commissioners of any offence committed against this Act.

Police officers to report offences to Commissioners and to arrest unknown offenders.

Any police officer may arrest any person committing in his view any offence against this Act, if the name and the address of such person be unknown to him, or if such person decline to give his name and address, or if the police officer shall have reason to doubt the accuracy of such name and address if given.

And such person may be detained at the station-house until his name and address shall be correctly ascertained, or may be brought up at once before a Justice of the Peace.

374. If the Local Government shall have determined that any portion of the environs of the municipality shall be included in the water-supply authorized by this Act, and if the Local Government shall have declared the boundaries thereof by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, then, in respect of such extension of such water-supply, sections one hundred and thirty-seven to one hundred and sixty-eight, both inclusive, shall have effect within the boundaries so declared; Certain provisions of Act may be extended.

and all such expenses and compensation as, under the said sections and by the provisions of this Act, may be determined by the Court of Small Causes, may be ascertained and determined by any Court of Small Causes having jurisdiction within such boundaries; and all fines payable in respect of such sections, and under this Act, shall be enforced in the manner pres-

375. Houses used exclusively for purposes of public worship shall be exempt from all rates and taxes which under this Act may be imposed upon houses and land within the town.

Houses used for public worship exempt from rates and taxes.

376. Nothing in this Act contained shall be construed to—Saving clause.

(a) render lawful any act or omission on the part of any person, which, but for this Act, would, by law, be deemed to be a nuisance:

(b) exempt any person guilty of nuisance from a suit in respect thereof:

(c) effect any enactment not hereby expressly repealed.

Act IV of 1876	To consolidate and amend the law relating to the Municipal affairs of Calcutta.	The whole.
Act VI of 1881	To amend "The Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876."	The whole.
Act I of 1882 ...	To further amend the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1876.	The whole.
Act III of 1884	To amend and consolidate the laws relating to Municipalities.	In the second schedule the words "Suburbs of Calcutta."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Committee appointed in 1885 to consider the recommendations made in many quarters in favour of the amalgamation of a portion of the suburbs of Calcutta with the town having reported in favour of this measure, the Lieutenant-Governor having concurred in this report, and the Government of India having signified its approval of the proposal in its main outlines, it is now necessary to legislate in order to give effect to the decision which has been arrived at.

The primary object therefore of this Bill is to introduce such modifications into the existing municipal law for Calcutta as are necessary to adapt it to the enlarged area in which it will be in force.

The opportunity is, however, taken to review the present Municipal Act in the light of the experience of its working for nearly ten years. Time has as usual revealed many defects in details. These it is desirable to remedy as far as possible in the new Act.

Legislation on questions of such importance to the metropolis, and likely to lead to great difference of opinion in respect to the principles and details, should evidently be very deliberate. All that is now attempted therefore is to present for public consideration a draft Bill which embodies the main outlines of the proposed measure. Many months will elapse before the next step is taken to pass it into law.

In effecting the amalgamation, care has been taken to protect the rate-payers of the town against loss owing to the diversion of their rates and taxes for the benefit of the new area to be added to Calcutta. The rates and taxes levied throughout the enlarged area will be uniform, and it should obviously be the endeavour of the new Corporation to bestow on all parts of the municipality similar advantages, so far as time and circumstances permit. The natural effect of this would be that money would flow, as it does in all similar cases, from the centre to the extremities. To compensate for this the Government proposes to give up the contribution now paid by the town and suburbs to the police. This is estimated at about 3 lakhs of rupees per annum, nine-tenths of which is paid by the town. What the present rate-payers of the town will gain by this remission is estimated as approximately equivalent to what they will lose by amalgamation with a more sparsely populated and poorer tract.

It is proposed to levy a conservancy rate with the same maximum as the police rate and from the same class of rate-payers. By this means the rate-payers of the town will be in a position to contribute annually about Rs. 2,80,000 towards the improvement of the area amalgamated with it, without being any worse off quâ taxation than they are at present.

It is also proposed to allow a storage fee, which may be raised with the consent of Government to a maximum of four annas a case (though two annas is the rate contemplated) on all petroleum brought within municipal limits for storage or consumption. Petroleum passing through Calcutta and not stored in it, will not be liable to this tax

So far as the town is concerned, all that is aimed at is to guard the rate-payers against loss owing to the proposed change. It is intended that the entire boon coming from the remission of the police rate should go to the suburbs, which will thus receive, including the remaining fraction of its own police rate, which is to be remitted, an augmentation of three lakhs a year to its resources. The rates and taxes will of course be raised to the Calcutta standard, and therefore the result anticipated by the measure may be approximately thus stated: that the resources of the area to be incorporated with the town will be increased by nearly 150 per cent., of which less than 100 per cent. will be paid by residents in the amalgamated area, and the rest will come from the taxation remitted by Government. The new corporation therefore ought to find itself in a position effectually

It is not necessary in introducing this Bill to include in it nearly all the amendments in matters of detail which are desirable. Those which have attracted most attention, as well as some which have been formulated in a recent memorial from the rate-payers and inhabitants of Calcutta, have been provided for, but the greater number, which require careful consideration, must be reserved for the Select Committee. It must not therefore be assumed, because the greater part of the existing Act is reproduced verbatim in this Bill, that it is supposed to need no alteration. It has been thought better that the bulk of such alterations should be made after opinions have been received from the two municipalities who are affected by the measure, who will, it is hoped, suggest such amendments as experience has indicated to be necessary, as well as after considering opinions from other associations or persons interested.

On the two important questions, however, of the elective franchise and of the general policy of the Act of 1876, this Bill already embodies such changes as primâ facie seem desirable. As regards the elective franchise, though these sections of the Act are entirely recast, it is not intended to effect any radical change in the system that now prevails in the town, except in requiring voting at the polling stations. The old qualification was the payment of Rs. 25: for this it is proposed for purposes of practical convenience to substitute ownership or tenancy of property valued at Rs. 300 per annum. This will be the same thing as the payment of Rs. 24, with rates at 8 per cent., and during the current year the owners' rates are at 8 and the occupiers' at 9 per cent. The sections regarding plural owners and occupiers are new, but they are only intended to legalise and regulate the existing practice, regarding which the present law is entirely silent. The circumstances under which members of a joint family, partners, or joint occupiers may vote are at present left entirely to the decision of the Chairman. The Bill proposes to legalise such votes up to a maximum of six for each separate property. A vote is also given to all the fellows and graduates of the Calcutta University. The qualification for Commissioners and electors is made the same. There is no practical necessity in Calcutta for making any distinction.

As regards the policy of the Act of 1876, it has been necessary to consider on the one hand the objections which have been made that the welfare of the town was sacrificed by that measure, as well as on the other the apprehensions of those who consider it so popular a boon that any change, unless in the direction of making it more popular, is to be deprecated.

The Bill as it at present stands steers a middle course between these extremes. It assumes that the Act of 1876 has been attended, as might have been anticipated, with some disadvantages, but that on the other hand these have been counterbalanced by great advantages in the wider interest taken in municipal affairs by the rate-payers and residents of the town, and in the greater popularity of the administration with the great bulk of the inhabitants. No change therefore is contemplated in the general electoral system, or in the proportion of nominated to elected Commissioners.

On the other hand, an institution has developed which was not provided for at all in the Act of 1876, and which was only recognised in the most succinct manner in the amending Act of 1881, viz. the Town Council. It does the work which was intended by the Act to be done by the Commissioners in ordinary meetings, and has proved so well adapted to the circumstances of the municipality that it has annually attracted to itself more and more influence, and is now a very important factor in the municipal machine. It seems very desirable that the constitution of this Council should be fixed by law. This is the more necessary because the constitution which has been evolved for it by circumstances, is in many respects very different from that which the Legislature would have determined. The laudable and natural desire of all those who take an interest in municipal affairs to share in its proceedings has led to its being composed of 30 members—a number far too large for the convenient or orderly despatch of committee work. Again, though one-third of the Council is composed of nominated Commissioners, those Commissioners are chosen by the whole number of Commissioners, the majority of whom are of course not nominated. Hence there is a probability that in a contest those nominated Commissioners will be elected to sit on the Town Council who least represent the body of nominated Commissioners. It seems evident that if a Town Council is needed as an important factor of the Corporation, and if one-third of its members are to be nominated Commissioners, the election should be made by the same person that selects the nominated Commissioners, namely the Lieutenant-Governor, and this is already the law at Bombay.

Again, of all objections brought against the constitution of the municipality under the Act of 1876, the most cogent perhaps is this: that business men to whom time means money, are unable to claim that share in the practical management of affairs which their experience and stake in the city renders desirable. This objection is thus stated in a recent memorial to Government already referred to:—"It is impossible in a city, where it may be said generally that every one is fully employed, that men of business habits should be found ready and able to devote long afternoons, week after week, to deliberations as protracted as those which frequently take place in the Calcutta Municipality. The present system entails enormous delays, and tends to exclude from municipal discussion paid to have worked satisfactorily, under which the executive work is concentrated in a far smaller body, the members of which receive a fee for their attendance, make it a regular matter of business to attend, and discharge their duties with more expedition than appears as a rule to be possible, with the large number and uncertain attendance at Calcutta."

It therefore seems desirable, now that the Town Council is to be recognised as an important branch of the municipality, that its number should be fixed by the Act at such a figure as is consistent with the ordinary despatch of committee work, that the Lieutenant-Governor should select the same proportion of members of the Town Council as he does of the Corporation, and that a fee should be paid for attendance at Town Council meetings. Provisions to this effect have therefore been introduced into the Bill.

In submitting the first draft of an important Bill of this magnitude, many defects in the wording of the sections may be discovered. Full opportunity will be found for remedying these defects when the Bill is under the detailed examination of the Select Committee.

REGISTRATION OF PERMANENT TENURES.

The HON. MR. REYNOLDS presented the preliminary report of the Select [illegible] for the registration of permanent tenures, and published in the Calcutta Gazette. He said that he did not propose upon that occasion to ask the Council to take the report on the Bill into consideration. But it appeared to him that some misapprehension existed out of doors with regard to the Bill, and he therefore wished to take that opportunity of saying a few words regarding the objects and scope of the measure. The main objects of the Bill were three in number, and two out of the three were intended expressly for the benefit and advantage of the zemindars, the third being for the benefit alike of landlords and tenants, and also of the Government. The first object of the Bill was to get rid, as far as permanent tenures were concerned, of what was known as the twenty years' presumption. During the debates on the Bengal Tenancy Act there was hardly any matter which was more fully considered, both in the discussions in Select Committee and in the passing of the Bill through the Council, than this question of the twenty years' presumption. The member in charge of that Bill was very strongly urged to strike out of the Bill all reference to the presumption, and Mr. Reynolds must admit that arguments of some force were brought forward in favour of that course. But it appeared to the Government of India that simply to strike all reference to the presumption out of the law would be only substituting one form of hardship and injustice for another. The result was that the provision regarding the presumption was retained in the Act, but two sections were introduced which were intended to have the effect of gradually extinguishing and doing away with the presumption. One of these was a provision which declared that, when a survey and record of rights had been made in a local area, the presumption should not thereafter apply to any tenure within that area. The other section was one which provided that if by any law which might be passed hereafter it was declared that any class of tenancies must be registered by a certain date, the rule of presumption would not after that date apply to such tenancies which had not been so registered. The present Bill was intended in this respect to supplement that provision of the Tenancy Act, and the effect of it would be that if the registration of permanent tenures was made compulsory by a certain date in any local area, after that date the presumption of twenty years could not be pleaded in respect of any such tenure which had not been registered. This was one of the objects of the Bill for the benefit of the zemindars, and one which they had expressed themselves very anxious to see accomplished. The second main object of the Bill was to facilitate the recovery of rents by the zemindars from this description of tenants. During the discussion on the Tenancy Bill very serious complaint was made that the Government had not fully redeemed the promises which were alleged to have been given to the zemindars, that additional facilities should be afforded to them for the recovery of their dues. But it must be admitted that, if there was one class of tenures the rent of which was recoverable with greater regularity than others, it was those tenures which were liable to summary sale under the Patni sale law. Now, the provisions of the Bill now before the Council would very largely extend the operation of that law, because the Bill declared that any tenure which should be registered under this Act should hereafter be subject to summary sale under that Regulation. That, again, was a great advantage to the zemindars, and with regard to this class of tenures the Bill would very much facilitate the recovery of rents. The third object of the Bill was based upon general considerations of the advantages which would be derived from collecting and recording a large mass of information regarding this important class of tenancies. That would be to the benefit of landlords and tenants and of the Government itself. Those were the main objects of the Bill. Whether the Bill, in the form in which it had been recast by the Select Committee, was the measure best adapted to carry out all those objects, was a question which he did not propose to touch upon at present. It seemed to him very desirable that the Bill should be republished, and a deliberate expression of public opinion on it be invited. If the zemindars, after full opportunity had been given them for such an expression of opinion, considered that it was not Government had not made an honest and sincere a ... give them additional facilities for the recovery of their rents.

The motion was put and agreed to.

CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY.

The HON. MR. HARRISON introduced the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the municipal affairs of the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta, and moved that it be read in Council. He said that the introduction of this Bill had been more or less necessitated by the representations which had been made to the Local Government by several influential committees and bodies, and still more, if he might say so, by the force of the reasons and arguments which they had brought forward for the amalgamation of the town and suburbs. The reasons for amalgamation might be simply stated in this way: that hitherto the centre of a large city had been formed into one municipality, and the circumjacent tracts into another, and it seemed hardly necessary to do more than draw attention to so singular an arrangement to indicate the desirability of some change. All that seemed to be wanting to make the anomaly complete was for the river Hughli not to be the western boundary of the town of Calcutta, in which case a complete inner circle would form one municipality and the outer circle another. Even now Garden Reach on the one hand and Cossipur and Chitpur on the other were under one governing body; whilst the whole intervening space from the Circular Canal down to Hastings was under another Municipal Corporation. Moreover, very little thought was necessary to show that the suburbs of any town needed the assistance of the town for the funds requisite for their successful administration, and not only so, but the town itself needed the advantages of the suburbs for its successful administration. He was very much struck when he was in Bombay last year with the numerous facilities which Bombay enjoyed in the possession of large tracts of almost unoccupied land where they could locate places for washing clothes; where they could have cattle sheds and sheds to keep their carts; where they could, above all, start gardens and parks, and pleasure grounds; whereas here, in Calcutta, they knew very well that every single project was in danger of being rendered impossible by the costliness of the land which had to be acquired for the purpose. So much was this the case that they saw that wherever possible the two jurisdictions had already been amalgamated. As, for instance, in the matter of police, there was one jurisdiction in the town and suburbs; in the matter of hackney carriages, there was one jurisdiction for their registration; so also for carts; and as regarded the fire brigade there was one jurisdiction. He, therefore, submitted that the onus was clearly more on those who contended that the town should not be united to the suburbs, than on those who only advocated what seemed to be so natural and normal a proceeding. But, apart from that, it had been urged upon the Government that the mortuary statistics of the suburbs imposed upon the local Government the imperative necessity of considering this question. The mortality in the suburbs of Calcutta in the year 1878, which seemed the first year in which accurate statistics were available, was so high as compared with the mortality of Calcutta—and the mortality of Calcutta itself was high—as the proportion of 182 to 100, and although for some reason or other it diminished year by year down to 1882, when it only stood at 137 to 100, there had been from that date an increase every year, and in 1885 it was 152 to 100. Nor did these figures give a real or fair idea of the extent to which this mortality had been preventible. If disease was divided into what was called the zymotic or preventible class of disease, and the non-zymotic class, the case was much stronger. In the year 1884, the last year for which figures were available, the mortality from non-zymotic diseases in the suburbs was 12·8 and in the town 13·1, a difference of only ·3, but in the case of preventible diseases the mortality in the suburbs was 32·3 to 17·4 in the town. That showed an enormous amount of preventible disease in the suburbs of Calcutta, which, even when judged by the still very heavy amount ... the town, showed the urgency of some steps being taken town was in its heart and centre. The resources of the suburbs were comparatively so small that it was impossible for them to undertake any extensive measures for drainage or water-supply, and even now, when steps were being taken for supplying water, it was found that the financial difficulties were extreme, and he was not sure that he ought not to say insurmountable. Again, as long as the present system remained, many sanitary authorities in the suburbs were disposed to say that part of the injury which they suffered was actually due to the system of drainage and conservancy in the town. It was said that, in consequence of the use which was made of the salt water lakes, and of the square mile, for the purposes of the town, the health of the suburbs had materially suffered. Whether this was true or not, it appeared to him that it furnished the strongest possible argument for uniting both into one administration. As long as the town did not feel the responsibility for the suburbs, it was impossible to prevent friction of this kind; it was impossible to prevent it being said that the one area was being sacrificed to the other. Last of all, this measure seemed to be still more necessitated by the sanction which had been recently given to the construction of the Kidderpore docks. Those docks would inevitably form an integral part of the town. Warehouses would be set up there, and a good deal of the commerce of the town would be transacted in the immediate neighbourhood of the docks. He need scarcely say that, where the business of the town was one and undivided, it was extremely undesirable that the administration of the town should be divided, and if the docks were to be constructed it seemed to him still more necessary that the dock area should be brought within the limits of the town administration.

On the other hand, it was well known that this measure met with great objections both amongst the population of the town and of the suburbs. He believed the real force of those objections could be stated in a very few words, and that they were concentrated and given expression to as follows: We the people of the town apprehend that the taxation, which has been heretofore raised for our own advantage, will hereafter be partially raised for the improvement of the suburbs. What the suburbs apprehended was that their rates and taxes would be raised to the level of those in the town. As regarded the first of these objections, he might possibly not be impartial, but at the same time he was bound to say that it seemed to him to be an objection which was entitled to the fullest consideration. Theoretically it might be said that a town was responsible for its suburbs, and ought to bear this extra burden, but such a theory was very much modified by the concrete facts of the past 30 or 40 or 50 years. As a matter of fact, the town had grown up with a responsibility of its own. Under these responsibilities, and with its financial liabilities, it had introduced a large system of water-works and drainage. It had acquiesced in the payment of a large portion of the police charges, and in general its rate-payers had been accustomed to adjust their financial liabilities in the light of the requirements of the town itself. It was not, he submitted, now possible with practical justice to go back from this and say that the people ought to recognize that their responsibilities were now much larger than they had hitherto been qua rates and taxes. There would certainly be a very natural sense of injustice if they felt that new burdens were being imposed upon them and that they were no longer to derive the same benefits from their rates and taxes as they had enjoyed for the last 50 years. Upon these grounds the proposed measure provided for the relief of the town from the police charges which it had hitherto borne. The town at present contributed about Rs. 2,80,000 towards the cost of the police. The Local Government now, he believed, saw its way, from the beginning of the next financial year, to relieve the town from this charge, and therefore this Bill provided for such relief. The effect of that would be that the rate-payers and the tax-payers of the town would be better off than they were at present to the extent of this Rs. 2,80,000. The intention naturally was that this sum should represent the sum which they ought to contribute for the off by this sum than it was at present, it seemed just and equitable that the Government should expect the suburbs to be assisted to this extent for the greater expenditure necessary there. As regarded the suburbs, the objection was one which could not be, unfortunately, equally met, but on the other hand it could not be said that it was equally legitimate. Everything pointed, in the arguments which he had used, to the conclusion that the suburbs were in urgent need of money for sanitary wants, and that greater and more liberal expenditure was needed for those wants, and it was therefore not unreasonable that the suburbs should pay the same rate of taxation as the town. At the same time it was obvious that residents in the suburbs were the chief gainers by the measure. If the town was in a position to contribute this Rs. 2,80,000 for the benefit of the suburb, the suburbs would besides obtain the full benefit of its own increase of taxation as well. It was evident, therefore, that the benefit of this measure to the residents of the suburbs was more than to the town, because they would have to pay only a portion of the additional amount which would be available for expenditure upon their sanitary requirements.

For the rest, the only remaining point essentially connected with amalgamation which required consideration was the new arrangements which should be made to divide the town into wards. The Draft Bill followed in this respect the letter which was written by the Government of Bengal to the Government of India. It kept the present town wards unchanged, and it divided the new area of the suburbs into seven more wards, making 25 in all. Many of the town wards now elected three members, but in the Bill the representatives of each ward were limited to two. These made fifty elected representatives for the new area The same proportion would be retained between the elected and nominated Commissioners, who would be raised therefore from 72 to 75. This hardly seemed to him the division which would work best, but in this respect the Government measure which he now had the honour to lay before them would, undoubtedly, receive the fullest consideration, and he had no doubt that any division into wards which the weight of public opinion might indicate as preferable would be adopted. For himself, he was bound to say that for various reasons he thought the creation of larger wards would work better than of smaller wards.

This opportunity would of course be taken to amend the Act of 1876 in many other respects. It was obvious that a ten years' experience must have drawn attention to many detailed defects in that legislation, and this opportunity would be taken to consolidate into one Act all existing Acts and also to amend details. So far as this was concerned, the Bill in its present stage only remedied some of the more obvious defects, and left others for future consideration. The Select Committee would have full information before it, and therefore the present Bill did not endeavour to amend nearly all those details. On the other hand, where there appeared to be primâ facie considerable force in any proposals which had been made, those proposals had been introduced into the Bill, but even as regarded these any objection which would be taken would receive the fullest consideration. In all these matters the Bill in its present shape was tentative. The only alterations which he need refer to were the suggestions which had been specially addressed to the Government in a recent petition of the rate-payers and inhabitants of Calcutta, in which ten or twelve specific important amendments of the Act were pressed upon the Government. To most of these the present Bill had given effect partially or entirely; though one or two which required fuller consideration had been postponed. Especially those had been given effect to which placed greater responsibility upon owners in the case of busti property. It appeared to him that both in the Bill of 1876 and in the discussions which then took place, the case of the owners had been pressed with more ability than the case of the tenants, especially tenants-at-will who lived in bustis. More weight was given at the time to what were considered the rights of property than what were called its duties. The present Bill aimed, to a certain extent, at remedying this; more especially in the matter of busti property. The Bill held owners liable for the [illegible] of those tenancies no leases of any

The sections regarding voting had been entirely recast. This had been done not with the intention of making any substantial alterations in the present system, or of placing the franchise to any large extent in the hands of any class different from those who exercised it at present, but the existing sections of the Act were meagre in the extreme, and the right of voting had been a matter of practice, custom, and the discretion of the Chairman. The present qualification of voters was a payment of Rs. 25. In respect of that the Bill proposed to substitute an assessment of Rs. 300, which was substantially the same thing. For various reasons, it was thought better to give the vote to property as entered in the assessment register rather than to the rates as paid. The owner or occupier would thus no longer lose or gain a vote according to the rate of taxation. Under the proposed system, as the assessment or valuation remained the same, it qualified for a vote, whether the rates were raised or lowered. New sections had been introduced to regulate cases in which the members of a joint family or partners or the members of a firm would be allowed to vote. At present the law was silent on this point, and it was a mere question of interpretation of what was the probable intention of the Legislature. The present Bill fixed six as the maximum number of votes, partly because this was a reasonable number, and partly because it was the number of plural votes allowed in the English statutes for the local franchise, so that if there were six joint members, each would have a vote if they were possessed of property assessed at Rs. 1,800 or upwards.

In one respect he feared the present Bill must prove a disappointment; that was to say to both the extreme parties in the city whose expectations from it were so widely different that it was impossible to satisfy them. In many quarters it had been supposed that the recasting of the Municipal Act would be taken as an opportunity to undo the legislation of 1876 It was supposed that that legislation was so far a failure in that it put all power in the hands of what he might call the stationary party, and that it was the duty of the Government to remedy this. On the other hand, it was considered by others that that measure was so entirely and brilliantly successful that after the experience of ten years, steps should be taken to go further in the same direction and to extend what was then granted. The present Bill was an endeavour to treat both the extreme parties fairly and impartially. On the one hand, the proportion of nominated to elected Commissioners and the general constitution of the Corporation were left unchanged. On the other hand, it had been felt that all reasonable representations which manifestly had force in them ought to receive careful consideration, and therefore, so far as regards the constitution of the Town Council, it was considered that something ought to be done to place that body on a footing determined by law, and also to regulate its number and constitution. The present Town Council had grown up under the force of circumstances. It was constituted by the Commissioners themselves, and he thought all who were not interested in keeping up the number admitted that, when it was largely attended, it was too large a body for the ordinary despatch of business. Also the Town Council necessarily exercised very great power and influence in the affairs of the Corporation; and, therefore, as in the Act of Bombay, it seemed that the relative influence of the nominated and the elected members of the Corporation ought to be preserved in the Town Council. This always had been done in one sense. The present Town Council consisted of twenty elected Commissioners and ten nominated Commissioners, but the value of this allotment was much affected by the arrangement under which the selection rested entirely with the Commissioners in meeting. The majority of the Commissioners being themselves elected, it followed that, if there was any contest for election to the Town Council, experience shewed that these nominated Commissioners would be elected who would rather be representatives of the elected majority than representatives of the nominated minority. The Council had before them the case of Bombay, where the Town Council was recognized by law from the first, and where it had worked extremely well. There the Government nominated to the Town Council in the same way as it did to the Corporation itself rate-payers and inhabitants of Calcutta which had already been laid before the Government, that it was extremely difficult for business men to attend meetings of a body like the Town Council, the proceedings of which were necessarily protracted, and the attendance at which was never regular. Therefore, while the example of Bombay was followed as to the constitution of the Town Council, it should also be placed on the same footing as regards payment of its members. The present Bill proposed that all the members of the Town Council should receive a fee of Rs. 20 for each attendance, except, of course, the salaried officers of the Corporation. As he had said, he had no doubt that in some quarters this Bill would be regarded as disappointing, because it went no further in one direction or in the other. But he considered the example of Bombay, where they had not travelled nearly so fast towards a purely representative Corporation as in Calcutta, to be a very good one, and it should be recollected that the new Corporation would have a task of an exceedingly difficult kind, and therefore it was very desirable that it should be constituted with due regard to the interests of all classes interested in the enlarged Municipality of Calcutta. The work that they would have to undertake in considering the sanitation of the new area entrusted to their charge was a work of very great difficulty, and, above all, of very great difficulty for a large body to undertake; for generally it was found that large bodies were far better suited to maintain things in statu quo than for the task of origination and construction. The new Corporation had to extend to the suburbs the water-works and the drainage works on the lines on which they had been laid down in the town. The first great difficulty would be how far the great systems of drainage and water-supply ought to be, consistently with justice and consistently with circumstances, extended to the suburbs. It would also have to be considered how far the present sanitary system of the town might be enlarged and improved. The new body would have, in effect, to constitute a Sanitary Department for the suburbs and to some extent for the town also. That would require great experience and great forbearance, and he was bound to say that it seemed to him very undesirable to make any radical alteration in the constitution of a body which had been built up on certain lines, and which would have entrusted to it a task of such importance and magnitude. He might mention that there was one provision in the Bill which was specially directed to meet this difficulty. It was not proposed that the new body should be elected till one year after the Bill became law. Till then all the members of the Town Corporation and of that portion of the Suburban Corporation which would be amalgamated with it would continue to hold office, as great benefit would be derived from using during the first year—the period of construction—the experience already gained by its members, instead of entrusting so difficult a task to a newly-elected body.

The Hon. Anundo Mohun Bose said that the Bill had been circulated to the members only last evening, and in some cases later; he did not think it would be of any advantage under the circumstances to enter into a discusssion on it then. He understood that the object of introducing the Bill in its present stage was to invite discussion and elicit opinion from the public. He trusted that the report of the Committee on which the Bill was based, together with all the other papers bearing on it, would also be circulated to members.

His Honor the President said that it would not be necessary at this stage of the proceedings to enlarge upon the objects and reasons of the measure, as those had been very clearly and succinctly stated by the hon. member to his left. He would only take this opportunity of saying, with reference to the remarks which had fallen from the hon. member to the right, that the desire of the Government had been to present this Bill to the Council in fulfilment of the pledge which the Government gave when it was reviewing the report of the Hon. Mr. Reynolds' Committee in reference to the question of the amalgamation of the Town and the Suburbs—a pledge that legislation would be undertaken this year, but should not proceed beyond the introduction of the bill. This Bill, which concerned the health and the sanitation of and suburban Corporations, and that due consideration which it deserved. It being placed before the public now, on the 10th of April, they had before them at least seven or eight months before the Council would re-assemble for the fullest consideration of all its details. His Honor had hoped thereby to anticipate also another class of objection, which he regretted to find had become frequent, and that was that when a measure had been produced; when it had been for months under the exact and detailed examination of all those who were concerned in it; when it had been brought forward in that Council and had been threshed out by a Select Committee; and lastly when it was presented in its final form—the objection was taken that the Government had been actuated by unnecessary haste in forcing the measure through the Council. His Honor hoped that the lapse of the seven or eight months during which this Bill would be published would give the amplest opportunity for the fullest enquiry, so that they might look forward to the end of the year, when they met again, to proceed with the Bill with a strong Select Committee, whose labours, he hoped, would be concluded in time to enable the Bill to be passed through the Council before that session closed. With reference to the remarks of the hon. member who last spoke, His Honor would give him the assurance that as soon as he received the official reply from the Government of India to the letter he had addressed to them two months ago on the subject of this Bill, unless any objection was raised to the publication of the papers, he would be ready to place before the hon. member and the public generally all the correspondence connected with this Bill. He would suggest to the hon. member in charge of the Bill that the appointment of the Select Committee should be deferred for the present.

The motion was put and agreed to.

STEAM-BOILERS AND PRIME-MOVERS.

The Hon. Mr. Reynolds moved that the report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend Bengal Act III of 1879 be taken into consideration. He said that the Bill had gone through very extensive changes in its progress through the Select Committee. The communications which had been received on the subject of the Bill showed that the current of public opinion was strongly against the Bill in the form in which it was originally introduced and referred to a Select Committee, and in consideration of the opinions which the Select Committee had before them they had entirely recast the Bill and restored it to the form in which the members of the Boiler Commission had originally suggested that the Act should be amended, by simply striking out all words which referred to the inspection of prime-movers.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon. Mr. Reynolds moved that the Bill as amended be passed. He said that although the changes which had been made were very considerable, they had been in accordance with the expression of public opinion on the subject, and as no amendments had been placed on the notice paper, he thought he might assume that the Council was in favour of passing the measure in its present shape.

The motion was put and agreed to, and the Bill was then passed.

AMENDMENT OF THE VILLAGE CHOWKIDARI ACT.

The Hon. Mr. Garrett moved that the clauses of the Bill to further amend the Village Chowkidari Act, 1870, be further considered.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon. Mr. Garrett said that he wished shortly to explain the reasons for the amendment which he was about to move. Section 38 of Act VI of 1870 provided that every chaukidar who might be guilty of any wilful misconduct [illegible] neglect of his duty, such misconduct or neglect not being an

The Hon. Rai Jai Prokash Lall Bahadoor said there was no doubt that the principle contained in section 66 of the Village Chaukidari Act was laid down in the Code of Criminal Procedure. If the matter rested there alone, his amendment would be ultra vires, but the same principle was recognized by section 66 of Bengal Act VI of 1870, and as the Council were considering the amendment of that Act, he contended that that section of the Act should be repealed. There was no doubt that section 45 of the Criminal Procedure Code put the responsibility of reporting crime on the zemindar, and this Council could not repeal that law. But if section 66 of Bengal Act VI of 1870 was repealed, the zemindars could move the Imperial Council with their hands strengthened, and if the Government of India accepted their appeal, it would relieve the zemindars of the responsibility; but without the repeal of the section in the Bengal Act the responsibility would remain with the zemindars.

The motion was put to the vote and negatived.

The Hon. Rai Jai Prokash Lall Bahadoor moved that the following be inserted after section 15 of the Bill:—

"Section 15.—After section 67 the following shall be inserted:—

"67A.—It shall not be competent to the Magistrate, notwithstanding anything contained in this or any other Act or Regulation to the contrary, to require any zemindar or any person holding land to appoint or maintain any chaukidar for the purpose of keeping watch or ward over a public road or a public ferry."

Hon. members might not be aware that in the Shahabad district the local authorities required the zemindars to maintain a costly establishment of chaukidars to watch the public roads and the public ferries. Whether the same practice obtained in any other district he could not say. These roads were constructed and maintained by Government and the Road Cess Department, and the zemindars and the people had to pay a tax for the same. The ferries, again, had been resumed by Government and were sources of large revenue to them. That being so, one might think that the Government would provide for the watch and ward of these places, but this obligation, somehow or other, seemed to have been allowed to remain on their shoulders. Where the question of ways and means was concerned, it might be considered desirable to thrust the burden on the zemindars, but it was doubtful whether they would now be disposed to accept it without demur.

Now, what was the authority on which this obligation rested? Why should the landholders of all other people in the country be selected as the persons who should pay for the protection of Her Majesty's mails from robbery or passengers from unwelcome visitors? He submitted that the maintenance of these road and ghât chaukidars at the expense of the zemindars was a grave injustice. The Government levied many taxes. It carried on an extensive postal system for administrative purposes; it derived enormous revenues from its public ferries, and still apparently without any law or authority it compelled the zemindar to provide for the discharge of duties which legitimately belonged to it alone and with which the landowner had nothing to do.

His Honor the President asked under what regulation or law the practice, to which the hon. member referred, was in force in Shahabad. He presumed that the practice had reference to the duties and obligations connected with what were known as chakran chaukidari lands.

The Hon. Rai Jai Prokash Lall Bahadoor could not say under what authority these services were required of landholders, but he could show His Honor an order under which the Maharajah of Doomraon was required to maintain these chaukidars. These roads led to the ferry ghâts, the ferries at which had been resumed by Government. The Maharajah had moved in the matter, but got no redress. When the ferries belonged to the zemindars, it was right that the zemindars should provide for the watch and ward of the ferry ghâts and of the roads leading to them; but when they had been resumed by Government, and the profits no longer went to the zemindars, it was but right that the obligation to maintain [illegible] should be removed. This state of things had gone on for a long time: the chaukidars were paid by way of salary and grants of land.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said that he must intimate to the hon. member that it was not proper to place on the notice paper an amendment of this character at the last stage of the proceedings connected with the Bill. If what the hon. member complained of was a grievance, he should have submitted his amendment at an early stage to the Select Committee, of which he was a member. And even now, if there was a real grievance, he could represent it to the Government through the Commissioner, and HIS HONOR could assure the hon. member that any representation which might be thus submitted would be carefully enquired into.

The HON. RAI JAI PROKASH LALL BAHADOOR by leave withdrew the amendment.

On the motion of the HON. MR. GARRETT, the Bill as amended was then passed.

AMENDMENT OF THE VACCINATION ACT.

The HON. MR. REYNOLDS moved that the clauses of the Bill to amend Bengal Act V of 1880 be considered. He said he need not detain the Council on this occasion because at the last sitting he had explained the changes which had been made in the Bill, and he then gave notice of the present motion. No amendment had been placed on the paper, and he was not aware that any further objection would be taken to the Bill.

The HON. MR. CRUICKSHANK desired to say, in reference to the objections which had been made by the Chamber of Commerce on behalf of the mercantile community when this Bill was introduced, and especially with regard to the very extensive powers which were proposed to be conferred on the Health Officer of the Port, that the modifications which had since been made by the Select Committee after very carefully considering the subject seemed to meet the objections which had been taken to the Bill as it originally stood, and he now gave his support to the Bill as it had been amended.

The motion was put and agreed to.

On the motion of the HON. MR. REYNOLDS the Bill was then passed.

The Council was adjourned sine die.

in which a chaukidar might commit some act or omission which technically amounted to an offence within the meaning of the Penal Code, but which being trivial in its character was not worth the trouble of a criminal prosecution: such acts, it seemed to the Committee, might be sufficiently punished departmentally. But it had been pointed out that in doing that the Committee had somewhat unwittingly gone against the general principle that all acts amounting to offences under the Penal Code should be dealt with in the manner provided by that Act and not otherwise. He thought it best therefore to ask the Council to leave out section 8 of the Bill, and he now moved that the section be omitted.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon. Anundo Mohun Bose moved that after the second proviso in section 2 the following words be added:—"unless the Magistrate of the district shall concur in these reasons, if any, the persons selected by the villagers shall be appointed as punchayets." He said that there was one point in connection with this section which was left in a somewhat dubious state, and he thought it would be desirable to clear up the doubt before the Bill was passed. The section provided that the appointment of the punchayet should rest with the District Magistrate, but he was required to take special means to ascertain who, in the opinion of the villagers, were the fittest persons for the office; and for this purpose a magisterial officer was to be deputed who, if he found that there were special reasons why the nomination of the villagers should not be accepted, must record his reasons for so determining. There was, however, one step left doubtful, viz. what was to happen after that? Evidently the section meant that in cases in which the selection by the villagers of the most proper persons to be appointed met with the approval of the special officer those persons should be appointed to the punchayet. In cases in which that officer was not prepared to accept the selection made by the villagers, he was to record special reasons for his differing from that opinion, and in such cases no doubt the controlling power would be in the hands of the Magistrate. If he did not agree with those special reasons, or if no such reasons were recorded, he would confirm the selection made by the villagers; but if he agreed with those reasons, he might set aside the selection of the villagers. Under these circumstances, it seemed desirable to make the matter clear by adding the words of the amendment.

The Hon. Mr. Garrett said he was sorry he could not accept the amendment of his hon. friend opposite. It was no doubt the intention of the Legislature that the wishes and opinions of the villagers should be respected, but it was going a step much further to say that the Magistrate was bound to accept the opinion and wishes of the villagers. He certainly was not prepared to concede to the villagers the power of electing their punchayets. It was quite possible that in certain cases some portion of the villagers might select some person whom it was highly undesirable to appoint. He believed that in every case in which the Magistrate of the district could do so properly he would always respect the opinion of the villagers; but as he thought the Council had already agreed that they could not properly concede to the villagers the right of electing their punchayet, he could not consent to an amendment which, if passed, would practically concede the right. He agreed that the Magistrate should respect the wishes of the villagers, but he could not agree that the Magistrate should be bound by a hard and fast rule to accept their nominees.

The Hon. Rai Jai Prokash Lall Bahadoor supported the amendment. He thought it was only proper that if the Magistrate did not concur with the special reasons assigned by the officer deputed to the village, the nomination of the villagers should hold good.

The Hon. Mr. Reynolds considered the amendment unnecessary. When the list was submitted to the Magistrate, he would have before him the names suggested by the villagers as persons fit to be appointed the punchayet, and he would also have before him the special reasons recorded by the officer for appointing other persons, and it went without saying that unless those special reasons were of sufficient weight to induce the Magistrate to reject the nomination of the villagers, he would confirm their selection; and therefore it seemed to MR. REYNOLDS that the amendment was superfluous and uncalled for.

The HON. ANUNDO MOHUN BOSE said he did not think it necessary, after what had fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds, to press the amendment. All that he wanted was that there should not be a power in the Magistrate to override the wishes of the villagers, and that view was strengthened by the last proviso of the section, which laid down that in every village to which the Act had already been extended, the Magistrate should, as soon as might be, ascertain in the manner previously indicated the persons most proper to be appointed members of the punchayet, and should appoint them accordingly. That no doubt gave additional strength to the interpretation which had been attached to the section by the last speaker, and removed any ambiguity which might have attached if the second proviso had stood by itself. He therefore would ask leave to withdraw the amendment.

The motion was by leave withdrawn.

The HON. RAI JAI PROKASH LALL BAHADOOR moved that section 66 of Act VI of 1870 be repealed. It would be seen that the section provided that any liability, duty, or obligation cast upon any zemindar by the existing law to report crimes or offences within his estate should not be affected by the Act. Hon. members were aware that the origin of the theory that the owner of land was bound to report crimes which might be perpetrated on his estate might be traced to the Regulations which were passed between 1810 and 1814. In those primeval times the zemindar was supposed to reside on his estate and to preside over and control the action of the village community of every village which belonged to him. Means of communication were extremely rude, and the regular police was conspicuous by its insufficiency. It was but natural therefore that the Government should then look to the landholders for supplying it with correct and early information about the commission of offences against life and property. And apart from the question whether the obligation thus created was founded upon principle of justice or not, it was at any rate not difficult of fulfilment.

This state of things had been totally changed, and yet the obligation continued in all its integrity. The last Statute which laid it down was section 45 of the present Code of Criminal Procedure. This was not the place nor the time to discuss the propriety of repealing that section. But as the Council was considering how far Act VI of 1870 should be amended, he thought they ought to see how far they were justified in retaining in the Act words which accentuated an obligation out of harmony with the present conditions of our national life. The village community had been disintegrated: the Bill would give it the final death-blow. The landholder was no longer the motive power which could move the village organization in response to his will: he existed on sufferance only, and had lost all his prestige and all his influence by the operation of the Bengal Tenancy Act, and he had been relieved of police charges and deprived of all control over village watchmen. It was only proper therefore that this Council should no longer retain on its Statute book a section which laid down a doctrine which should now be absolute.

The HON. MR. GARRETT said he could not accept the hon. member's amendment. He must complain that at the eleventh hour the hon. member should move so important an amendment on a section of the original Act which had not up till the present moment been touched upon in any of the discussions. The duties and liabilities which the hon. member sought to sweep away had been imposed on the landholders by what he might call the common law of the country. He did not think that any member of the Council was disposed to relieve the landholders of the very wholesome public burthen [illegible] Acts and Regulations, and he would therefore

CALCUTTA, the 19th April 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 16TH OF APRIL 1886.

THE weather conditions over the province during the past week have been almost normal for the period. Hot dry westerly and north-westerly winds have been blowing at the western and north-western stations; fairly strong south-westerly winds have prevailed at the south-western stations; south-easterly and southerly winds have been blowing at the south-eastern stations, and more or less easterly winds in North and North-East Bengal. Temperature has therefore been high and humidity low at the majority of the western stations, while over the south-eastern and eastern districts temperature has been lower, and the south-easterly winds have brought up considerable amounts of moisture, and by the inter-action of these moist currents with the opposing dry wind currents, a considerable number of local storms have been formed in South-East Bengal, which have given comparatively frequent rain. A few local storms have also been reported in the districts of North Bengal close to the hills, produced apparently by similar causes. In these districts therefore temperature has been comparatively low. With the exception of these districts the greater part of the province has been rainless for the week, but on the first day or two some few local storms were reported from the Moorshedabad, Jessore, Khoolna and Nuddea districts of South-West Bengal, which gave fairly general rain over this area.

The variations of pressure during the week have been particularly large. On Saturday the 10th there was a very rapid fall, in several cases considerably exceeding a tenth of an inch. This was followed by a further fall on the 11th, which nearly equalled a tenth of an inch at some stations. For the next two days a recovery set in, which was followed by a further fall on the 14th, and succeeded by a rather rapid increase of pressure at the close of the week. For the whole week the mean pressure over the province has been largely below the average, the defect being no less than 0·093″ below the normal. This defect is pretty evenly distributed, and in most districts pressure is not much less than a tenth of an inch below the normal.

Temperature—Has risen very considerably during the week, the rise being particularly rapid at its commencement, when in a single day temperature increased generally as much as 3°. In the previous week temperature had been on the average between 4° and 5° below the normal, but this defect has been considerably more than compensated in the majority of districts, and the only districts in which temperature is in defect are East Bengal, where the defect is 1·6°, and in South Behar, where it is 0·9°. The mean temperature for the week has been nearly normal in Orissa, South-West Bengal and North Behar, while it has been 1·6° in excess in Chutia Nagpur. For the whole province the mean temperature has been practically normal. Some particularly high maximum temperatures have been reported during the week. The highest temperature recorded, if it can be accepted as trustworthy, is 114·4° on the 15th at Cuttack. On the same day Midnapore reported 109·3°, Bankoorah 108·1°, Raneegunge 107·3°, and Burdwan 106·7°. The highest temperature at Calcutta on the same day was 103·5°.

Humidity has also been low at most of the western stations during the week, and the dryness of the air was such that at Midnapore at 10 A.M. on the 16th the amount of saturation was only 7 per cent. of the possible quantity. This represents a most excessive dryness of the atmosphere, and it may be well compared with the aridity of almost any part of Upper India.

Rainfall has been fairly frequent and general in East Bengal, and the average amount recorded is 0·90 inch as against the normal amount of 0·71 inch. In North Bengal the districts in and near the hills have received general rain, but other districts have been practically rainless: for the whole of this division the rainfall has averaged 0·33 inch as against a normal fall of 0·34 inch. The South-West Bengal, Nuddea, Khoolna, Jessore and Moorshedabad districts received rain on the first one or two days of the week, but the other districts have been practically rainless. For the whole of this division the rainfall has averaged 0·22 inch against the normal 0·38 inch. The remaining four divisions, Orissa, Chutia Nagpore, and North and South Behar, have been entirely rainless for the week.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 16th of April 1886 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground, D. dew.

A. PEDLER.

MEMORANDUM.

THE returns from the principal Municipalities in Bengal for the week ending 3rd April 1886 yield the following results :—

1. That the birth and death rates in these Municipalities stood at 19·9 and 22·1 per 1,000 of population respectively, as opposed to 19·5 and 24·0 per 1,000 respectively, in the preceding week ending 27th March, indicating a falling off in death registration.

2. That the highest birth and death rates were returned by the following Municipalities :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Bhagulpore ...	38·0	Comillah	61·6
Krishnaghur ...	34·1	Gya	45·0
Chupra ...	33·2	Puri	42·0
Naraingunj ...	33·1	Naraingunj ...	33·1
Chittagong ...	32·9
Beauleah ...	31·5

3. That the mortality from the specific death causes stood as follows in comparison with the similar information for the preceding week :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	3rd April 1886.	27th March 1886.
Cholera	2·9	3·2
Small-pox	...	·2
Fever	8·4	10·7
Bowel-complaints	3·7	3·6
Injury	·4	·4
Other causes	6·7	5·9

The above figures indicate that while the mortality from fever had diminished sensibly and small-pox furnished no deaths, there occurred no noticeable differences in fatality from the other death-causes.

4. That eliminating small-pox, from which no death was reported, fever and bowel-complaints, which proved noticeably severe only in Mozufferpore and Naraingunge, viz., at the rates of 20·7 and 16·6 per 1,000 of population, respectively, and injury, the casualties from which were nowhere above normal, cholera and "other causes" proved most fatal in the following Municipalities :—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.
Comillah	46·2	Bhagulpore	17·2
Puri	12·6	Gya	14·3
Hughli	9·4	Puri	12·6

nsus of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as prans, above alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been classified on the usual system of age classification.

GENERAL REMARKS AND EXPLANATIONS.

During the month under review 29,177·95 tons of merchandise passed over the line against 15,108·99 carried during the corresponding period of 1885, which gives a net increase of 93·11 per cent. The increase, as will be seen from the comparative statement given above, is general under all heads of traffic excepting gunny-bags, miscellaneous, railway material and seed.

Increases.

Ale ... ... ·7 tons.
The increase under this head is very trifling.

Food-grain ... ... 11,618·82 tons.
This satisfactory result is due to a large downwards traffic in rice and paddy.

Ginger ... ... 45·67 tons.
There has been a continued steady increase in this commodity due to a good crop and fair demand for export.

Jute ... ... 3,255·15 tons.
The weight carried of this staple stands at 5,612·73 tons against 2,357·58 carried during February 1885, the result showing a net increase of 138 per cent. which is satisfactory in the face of a falling market.

Piece-goods ... ... 378·18 tons.
Increase due to a good demand in the local markets to replenish stocks for the spring.

Salt ... ... 89·06 tons.
The result of the month's working shows an increase under this head of 4 per cent. compared with the corresponding period of 1885.

Sugar ... ... 40·81 tons.
Since October last there has been a steady increase under this head, and a reaction will probably set in shortly.

Tea ... ... 7·42 tons.
The increase is satisfactory when it is borne in mind that this is the end of the season. During the month prices for mediums showed a slight decline, all other grades went without change and were well competed for.

Tobacco ... ... 136·58 tons.
The increase is expected owing to the falling off in the preceding three months.

Decreases.

Gunny-bags ... ... 93·46 tons.
The traffic under this head shows a falling off of 27 per cent. compared with the corresponding period of 1885.

Miscellaneous ... ... 377·77 tons.
There has been a steady increase in this traffic for some months past, which will account for the present falling off.

Railway material ... ... 317·80 tons.
The traffic under this head shows a falling off of 3 per cent. compared with the corresponding period of 1885.

Seed ... ... 714·43 tons.
Decrease mainly due to smaller quantities of mustard-seed having been despatched from Atrai and Sultanpur than in February 1885.

The increase in coaching traffic is partly due to the running of a special for the Begum of Bhopal and partly to return traffic in connection with Baroni thing festival.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

Government Engineering College, Seebpore.

CANDIDATES for admission to the Engineer Department should apply to the Principal before the 25th May 1886. The Session begins on Monday, the 7th June 1886. Candidates must furnish proof that they have passed the Calcutta University Entrance Examination, and that they are under 19 years of age. This limit will be raised to 21 years of age in the case of candidates who have passed the F. A. Examination of the University.

Ten Scholarships will be awarded to students entering the Engineer Department not being already holders of Junior Scholarships. The Scholarships will be awarded with general reference to the place taken by candidates at the Entrance Examination.

Students who have passed the University Entrance Examination in April are eligible for admission to the Mechanical Apprentice Department up to the 7th June 1886. They must send in their applications before 25th May 1886.

Every applicant before admission to the College will be examined by the College Surgeon as to his physical strength, fitness for manual labour, and eyesight.

Further particulars will be supplied on application to the Principal.

Educational Prospectus.

THE Calcutta Medical College Session, 1886-87, will commence on the 23rd June next Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal between the hours of 11 A.M. and 4 P.M. on or before that date.

2. Ten (10) free presentations will then be awarded. These are given to students according to their relative position in the University, B.A., B L. and F.A. Examinations, preference being given to those who have passed the highest examination.

3. No person shall be enrolled as a matriculated student of the College who has not previously passed the First Arts Examination of the Calcutta University, or some one of the preliminary Arts Examination of the United Kingdom recognised by the British General Medical Council.

4. All matriculated students of the College are required to pay Rs. 15 on entrance, Rs. 30 for the summer session on the 23rd June, and Rs. 30 for the winter session on 1st November of each year.

5. Students who have failed to pass their final examination, and who, under the regulations of the University, are required to attend a further course of lectures and of hospital practice before being allowed to present themselves again for examination, will pay for such further course an annual fee of Rs. 45 in two instalments of Rs. 30 and Rs. 15, payable at the beginning of the summer and winter sessions respectively.

6. Any matriculated student of the College may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professors of the subject, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates of attendance at such extra lectures, if the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. The fees payable in advance for such additional courses are the following:—

	Rs.
For a single course of lectures on each subject	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice	60

7. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a Medical School in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance at lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or in the case of a free student, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

8. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College, who may be desirous of attending any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject, on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in rule 6.

If such student has passed the Entrance Examination of the University, he may receive certificates of attendance at lectures, provided the Professors are satisfied that he has attended the full course of lectures, and has mastered the subjects taught.

A student who has not passed the Entrance Examination will be entitled to no certificates of any kind.

9. College scholarships, prizes, and certificates of honour are open for competition only to matriculated students of the College, Hospital Apprentice and Female Certificate class.

A gold medal and certificates of honour are awarded to the best students in each subject.

or in such modification thereof as the said Local Authority shall from time to time direct.

12. The said Company will if required by the Local Authority and corporation and before opening and breaking up the soil or pavement of any street or bridge deposit with the Bank of Bengal in the name of the chief officer of the Local Authority the sum of rupees five thousand or in the option of such officer Promissory Notes of the Government of India of the nominal value of rupees five thousand and the same will remain so deposited until the completion by the said Company of the line of tramway then in construction. All interest accuring on the said sum or notes shall be credited to the said Company and subject as next hereinafter mentioned be paid to it as the same falls due. The Local Authority shall be entitled to deduct all fines expenses and penalties out of the sum so deposited or the interest accuring on the said sum or notes or out of the proceeds of sale of such notes or a portion of such notes on completion of the said tramway.

13. The provisions herein contained shall so far as applicable apply to all tramways to be constructed by the said Company by any route or routes to be hereafter fixed or agreed to by the Local Authority and sanctioned by the Local Government and to the works connected with or incidental to such tramways.

14. The said Company shall complete in every respect (ready for opening and working for traffic) the said tramway now to be constructed and all necessary plant buildings stores live-stock and rolling-stock within twelve months from the date of the order of the Local Government under section 3 of the said Act III of 1883 in regard to this present Agreement. In the event of the said Company failing so to complete the work the Local Authority shall be at liberty to determine this contract and to enter into arrangements with any other person or persons for the construction of tramways within the limits of the Patna Municipality.

15. If the said Company fail in any respect to comply with any of the provisions of the said Act III of 1883 especially sections 14 15 16 17 20 and 22 and the Local Authority shall find it necessary or desirable to do anything or incur any expense to remedy any such failure on the part of the said Company all expenses so incurred shall be on demand repaid to the Local Authority by the said Company and the certificate of the chief officer of the local authority shall be conclusive evidence that all expenses referred to in such certificate were so incurred and the said Company shall not be at liberty to dispute the same.

16. In consideration of the concession herein granted the said Company shall pay to the Local Authority a yearly rent of rupees one thousand and five hundred per mile of double track and of rupees one thousand per mile of single track and a further yearly rent of rupees sixty for each turn-out or siding. No tracks necessary to connect the traffic lines with the stables carriage-sheds factories or other property or properties of the said Company shall be included in the mileage on which rent is to be paid such necessary connecting tracks being rent-free

17. If the said rent or any part thereof shall not be paid on due date the said Company shall be liable to pay interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent. per annum from the due date until payment.

18. From and after the commencement of the fifteenth year of this contract to the end of the twenty-first the said Company shall not be at liberty to enter upon any fresh engagements or expenditure which would increase its capital account in connection with this contract without first notifying its intention to the said Local Authority and obtaining its approval thereof and sanction thereto in writing.

19. The date of the commencement of this concession shall be the date on which notice of the sanction of the Government of Bengal to the same shall be given to the said Company.

20. In the event of either section 39 or 40 of the said Act III of 1883 taking effect or being put in force and of the Local Authority exercising the right of purchase of any tramway effected by either of the said clauses the value of the property purchased shall be ascertained in manner mentioned in clause 21 or at the option of the Local Authority the property shall be put up for sale by public auction in Patna with liberty to the Local Authority to bid.

21. The Local Authority shall have the right of purchasing the said tramways with the plant buildings stores rolling-stock and everything connected therewith upon the capital of the said Company or securities of the Government of India or securities the interest whereon shall have been guaranteed by the Secretary of State for India in Council or debentures of the said Local Authority of such amount as to produce at the rate of interest current on such securities seven per cent. per annum on the amount of the said invested capital and if the consideration for such purchase shall be given in such securities as aforesaid the said Company shall be entitled to have in addition a first mortgage of all the property assets and profits of the tramway or tramways which shall have been purchased from it. IN WITNESS whereof the said parties to these presents have hereunto set their respective hands and seals the day and year first above written.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 156.

The 21st April 1886.

THE following annual accounts and reports of the Road Cess Committees of the districts of Cuttack, Pooree, and Balasore for the cess year 1884-85, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, are published for general information.

D. B. HORN,
Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 12, dated Cuttack, the 8th January 1886.

From—G. M. CURRIE, Esq., Chairman, Road Cess Committee, Cuttack,
To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit annual accounts of receipts and disbursements for the cess year 1884-85.

1. The accounts were only audited by a Sub-Committee under the provisions of section 179 of the Cess Act IX (B.C.) of 1880, and finally passed by the District Committee.

2. Original works.—There was no provision in the budget for opening new lines of communication, and consequently none has been undertaken. As in the preceding year, the Committee had to pay Rs. 5,427-14-2, for the re-valuation establishment lasted till end of the year, and with the available fund at their disposal the following original works were executed, which cost Rs. 11,977-12-11:—

Metalling	... ...	Two miles on the Taldunda road.
Bridges ...	... ...	One timber bridge on the Marshaghai road and another on the Chandbali road.
Culvert ...	... ...	One on the Madhub road.

All these above works were completed except the culvert on the Madhub road, which was left half done on account of breaches in the river embankment at site of the culvert. The unexpended balance on account of this culvert was applied to filling up breaches.

3. Repairs.—All the existings roads, bridges, and bungalows were repaired at a cost of Rs. 30,202-3-8. They were reported to be in fair order, and passable for traffic. Out of these, the following were considerably damaged by the late flood and cyclone. The District Engineer proposes submitting estimates for their repairs:—

1. Taldunda road.	6. Indupore road.
2. Sonepore ,,	7. Pattamoondi ,,
3. Madhub ,,	8. Jajpore ,,
4. Chandbally ,,	9. Barnan ,,
5. Golorahat ,,	10. Kuakhia ,,

4. Bungalows.—No bungalows were newly built during the year under review. The old ones were repaired at a cost of Rs. 1,683. There are altogether 13 accommodation bungalows in the district, viz., 5 on Chandbali, 4 on Taldanda, 2 on Sonepur, and 2 on the Madhub road. The 5 bungalows on the Chandbali road were repaired early in the working season, and were in good condition till August last. They were reported to have been considerably damaged by the late cyclone, and are now almost unhabitable. The 4 bungalows on the Taldanda road, with the exception of the one at Fakirpara, were also damaged by the storm. Out of the bungalows on the Sonepur road, the one at Patpur, together with its outhouses, is reported to have been seriously damaged by the late flood and the furnitures injured. The outhouses were entirely rebuilt, and are now habitable. A proposal is under consideration to remove the bungalow to the hill side, to which place the police out-post and the post-office will be moved. The site proposed is suitable. The bungalow, if built, on the elevated or high ground will not be liable to be damaged as is being done almost every year by the flood-water of the Mahanuddy river, but the removal will necessitate a short branch road and a bridge across a "jor." The two bungalows on the Madhub road were repaired early last year, and are reported to be in good order.

5. Village roads.—During the year altogether 13 new village roads were constructed throughout the district as against 27 of the preceding year. Of these 1 in thannah Cuttack, 5 in Jagatsingpur, 3 in Salepur, 1 in Tirtole and 3 in Kendrapara. The cause of reduction in the number is ascribed partly to the reduction in the amount allotted, viz., Rs. 9,818 in 1883-84, to Rs. 5,000 in 1884-85, and partly to the general maintenance and repairs to the existing roads. The construction and repairs of these roads were chiefly made through the agency of contractors under the supervision of the District Engineer. Speaking of Kendrapara roads, the Chairman states: "Every attempt was made to have the work constructed by the men through whose villages the roads passed, but as no one was willing to do this they were executed direct by the Committee through contractors, whose works were carefully checked before payment was made by the sub-overseer."

No new village roads were undertaken in Jajpore for want of funds, which were all spent on repairs and maintenance of the existing ones. All the roads, with few exceptions, are reported to be in fair order and passable for traffic.

6. Planting and maintaining trees on roads.—There were 6,879 trees planted on the district roads during the year as against 1,390 of the year before. They were protected by gabions. They were generally in good condition. At the close of the year many were blown down by a heavy cyclone. Some of the trees were uprooted and lying across the roads hindering traffic. Orders were, however, issued to sell them by public auction. The District Engineer has been asked to ascertain and report the number of trees blown away by the recent cyclone.

8. The attendance of the Executive Engineers will be seen from the statement shown below—

Names of Executive Engineers.	Number of meetings held during the year.	Number of meetings attended.
Mahanuddy Division	4	1
Brahmini-Byturni Division	.....	2

9. The office of the District Engineer under the Committee was held by Messrs. Desgratoulet and MacMillan. The former having taken furlough for six months from 6th April to end of the year, the latter officiated in his place for that period. Both these officers performed their respective duties with zeal and efficiency. The establishments under the Committee are reported to have worked well during the year round.

10. A separate report on the state of collections and arrears of cesses has already been submitted in my No. 254, dated 30th October last. It will be seen from a glance to the statement A (Collection of cesses) enclosed that the percentage of voluntary payments rose from 86·81 to 90·9, and that the collection on execution of certificates from 27 to 86·1. The reason for increase of voluntary payments is that the people through fear of being charged with a heavy process fee for a small amount of cess came forward with their respective dues.

WITH reference to paragraph 6 of my No. 12, dated 8th instant, I have the honour to enclose herein a statement showing the number of trees blown away by the recent

T. INGLIS,

Chairman in charge.

No. 34, dated Pooree, the 19th February 1886.

From—R. PORCH, Esq., Chairman, Road Cess Committee, Pooree,
To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual report on the administration of the District Road Fund for the cess year 1884-85, together with a detailed account of receipts and expenditure during the cess year.

* * * * * * *

3. There is only one Branch Road Cess Committee at the sub-division of Khorda. No meeting of the Branch Committee was held during the year.

4. Village roads.—A sum of Rs. 1,501-1-1 was advanced during the year for village road work, and Rs. 1,410-6-11 was outstanding since the preceding year for the same purpose out of Rs. 2,911-8, being the amount of advance for village road work. Only Rs. 518-10-6 have been adjusted during the year. Out of the outstanding advance of Rs. 2,362-13-6, the sum of Rs. 1,198 is with the Chairman of the Branch Road Cess Committee at Khorda for village road work in thannas Khorda and Banpur.

5. Tree-planting.—No tree has been planted on the side of any road during the year, but those already planted are being maintained. Rupees 356 has been spent for the main-

6. District roads.—Two roads, viz., one from Piplee to Khorda and the other from Patnaikia bazar to Khorda, were breached so seriously by the high flood at the end of June 1885 that the traffic on these two roads was stopped for a few weeks. The extension of the Balugan and Banpur road to Baghura is now open for traffic, but metalling and other improvements to this road are in progress. Improvements to other district roads are being gradually made.

7. Inspection bungalows.—The construction of two inspection bungalows, one at Protap on the extension of the Balugan and Banpur road, and the other at Jagadalpur on the Patnaikia bazar and Khorda road, at a cost of Rs. 450 and Rs. 300, respectively, were being built during the year 1884-85.

8. Annual inspection.—The office of the District Road Cess Committee was inspected by local auditor on the 25th February 1885.

9. The establishments under the District Road Cess Committee have discharged their duties satisfactorily.

10. Road cess was realized during the year under report at the maximum rate of six pies per rupee. The percentage of collection during the year ending 30th September 1885 is 80·4.

Memorandum of original works done and in progress during the cess year 1884-85.

1. Construction of causeways and culverts on the road from Patinakea Bazar to Khorda is still in progress. The total length of the road is nearly 22 miles. One causeway and 35 culverts have been constructed up to the end of the year.

2. The metalling work of the road from Patnaikia Bazar to Khorda has been taken in hand during the year. The road will be metalled throughout its entire length.

5. The extension of the Balugan and Banpur road to Baghura is still in progress. Rock-cutting and earthwork have been completed and the road is now open for traffic to a length of 17 miles nearly.

4. An inspection bungalow at Pratap on the extension of the road from Balugan and Banpur to Baghura, and another inspection Bungalow at Jagadalpur on the road from Patnaikia Bazar to Khorda are in progress during the year. These Bungalows not being completed during the year, could not be paid for.

PRANKISSEN ROY,

Vice-Chairman.

No. 25, dated Balasore, the 26th January 1886.

From—T. J. C. GRANT, Esq., Chairman, Balasor Road Cess Committee,
To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annexed accounts and the following brief report on the administration of the Road Fund of this district for the cess year ending 30th September 1885.

2. The original works of the year consisted, first in the widening of the port road; second construction of drainage on the sides of the Mitterpur road; and third construction of culverts on the Soroh to Kupari road. Some earthworks and bridge works, &c., as detailed in the statements, were also executed in lengthening the port road which have been paid for in the current year.

3. Almost all the roads were repaired during the year more or less and kept in a passable state. Special care was bestowed on the Mitterpore and distillery roads as they are important ones and largely frequented by men and carts. Of all the district roads the one from Busta to Baliapal was in charge of the Executive Engineer of the Balasore Division, and repaired by him at the cost of the Road Fund. The Committee have this year adopted a new system of repairing the roads which will improve their condition materially. Formerly they used to make annual allotments more or less for all the roads in their list, the consequence of which was that the most important ones could not be throughly repaired, and the others remained almost in the same state. An attempt to maintain a large number of roads, without improving any one of them materially, results in a mere waste of money. Being conscious of this, the Road Cess Committee have weighed the usefulness of the roads, and at a recent meeting resolved, first to lay their hands on the most important ones. The current year's budget was prepared on this principle. This is no doubt a step in the right direction, and I am sure, will raise the conditions of the roads. The case of the Chandbali road deserves a passing notice here. In its No. 1381, dated 31st May 1881, issued from the Public Works Department, the Government of Bengal sanctioned a grant-in-aid of Rs. 50,443, to the Road Cess Committee for construction of this road. Out of this amount Rs. 39,152-1-7 was recovered by the Committee up to the close of the last year to meet the expenditure made on it by the Public Works Department during 1882-83 and 1883-84. In his No. 211 B, dated 9th July 1885, the Accountant-General called upon the District Road Committee to pay Rs. 13,211-4-8, the expenditure made in 1884-85. But as there was a balance of Rs. 11,290-14-5 only from the aforesaid grant available for expenditure, you were requested in this office No. 201, dated 28th August 1885, to move Government to make a further grant of the surplus Rs. 1,920-6-3. But again the Accountant-General demands a further sum of Rs. 9,302-15-1 expended on the road during 1884-85. The matter will be shortly taken into consideration by the Road Cess Committee; but in all probability they will express their inability to pay so large an amount, limited as their resources are, and request Government to pay it. The Executive Engineer of the Acquapada-Jajpore Division says that Government has ordered to stop the work.

4. Village roads.—The funds allotted for the village roads could not be wholly utilised during the year, as some deductions had to be made from them to meet other emergencies. However, the applications of villagers for grants were entertained as far as possible, and the advances made to them during the year were adjusted by actual work before the end of the year. The works were subject to the supervision of the District Engineer. The Committee is fully alive to the importance of opening village communications for the benefit of the cess payers living in the mofussil, as it is unjust to use the money paid by them in any way which will not promote their interest.

5. Some improvement has been effected in the state of the arboricultural operations of the district. Formerly the trees planted on the sides of district roads could not be properly looked after as only one in consideration of their importance and requirements and plant trees, first on their sides and then commence with new ones in the following year. The plants will be fenced with iron nettings in order to be preserved from the encroachments of cattle. The nursery gardens were kept neat and clean, and the trees therein were carefully preserved and seedlings planted. The system framed by the Committee of paying rewards to persons who would plant and tend trees on the sides of the roads, has not been attended with any degree of success. Only one man made an attempt in this direction, and was no doubt successful. He has been properly rewarded for his labour.

* * * * *

7. Committee.—The Suddar and Sub-divisional Committees consist of 17 and 15 members, respectively.

* * * * *

8. Attendance of Executive Engineer.—The Executive Engineer of the Balasore Division attended only one meeting of the Committee, and the Executive Engineer of the Acquapada-Jajpur Division none.

9. Working of the Cess Act IX (B.C.) of 1880.—The working of this Act has not given discontentment to anybody. The generality have well understood that the road cess levied from them is used solely for their benefit in the shape of construction of roads and bridges, &c. Arrears of cess are realized by aid of the certificate procedure under Act VII (B C.) of 1880. The re-valuation operations have been drawn almost to a close, and on their completion the cess revenue will be much increased.

10. Character of officers.—Baboo Kali Pada Mukherjee was Cess Deputy Collector throughout the year under report.

Hon'ble Kumar Baikuntha Nath De was Vice-Chairman of the Road Cess Committee during the year, except when he went out to Calcutta for a few months as an Hon'ble Member of the Bengal Legislative Council, during which period Baboo Kali Pada Mukherjee acted as Vice-Chairman, ad interim. I have nothing to say further than that the Kumar continues to merit the high character he has earned for himself as Vice-Chairman.

Establishment.—Baboo Kishori Mohon Mukherjee was District Engineer of the Committee throughout the last year, and has given full satisfaction in that capacity.

BHOBOTOSH BANERJEE,
Deputy Collector in charge, for Chairman.

Explanatory sheet to accompany the Road Fund Annual Accounts for 1884-85.

(a). The original provision was supplemented by a grant of Rs. 1,065, as sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 360C., dated 7th September 1885.

(b). This amount was sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 187C., dated 30th May 1885, and the excess expenditure is to be met from the general savings of the fund, as it was unavoidable.

(c). The original grant was Rs. 800, to which Rs. 600 was added as sanctioned in Commissioner's Nos. 94C. and 362C., dated 23rd March and 7th September last, respectively.

(d). The original provision of Rs. 500 had an addition of Rs. 750 to it, as sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 61C., dated 20th February 1885.

(e). Rupees 500 was deducted from the original allotment of Rs. 4,000, as sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 187C., dated 30th May 1885.

(f). The original grant of Rs. 500 was supplemented by a sum of Rs. 700, as sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 61C., dated 20th February 1885.

(g). The excess expenditure was indispensable, as the road is very important and was not in good order. It is to be met from the general savings of the fund.

(h) Rupees 400 was added to the original allotment of Rs. 400 with the Commissi-

(j). The amount actually paid in advance for this road during the last year was Rs. 200, for which accounts have not been received from the Executive Engineer in charge of it. At the beginning of the last year, Rs. 1,061-1 was outstanding as balance in the hands of the Executive Engineer for this road, of which accounts for Rs. 1,060-6 were received during the year, and consequently this amount is shown as expenditure against this road.

(k). These amounts represent the original budget allotments, plus the additional grants sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 61C., dated 20th February 1885.

(l). Rupees 150 was added to the original provision of Rs. 250, as per Commissioner's No. 61C., dated 20th February 1885.

(m). This amount shows a decrease of Rs. 1,000 from the original budget allotment which was transferred to other heads, as sanctioned in Commissioner's Nos. 187C. and 360C., dated 30th May and 7th September 1885, respectively.

(n). These excess amounts will be met from the general savings of the fund.

BHOBOTOSH BANERJEE,

Deputy Collector in charge, for Chairman.

No. 134C., dated Cuttack, the 5th March 1886.

From—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division,

To—The Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, Public Works Dept.

I HAVE the honour to forward herewith in original the annual accounts and reports of the Road Cess Committees of Cuttack, Pooree and Balasore, for the year 1884-85 for publication in the Calcutta Gazette under section 179 of the Cess Act IX (B.C.) of 1880.

2. The reports and accounts have been prepared agreeably to the instructions contained in Government orders Nos. 973A of the 14th September and 201A of the 26th February 1880, respectively.

Separate accounts, under section 10 of Act XI of 1859, were opened in respect of the 3 shares from which arrears are due. These shares were once put up to sale for arrears of revenue on the 5th January last, and the bid at which the said shares were knocked down was below the amount due to Government. Against this sale an appeal was preferred to the Commissioner of the division, who upset the sale on the 19th March last on grounds of illegality, and directed to take steps under section 14 of the sale law. Accordingly a notice was served upon the proprietors, but no one paid the arrears. Hence the entire mehal is now advertized for sale.

Tipperah Collectorate, the 7th April 1886. F. H. B. SKRINE, Offg. Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned escheated property situate in the district of Chittagong will be put up to sale at the camp of the Deputy Collector near the Police station, Mirkiserai, on the 20th May 1886, corresponding with 7th Joisto 1293B.S, Thursday.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

Rs. [illegible]

Thirdly.—If the amount of purchase money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government) and the tenure to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale. The Deputy Collector will have power to put up the several lots singly or together, as may be found desirable at the time of sale.

Chittagong Collectorate, the 7th April 1886. A. MANSON, Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lease of the land specified in the schedule hereunto annexed, and of which the plan is open to inspection at the office of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans, has been applied for by Huri Mohun Basar, and will be sold at 12 o'clock noon on the 2nd August 1886, Monday (18th Shraban 1293 B.E.), at the Sundarban Commissioner's Office at Alipur, unless meantime the sale is stopped or postponed in consequence of claims or objections under Act XXIII of 1863 (to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands), or owing to any other cause.

2. The lease of the land will be granted subject to the conditions which are specified below, as well as to the general terms annexed to the rules for the sale of leases of waste lands, dated 12th November 1879.

Conditions.

That the lands shall be subject to all existing rights of all way and water and all other easements.

That the right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable shall be reserved to public, as also the use of a towpath, not less than 25 feet in width, on each side of every such stream and channel.

That no charge shall be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the lands. But for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied at such rate and in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed by Government.

That the Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals in the land, together with such right of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting and carrying any such minerals. It also retains its proprietary right in the land, and only confers on the lessees an occupancy right which shall be hereditary and transferable.

2. The new half-anna and one-anna envelopes are larger in size than those now in use, and the quality of paper is also superior in the case of the new envelopes.

3. The existing half-anna and one-anna embossed envelopes will still be offered for sale at the value denoted upon them.

4. The registration envelopes of both sizes are now introduced into India, for the first time: they are recommended for use in connection with registered letters as providing security against damage in transit and against tampering. It should be borne in mind that the embossed stamp on the registration envelopes represents the registration fee only, and that when using these envelopes, postage stamps to the required amount should be affixed in the usual way in payment of ordinary postage.

5. An adhesive stamp of the value of 4½ annas will also be available for sale to the public by the 1st May or shortly afterwards. This stamp is intended for use on letters addressed to the United Kingdom and to countries served through the United Kingdom.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE OPIUM DEPARTMENT DURING THE YEAR 1884-85.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MIS. REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 22nd April 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter from the Officiating Secretary to the Board of Revenue, No. 101B, dated 6th February 1886, submitting the Reports of the Opium Agents of Behar and Benares for the year 1884-85.

THE Annual Reports forwarded by the Opium Agents of Behar and Benares are dated, respectively, the 21st and the 30th November 1885, while the Board's covering letter, due on the 1st of February 1886, was not received till the 15th of that month.

2. Although the general character of the season is not noticed in the Report of the Opium Agent of Behar, it is known that the year was one of deficient rainfall in all the districts included in his Agency, except Chumparan. It is mentioned that blight, caused by damp east winds with cloudy days in February, did harm to the poppy crop on the north of the Ganges, more particularly in the Aliganj Division. Blight appeared, too, in some places in the South Ganges districts, but did not spread, and is said to have been invariably checked by a west wind. In the Benares Agency the season was favourable. The abundant rainfall of the monsoon was followed by fine weather in November and December, and then by heavy showers in January, which did much good to the later sowings and brought the crop fast to maturity. Unseasonably heavy rain in March caused some anxiety, but beyond reducing the consistence of the drug with a large admixture of pasewa caused no injury to the outturn.

3. The Opium Department made engagements for cultivation during the year with 25,263 khattadars and 665,353 cultivators in the Behar Agency, with 30,194 lumbardars and 713,973 cultivators in Benares, thus giving employment of a remunerative nature to 1,434,783 persons.

The areas of the land engaged for, of that sown with poppy-seed, and of that actually cultivated with the outturns in each Agency during the last five years, are compared in the following statement :—

Season.	Area engaged for.	Land sown for cultivation.	Net cultivation.	Produce at 70° consistence.

Increase of 1884-85 over 1883-84	28,851	60,268	61,401	10,964 15 9½

Taking the results obtained in two Agencies together, and comparing them with those of the previous year, there was an increase of 24,139 bighas in the area engaged for, of 86,636 bighas in the land sown, of 95,084 in the net cultivation or the area on which the seed germinated, and of 14,722 maunds in the produce. The net cultivation, and the produce were larger than those of any previous year. The exceptional success of the season's operations must be mainly attributed to the Benares Agency, where there was an increase of 28,851 bighas in the area engaged for, of 60,268 bighas in the land sown, of 61,401 in the net cultivation, and of 78,002 maunds in the produce. The Agent states that the outturn of the opium during the previous year had been far above the average, and the large payments which the cultivators had received for the very high consistence of the opium delivered placed the prices of sugarcane and cereals at a disadvantage. When the settlements commenced the ryots came flocking to the opium centres in large numbers, and showed every desire to extend the cultivation. As the area actually cultivated had, during the past few years, fallen below that engaged for, great caution was exercised in making advances, and some disappointment was caused, as all applications for increase were not complied with in full. But the area sown proved to be 14,977 bighas in excess of that for which settlements were made, leaving no doubt as to the popularity which the excellent outturn of the year 1883-84 had secured for the cultivation.

4. In Behar there has been an increase of 26 368 bighas in the land cultivated, accompanied by a slight falling off of 4,642 bighas in that for which engagements were made. As stated by the Board of Revenue in their report for the year 1883-84, cultivators occasionally get advances for poor and barren land without any hope, and probably without any intention, of obtaining a crop. More attention has been paid in recent years to the restriction of this practice, and, under the circumstances, the popularity of the cultivation, and the extent to which it can be carried, must be judged not by the area settled, but by that actually sown. The area cultivated has increased in every division of the Behar Agency except Hajeepore.

5. Upon this important subject Mr. Kemble, the Behar Agent, observes :—

"It appears to me that, in the three thickly-populated districts of Tirhoot, Hajipore, and Chupra, the introduction of new staples and the rise in prices due to improved means of communication and other causes have tended to make the cultivation of poppy less sought after every year. It held its ground for many years owing to the advances given under the khattadari system. With the spread of education and the introduction of railways the khattadar as village banker is losing his influence. Potatoes and other garden produce find a ready market where large profits can be made."

As noticed by the Opium Commission, complaints of the prospects of the Opium Department being injuriously affected by the competition of other agricultural industries have been frequently made by the Behar Agent. The Commission arrived at the conclusion that the only crops which seriously competed with poppy were potatoes, sugarcane, and tobacco, of which the two latter were less profitable than opium, while potatoes commanded only a small market; so that there was really no cause for alarm. The figures of the season under report certainly offer no support to the statement that in the three thickly populated districts of Tirhoot, Hajeepore, and Chupra the cultivation of the poppy is less sought after every year, as it appears that 60,227 bighas were cultivated with poppy in these districts during 1884-85 against 58,487 bighas in 1883-84, showing an actual increase of 1,740 bighas. There was a decrease in Hajeepore, but as it was local and exceptional, it cannot be accounted for by causes of general application.

6. The total produce of the year 1884-85 in the two Agencies, as shewn in the statement in the last paragraph, amounted to 1,333,803 maunds of opium at 70° consistence, which appears to be the largest outturn ever obtained in any year. The outturn of the Behar Agency was somewhat less than that of the preceding year, but in the Benares Agency the produce greatly exceeded that of any former year; only in three previous years (1875-76, 1876-77, and 1883-84) has the outturn of the last-named Agency exceeded 60,000 maunds. The average yield per bigha in 1884-85 was 4 seers 15½ chittacks in the Behar Agency, and 6 seers 9 chittacks in the Benares Agency —averages for both Agencies rather in excess of ordinary years. The produce shown as that of the Behar Agency includes 689 maunds grown in Nepal and delivered to the officers of the Opium Department at Motihari and Bettiah. This is the largest quantity which has yet been received in any year from Nepal cultivators; and the result may be due in part to the freedom of the Nepalee ryots from police molestation and the better arrangements made for them. The extension of these ready-money dealings with the Nepal cultivators shows that opium cultivation is not altogether dependent on a system of advances.

7. The difference in the consistence of the opium delivered in the two Agencies in the year under review is remarkable. In the Behar Agency the actual produce, as delivered by the cultivators, weighed 52,338 maunds, but on account of its high standard of consistence this amount, after deductions for impurities, is reckoned for purposes of manufacture at 55,232 maunds damdetta, i.e., reduced to the standard consistence of 70°. The cultivators got the benefit of this high consistence by premiums paid in excess of the standard price of Rs. 5 per seer paid on the weight delivered. Deductions for low consistence were made in this Agency on 100 maunds only. In the Benares Agency, on the other hand, the actual produce delivered by the cultivators amounted to 80,468 maunds; but on account of the unusually low consistence of the opium, the damdetta result amounted only to 78,001 maunds. The Agent observes :—

"This is much to be regretted, but in a year in which damp weather prevails during the collection and manipulation of the drug, such a result is inevitable. During the weighments the classification of the district officers caused, in many instances, considerable surprise and disappointment to the cultivators, who cherish the idea that a seer of the drug of whatever consistence should secure a payment of Rs. 5, and a large number of appeals against the decisions of district officers was preferred to me. The officers were in no way to blame; the opium was of unusually low consistence, with a heavy admixture of pasewa, which rendered it impossible to give a better classification to the opium than was accorded to it by the district officers."

The unusual quantity of pasewa present in the opium of this Agency during the year is ascribed, as above stated, to the heavy rain of March 1885. It is however, clear that the custom of separating pasewa from the raw drug obtains much more largely among the cultivators of Behar who delivered 538 maunds of pure pasewa at the weighments of the year than among the cultivators of the Benares Agency who delivered 140 maunds only of pure pasewa. Greater attention should be paid in Benares to this important subject, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice Mr. Rivett-Carnac's statement that efforts will be made to obtain the more complete separation of pasewa in future weighments. It is understood from the Agents' Reports that in the Behar Agency 27½ maunds and in the Benares Agency 36 maunds of opium were confiscated for adulterations, and that in the Benares Agency fines were imposed in respect to 118 maunds of opium for impurities other than pasewa. In the Behar Agency deductions for "impurities, pasewa, &c.," were made on 236 maunds. Large adulterations were found in some of the deliveries of Nepal opium.

8. The balance of advances made for cultivation outstanding was at the end of the year under review, Rs. 4,016 in Behar, and Rs. 22,737 in the Benares Agency, making a total of Rs. 26,733. These sums are relatively small, the advances made to cultivators having amounted in the year under review alone to one hundred and fifty-six lakhs of rupees in the Benares Agency, and to one hundred and eleven lakhs of rupees in the Behar Agency. It may now be said that the policy of recovering the old balances has been successful and that the ryots enter on the new year unembarrassed by outstanding accounts.

9. The unirrigated portion of the area under poppy cultivation is less than a fourth of the whole in Behar, while in the Benares Agency it amounts only to 2 per cent. During the year under review Rs. 111,100 were lent in Behar and Rs. 26,961 in the Benares Agency for the construction and repairs of wells. In the former Agency an increase of cultivation of 1,029 bighas was obtained by these advances. The abundant rainfall in the last-named Agency made it less necessary than in ordinary years for the cultivators to spend money on wells. Particulars of recoveries of the advances made for wells are not given by the Behar Agent; in the Benares Agency Rs. 8,831 of the amount advanced had been recovered up to the date of the Agent's report (30th November 1885), and the balance was in course of realization. The Behar Agent writes that canal water is only used for irrigation of the poppy crop when no other water is procurable. It has been stated in former Resolutions that in some districts of Behar wooden aqueducts or shoots have been constructed which convey water from the ryots' wells across the canal distributaries to the poppy fields. A further expenditure was incurred on this account during the year under review in the Patna district. Mr. Kemble's remarks on the proposed scheme of damming up hill-streams in certain districts with a view to distributing their water by means of small channels, and on the effect of growing indigo and poppy on the same land, which has already been a subject of correspondence with Government, will be referred to the Director of the Agricultural Department for consideration.

10. During the year under review 1,284 cases were instituted in the Lower Provinces for offences against the Opium law, 1,048 persons were convicted and sums exceeding in the aggregate Rs. 13,000 realised as fines were distributed among informers and other persons as rewards. "In the majority of cases," writes Mr. Kemble, "the accused persons were convicted for keeping back a small quantity of the produce of their fields, which they were induced to sell to the informers." Some large seizures of contraband opium were made in railway carriages near Burdwan, but the persons found in possession were merely coolies hired to take charge of it, and the real consignors were not discovered. In the North-Western Provinces and Oudh 644 prosecutions were instituted, of which 584 resulted in the conviction of the accused. In the successful cases fines were realised to the amount of Rs. 7,663, the greater portion of which was distributed in rewards to informers and apprehenders. No great success was obtained, the Agent states against the chief culprits—the dealers—although some large captures were made in the Bareilly district. As Mr. Rivett-Carnac remarks, the good opium crops of two successive seasons afforded considerable facilities for the consumption of illicit opium, as the cultivators can more easily keep back without detection a portion of the juice when the supply is abundant. It is clear from the reports that the Agents recognise the importance of confining within the narrowest possible limits the demoralising traffic in illicit opium, and the impossibility of producing any diminution of the offence by petty prosecutions directed against cultivators, as long as the purchasers and dealers escape detection. The subject deserves the closest attention from departmental officers, and also from the police.

11. Turning to the manufacture of opium during the season from 1st April to 31st October 1885, the following particulars are obtained from the Opium Agent's reports, and from the statements thereto appended. The Behar Agent had a balance in store on the 1st April 1885 of opium of the previous season, amounting to 1,554 maunds of 75° consistence. The opium delivered in his Agency by cultivators (including Nepal opium) on account of the crop of 1884-85 amounted to 52,302 maunds of the same consistence. Deliveries from the Benares Agency made up 13,124 maunds, and miscellaneous receipts and the godown surplus raised the whole amount in store during the year to 67,227 maunds of 75°. From the total quantity of opium at his disposal, the Agent manufactured 1,297,220 cakes, or 32,430½ chests, which are equivalent to 47,876 maunds, at 75° consistence, of provision opium, and 1,414 chests equal to 2,122 maunds of excise opium. On the 1st November 1885, the Agent had a balance of 9,333 maunds of opium, including 140 chests of excise opium (1,274 of the 1,414 chests of excise opium manufactured were issued between April and October 1885); the rest of the opium received is accounted for by expenditure on lewa, and issues of medical and miscellaneous opium. The Benares Agent had in store on the 1st April 1885 a balance of 2,679 maunds of opium of 70° consistence. The receipts of the season of 1884-85, excluding Malwa opium, but including miscellaneous receipts and godown surplus, made the total up to 81,358 maunds at 70° consistence. From the total quantity of opium at his disposal, the Agent manufactured 1,300,000 cakes, or 32,500 chests, which are equivalent to 47,740 maunds, at 70° consistence, of provision opium. 14,050 maunds at 70° consistence (shown above as 13,124 maunds at 75° consistence) were sent to the Behar Agency, 10,558 maunds were kept in reserve, and the rest is accounted for by expenditure on lewa, and on repairs of cakes, and by issues to Calcutta. It is understood from paragraph 26 of the Board's review that the Agent of Benares also manufactured 1,609 maunds of excise opium from the balance of Benares opium remaining over from the season of 1883-84. It does not appear that account is taken of this amount in Statement E appended to Mr. Rivett-Carnac's report, nor does the amount appear to agree with the figures given in paragraph 85 of Mr. Rivett-Carnac's report. The manufacture of Malwa opium during the season 1884-85 is noticed below.

12. The total issues of Behar opium for excise purposes during the year are not stated in the Agent's report. In the Benares Agency the amount of opium issued for excise purposes in the year was 6,508 maunds (paragraph 38 of Mr. Rivett Carnac's report) as against 5,381 maunds in the preceding year. This amount apparently includes issues of Malwa opium. The experimental purchases of Malwa opium for excise purposes have been continued. During the season of 1884-85, Malwa opium to the amount of 2,630 maunds at 90° consistence (= 53,382 maunds at 70° consistence) was purchased by Mr. Hastings, Sub-Deputy Opium Agent, who was deputed to Indore for the purpose. This amount, added to 573 maunds in store from preceding years, made up a total of 3,208 maunds in store during the year. Of this amount 706 maunds were issued as excise opium to the North-West Provinces and Oudh and to the Central Provinces, and the remainder (1,180 maunds manufactured and 1,312 maunds unmanufactured) was in store at the end of the season. This opium is said to be generally appreciated in the Central Provinces, but it is not popular in the North-West Provinces.

13. The heavy work of the two factories appears to have been satisfactorily done. A copy of Mr. Kemble's remarks on the subject of encouraging zemindars to plant mango-trees will be sent to the Director of the Agricultural Department. Separate orders have been passed by the Lieutenant-Governor on the subject of the experiments which have been made (1) in keeping unpacked cakes on the racks at the Agencies, (2) in packing opium in tin-lined chests, (3) in packing without trash. The outturn of the saw-mill at Bankipore was less in quantity than in preceding years on account of the temporary cessation of work for the erection of new machinery.—This was successfully carried out by Mr. Girling, the Superintendent, and the agency now possesses plant sufficient to turn out a much larger quantity of work. The supply of timber through the contractors, Messrs. Dear and Co. and Messrs. Alexander Knight and Co., has been regular and in excess of requirements.

14. The total receipts of the Opium Department during the year 1884-85 are shown by the Accountant-General to have amounted to Rs. 61,396,000. This amount is made up as follows:—By sale of provision opium Rs. 60,520,000, by cost price of opium issued for excise purposes Rs. 5,48,229, and the balance by miscellaneous receipts. The total charges amounted to Rs. 29,632,000, made up as follows:—By payments to cultivators Rs. 25,594,000, manufacturing charges Rs. 3,131,000, salaries and establishments Rs. 899,000, and the balance by miscellaneous expenditure. The net revenue of the department for 1884-85 was Rs. 31,764,000 as against Rs. 50,572,000 for the preceding year. The falling off is due both to the fact that 7,702 fewer chests of provision opium were sold during 1884-85, and also to the enormous payments to cultivators for the large crop of the year which exceeded by over 108 lakhs of rupees the payments of the preceding year. The large crop also necessitated increased expenditure on account of manufacture.

15. The remarks made by the Board of Revenue, by the Agents, and the services of officers, will be considered in the Appointment Department. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets to record the death, during the year, of Dr. T. W. Shephard, who rendered valuable service as Principal Assistant at the Patna and Ghazipore Factories for 15 years. To the Board of Revenue, to Mr. Rivett-Carnac, Agent of Benares, and to Mr. Kemble, Agent of Behar, the Lieutenant-Governor tenders his thanks for their efficient supervision of the department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOLARSHIPS.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT,—AGRICULTURE.

Calcutta, the 21st April 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ the Resolution of this Government in the Financial Department dated the 21st August 1880, creating two scholarships of £ 200 per annum each to be held by science graduates of the Calcutta University at the Royal Agricultural College at Cirencester.

Read also the letter from the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department, No. 156—11-2A, dated the 8th February 1886, giving cover to two despatches from Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, drawing attention to the circumstance that the holders of the Agricultural Scholarships do not devote the whole of their time to the studies which they are sent to England to pursue.

RESOLUTION.—The objects of Government in creating two scholarships tenable for two years and a half each at the Royal Agricultural College, Cirencester, were explained in the Resolution of 21st August 1880, quoted in the preamble, to be the promotion of agricultural improvement or encouragement of the study of scientific agriculture.

It appears, however, from the information now forwarded to this Government that some of the agricultural scholars employ a portion of their time in legal and other studies entirely unconnected with these objects—a course opposed to the views of this Government and to the spirit of the conditions under which the scholarships are held.

In order, therefore, to put a stop to this practice, or to leave no doubt as to the intention of Government in selecting agricultural scholars, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that in future any scholar who does not apply himself exclusively to agricultural studies will be liable to forfeiture of his scholarship.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information and that copies of it be circulated to the several officers concerned for information and guidance.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REPORT ON THE WORKING OF THE LICENSED WAREHOUSE AND FIRE-BRIGADE ACT IN THE SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA DURING THE YEAR 1884-85.

THE following report is published for general information.

R. H. WILSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 27th April 1886.

No. 3MM., dated Calcutta, the 6th April 1886.

From—A. SMITH, Esq., Commissioner of the Presidency Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Municipal Department.

UNDER section 30 of the Licensed Warehouses and Fire-Brigade Act, IV (B.C.) of 1883, I have the honour to submit the annual report on the working of the above Act during the year 1884-85 in the Suburbs of Calcutta, together with a statement showing the jute warehouses in the Suburbs for which licenses were granted.

2. The list contains 104 warehouses, of which 74, including two new ones, were licensed during the year of report against 102 in the preceding year; and of the remaining 30 warehouses, 28 were wholly, and one partially, unoccupied, and one was converted into a dwelling-house. Particulars of the jute warehouses left unoccupied, or occupied by parties other than those named in the previous year's statement, and fluctuations in the amount of license fees, &c., are noted in detail in the remark column of the statement.

3. The license fees realized during the year on account of the 74 warehouses amounted to Rs. 15,767-10-6 against Rs. 16,793 realized in the year 1883-84. It will be thus seen that both the number of warehouses licensed during the year, and the amount of license fees collected therefrom, were less than in the previous year. This is said to be due to the unusual delay in the disposal of the question regarding the enhancement of the rate of fees. It was decided by Government, in its letter No. 2294T—M, dated the 19th October last, that the tax could not be levied at an increased rate with retrospective effect for the years 1884-85 and 1885-86. The original rate of Rs. 5 was therefore adopted, and the fees were realized in the latter year. Most of the jute godowns are temporarily occupied by dealers during the jute season, and as no fees were collected in the year 1884-85, many of them escaped payment, for, when final orders for collection were received in November last, the temporary dealers left the jute godowns and their whereabouts could not be traced.

4. As required by paragraph 4 of Government letter No. 723, dated the 20th August 1881, I send herewith another statement showing in debtor and creditor form the income and expenditure of the fund.

5. Twelve fires occurred in the Suburbs of Calcutta during the year under review against 18 in the preceding year. A statement showing the localities where fire broke out, its cause, and the extent of damage, &c., done, is herewith submitted as furnished by the Deputy Commissioner of Police, Calcutta.

17th ,, ,,	E. Suburbs, Narkuldanga.	1 P.M.	1-15 P.M.	1-30 P.M.	Six tiled huts, valued at Rs. 150; not insured.	sparks of fire from a chools ignited the mat wall of the house of Jadoo Nath Doss.	All out at 3 P.M.
5th Jan. 1885	S. Suburbs, Chitpore.	2-15 P.M.	2-20 P.M	2-50 P.M.	One jute store-house containing 3,236 drums of jute; value of building about Rs. 50,000; value of jute about Rs. 10,000; insured.	On the 5th instant at 2-15 P.M., information was brought to Chitpore thana by constable Ramprotab Parry, No. 453 Suburbs, who was doing duty on Cossipore road, that a fire had taken place in the godowns of the Chitpore Hydraulic Press, and it was at once communicated to the Fire-Brigade at Lall Bazar, and at the pumping-station at Talla. The fire was extinguished by the Fire-Brigade arriving at the spot about half an hour after. It appeared from enquiries made that the shed where the fire took place was in the occupation of Messrs. Chell, Paul & Co., and there were about 200 men engaged in assorting jute. There were two sirdars and eight sircars engaged in supervising the work of these men. There were about 3,236 drums of jute, some loose and some drums. There were four ranges of godowns in this shed, that is the shed is partitioned into four ranges. In the centre two ranges of jute were kept and the assorters sat and worked on four sides. At about 2 P.M., all of a sudden the coolies gave an alarm of fire and ran out of the shed. The sircars and cooly sirdars were each examined, but none could say as to the cause of the fire. Bhubun Biswas and Nundo Ghose, head sircars, state that they were not in the shed at the time of the fire: the former came from the tiffin-room and the latter from the press-house on hearing the report of the fire. As for others no one can say or would say anything which may tend to show the cause of the fire. In fact, every one says that he saw fire in the centre of godown all of a sudden. There were durwans doing duty at the gate to prevent people carrying fire, matches, or any other inflammable substance into the shed. The durwans used to search people before allowing them to enter into the shed. This precaution appears to have been taken after the last fire at this place. No outsider is allowed to enter into the shed. The shed where the fire took place is far from the press-house, that is the engine-house, and specially the place where the fire was seen first was in the centre of the godown surrounded by people working on all sides and during day time. These and other circumstances throw great suspicion as to the origin of the fire. It is very strange that fire takes place always in this season when jute work is about to be closed. Most of the people suspect that the fire was caused by some evil-disposed persons. It may have been done through spite between the different press-houses, or between the sirdars and coolies. An evil-disposed sirdar of the baler may also commit this mischief with impunity, in order to save himself from being detected in the misappropriation he may have committed during the whole season, for no account is made out until the season is closed. These may be the causes of these fires, but nothing direct can be found. Some people allege that fire may be caused by wet jute remaining with dry jute, which is said to ignite of itself. This is a matter for the experts.	The engines "Percy" and "Hughly" worked well, and also No 2 hand-engine. The fire was well under at 5 P.M. and the "Percy" returned to head quarters. The "Hughly" worked all night and till 5 P.M. of the 6th instant. No. 2 hand-engine with eight khalasees remained at the fire till 8 A.M. of the 7th instant.

CALCUTTA, the 27th April 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 23RD OF APRIL 1886.

THE meteorological conditions for the past week have been particularly simple. Hot dry weather has prevailed in all divisions except the hill districts of North Bengal, where a few showers of rain only have fallen. Dry westerly winds have been blowing at almost all the western stations, rather strong south-westerly and southerly winds at the southern and central stations, while a few of the stations in North Bengal and North Behar have reported easterly and south-easterly winds. With the increasing altitude of the sun and with the absence of rain, temperature has been steadily rising in most districts almost throughout the week, while a corresponding but less marked decrease of pressure has been generally registered. Consequently the weather conditions for the week have been typical of the hot season.

The mean pressure over the province during the previous week showed a defect of no less than 0·093″ from the normal. For the present week the changes which have taken place have been almost entirely of the normal oscillating character, though there has been a steady upward tendency, and their effect has been on the whole to increase the general pressure. At this season of the year however as a rule pressure gives way steadily, and therefore this movement is the reverse to normal and the previous defect has been more than counterbalanced. For the whole week however for the province the mean pressure has been in excess of the normal by about 0·023″

Temperature on the other hand has risen very rapidly, and the mean temperature of the province for the week is about 1·5° in excess of the normal. All divisions of the province show an excess temperature ; but while the excess in Orissa, East Bengal and South Behar is comparatively small, the excess in South-West Bengal, North Behar, and Chutia Nagpore is large and amounts to between 2° and 3°. Some very high maximum temperatures have been reported during the week : the highest has been 109·1° on the 22nd and 23rd at Bankoorah. Temperatures between 108° and 109° have been also reported from Raneegunge, Midnapore, Arrah, Gya, and Bankipur, and between 106° and 108° at Cuttack, Burdwan, Berhampur, Buxar, Nya Doomka and Chyebassa. The highest temperature at Calcutta has been 103·5°.

Rainfall, as has been previously stated, has been practically absent over the whole province, except at a few stations in the hills in North Bengal, where some heavy showers have been reported, and at one or two isolated stations such as Satkhira and Netrokona, where slight showers have fallen. These however are of such slight importance that the province may for all practical purposes be said to have been rainless for the week.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 23rd of April 1886 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h. 10h. 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 8, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground, Δ dew.

METEOROLOGICAL OFFICE, INDIA;
Calcutta, the 26th April 1886.

A. PEDLER,
For Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of India.

MEMORANDUM.

THE principal Municipalities in Bengal returned during the week ending 10th April 1886, the birth and death-rates of 18·8 and 24·8 per 1,000 of population, respectively, as opposed to 19·9 and 22·1 per 1,000 in the preceding week ending 3rd April, indicating a fair advance in the registration of deaths with a falling off in that of births.

2. These events were returned at the highest rates by the following Municipalities :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Naraingunj	62·1	Puri	54·6
Beauleah	49·9	Gya	44·4

Gya	32·1	Beauleah	36·8
		Serampore...	35·4
		Bali	35·1
		Mozufferpore	30·4

3. The mortality from the specific death causes stood as follows :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	10th April 1886.	3rd April 1886.
Cholera	2·7	2·9
Small-pox	·03	...
Fever	10·2	8·4
Bowel-complaints	3·7	3·7
Injury	·4	·4
Other causes	7·8	6·7

indicating chiefly that the mortality from fever and from the maladies grouped under the head of "other causes" was much higher during the week under notice in comparison with that during the preceding week.

4. Excluding small-pox and injury, the casualty rates from which were nowhere conspicuously great, the remainder of the above-named diseases caused the highest mortality in the following Municipalities :—

INCREASE.

Tons.

Edible grain 109

This increase is due to fair crop in this year.

Seeds of all sorts 48

This increase is due to fair market price of linseed at Calcutta.

Coal 809

This increase is due to merchants not laying in stock during the rainy season as they used to do before; also to extensive brick-burning for repairs of buildings damaged by earthquake.

DECREASE.

Sundries 20

This decrease is due to potatoes being carried by boat this year.

Revenue stores 34

This decrease is due to less stores carried this year.

Educational Prospectus.

THE Calcutta Medical College Session, 1886-87, will commence on the 23rd June next Students who may be desirous of commencing their studies are requested to apply to the Principal between the hours of 11 A.M. and 4 P.M. on or before that date.

2. Ten (10) free presentations will then be awarded. These are given to students according to their relative position in the University, B.A., B L. and F.A. Examinations, preference being given to those who have passed the highest examination.

3. No person shall be enrolled as a matriculated student of the College who has not previously passed the First Arts Examination of the Calcutta University, or some one of the preliminary Arts Examination of the United Kingdom recognised by the British General Medical Council.

4. All matriculated students of the College are required to pay Rs 15 on entrance, Rs. 30 for the summer session on the 23rd June, and Rs 30 for the winter session on 1st November of each year.

5. Students who have failed to pass their final examination, and who, under the regulations of the University, are required to attend a further course of lectures and of hospital practice before being allowed to present themselves again for examination, will pay for such further course an annual fee of Rs. 45 in two instalments of Rs. 30 and Rs. 15, payable at the beginning of the summer and winter sessions respectively.

6. Any matriculated student of the College may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professors of the subject, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates of attendance at such extra lectures, if the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. The fees payable in advance for such additional courses are the following :—

	Rs.
For a single course of lectures on each subject	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice	60

7. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a Medical School in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance at lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or in the case of a free student, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

8. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College, who may be desirous of attending any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject, on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in rule 6.

If such student has passed the Entrance Examination of the University, he may receive certificates of attendance at lectures, provided the Professors are satisfied that he has attended the full course of lectures, and has mastered the subjects taught.

A student who has not passed the Entrance Examination will be entitled to no certificates of any kind.

9. College scholarships, prizes, and certificates of honour are open for competition only to matriculated students of the College,. Hospital Apprentice and Female Certificate class.

A gold medal and certificates of honour are awarded to the best students in each subject.

Goodeve and Macnamara silver medals are given to 1st-year student in Anatomy and Chemistry.

10. College scholars, who receive less than Rs. 20 per mensem, are not required to pay Rs. 30 per session.

The holders of the Doorga Charan Laha and all other scholarships will be required to pay fees as a matriculated student. These scholars may pay their fees in advance, or have their scholarship money deducted till the full amount is received.

11. Any student holding a Medical College scholarship will be permitted to draw the stipend of the said scholarship at any recognized Medical School in the United Kingdom, provided he furnishes from the head of such school a certificate of good conduct and diligent prosecution of his studies.

12. The class assistants of Pathology, Physiology and Comparative Anatomy can be held only by matriculated students of the College.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 169.

The 30th April 1886.

THE following accounts and reports of the Road Committees of the districts of Hazaribagh, Lohardugga, Manbhoom, and Singhbhoom, for the cess year 1884-85, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of Chota Nagpore, are published for general information.

D. B. HORN,

Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 60D.R, dated Hazaribagh, the 29th December 1885.

From—LIEUT.-COL. C. H. GARBETT, Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Hazaribagh.

To—The Commissioner of Chota Nagpore.

I HAVE the honour to submit the following report on the operations of the District Road Fund during the year ending 30th September 1885.

2. Two meetings were held during the year under report, and there was sufficient attendance at both of them to form a quorum. A large number of members having ceased to be such under sections 133 and 115 of the Cess Act, and three of the members having died, the list of members was revised, and the Committee reconstructed during the year with the sanction of Government. * * * *

3. A summary of the business transacted at the meetings is given below—

(1)—Preparation of the budget estimate, and determination of the rate of cess for 1885-86.

(2)—Audit of annual accounts, and consideration of the Annual Report for 1884-85.

(3)—Passing estimates of different works for 1884-85.

(4)—Distribution of village road grants.

(5)—Revision of the list of members.

(6)—Consideration of the proposal for construction of cart serais in certain places.

(7)—Consideration of the Government letter (No. 1639T.M, dated 12th October 1884.) regarding the transfer of cantonment roads to the Road Cess Department and other miscellaneous matters.

4. Major E. G. Lillingston, Deputy Commissioner, having been transferred from the district, the office of the Chairman was held by Lieutenant-Colonel C. H. Garbett from the 2nd July to the end of the year.

5. The term of two years having expired since the appointment of Baboo Girendra Nath Mitter, he was, on the recommendation of the Committee, re-appointed as Vice-Chairman.

6. The Sub-Committee met every month to audit the accounts.

7. Branch Committee.—There is only one Branch Committee, namely, at Giridi.

8. There were eight meetings held during the year, and the attendance of the members is reported to have been fair.

9. The demand on account of cess on lands and mines during the year amounted to Rs. 45,284 against Rs. 45,389. The decrease, Rs. 105, was the result of new valuation of mines.

10. The total amount recoverable during the year, including the arrears of last year, was Rs. 47,042, out of this amount Rs. 45,046 was collected, the balance outstanding at close of the year being Rs. 1,996. Besides the collections stated above, Rs. 50 was collected as advance for the next year.

11. The outstanding balance at close of the year was a little larger than that at the end of the previous year. This appears to be due to high prices of food-grains throughout the year. The general result of collections may, however, be said to have been satisfactory, as the percentage of collections on current demand was above 95 per cent.

12. Original works.—The arches on the Lalabandh bridge, on the Hazaribagh and Chattra road, were constructed during the year. The earthwork on the Burhee and Gawan road up to Domchanch, which was commenced last year as a quasi-relief work, was resumed this year, and about ⅗ths of the work completed.

13. Repairs.—The metalled roads aggregating to about 37 miles, have been duly maintained. For want of funds not more than two miles of the Chowparun and Chattra road instead of five could be renewed during the year. This road has increased in importance since the opening of the Gya Railway, as all the traffic from Balumat vid Chattra passes through this road into the Gya Railway station vid Chowparun and Dabbee. The fair-weather roads have also been duly kept up, and are open to wheel traffic.

14. It is desirable that the surface of the important fair-weather roads should be gravelled as funds are available for the purpose.

15. The earthwork on the fair-weather roads was partially done during the rainy season. Having to depend solely on cultivators for labour, it is difficult to secure their services during the rainy season, as they are then fully engaged in cultivation.

16. Village roads.—Rs. 7,000 was provided in the budget for village roads during the year. Out of this amount Rs. 6,530-8-2 was expended; namely, Rs. 3,763-2-5 in the head-quarters sub-division, and Rs. 2,767-5-9 in the Giridi sub-division. The works in the head-quarters sub-division were executed under the supervision of the District Engineer, and those in the Giridi sub-division under the supervision of the Branch Committee. The number of village roads having been considerably increased of late, they could not be kept up as efficiently as they used to be kept before. The most important ones only are properly repaired, and the others only partially. They are all, however, reported to be fit for saggor and cart traffic.

17. The Sub-Divisional Officer of Giridi reports that several of the roads repaired under the Branch Committee during the year have not yet been inspected by him, but that he intends to do so during his cold-weather tour.

18. Trees.—No new trees were planted during the year; those planted during the previous years were maintained by establishment of malies.

19. Nursery Gardens.—A small nursery garden is kept up in the office compound only. The mahogany plants, 85 in number, which were in the nursery, are being transplanted on road side.

20. Staging Bungalow.—There is only one staging bungalow under the Road Cess Committee, namely, at Ramghur. It yielded a receipt of Rs. 95. The cost of maintenance and repairs of the building during the year was Rs. 405-2-9.

21. All works, except the maintenance of trees, were done through contractors. The District Engineer reports that want of good and active contractors is much felt, very probably owing to the scarcity of labour which is daily increasing. The most able-bodied men are taken away to the tea gardens in Assam by Emigration Agents, and to Burmah by the Revenue Survey Department. The Sub-Divisional Officer of Giridi reports that the works done by the contractors under the Branch Committee were not on the whole satisfactory.

22. Establishment.—The several establishments employed under the Committee have worked well during the year.

Mr. A. H. Ganzer was the District Engineer throughout the year.

GERENDRA NATH MITTRA,

Vice-Chairman, Road Cess Committee.

No. 263, dated Ranchee, the 20th February 1886.

From—The Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Lohardugga,

To—The Commissioner of Chota Nagpore.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the annual accounts and report on the working of the Road Cess Act, IX (B.C.) of 1880, for the cess year ending the 30th September 1885

* * * * * * *

3. During the year under report there were seven meetings of the District Committee, of which six were special and one ordinary. Four special meetings were adjourned for want of a quorum. The average attendance was the same as in the previous year. It will be observed that the attendance both of official and non-official members of the District Committee during 1884-85 was very unsatisfactory; for out of six official and twelve non-official, three official and six non-official members did not attend six consecutive meetings, and consequently their names had to be struck off the list under section 115, Act IX (B.C.) of 1880. No new members have yet been appointed in their places. Regarding Palamow Branch Road Cess Committee, * * * the attendance of the members was unsatisfactory.

4. The accounts of the year were duly examined and audited by a sub-committee consisting of the Vice-Chairman and two other English-knowing members appointed under section 179 of the Cess Act, and were passed as correct.

5. The increase in the amount of collection under the head of cess on land is principally due to the realization of arrears outstanding at the close of the preceding year. The increase under the head fees, fines and forfeitures is due to the collection of process fees under the Public Demands Recovery Act.

6. The cess was levied at the maximum rate. There was no difficulty in collecting it at head-quarters. In the Palamow sub-division also the payments appear now to be more punctually made than before. The tenure-holders seem to be beginning to see that the recovery by the certificate procedure is speedy and certain, and that it is better to pay up punctually.

7. The road cess is not unpopular in the district: the people now understand that the money is only spent for their benefit.

8. Original works.—One permanent masonry bridge of two spans of 20 feet has been constructed during the year under report. Materials have been collected for the construction of a permanent masonry bridge of four spans of 25 feet each. On the Ranchee and Palkote road a timber-tapped bridge has been finished. In addition to the above some expenditure was incurred in making survey on the Daltongunge and Moharajgunge road.

9. Plantation.—The work of tree-planting has been extended over 28 miles of roads. The total length planted out up to end of the year is 9½ miles. The trees planted are thriving. Two small nurseries have been started in which to rear trees before transplanting on the roadsides.

10. Repairs.—The Ranchee-Lohardugga road, 47 miles.—This very important road, over which a very heavy traffic passes, has been kept in fine order. In places it has been gravelled, and this will be continued as funds permit, for it will be a great saving in the end. Ordinary earthwork without gravelling is of no use on such a road, whether traffic is very considerable.

The Lohardugga and Chatra road, about 46 miles to the boundary of the district.—This also is a very important road. Formerly it used only to be maintained to Balumath, about 10½ miles from the district boundary, the portion between Balumath and the boundary being neglected. During 1884-85, however, the whole road has been taken in hand, and at the close of the year only a small portion required to be completed before opening the road for wheeled traffic.

The road from Rooroo to the head-quarters sub-division boundary towards Daltongunge, about 23 miles.—This road leaves the Ranchee and Lohardugga road at Kuroo, and with that road forms what we may call the "Grand Trunk" road of the district: it is the direct road to the Palamow sub-division head-quarters at Daltongunge. It crosses the proposed line for the Benares-Cuttack line of railway, and is a most important line of communication in every way. It crosses the Amjharia ghât than which I have not seen a better ghât road in India. The whole of this road to the head-quarters sub-division boundary has been kept in repair. But some extensive original work in the shape of re-alignment to avoid the Murgi Jharia ghât is required.

Ranchee-Bundgaon road, about 38 miles to the district boundary.—This is the chief road to Chyebassa, the head-quarters of the Singbhoom district, and crosses the Bengal-Nagpore line of railway at Chakhurdurpur where there is to be station. Ordinary repairs and a little bridge work have been done to this road.

Ranchee Terai road, about 50 miles in this district.—This is another most important road. Its name should be changed to Ranchee and Chandil road. It is the nearest route from Ranchee to the Chandil station on the Bengal-Nagpore Railway. Besides ordinary maintenance works, one bridge has been raised and approaches repaired. There has been a good deal of patching and alterations going on this road, but it is now going to be surveyed throughout, and then altered once for all as our funds may admit. But to put this road into the state which it should be considering its importance will be quite beyond the means of the Road Cess Committee, and it is hoped that some assistance will be given from Provincial Funds.

Ranchee-Palkote road.—This road viâ Kurra and Bassia is mostly only a track. The diversion from 12th to 39th mile, started in the cess year 1883-84, was completed during the year under report; but this diversion adds to the distance, and at present is not used at all by travellers. Slight repairs have been done on the 1st to 11th miles only.

Khunti, Kamdera, Ranchee-Palamow, Ranchee-Gola, Ranchee-Pithoria.

Ordinary repairs have been executed on the roads mentioned in the margin. Funds have not been available for the proper repair of the bridges and culverts on these roads, and which I found in a shocking state.

Lohardugga, Sambalpur, Palma, Lohardugga, Bundu-Jhalda.

Little has been done to these roads. A large sum of money has been spent on re-alignments out of repairs, but in the Palma-Lohardugga and Bundu-Jhalda roads these have been abandoned as unnecessary, and as adding considerably to the length of the roads. The Lohardugga-Sambalpur road is a very important one, as it is the only route for carriage of the traffic from Surguja to the south towards Lohardugga and Ranchee. The road is over 80 miles in length, and it is beyond the means of the Committee to put this length of road in repair. For 17 miles from Lohardugga the road is now maintained.

11. General remarks.—The most important question now before the Road Cess Committee is the construction of feeder roads to the Bengal-Nagpore Railway. As this question has been fully treated in my letter No. 219, dated 5th February 1886, it need not find any place in this report. The work done in the year under report was satisfactory. Rupees 5,995 had to be transferred from original works to repairs. Considering the small fund the Committee has at its disposal, it is not in my opinion advisable to spend large sums of money in building large and costly bridges. At present what is much more urgently required is the completion of the roads by doing the necessary earthwork and opening feasible ghâts.

12. Village road repairs.—About eight village roads were maintained and two newly opened. The number of the village roads is increasing: it will be necessary to increase the allotments.

13. Accounts.—The monthly accounts of the road fund and of the District Engineer's office were examined by the Vice-Chairman alone. It is said that it was found difficult to procure the attendance of two other members to examine them.

14. The Local Auditor inspected this and the District Engineer's office on the 15th September 1884, and has just finished his inspection for the current year.

15. The establishments required under the Road Cess Act are—

(a)—Establishment for collection of revenue.
(b)—Committee's office establishment.
(c)—Engineering establishment.

16. The establishment for collection of revenue at head-quarters consists of one head-clerk and accountant, one assistant clerk, one mohurir and one peon. These officers also do the work connected with the Committee's office, for which there is no separate establishment. The establishment under the sub divisional officer of Palamow consists of one clerk, one mohurir, and one peon.

Remarks on the establishment.—The accountant and head clerk, Baboo Nundo Lal Chatterjee, is reported by the Vice-Chairman to have discharged his duties satisfactorily as in the previous year.

17. The District Engineer, Baboo Jogendro Nath Ghose, is reported to have always given satisfaction in his work as in the preceding year. My predecessor, Collector Samuells, had, I believe, a very high opinion of him.

18. The District Engineer reports that the establishment noted in the margin, employed under him, have worked well. He particularly notices the service of Baboo Preyo Nath Mittra, overseer, Palamow, and Mohesh Chandra Paul, sub-overseer of the Lohardugga Circle. I have lately had an opportunity of judging of these two officers myself, and concur in the opinion expressed.

Three sub-overseers, one clerk.

19. The roads, bridges, and culverts mentioned in the budget estimate for 1885-86 (sanctioned by Government) are the works proposed to be taken in hand during the ensuing year 1885 86.

20. The works have all been executed by contract during the year under report, and the small sums advanced to the contractors have been adjusted, except in a few disputed cases.

21. Baboo Ashutosh Gupta, Assistant Magistrate and Collector, was Vice-Chairman throughout the year.

Annual Report of the District Road Cess Committee of Manbhoom for the cess year 1884-85.

1. Working of Cess Act, IX (B.C.) of 1880.—The demands, collections, and balances of 1884-85, as compared with the previous year, is shown in statement A. The result of the year on the whole contrasts very favourably with that of the past year. The percentage of collections to demand of cesses on land is above 99, to 93 of the previous year. There is a trifling decrease in the percentage of collections of cesses on mines. The balance at the end of the year has been considerably reduced, represented by the figures 1 to 7 of the previous year. There were no remissions during the year.

The total demand on account of cesses on mines, &c., for the year under report was Rs. 2,963 against Rs. 2,602 during 1883-84, this increase being due to the enhanced cesses

The total collection made previously in advance, as shown in column 7 of Statement A, was Rs. 137, against Rs. 500 during the year previous. The difference is due to the fact that in 1882-83 collections were made according to the enhanced demand under the revaluation which was subsequently quashed and ordered to be revised by the Board, consequently pending revision the collections which were made under the enhanced demand had to be adjusted with reference to the demand under the old valuation, and the surplus was carried to the credit of the succeeding year.

The following is an explanation of the balance, Rs. 676 :—

	Arrear. Rs.	Current. Rs.
Since collected	.....	138
Immoveable property has been attached and 25th November has been fixed for sale ...	.....	246
Processes have been issued for arrest and attachment of moveable property ...	9	123
Inquiry is being made for property ...	160	.....
Total ...	169	507

The last balance, the whole of which is arrear balance, is entirely due from persons working coal mines, stone and ghooting quarries : most of them have given up the work, and their whereabouts cannot be traced. A large portion of this balance, it is presumed, will have to be remitted.

Working of the Committee.—A meeting was convened every month, and there was no meeting without a quorum.

* * * * * * *

The following is a summary of the work done by the Committee during the year under review :—

(1). Passing of annual accounts and report for cess year 1883-84, and discussion over Government Resolution on the Chota Nagpore Administration Report for the past year on the subject of railway feeder roads. The Committee, in the first instance, resolving to forward a map of the district to the Engineer-in-Chief, Bengal-Nagpore Railway (before preparing scheme of feeder roads), to ask him to make the line of railway through the district. Also consideration over a project laid before the meeting by the Chairman for taking in hand at once the unfinished famine road between Manbazar and Raghoonathpore, with the object of affording work to the poorer classes of people in pergunnah Bagdah and its neighbourhood, owing to the extensive failure of the high land paddy crop. The Committee approving of the proposals generally, and agreeing to a transfer of the necessary funds from other works (in the event of Government refusing assistance), to be paid for from next year's income.

(2). Discussion over the Commissioner's letter No. 253 DR, dated 19th February 1885, declining to sanction the expenditure of any road fund money on the improvement of a bund at Paroi, near Poucha, on the road between Manbazar and Raghoonathpore. The Committee still maintaining their opinion as to the desirability of undertaking the improvement of the said bund and also regarding the construction of a staging hut at Paroi, near Poucha.

(3). Discussion over District Engineer's letter No. 62, dated 7th April 1885 praying that the Committee will place on record their views regarding his application for increased pay and allowances, as he had on three occasions been recommended for the increase of pay, without meeting with success: the members unamiously being of opinion that the District Engineer's application was reasonable, and resolving that, with the sanction of higher authority, his pay be raised from Rs. 150 to Rs. 250, and that his salary at the latter rate be provided in the next year's budget, to be drawn from 1st October 1885.

(4). Passing the usual monthly accounts, and nominating a member to fill up a vacancy in the Committee, owing to the death of one of its members.

(5). Consideration over District Engineer's letter No. 92, dated 1st May1885, submitting rough sketches of the lands required for the construction of a cart serai at Chandankiari on the Raghunathpore-Hazaribagh road, and for the extension of the existing serai compound at Jaypore on the Purulia-Ranchee road.

(6). Passing of the budget estimate of receipts and expenditure for cess year 1885-86.

(7). Passing usual road fund monthly accounts, and re-appointment of a member for the standing Audit Sub-Committee, owing to death of one of the members of the Audit Sub-Committee.

3. Branch Committees.—None in this district, maintenance of village and other roads in the Govindpore sub-division being under the management of the sub-divisional officer, who draws cheques against allotments made in budget annually. The cheques, &c., being signed and countersigned by the Chairman and Vice-Chairman of the sudder sub-division.

4. Working Establishment.—There have been no changes during the year under report. Baboo Nunda Gopal Banerjee, District Engineer, performed his duties to my entire satisfaction. He is hardworking, painstaking and intelligent; is always on the "move" looking after district works, and having been here some time thoroughly understands every part of this district. He is, in my opinion, well deserving of the increased pay for which he has applied. Mr. G. V. Thomason still continues as A-has discharged his duties satisfactorily. Mr. Thompson has also applied for an increase to his salary. At a recent meeting the members unanimously agreed that he was deserving of this increase. The subordinates in the District Engineer's office discharged their duties efficiently, and at no time were any complaints made against any of them.

5. Works done during the year.—In Appendix B is shown abstract of all works done during the year under review and their respective cost.

(a). Sudder sub-division.—There was no provision for any original work. The works were chiefly restricted to the maintenance of all the finished roads in the district; muddy portions of the Purulia-Chyebassa, Purulia-Bankura, Purulia-Manbazar, Jhapra-Govindpore, Raghoonathpore-Raneegunj, Raghunathpore-Bankoora, and Chara branch roads were improved by gravelling. The roads from the Damudah junction towards Koilapal and Barrabazar, from Roghoonathpore towards Hazaribagh, from Purulia to Chass, and from Manbazar towards Bankoora, were also taken up and generally repaired to make them fit for wheeled traffic, and some cheap stone culverts constructed in most of them. The old famine road from Manbazar to Roghoonathpore was taken in hand this year and repaired to some extent as far as Hura.

(b). Village roads.—Several of these were repaired and improved by constructing rough stone and wooden culverts in most of them.

(c). Cart serais.—Those constructed in previous years were kept in repair and a new one was constructed at Chandankiari along the Roghunathpore-Hazaribagh road.

(d). A Nursery—For young plants was started in 1882-83 in the sudder station, and was maintained in very good order. A large number of young plants were transplanted along the different roadsides during the rains.

(6). Govindpore sub-division.—The road from Govindpore towards Toondi was greatly improved by making the road fit for cart traffic, and excepting a very short bit about three-fourths of a mile, the line is open for carts all the way between Toondi and Govindpore. The village road from Govindpore to Jherria had become very bad lately, and was improved to some extent by the construction of some cheap stone culverts. The Rajgunj and Nowaghar village road was also generally improved, as far as funds permitted. The cart serais in the sub-division (along the Grand Trunk road) were maintained in very fair order. Some improvements were done to the staging bungalow at Nirsha by an out-house, &c.

Form of Audit Certificate.

WE hereby certify that the books and accounts specified below,* prescribed for the Road Cess Office and for the office of the District Engineer, are duly kept up, and that they have been posted for the year 1884-85, and they have been duly scrutinized by the Sub-Committee.

Also that the Treasury Officer's abstract of the accounts of the Committee for the year has been duly received and checked with the cash and pass-books, and found to agree therewith, with the exception of a discrepancy of one pie in the closing balance, which the Treasury Officer will reconcile after communication with the Accountant-General, Bengal.

That the vouchers for the payments of the year have been cancelled. That no advances were made during the year, that none but duly sanctioned expenditure has been incurred, and that in the case of original works the register of monthly expenditure shows clearly the amount of sanctioned estimate, the grant for the year, and generally that the work of the office has been performed with a due observance of the rules prescribed by Government.

RAM DOYAL MOZUMDAR, } Members of S. A. C.

H. W. HILL,
Vice-Chairman.

* Road Cess Office:—(1) cash book; (2) cash abstract; (3) register of monthly receipts and expenditure; (4) account of deposits); (5) account of advances.

District Engineer's Office:—I. Accounts, viz.:—(1) files of contract certificates; (2) files of bills for purchases or purchase lists; (3) files of day-books; (4) files of establishment bills; (5) files of acquittance rolls. II. Books, viz.:—(1) imprest cash book; (2) register of bills passed; (3) register of works and repairs; (4) register of tools and plant.

Explanatory Note.

THE excess expenditure of Rs. 70-11-1 under head of "Establishment and Contingencies of Office of Collection" is owing to unforeseen charges having occurred in connection with the revision of late revaluation.

2. The excess of Rs. 3-7-11 under head of "Establishment and Contingencies of Committee's Office" was on account of some petty miscellaneous charges.

PURULIA,
the 21st December 1885.

NANDA GOPAL BANERJEE,
District Engineer, Manbhoom.

SINGBHOOM DISTRICT.

Annual Report of Road Operation during the cess year 1884-85.

No. 1.—Chyebassa-Midnapore road, 71 miles.—Eleven miles of this road were thoroughly repaired, and surface repairs, wherever necessary, over the remaining portion were executed. The two timber platform bridges at Gobindpur and Khokero could not be renewed, as the Superintending Engineer suggested certain alterations in the design and

During the coming year it is proposed to complete the above bridges and to construct some new bridges and culverts.

No. 2.—Nursingurh-Baharagorah road, 21 miles.—Four miles of this road were realigned and completed by digging side trenches and clearing jungles. During the cess year 1885-86 repairs to culverts and to such parts of the road as have been greatly damaged have been provided for.

No. 3.—Burrakur road, 31 miles nearly.—Thorough repairs of earthwork done over 12 miles of the road. As for the remaining portion the surface was dressed and levelled wherever it was found necessary to do so. Gravel was collected and stocked on road side for improving the muddy portions of the 4th and 5th miles.

The Tangrain bridge timber platform was substituted by two 16-feet span arches.

During the year 1885-86 it is proposed to construct one bridge, and improve the ramps of the Sanjye river.

No. 5.—Chyebassa-Ranchee road up to Bandgaon, 44 miles.—Eleven miles of this road thoroughly repaired, and the remaining portions needed no repairs. Three culverts repaired.

During the coming year it is intended to rebuild two culverts that are partly broken, and to improve the ramps of the Sanjye and build one or two culverts.

Nos. 10 to 21.—Village roads in the Government Kolhan.—Ten miles of the line from Jaggernathpore to Joypore, and thence to Kharbond, have been realigned; the realigned portions had trenches cut on both sides of it and was cleared of jungles. The remaining portion was repaired wherever necessary.

During the cess year 1885-86 it is proposed to realign 4 miles.

No. 22.—Chakulia-Baharagorah road.—Two miles of this were realigned, and urgent repairs executed here and there. During the cess year 1885-86, it is proposed to complete the realigned portion and construct one wooden culvert and repair another.

Petty surface repairs have been executed to the roads noted below:—

No. 4.—Khursowan road.
„ 6.—Gurjan road.
„ 7.—Jyntgurh road.
„ 8.—Bamanghati road.
No. 9.—Seraikela Chukerdhurpur road.
„ 24.—Kalkapore police-station road.
„ 25.—Roboghat road.
„ 26.—Chiroo Ghagree road.

No. 23.—Goodri road, 44 miles.—Two miles of this road have been realigned, and surface repairs have been executed to the remaining length. During the coming year the repairs to the culverts are proposed, as also thorough repairs to 10 miles of the road from Sauna.

No. 6.—Garjun road, 51 miles.—During the coming year the line of operations proposed to be followed on this road will be similar to that on the Goodri road.

Shelter-houses.—During the cess year 1885-86, it is proposed to run up 15 neat huts on the several roads to provide for the shelter of the working staff, as at present there exist no manner of inspection bungalows or rest-houses throughout the district, except one staging bungalow on the Bandgaon road. Under these circumstances, the necessity for the construction of such huts cannot be over-estimated.

Arboriculture.—The two miles of the Burrakur road from the Rorho northwards were planted on both sides with fruit trees, numbering 400, the distance apart between the trees being not less than 50 feet.

The existing plants on the Midnapore road, Jyntgurh, Burrakur, and Bandgaon roads, were fenced in wherever necessary, and the dead ones replaced.

Establishment.—The existing establishment consists of one sub-overseer and a chaprassee. During the year 1885-86, it is proposed to strengthen the establishment by two road sircars and one more chaprassee. The total length of the roads within the district being upwards of 500 miles, it is hardly necessary to mention that the existing establishment is hopelessly insufficient, and so long as it is not strengthened, it is simply impossible to carry out works.

W. L. SAMUELLS,
Deputy Commissioner and Chairman.

W. L. SAMUELLS,

Chairman, District Road Committee.

CHYEBASSA,

The 30th November 1885.

Explanatory memoranda to accompany the Annual Accounts for the year 1884-85.

IN this year's accounts the balance on the 30th September 1884 in the hands of the Road Cess Deputy Collector is shown as Rs. 734-8-6 instead of Rs. 735-15-8, wrongly shown in last year's accounts, for the amount Rs. 735-15-8 was not in the hands of the Deputy Collector, but was in the treasury at the disposal of the Deputy Collector, of which Rs. 734-8-6 only was drawn by him and spent. The balance Re. 1-7-2 was left in the treasury.

2. Administration.—The budget allotment under the head of Administration for this year has been exceeded by Rs. 3-15, only because the pay of the clerk for the Committee's office was increased from Rs. 10 to Rs. 25 a month from July 1885.

3. By mistake a sum of Rs. 90 has been shown in the accounts as spent under the head of Original Works on the Midnapore road. This amount was spent upon repair works of the same road, and has accordingly been shown here under the head of "Repairs."

4 (a). Repairs—The budget allotment for the repairs of the Kalkapore police station road has been exceeded by Re. 1-8 only—a nominal sum—and so needs no explanation.

(b) The budget allotment for the repairs of Robo ghat road has been exceeded by nearly 50 per cent. This was due to some urgent repairs on the same road which could not be foreseen when the budget estimates were framed.

W. L. SAMUELLS,

Chairman, District Road Committee.

No. 282D.R., dated Ranchi, the 11th March 1886.

From—C. C. STEVENS, ESQ., C.S., Commissioner of Chota Nagpore,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honour herewith to submit in original the annual reports and accounts of receipts and expenditure of the District Road Funds of the several districts of this division for the coss year ending 30th September 1885.

2. The reports and accounts were received in this office on the dates noted below :—

Hazaribagh	...	...	...	...	3rd	January	1886
Lohardugga	...	...	...	...	22nd	February	1886.
Manbhoom	...	...	...	...	10th	January	1886.
Singbhoom	...	...	...	...	11th	December	1885.

* * * * * * * *

4. The total receipts of the division for the year under report, including advances and deposits, amounted to Rs. 1,59,512-15-5. This, together with the unexpended balance of the previous year (Rs. 27,939-14-4) gave a total income of Rs. 1,87,452-13-9 available for expenditure during the year. Out of this sum the total disbursements, including advance and deposit re-payments, amounted to Rs. 1,50,853-2-4, leaving a balance in hand of Rs. 36,599-11-5 when the year closed.

5. Out of the total disbursements shown above, Rs. 78,952-15-10 were spent under the head of "Repairs" and Rs. 18,449-1-9 on "Original works." The expenditure in connection with repair works in the district of Lohardugga was the largest, being Rs. 35,574-9-1. In Hazaribagh the disbursements under this head amounted to Rs. 24,245-13-7. The metalled roads, aggregating about 37 miles, have been duly maintained in this district. Fair-weather roads have also been kept up and are open to wheeled traffic. In Manbhoom Rs. 12,361-12-8 were spent in gravelling some of the more important roads to make them fit for wheeled traffic; cheap stone culverts were also constructed in most of them. In Singbhoom Rs. 6,770-12-6 were expended in re-aligning and thoroughly repairing some of the important roads.

6. The total disbursements under the head of "Original works" in the Hazaribagh district during the year under review amounted to Rs. 9,994-6-2, of which Rs. 7,995-6-8 were spent on the Burhi and Gawan road, and the remainder Rs. 1,998 15-6 on the construction of the arches on the Lalabandh bridge on the Hazaribagh and Chuttra road. Under this head Rs. 7,716-11-7 were also spent in the district of Lohardugga in the construction of one permanent masonry bridge, and in finishing a timber top bridge on the Ranchee and Palkote road. It is said that materials have been collected for the construction of a permanent masonry bridge. In Manbhoom there was no provision in the budget for any original work In Singbhoom Rs 738 were spent in arching a wooden platform bridge at the village of Tangrain and in metalling the Burrakar road.

7. Village Roads.—Village roads in the districts of this division have been maintained so far as funds permitted.

8. Planting of Trees.—Attention has been given by every District Committee to arboriculture. New trees have been planted along roadsides, and those planted in previous years have, in most cases, been carefully maintained.

9. The subordinate establishments of the different departments of the Road Cess Office are reported to have given satisfaction in the discharge of their respective duties.

Due on account of kist, August 1885.

Separate accounts, under section 10 of Act XI of 1859, were opened in respect of the 3 shares from which arrears are due. These shares were once put up to sale for arrears of revenue on the 5th January last, and the bid at which the said shares were knocked down was below the amount due to Government. Against this sale an appeal was preferred to the Commissioner of the division, who upset the sale on the 19th March last on grounds of illegality, and directed to take steps under section 14 of the sale law. Accordingly a notice was served upon the proprietors, but no one paid the arrears. Hence the entire mehal is now advertized for sale.

Tipperah Collectorate, the 7th April 1886. F. H. B. SKRINE, Offg. Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned escheated property situate in the district of Chittagong will be put up to sale at the camp of the Deputy Collector near the Police station, Mirkiserai, on the 20th May 1886, corresponding with 7th Joisto 1293B.S., Thursday.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale.

CONDITIONS OF SALE.

Firstly.—The tenures will be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser will acquire the entire proprietary right of Government in such tenure.

Secondly.—If the amount of purchase money do not exceed Rs. 100 the whole ... value ...

Thirdly.—If the amount of purchase money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government) and the tenure to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale. The Deputy Collector will have power to put up the several lots singly or together, as may be found desirable at the time of sale.

Chittagong Collectorate, the 7th April 1886. A. MANSON, Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lease of the land specified in the schedule hereunto annexed, and of which the plan is open to inspection at the office of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans, has been applied for by Huri Mohun Basar, and will be sold at 12 o'clock noon on the 2nd August 1886, Monday (18th Shraban 1293 B.E.), at the Sundarban Commissioner's Office at Alipur, unless meantime the sale is stopped or postponed in consequence of claims or objections under Act XXIII of 1863 (to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands), or owing to any other cause.

2. The lease of the land will be granted subject to the conditions which are specified below, as well as to the general terms annexed to the rules for the sale of leases of waste lands, dated 12th November 1879.

Conditions.

That the lands shall be subject to all existing rights of all way and water and all other easements

That the right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable shall be reserved to public, as also the use of a towpath, not less than 25 feet in width, on each side of every such stream and channel.

That no charge shall be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the lands. But for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied at such rate and in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed by Government.

That the Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals in the land, together with such right of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting and carrying any such minerals. It also retains its proprietary right in the land, and only confers on the lessees an occupancy right which shall be hereditary and transferable.

REPORT OF THE HEALTH OFFICER OF THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR 1885.

MARINE.

Darjeeling, the 27th April 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter No. 934RA, dated the 28th February 1886, from the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal, submitting the Report of the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta for 1885.

Dr. Lynch was the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta throughout the year, and his report is forwarded by the Sanitary Commissioner.

2. During the year the Health Officer inspected 780 in-coming vessels, of which 646 were engaged in the foreign trade and 134 were coasters. The total number included 387 steamers and 393 sailing vessels, which, classified according to nationality, were 665 British, 39 French, 12 German, 6 Norwegian, 4 Swedish, 17 American, 9 Austro-Hungarian, 5 Italian, 1 Danish, 15 Arab and Turk, 4 Zanzibar, 2 Maldive, and 1 Siamese. The crews amounted to a total of 35,879, of whom 18,989 were Europeans and 16,890 natives. The out-going vessels inspected were 626 in number, of which 551 were in the foreign and 75 in the coasting trade. They carried a total number of 15,362 European and 10,134 native seamen. Compared with the previous year, the number of vessels inspected shows an increase; 715 in-coming and 482 out-going, or a total of 1,197 vessels, having been inspected in 1884. The increase is reported to be partly due to the new system introduced in September last of granting bills-of-health on board after inspection of vessels.

3. The health of the European seamen was exceptionally good during the year. The average number admitted into the hospital was 1,167 against an average of 1,254 for the five previous years. The death-rate, 23·6, fell also to nearly one-half of what it was in 1884. The mortality from cholera during the past year appears to have been the lowest ever recorded in the port, the ratio per mille being 4·13 against 21·37 in the previous year, and 19·91, the mean of the quinquennium 1880-84. The distribution of this disease on the river seems to very nearly coincide with its distribution on shore, and the decline in mortality from this cause among the seamen corresponds very closely with the figures for the whole town. There were no deaths from diarrhœa during the year, but there was an increased prevalence of dysentery as compared with the two preceding years, the death-rate being 3·54 against an average of 2·34 for the five previous years. Fevers were more numerous than in the previous years. There were three cases of small-pox, but none terminated fatally. The number of cases of sunstroke admitted into the hospital fell from 13 in 1884 to 5 in 1885, which shows that endeavours are made to prevent unnecessary exposure of sailors on board ships. There has been no increase of venereal disease among the European seamen, notwithstanding the withdrawal of the Contagious Diseases Act from Calcutta.

4. The total mortality afloat and in hospital among the native population of the port, numbered at 25,000 in the census of 1881, gave a rate of 4 per 1,000 as compared with 7 in 1884, the decrease being due to a falling off in the number of deaths from cholera. In 1884, 138 deaths from cholera occurred, while in 1885 the number fell to 59—a lower mortality than has been recorded in any year since 1880. Bowel-complaints were more numerous than in 1884. Fevers and small-pox, however, caused fewer deaths.

4. Thirteen cases of scurvy among European seamen, against 24 in 1884, were treated in the past year. The disease was in no case due to improper food or neglect of rules. Seven cases of scurvy were found on board a vessel from New York carrying a lascar crew. It appeared from enquiries made that the vegetables supplied to them were not in accordance with the terms of their agreement. They were, moreover, supplied with two indifferent and suspicious kinds of lime-juice—one containing an insufficient quantity of citric acid, and the other an excess over the authorized standard.

5. The sanitary condition of both banks of the river seems to have been to some extent unsatisfactory; but measures were taken for the removal of the more serious nuisances. A great number of floating bodies are still met with in the river. Last year 50 human bodies and 4,136 carcasses of animals were removed by the conservancy establishment of the River Police, against 86 bodies and 3,975 carcasses in the previous year. There were no complaints during the year regarding the quality of the filtered water supplied to the shipping by the Municipality, but the Health Officer objects to the manner in which the water is conveyed to the shipping. The attention of the Municipality will be called to the remarks made by him on the subject.

6. The usual inquiries were made as to the health and treatment of lascar crews. Only one case of ill-treatment was brought to notice, in which no lime-juice was supplied at sea to the crew of a sailing vessel, and compensation was subsequently made to the crew. The Compulsory Vaccination Act was, owing to the absence of small-pox in the port, and pending the passing of the new Act, not put in force.

7. The suggestion made by the Health Officer that it is inexpedient to withhold the bill-of-health in the case of a vessel carrying an excess number of passengers, when other and more obvious means of insisting on compliance with the provisions of the Native Passengers Ships Act are available, and his proposal to withdraw the discretionary power exercised by pilots under the Medical Inspection Rules, of bringing vessels carrying pilgrims into port, and allowing the pilgrims to leave the vessel, should be made the subject of separate communications. The attention of the Port Officer will be drawn to the complaint made by the Health Officer regarding the insecurity of the boats which he and his Native Inspector have to employ in the performance of their duties.

8. The inspection of the native population afloat was in the hands of the Native Inspector, who is stated to have sought out cases of sickness and to have endeavoured to get the sufferers removed to hospital. He appears to have shown zeal and activity in his work.

9. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Lynch for his efficient supervision of the sanitation of the port during the past year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. H. WILSON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

REMARKS.—The budget estimates of Irrigation and Navigation works for the year 1886-87 have been prepared in the revised forms issued with Public Works Department Circular No. X of 1886. They are of the following works:—

(1) Irrigation and Navigation Productive Public works.
(2) Irrigation and Navigation works not classed as Productive.

Irrigation and Navigation Productive Public Works

2. The following statement shows under the three main heads of "Water-rates," "Navigation," and "Miscellaneous," the revenues estimated to be realized in 1886-87 compared with the revised and budget estimates for 1885-86 and the actuals of 1884-85 from the "Productive" Irrigation Works:—

3. The revised estimate for 1885-86, compared with the budget estimate for that year, shows an increase of Rs. 1,50,000, principally due to increased water-rates expected from the Sone Canals. The budget estimate for 1886-87, however, shows a slight falling off, compared with the year 1885-86, as decrease in collections of balance of water-rates in arrears on account of the Sone Canals is expected.

It is now known that the collections in the Sone Canals will be in excess of the revised estimate, a considerable portion of "arrears" having been realized; this may still further reduce the collections for the current year.

4. The two statements given below show the distribution, by projects and departmental heads, of the grants sanctioned for 1886-87 compared with the revised and budget estimates for 1885-86 and the actuals of 1884-85:—

5. The budget estimate of expenditure chargeable to the capital account of the works for the year 1886-87 has been prepared for Rs. 8,70,000, which is the amount sanctioned by the Government of India. Compared with the revised estimate for 1885-86, the decrease is but Rs. 10,000, and requires no explanation. The latter estimate, however, compared with the budget estimate for that year shews a reduction of Rs. 3,95,000, of which the bulk or Rs. 3,00,000 was withdrawn by the Government of India in May last from the grant for the Orissa Project, and the balance of Rs. 95,000 was surrendered by this Government in January last from the grants for the Midnapore and Sone Canals, not having been required for expenditure within the year.

6. The revised estimate for 1885-86 compared with the grant for that year on account of working expenses shews an increase of Rs. 67,000 due to increased expenditure for cyclone repairs to the Orissa Canals and for repairs to the Sone weir damaged by the heavy floods.

7. The two following statements give the details of the budget estimates of receipts and expenditure—Imperial and Provincial—for the year 1886-87, compared with the revised and budget estimates for 1885-86 and the actuals of 1884-85, on account of Irrigation and Navigation works not classed as Productive.

8. The estimate of receipts is the same as in the preliminary issue, and shows, compared with the revised estimate for 1885-86, a slight increase of Rs. 14,000 under Provincial due to probable enhancement from the Calcutta and Eastern Canals and Orissa Coast Canal lately partially opened.

9. The estimate of expenditure in the final issue has been altered and the amounts shewn are those sanctioned, viz. Rs. 5,31,000 for Imperial Agricultural works, which is less than the provision in the preliminary issue by Rs. 34,000, and Rs. 8,40,000 for Provincial works as fixed in the Financial Department memorandum No. 584, dated 18th February last, which is Rs. 85,000 less than the amount in the preliminary issue accepted by the Government of India.

10 The statements of revenue and expenditure as given in the orders of the Government of India include certain sums on account of works in charge of civil officers. These sums have not been included in the foregoing statements, not being shown in the budget estimate of the Irrigation Branch.

11. With reference to the remark of the Government of India, requesting an early report explaining the steps that are being taken for the preparation of a revised estimate for the Orissa Coast Canal, an estimate giving full information, together with a supplementary estimate for the Hidgellee Tidal Canal, was submitted in March last.

12. Superintending Engineers are expected to be careful that no expenditure is incurred without properly sanctioned estimates.

Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, together with thirty-five copies of the budget estimates (final issue), be forwarded to the Government of India, for information.

Ordered also that copies of this Resolution and of the orders of the Government of India, together with the budget estimates, be forwarded to the Financial Department of this Government and the Accountant-General, Bengal, for information; also to the Superintending Engineers of the Orissa, South-Western and Sone Circles, and the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal, for information and guidance.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. M. McNEILLE, Col., R.E.,

Joint-Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal,
P. W. Dept.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON ROAD AND PUBLIC WORKS CESS OPERATIONS FOR THE CESS YEAR 1884-85.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—ROAD AND PUBLIC WORKS CESS.

Dated Darjeeling, the 1st May 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report of the Board of Revenue on Road and Public Works Cess operations for the cess year 1884-85, terminating on the 30th September 1885.

Read also—

The Report for 1883-84, and the Resolution recorded upon it.

THE Lieutenant-Governor regrets to notice the want of punctuality in the submission of the Commissioners' reports to the Board. On the present occasion, none of these were received by the Board till after the prescribed date, the 15th January; while that of the Commissioner of Burdwan had not been received by the 1st March, when the Board's report was submitted. Greater punctuality must be observed in future, and an explanation should be submitted of the extraordinary want of punctuality in the Burdwan Division.

2. No change was made in the rate at which either of the cesses is levied, the maximum rates having been levied in all the districts in which the Act is in force except Backergunge, where, as hitherto, the road cess was levied at half rates. The statement below compares the results of the year with those of the three preceding years:—

	Demand.			Balances.			Deduct remissions.	Net arrears.	Percentage of net balance on gross demand.
	Current.	Arrear.	Total.	Current.	Arrear.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1881-82	70,10,994	11,71,062	81,82,056	9,54,818	1,92,233	11,47,051	10,941	11,36,100	13·8
1882-83	73,10,811	11,42,296	84,53,107	10,09,330	1,77,390	11,86,720	27,940	11,58,780	13·7
1883-84	73,75,697	12,60,272	86,35,969	13,56,778	2,64,196	16,20,974	26,993	15,93,981	18·4
1884-85	74,36,830	15,63,317	90,00,147	11,60,097	3,07,191	14,67,288	38,657	14,28,631	15·8

The current demand of the year rose to Rs. 74,36,830 from Rs. 73,75,697 in 1883-84. This increase is explained to be due to revaluations and the valuation for the first time of rent-free holdings under the provisions of Chapter IV, Part II of the Act. The gross demand, which was Rs. 86,35,969 in the previous year, increased to Rs. 90,00,147. Nevertheless, there was an improvement in the net outstanding balance at the close of the year, which fell from Rs. 15,93,981 to Rs. 14,28,631, representing a reduction from 18·4 to 15·8 in the percentage on the gross demand. The arrear balance, however, rose from Rs. 2,64,196 to Rs. 3,07,191, and this must be regarded as unsatisfactory, although it was partly due to the larger arrears with which the year opened. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that the percentage of arrear collections on arrear demand rose from 71 to 80, and he hopes that district and divisional officers will bear steadily in mind the sound dictum of the Board that "the absence of an arrear demand is the best evidence of efficient collections, and that a Collector's first attention should be given to the adjustment of arrear balances." The figures in the last column of the above statement show that the standard of the year was still below that of 1881-82 and 1882-83. This is explained as due partly to the growth of the gross demand, and partly to the distress caused by the floods in many districts. The Lieutenant-Governor is unwilling to acknowledge the first cause as a reason for an increase in the net balance relatively to the gross demand, and he hopes that the Board will be able to overcome it by increased vigilance. The second cause is valid, and justifies some postponement of collections. As affecting the question of unrealised balances, it is recognised that the provision of section 45 of the Act, which allows 15 days' grace after the latest date for payment, will always throw the payments due in the last quarter ending on the 28th September into the next year. The results of operations as regards collections between October and the end of December 1885 are shown in paragraphs 16 to 18 of the Board's report, and indicate considerable reductions in outstanding balances.

3. Proceeding to details, the collections are subjected by the Board to the three tests prescribed by Government to measure the success or failure of the year's operations, viz.—(1) comparison of the arrear collections with arrear balances; (2) comparison of current collections with net current demand; and (3) comparison, of advance payments with those made in the previous year. In the following districts the arrear collections were less than 90 per cent. of the arrear demand:—

	Percentage of arrear collection on arrear demand.	Percentage of current collection on current demand.
Burdwan	43·	81·9
Moorshedabad	59·1	87·9
Hooghly	61·3	70·6
Bankoora	63 5	86·9
Cuttack	69·2	90·6
Balasore	69·9	85 7
Durbhunga	70 6	86·9
Furreedpore	74·6	63·7
Mozufferpore	75·6	77·6
Shahabad	81·2	79 1
Backergunge	81·3	71·3
Bhagulpore	81·5	91·4
Maldah	85·1	83·4
Patna	86 6	80 3
Monghyr	86·6	87·4
Midnapore	87·1	68·1
Pubna	87·8	90·5
Dacca	89 1	72·1
Nuddea	89·5	87·2

Of these 19 districts, 16 are the same as those which appeared in the list last year. Chittagong has gone out, and Backergunge, Maldah, and Pubna have been added. In Pubna, however, the arrears were small and the current collections good, having been 90·5 per cent. on the demand. In the resolution recorded last year, it was noticed that collections had been unfavourably affected in the districts of Burdwan and Hooghly by the inclusion of three years' arrear demand from petty lakhiraj holdings brought for the first time under assessment under section 70 of the Act. The same cause was at work during the year under review. The arrear collections in Burdwan showed some improvement, having risen from 33·3 to 43 per cent, but in Hooghly the percentage fell from 63·4 to 61·3. At the same time, however, there was an improvement in the current collections in both districts. The Lieutenant-Governor will await the explanation called for by the Board regarding certain orders said to have been passed by the Commissioner, the effect of which has been to stop the collection of Rs. 87,774 in Burdwan. The failure of the Burdwan Raj Estate, which is now under the Court of Wards, to pay in a large sum within the year, is mentioned as a further cause of the very unsatisfactory collections in that district. No explanation is given of this failure. In Nuddea and Pubna also the collections are said to have been affected by the inclusion of the three years' demand. In the former district the inundations, too, appear to have prejudiced the collections, and this cause also operated in Moorshedabad. In Maldah and Bankoora the arrears are explained to be due to the inclusion of demands for rent-free tenures; in the latter district the usual excuse of default on the part of the sirdar ghatwals is also alleged; in Shahabad, Durbhunga, and Backergunge arrears are attributed to indifferent harvests; in Balasore to confusion in the cess towji accounts, regarding which a special enquiry is being made; and in the remaining districts to delays which are inseparable from the procedure for the realisation of the cesses.

4. Turning to the second test, viz. comparison of current collections with net current demand, the Lieutenant-Governor observes that the results were unsatisfactory in the following 26 districts in which the collections fell short of 90 per cent. of the demand, viz.—Furreedpore (63·7), Pooree (68·), Midnapore (68·1), Hooghly (70 6), Backergunge (71·3), Dacca (72·1), Sarun (74·4), Mozufferpore (77·6), Shahabad (79·1), Patna (80·3), Chumparun (80·7), Burdwan (81·9), Jessore (82·6), Maldah (83·4), Tipperah (84·3), Rajshahye (84·4), Gya (84 6), Beerbhoom (85·1), Balasore (85·7), Chittagong

(86·8), Bankoora (86·9), Durbhunga (86·9), Nuddea (87·2), Monghyr (87·4), Moorshedabad (87·9), and Khoolna (88·4). No explanation has been given of the unfavourable results in these districts, except Midnapore, Burdwan, and Hooghly. In the Patna and Dacca Divisions (except Mymensingh), and in Pooree collections were exceptionally bad; and the Lieutenant-Governor also observes that in the majority of these districts but little had been done by the 31st December 1885 to clear off the outstandings. Sir Rivers Thompson thinks that this point should receive the further attention of the Board. There were 12 districts, against 11 in 1883-84, in which the percentage on both the current and arrear demand exceeded 90 per cent. Rajshahye and Pubna have fallen out of the list this year, while Dinagepore, 24-Pergunnahs, and Rungpore have been added to it. The 12 districts are Purneah, Darjeeling, Hazaribagh, Noakholly, Dinagepore, 24 Pergunnahs, Julpigoree, Bogra, Mymensingh, Manbhoom, Lohardugga, and Rungpore. In the remaining three districts—Pubna, Bhagulpore, and Cuttack—the percentage on the current demand rose slightly above 90 per cent., but the arrear collections fell below that standard.

5. The advance collections made during the year amounted to Rs. 1,40,565 against Rs. 1,33,128 in 1883-84. The districts in which these collections exceeded Rs. 5,000 are Hooghly (Rs. 5,372), Dacca (Rs. 6,095), Mymensingh (Rs 6,346), Gya (Rs. 6,527), Cuttack (Rs. 6,691), Mozufferpore (Rs. 7,298), Patna (Rs. 7,928), Burdwan (Rs. 9,168), Bhagulpore (Rs. 16,239), and Durbhunga (Rs. 31,638). In future years this comparison need not be regarded as a test of success, though the statement may usefully be submitted.

6. There was a slight increase in the number of certificates filed during the year under the Public Demands Recovery Act. From 74,674 in the previous year the number rose to 77,631, which, with the 39,147 pending at the close of that year, gave a total of 116,778 for disposal against 112,533 in 1883-84. Of these 78,385 were disposed of during the year, leaving 38,393 pending at its close. Except in the districts of Hooghly, Shahabad, Durbhunga, and Pooree, the number of disposals kept pace fairly with the number of institutions. Out of the total number of 78,385 certificates disposed of during the year, payment was made in 31,844 cases on the mere issue of notice, in 3,577 cases on the attachment of moveable property, and in 26,900 cases on the attachment of immoveable property. Of the remainder, 2,806 were struck off and 672 cancelled on objection, leaving 7,586 cases which were discharged without resort to issue of notices or attachment of property. It is reported that the sale of moveable or immoveable property was resorted to only in 426 cases. The total number of objections filed against certificates was 4,171, of which 3,906 were disposed of. In 672 cases the certificates objected to were, as already stated, cancelled, and in 426 cases the amount certified was reduced. The smallest number of certificates was filed in the Chota Nagpore Division, viz. 559; Rajshahye came next and then the Presidency Division, 3,601 having been filed in the former and 4,489 in the latter. The three Divisions in which the largest numbers were filed were Patna (28,232), Burdwan (14,857,) and Dacca (9,914).

7. Complete revaluations are in progress in the districts of Cuttack, Pooree, and Balasore; and sanction has been accorded to the commencement of complete revaluations in Gya and Chumparun. In Midnapore both valuation for the first time of certain estates and tenures, and revaluation of others, were made. The revaluations have resulted in a decrease of Rs. 14,023; while the valuations for the first time gave an increase of Rs. 11,233. The net decrease of Rs. 2,790 is attributed to the low price of paddy and to the exclusion of certain lakhiraj lands which were twice assessed at the first valuation. The result of partial revaluation in Pubna was an increase in valuation of Rs. 17,033, and of Rs. 803 in the cess demand. In Chittagong 630 taluks were assessed for the first time, and with other revaluations, yielded a net increase of Rs. 4,464 in the cess demand. The revision of the revaluations of the Manbhoom district has been completed. The total valuation of the district now stands at Rs. 13,60,921, against the original valuation of Rs. 9,97,170. The valuation of pergunnah Dhalbhoom, in the Singbhoom district, has been completed; but the completion report had not been received by the Board when their report was submitted. There were no summary valuations in Pubna and Mymensingh.

Midnapore summary valuation was resorted to only in the case of 24 petty estates; and in the Chittagong district, all the estates being of a petty character, 7,446 estates were summarily valued.

8. The provisions of chapter VI, Part II of the Cess Act, for the valuation of rent-free holdings, were on the recommendations of Commissioners extended during the year to all districts. The result generally may be said to have been unimportant.

9. During the year 5,704 separate accounts were opened, under section 44 of the Act, for Rs. 88,468 payable as cess. The division in which the largest number occurs is Dacca (1,972), while in the Chota Nagpur Division no accounts at all were opened. In the Dacca district alone 1,568 accounts were opened. At the close of the year the number of accounts remaining open was 25,837 for Rs. 12,27,651 of cess. Fifty-seven separate cess accounts were opened in revenue-free estates under section 46 of the Act—the largest number, 13, being in the Monghyr district.

10. The Board have submitted a statement showing that the number of estates assessed with cess was 272,943, held by 1,245,913 recorded shareholders, and that the number of tenures assessed was 1,170,814, and their recorded shareholders 2,181,229. The imperfection of these statistics was pointed out in the Resolution recorded last year; and although the Board believe that the present figures are on the whole more accurate than those furnished in previous years, they are still very deficient, in the opinion of the Board, for statistical purposes, as the figures only include estates and tenures assessed with cess, while estates within municipalities, and all very petty revenue-free properties and tenures are necessarily excluded. The suggestion of the Board that the submission of these figures should be discontinued will be considered in communication with the Revenue Department of Government.

The Lieutenant-Governor desires to express his acknowledgments to the Board for the efficient supervision exercised by them during the year over this branch of the administration. The names of the Deputy Collectors who are favourably mentioned in paragraph 19 of the Board's report will be communicated to the Appointment Department of Government.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, and of the Board's report, be submitted to the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department, for information.

Ordered, further, that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to the Board of Revenue, and copies of the Resolution and of the Board's report to the Appointment and Revenue Departments of this Government, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. H. WILSON,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops.

Statement showing Rainfall, Weather, and State and Prospects of the Crops in the different districts of Bengal, as reported to Government during the week ending the 1st May 1886.

	No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BENGAL.
		Western Districts.
Burdwan Div.	1	Burdwan, May 1 '86	0·03	Weather—very hot. Rain much wanted for agricultural operations. Price of common rice 16 to 21 seers per rupee.
		Ranigunge	0·11
	2	Bankoora, „ 1 „	1·63	Weather—seasonable. Rain has done much good to standing crops, viz., cotton, til, moong, and mango. Fields being prepared for sowing of early rice, which has already commenced in certain quarters. Public health good.
	3	Beerbhoom, „ 1 „	1·07	Weather—pleasant and fairly cool. High wind and heavy rain on 28th ultimo.
		Rampur Haut	0·88	Rain has facilitated ploughing. A few cases of cholera in Rampore Haut, otherwise public health good.
	4	Midnapore, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—rather cool for time of year. Boro harvest nearly completed. Rain much wanted for cultivation. Public health generally good.
	5	Hooghly, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—very hot. Rain badly wanted for ploughing for vegetable and for early rice and jute sowings. Boro dhan being harvested with good outturn in the flooded tracts, which will now pull through without further help. The cholera outbreak at Rishra has abated. General health good.
		Howrah, „ 3 „	Nil	Weather—dry and cloudless with high winds. Boro dhan being harvested; outturn satisfactory.
		Central Districts.
Presidency Div.	6	24-Pergha. April 4 '86	Nil	Weather—very hot. No crops on the ground except sugarcane, which is doing well. Lands being ploughed for early crops. Public health good.

		Meherpur	1·50
		Chuadanga	0·33
	8	Khoolna, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—hot and dry. Boro rice harvest continues; outturn good. Rain now wanted for sowing of aus rice and for til crops. Public health fair.
	9	Jessore, „ 1 „	0·48	Weather—very hot. Rain badly wanted. Want of rain has almost stopped sowing of paddy crop. Cholera still raging in the district. Deaths from cholera reported from Magura sub-division.
		Jhenidah	0·18
	10	Moorshedabad, „ 1 „	0·54	Weather—seasonable. Boro dhan and indigo doing fairly well, but more rain is wanted for these and for ploughing for aus crop. Public health fair, but a few cholera cases still continue. Price of rice stationary.
		Lalbagh	0·19
		Kandi	1·70
	11	Dinagepore April 30 '86	0·02	Weather—threatening, but no rain at head-quarters, which is much wanted for ploughing. Sowing of aus and jute has commenced Prices stationary.
Rajshahye Div.	12	Rajshahye, May 1 „	0·85	Weather—very hot. Slight rain during week has done good, and advantage is being taken of it in preparing lands, but more is wanted. A few cases of cholera reported from most police stations.
		Nattore	0·50
	13	Rungpore „ 1 „	2·47	Weather—seasonable. Rain has done much good to standing crops. Prospects improved. A few cases of cholera reported from Nilphamari and Nageswari; public health otherwise fair.
		Kurigram	0·35
		Nilphamari	0·80
	14	Bogra. „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—generally hot and fine, cool and cloudy on 28th ultimo, and occasionally stormy. Cultivation of aus, jute, and til going on. Rain much wanted.
		Sherpur	0·14	Sporadic cases of cholera reported.
		Nowkhilla	0·35
	15	Pubna, „ 1 „	0·57	Weather—very hot; occasional storms. Rain wanted for crops. Aus and amun being sown.
	16	Darjeeling, „ 1 „	1·61	Weather—wet. Crops all good after recent rain.
	17	Julpigoree, „ 1 „	1·09	Changeable weather. East wind prevailing. Harvesting of all cold-weather crops over. Bhadoi dhan coming up in places, and being sown in others. Land being prepared for haimanti dhan. About 8-annas of jute sown. Public health good.
		Eastern Districts.
Dacca Division.	18	Dacca, May 1 '86	Nil	Weather—very hot. Sowing of paddy and jute going on. Boro dhan being harvested. Prospects of crops good. Sporadic cases of cholera reported from Manickgunge.
		Manickgunge	0·06
	19	Furreedpore. „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—unusually hot. Rain much wanted for cultivation. Cholera at Sudder stopped, but still prevalent in the mofussil.
		Goalundo	0·35
	20	Backergunge, April 29 „	Nil	Weather—hot and dry. Prospects of crops fair, but rain wanted. General health fair. Cholera and small-pox reported to prevail in some police stations and outposts.
	21	Mymensingh, „ 30 „	1·11	Weather—hot. Prospects of crops generally good. Cholera prevalent throughout Tangail.
		Attea	0·72
		Netrokona	0·64
Chittagong Div.	22	Chittagong, May 4 '86	1·84	Weather—very hot until Sunday (2nd), since when unsettled. Prospects of crops fair. Prices unchanged. Fever continues. Public health good
	23	Noakholly, April 30 „	Nil	Weather—growing very warm Sowing of rice progressing. Some few cases of cholera.
	24	Tipperah, „ 29 „	0·07	Weather—stifling except in the early hours. Sowing of aus and amun dhan and jute almost completed. Boro dhan being cut. Some cholera still about.
	25	Chittagong Hill Tracts. „ 27 „	Nil	Weather—very hot throughout the week Unusually foggy this morning (29th). Joom burning still continues. Sugarcane doing well. Lands being prepared for aus paddy.
		Hill Tipperah, „ 28 „	Nil	Weather—hot. Lands yet being cultivated for aus paddy. Prospects of boro paddy and chillies good. Hill jooms in some divisions commenced to be sown. Public health good.

No.	District, and date of return.	Rainfall at Sudder Station in inches.	Character of the weather, state and prospects of the crops, and state of health at date.
BEHAR.
Patna Divn. 26	Patna, May 1 '86	Nil	Weather—hot and sultry, with high east wind. Threshing of rubbee still in progress. Cheena sowings going on. Sugar-cane being planted. Opium weighment continues. Public health good.
27	Gya, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—close. No west wind for several days. Sugar-cane coming on well. Fever and small-pox reported from some places. Prices stationary.
28	Shahabad, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—very hot, with easterly wind. Threshing of rubbee crops continues. Prospects of sugar-cane and indigo favourable. Cholera and slight fever reported from Bhabuah and Buxar sub-divisions respectively. Public health otherwise fair.
29	Durbhunga, „ 1 „	0·70	Weather—hot and occasionally cloudy. Rain has done immense good to early moong, paddy sowings and indigo. Lands being prepared for bhadoi sowings. General health good. Prices risin slightly.
30	Mozufferpore, „ 1 „	0·15	Weather—cooler, as some rain fell on 28th. Threshing of rubbee almost over. Sowing of early rice, cheena and moong in progress. Health fair.
31	Sarun, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—very hot and sultry. Sugar-cane and cheena in good condition. Indigo being irrigated. Weighment of opium completed. Public health good.
32	Chumparun, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—hot, with easterly wind. Harvesting of rubbee crops nearly finished. Opium weighment in progress. Prices stationary. Some cases of fever and small-pox reported.
Bhagulpur Divn. 33	Monghyr, May 1 '86	0·36	Weather—hot. No crops on the ground at present. Public health generally good; but sporadic cases of small-pox reported fron Sudder and Begoosersi sub-divisions. Price of rice decreasing.
34	Bhagulpore, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—hot. Rain much wanted now for cultivation and to secure early sowings. Mango crop has suffered still more from high wind and drought.
35	Purneah „ 1 „	0·42	Weather—much cooler since the rain; wind in the east. Crops in the ground doing well. More rain wanted to complete sowings.
	Kissengunge ...	0·12
	Arrareah ...	0·07
36	Maldah, „ 1 „	Nil	Weather—hot with occasional gathering of clouds. Boro paddy in need of rain. It is now being artificially watered. Common rice selling at an average of 20 seers per rupee. Public health good.
37	Sonthal Pergha. „ 1 „	0·86	Weather—unsettled. Rather severe rotatory storm with rain and hail on 28th. Boro rice and sugarcane doing well; no other crops on the ground. Small-pox here and there. General health good.
ORISSA.
Orissa Divn. 38	Cuttack, April 30 '86	Nil	Weather—hot and close. Dalua rice being cut. Ploughing in progress. Rain wanted. Common rice sells at 14 seers per rupee in town and 18 to 22 seers in interior. Cholera reported to be raging sporadically in Jajpur sub-division.
39	Pooree, „ 29 „	Nil	Weather—seasonable. Lands being ploughed and manured for next sarad crops. Dalua paddy being harvested. Relief works going on in Chilka tracts. Common rice sells at an average of 19 seers 6 chittacks per rupee in Sudder sub-division and 18 seers 13 chittacks in Khoorda sub-division. Cases of cholera still reported from the mofussil.
40	Balasore, „ 30 „	0·39	Weather—hot. Lands being prepared. Prospects of miscellaneous crops promising. A few cases of cholera reported from the interior; otherwise public health good.
CHOTA NAGPORE.
South-West Frontier Agency.
41	Hazaribagh. April 30 '86	0·03	Weather—very hot during greater part of week. No crops to report on. Mohua still being harvested. Mango promises fairly in most places. General health good.
42	Lohardugga. May 1 „	0·03	Weather—warm, but cloudy in the latter part of the week. Mohua and mango promising well. Price of rice fluctuating and has a tendency to rise. Public health in Sudder sub-division good; fever prevalent in Palamow sub-division.
43	Singbhoom. April 30 „	0·22	Weather—seasonable. Very warm until yesterday's (29th) storm cooled the air. No crops to report on. Public health good.
44	Manbhoom, May 1 „	Nil	Weather—hot, with dust storms. Sugar-cane sprouting. Coarse rice selling at from 24 to 32 seers per rupee. A few cases of cholera reported, but public health generally good.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 88, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground, ☍ dew.

AT the commencement of the week dry westerly winds were blowing at almost all the western stations and rather strong southerly and south-westerly winds at the southern and central stations, while in North Bengal and North Behar a few of the stations reported easterly and south-easterly winds. There was thus a small amount of interaction between those wind systems, which gave rise to a few light local storms. About the middle of the week the easterly winds began to increase in strength, and winds gradually became more easterly until Thursday the 29th, when the great majority of the wind directions over the province had a strongly pronounced easterly component in them. At the same time a feeble but distinct area of barometric depression formed in the Central Provinces, and there was a decided tendency to cyclonic circulation of winds round it at the stations nearest to it. With the advance of the easterly winds and with the formation of the area of low pressure in Central India and the western parts of Chutia Nagpur conditions became a little disturbed, a large amount of interference or interaction took place between the wind systems, and thus a considerable number of local storms, generally accompanied by rain, were reported at the close of the week. These storms have been most general in East and North and South-West Bengal, and in North Behar and Chutia Nagpore; comparatively few were reported from South Behar, and in Orissa they were practically absent.

The changes of pressure during the week have been considerable, and while for the first three days pressure fell steadily, on the Tuesday there was a considerable recovery, followed by a further fall on the next day, and during the last two days of the week the changes were small and variable. During May, however, there is generally a steady decrease of pressure, and the fall during the week has not been so rapid as usual. This is shown by the fact that while during the previous week there was over the province a mean excess pressure above the normal equal to 0·023″, during the week under review the excess pressure has increased to 0·056.″

Temperature—Was also during the previous week in excess of the normal by a general average of 1·5°. There has been during the present week a slight but decided increase of temperature, and the excess has increased to 1·8°. The variation of temperature in various parts of the province has however become considerable; and while Orissa shows a mean temperature 0·2° in defect of the normal, Chutia Nagpore on the other hand shows an excess of 4·1.° The temperature in East Bengal has been nearly normal, and over the remainder of the province there has been an excess of about 2°.

Rainfall—Has been entirely brought by local storms. North Bengal has received the largest amount of rainfall and averages 0·62 inch for the week against the normal average of 0·97 inch, or in other words the actual fall has been about two-thirds of the normal. The average rainfall reported in South-West Bengal has been 0·32 inch against the normal of 0·80 inch or decidedly less than half the normal fall. In North Behar the rainfall has averaged 0·25 inch against the normal 0·30 inch, in South Behar the actual fall has been 0·11 inch and the normal fall is 0·12 inch, and again Chutia Nagpur averages 0·12 of rain against the normal fall of 0·14 inch, and thus these three divisions have received almost a normal fall for the week. East Bengal has received an average amount of 0·17 inch, but the normal fall equals 1·43 inches, so that the actual fall has only been about one-eighth of the normal. The smallest amount of rainfall is reported from Orissa, where it averages only 0·04 inch, which is only one-ninth of the normal fall for the period.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 30th of April 1886:—

MEMORANDUM.

DURING the week ending 17th April 1886, the returns of the principal Municipalities in Bengal presented the following results :—

1. That the birth-rate in these Municipalities amounted to 18·8 per 1,000 of population against the same proportion in the preceding week ending 10th April, and the death-rate to 24·3 per 1,000 against very nearly the same ratio, viz., 24·8 per 1,000.

2. That the Municipalities which returned the highest proportion of births and deaths were :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Bhagulpore	32·6	Uterpara	75·5
Beauleah	31·5	Beauleah	49·9

sus of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The numbe as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as ceans, above alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been received

(1) Buoys marking entrance to Port.

The Officer Commanding the French Gun-boat Meteor through the French Consul at Aden has given notice that the two small buoys, which hitherto marked the entrance to the port of Obokh have been replaced by two large nun buoys, each surmounted by a staff and ball.

The buoys, which are easily discernible at a considerable distance, are moored about 12 feet from the edge of the Reefs; the black buoy on the port hand, entering the harbour, and the red buoy on the starboard hand.

(2) GHUBBET KHARAB.
Reef in large pass.

Also that information has been received of the existence of a reef lying in the middle of the Large Press, at the entrance to the Ghubbet Kharab, Gulf of Tejureh, on which the French despatch boat Penguin recently struck.

A depth of two feet, at low-water spring tides, was found over it.

As the precise limits of this reef have not yet been ascertained, vessels are, for the present, recommended to use due caution when proceeding in or out of the Large Pass.

2. Ten (10) free presentations will then be awarded. These are given to students according to their relative position in the University, B.A., B L. and F.A. Examinations, preference being given to those who have passed the highest examination.

3. No person shall be enrolled as a matriculated student of the College who has not previously passed the First Arts Examination of the Calcutta University, or some one of the preliminary Arts Examination of the United Kingdom recognised by the British General Medical Council.

4. All matriculated students of the College are required to pay Rs. 15 on entrance, Rs. 30 for the summer session on the 23rd June, and Rs. 30 for the winter session on 1st November of each year.

5. Students who have failed to pass their final examination, and who, under the regulations of the University, are required to attend a further course of lectures and of hospital practice before being allowed to present themselves again for examination, will pay for such further course an annual fee of Rs. 45 in two instalments of Rs. 30 and Rs. 15, payable at the beginning of the summer and winter sessions respectively.

6. Any matriculated student of the College may, with the permission of the Principal and the Professors of the subject, attend courses of lectures or departments of hospital practice in addition to the full curriculum for the year, and shall be entitled to certificates of attendance at such extra lectures, if the Professor is satisfied that he or she has really studied the subject. The fees payable in advance for such additional courses are the following:—

	Rs.
For a single course of lectures on each subject	40
For six months' attendance in each department of hospital practice	60

7. Any matriculated student who leaves the College before completing his University course, with the object of continuing his studies at a Medical School in Europe, may receive certificates of attendance at lectures on payment of fees at the rate fixed in the foregoing rule. But in calculating the sum to be so paid, the amount of the fees already paid by him as a regular student, or in the case of a free student, the amount which would have been paid by him had he been a paying student, shall be deducted.

8. Any person not being a matriculated student of the College, who may be desirous of attending any course of lectures, or any department of hospital practice, may do so with the permission of the Principal and Professor of the subject, on payment, in advance, of fees at the rates fixed in rule 6.

If such student has passed the Entrance Examination of the University, he may receive certificates of attendance at lectures, provided the Professors are satisfied that he has attended the full course of lectures, and has mastered the subjects taught.

A student who has not passed the Entrance Examination will be entitled to no certificates of any kind.

9. College scholarships, prizes, and certificates of honour are open for competition only to matriculated students of the College, Hospital Apprentice and Female Certificate class.

A gold medal and certificates of honour are awarded to the best students in each subject.

Goodeve and Macnamara silver medals are given to 1st-year student in Anatomy and Chemistry.

10. College scholars, who receive less than Rs. 20 per mensem, are not required to pay Rs. 30 per session.

The holders of the Doorga Charan Laha and all other scholarships will be required to pay fees as a matriculated student. These scholars may pay their fees in advance, or have their scholarship money deducted till the full amount is received.

11. Any student holding a Medical College scholarship will be permitted to draw the stipend of the said scholarship at any recognized Medical School in the United Kingdom, provided he furnishes from the head of such school a certificate of good conduct and diligent prosecution of his studies.

12. The class assistants of Pathology, Physiology and Comparative Anatomy can be held only by matriculated students of the College.

EXHIBITIONS.

Simla, the 6th May 1886.

No. 1357*Ex.*

The following papers relating to the opening of the Colonial and Indian Exhibition, London, on the 4th instant, by Her Majesty the Queen-Empress, which have been received by telegraph from His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, Executive President of the Royal Commissioners, are published for general information :—

COLONIAL AND INDIAN EXHIBITION.

Address by His Royal Highness, the Executive President, to Her Majesty the Queen, on the occasion of the opening of the Exhibition.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR MAJESTY,—As Executive President of the Royal Commissioners appointed by Your Majesty's Royal Warrant of the 18th of November 1884, for the promotion of an Exhibition of the British Colonial and Indian Empire, and subsequently incorporated by Your Majesty's Royal Charter of the 10th September 1885, I humbly beg leave to lay before you a brief statement of our proceedings up to the present time. The general interest manifested in the display made by Your Majesty's Colonial and Indian Empire at the Paris Exhibition of 1878 led me, as President of the British Commission, to express a hope that an opportunity might soon occur by which Your Majesty's subjects in England would be enable to witness the marvellous development which, under your beneficent rule, their brethren and fellow-subjects had attained throughout so many portions of the globe. It was, therefore, with the highest gratification that I accepted Your Majesty's gracious invitation to assume the Executive Presidency of this Commission, the appointment of which by Your Majesty has been the means of making this hope a reality. The invitations which we were empowered by Your Majesty to issue to the Colonial Governments and to the Government of India were forwarded towards the close of the year 1884, and from the answers received it at once became apparent that this undertaking had obtained warm and hearty sympathy throughout Your Majesty's dominions. In your Majesty's dominion of Canada, throughout your Australasian, African, West Indian, and Eastern Colonies, in your Mediterranean Possessions and elsewhere, grants were voted, Commissions formed, and Executive Commissioners appointed. That the work of preparation was undertaken with enthusiasm and attended with success, is evident from the complete and varied collections which at present fill the buildings through which Your Majesty has just passed. The response received from the Government of India was also of the most cordial character. His Excellency the Viceroy caused, through the Revenue and Agricultural Department, instructions to be issued to every district of Your Majesty's Indian Empire for the collection of objects illustrative of the arts, manufactures, and resources of that great realm. These collections, which now adorn a large section of the Exhibition, have been supplemented by generous contributions from their Highnesses the Princes of India, by collections the formation of which we ourselves have authorised, and by the contributions of private Native exhibitors. We are desirous of bringing under Your Majesty's notice our deep appreciation of the hearty co-operation of the Colonial Governments in this Exhibition, and of taking this exceptional opportunity of stating how greatly we are indebted to the Commissions appointed by these Governments and to the Executive Commissioners on whom the superintendence of the entire work of installation has devolved. We further desire to record the valuable assistance which we have received from Your Majesty's Viceroy, from the Supreme Government of India, and from the various officials who have so ably and thoroughly carried out their instructions. Our grateful thanks are also due to the Colonial Governments, to the Government of India, to the Corporation of the City of London, to many City Companies, and to the firms and individuals who have contributed to the guarantee funds. The fact that the list of subscribers not only includes those whose interests are likely to be specially affected by the Exhibition, but also comprehends every class of the community, supplies a gratifying proof of the universal sympathy and interest which this undertaking has aroused. We venture to avail ourselves of this opportunity to convey to Your Majesty our dutiful and loyal acknowledgments of the interest which Your Majesty has been pleased to take in our labours, proved as it is by Your Majesty's presence here to-day; nor can I resist a reference to a similar ceremonial presided over by Your Majesty, but a few paces from this spot, thirty-five years ago. On that memorable occasion, the first of its kind, the Prince Consort, my beloved and revered father, filled the position which I, following in his footsteps at however great a distance, now have the honour and gratification of occupying. Your Majesty alone can fully realise with what deep interest my beloved father would, had he been spared, have watched, as their orginator, the development of the Exhibitions both in this country and abroad, and with what especial pleasure he would have welcomed one having for its object the prosperity of Your Majesty's Empire, the interests of which he had so much at heart. In the great Exhibitio of 1851 Your Majesty's Colonial and Indian Possessions were indeed represented, but their importance was then but little realised, and their present greatness was at that time unforeseen. During the years that have elapsed since 1851, few greater changes have been wrought than the marvellous development of the outlying portions of your Majesty's Empire. It is our heartfelt prayer that an undertaking intended to illustrate and to record this development may give a stimulus to the commercial interests and intercourse of all parts of Your Majesty's dominions: that it may be the means of augmenting that warm affection and brotherly sympathy which is reciprocated by all Your Majesty's subjects; and that it may still further deepen that steadfast loyalty which we, who dwell in the Mother-country, share with our kindred who have elsewhere so nobly done honour to her name.

Reply of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress.

I receive with the greatest satisfaction the Address which you have presented to me on the opening of this Exhibition. I have observed with a warm and increasing interest the progress of your proceedings in the execution of the duties entrusted to you by the Royal Commission, and it affords me sincere gratification to witness the succesful result of your judicious and unremitting exertions in the magnificent Exhibition which has been gathered together here to-day. I am deeply moved by your reference to the circumstances in which the ceremony of 1851 took place, and I heartily concur in the belief you have expressed that the Prince Consort, my beloved husband, had he been spared, would have witnessed with intense interest the development of his ideas, and would, I may add, have seen with pleasure our Son taking the lead in the movement of which he was the originator. I cordially concur with you in the prayer, that this undertaking may be the means of imparting a stimulus to the commercial interests and intercourse of all parts of my dominions by encouraging the arts of peace and industry, and by strengthening the bond of union which now exists in every portion of my Empire.

ODE ON THE OPENING

OF THE

BY

LORD TENNYSON, POET LAUREATE.

Welcome ! welcome ! with one voice
In your welfare we rejoice,
Sons and brothers that have sent
From Isle and Cape and Continent
Produce of your field and flood,
Mount and mine, and primal wood,
Works of subtle brain and hand,
And splendours of the morning land,
Gifts from every British zone.
Britons hold your own !
May we find, as ages run,
The mother featured in the son !
And may yours for ever be
That old strength and constancy,
Which has made your fathers great
In our ancient Island State,
And where'er her flag may fly,
Glorying between sea and sky,
Makes the might of Britain known !
Britons hold your own !
Britain fought her sons of yore :
Britain failed ; and never more,
Careless of our growing kin,
Shall we sin our fathers' sin—
Men, that in a narrower day,
Unprophetic rulers they,
Drove from out the mother's nest
That young eagle of the West
To forage for herself alone.
Britons hold your own !
Sharers of our glorious past,
Brothers, must we part at last ?
Shall not we, through good and ill,
Cleave to one another still ?
Britain's myriad voices call :
Sons, be welded each and all
Into one Imperial whole,
One with Britain heart and soul,
One life, one flag, one fleet, one throne !
Britons hold your own !

And God guard all !

Chittagong Collectorate, the 13th March 1886.

A. MANSON, Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given, under section 6, Act XI of 1859, that the undermentioned Estates, in the district of Tipperah, will be put up to public and unreserved sale at the Collector's office of that district on the 20th day of May 1886 for arrears of revenue and other demands, which, by the Regulations and Acts in force, are directed to be realized in the same manner as arrears of revenue due on the 28th day of September 1885 :—

Separate accounts, under section 10 of Act XI of 1859, were opened in respect of the 3 shares from which arrears are due. These shares were once put up to sale for arrears of revenue on the 5th January last, and the bid at which the said shares were knocked down was below the amount due to Government. Against this sale an appeal was preferred to the Commissioner of the division, who upset the sale on the 19th March last on grounds of illegality, and directed to take steps under section 14 of the sale law. Accordingly a notice was served upon the proprietors, but no one paid the arrears. Hence the entire mehal is now advertized for sale.

Chittagong Collectorate, the 7th April 1886. A. MANSON, Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the lease of the land specified in the schedule hereunto annexed, and of which the plan is open to inspection at the office of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans, has been applied for by Huri Mohun Basar, and will be sold at 12 o'clock noon on the 2nd August 1886, Monday (18th Shraban 1293 B.E.), at the Sundarban Commissioner's Office at Alipur, unless meantime the sale is stopped or postponed in consequence of claims or objections under Act XXIII of 1863 (to provide for the adjudication of claims to waste lands), or owing to any other cause.

2. The lease of the land will be granted subject to the conditions which are specified below, as well as to the general terms annexed to the rules for the sale of leases of waste lands, dated 12th November 1879.

Conditions.

That the lands shall be subject to all existing rights of all way and water and all other easements

That the right of using all streams and channels in any way navigable shall be reserved to public, as also the use of a towpath, not less than 25 feet in width, on each side of every such stream and channel.

That no charge shall be made for wood and timber standing on the land at the time it is leased, nor for any wood which may be cut and burnt to effect clearances, or which may be used on the lands. But for wood and timber exported for sale, a duty shall be levied at such rate and in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed by Government.

That the Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals in the land, together with such right of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting and carrying any such minerals. It also retains its proprietary right in the land, and only confers on the lessees an occupancy right which shall be hereditary and transferable.

Camp Chandkhali, the 15th April 1886. J. ELLISON, Deputy Collector in charge.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government to the undermentioned lands, known as Government Lottery Committee lands, situated in the town of Calcutta, will be put up to sale by public auction at the Calcutta Collectorate at 12 A.M. on the 21st June 1886, corresponding with 8th of Ashar 1293.

The purchaser will be subject to the following conditions of sale:—

Conditions of Sale.

1*st*.—The lands to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of the lands will be considered as the proprietor of the lands, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such lands will be transferred to him subject to the payment of Government revenue of 3 annas per kattah.

2*nd*.—The sale to be subject to existing leases.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that be a close holiday, then by the noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government) and the land to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

The Indian Law Reports.

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Darjeeling, the 6th May 1886.

RESOLUTION.

SECTION 82 of the Bengal Municipal Act III (B.C.) of 1884 empowers the Lieutenant-Governor to make rules for the purpose of regulating the system of keeping municipal accounts. In accordance with the provisions of this section, a set of rules and forms were prepared and forwarded to Commissioners of Divisions for opinion. These opinions were received and forwarded to the Accountant-General for any remarks he might have to offer. The Accountant-General has now submitted a revised set of rules and forms prepared, as far as possible, in accordance with the opinions of the local officers and Municipal Commissioners. The Lieutenant-Governor approves the revised rules and forms, and directs that they shall come into force in all municipalities from the 1st July next. If in the meantime the Commissioners of any Municipality wish to have any minor modifications made in these rules and forms to meet any special circumstances, they should represent the matter through the local officers for the orders of Government.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above Resolution, together with the rules and forms, be published in the Calcutta Gazette and circulated to Commissioners of Divisions for information and communication to District and Sub-Divisional Officers and Municipal Commissioners. A copy should also be sent to the Accountant-General for information and communication to the Examiner of Local Accounts.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. H. WILSON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Account Rules for Municipalities issued under Section 82 of Act III of 1884, the Bengal Municipal Act.

GENERAL.

THE following account rules are issued under section 82 of Act III of 1884, the Bengal Municipal Act.

2. The rules are divided into two parts. Part I contains the rules and forms to be observed and adopted in every Municipality, however small. Part II contains the rules and forms to be observed and adopted wherever the circumstances of a Municipality may render them necessary, and, in addition, certain other account rules and forms which it is desirable should be adopted in the larger Municipalities, but which it is not considered advisable to prescribe authoritatively.

3. It may be found hereafter that the account rules and forms herein prescribed do not conveniently meet the special requirements of a Municipality. In this case they may be modified with the consent of the Accountant-General, Bengal.

4. The cash and account branches of each Municipal Office shall be kept distinct from each other, and under distinct officers, who, for the purposes of these rules, will be termed, respectively, Tax Darogah or Cashier, and Accountant.

In many of the smaller Municipalities the Tax Darogah and Cashier will be one and the same man. Part I of these rules has been especially framed to meet this contingency. In no case, however, shall the same person compile the Municipal accounts and superintend the collection of the rates and other Municipal income.

5. All accounts and registers shall, as far as possible, be maintained in English. All books of account and registers shall be substantially bound and paged before being brought into use, and no accounts shall be prepared on loose sheets or in loosely bound volumes.

6. The set of registers and forms prescribed or suggested in these rules provides for all classes of transactions usually occurring in Municipalities of ordinary size. In some of the larger Municipalities additional books of account may probably be found necessary. In this case the Examiner of Local Accounts in Bengal will advise the Municipality concerned as to the most suitable forms to meet the special circumstances of the Municipality.

7. As, under these rules, the Magistrate or other officer in charge of a Government Treasury, and the Vice-Chairman of a Municipality occupy the respective positions of banker and constituent, it is of the greatest importance that no person connected with a Magistrate's or Sub-Divisional Officer's establishment shall assist in any way in collecting Municipal revenue or in posting the Municipal books.

SECURITY.

8. The Secretary, Accountant, Tax Darogah, Cashier, and tax collecting sircars in the employ of a Municipality shall furnish such security as the Commissioners may think proper.

Nothing in this rule, however, shall be understood to prohibit such security as the Commissioners may think advisable being taken from any other officer or servant in the employ of a Municipality.

CORRECTIONS IN ACCOUNTS.

9. All corrections and alterations in accounts shall be neatly made in red ink, and attested by the initials of the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or Secretary. Similarly, all alterations and corrections in a voucher shall be attested by the payee. Erasures shall on no account be permitted in registers, statements, vouchers, or accounts of any description.

PART I.

BUDGET ESTIMATE.

10. The Regulations regarding the preparation and sanction of the Budget Estimate are contained in sections 72 to 76 of the Bengal Municipal Act. The Estimate shall be prepared in English in Form No. I by the accountant of the Municipality. The receipts shall be estimated in detail, but the totals only of the estimated expenditure shall be entered in the body of the Budget Estimate against the several headings. A schedule shall be attached to the Estimate in the form annexed, setting forth the full details of the estimated expenditure for the ensuing year.

11. No change shall be made in the major and minor account headings prescribed in Form No. I without proper authority, and the same account headings shall be used in all accounts and returns prepared or issued by a Municipality. In Form No. I the major account headings are shown in italics and the minor account headings have numbers allotted to them. The remaining heads of account given in the form are termed "Detailed heads" and are not prescribed, but are merely examplar, and may be altered or added to as the Commissioners may think desirable.

RECEIPT OF MONEY BY CASHIER OR TAX DAROGAH.

12. The Cashier or Tax Darogah shall keep a cash book in Form No. II, in which he shall enter on the Receipt side all sums received by him on account of the Municipality.

The entries shall be in full detail of names and particulars, except in regard to collections made by the sircars (see paragraphs 20 and 23 of Appendix A), for which a single entry exhibiting the name of the sircar and the total amount received will be sufficient. The details of the sircar's daily collections will be given in the sircar's daily collection account Form No. XLVII)

13. The Vice-Chairman or Secretary shall, at such frequent intervals as may seem desirable, examine the Cashier's or Tax Darogah's cash book, so as to satisfy himself that all money received has really been remitted to the Treasury or Bank without delay, and that the Cashier or Tax Darogah does not retain in hand sums of money in excess of the security which he may have given.

TRANSACTIONS WITH BANK OR TREASURY.

14. Unless the Local Government shall otherwise direct, all sums received on account of the Municipal Fund shall be paid into a Government Treasury or into any Bank or Branch Bank used as a Government Treasury in or near to the Municipality.

Moneys received by the Cashier or Tax Darogah on account of the Municipality shall be remitted to the of Bank or Treasury as often as can be conveniently managed.

15. Whenever a remittance to the Bank or Treasury is made, the Cashier or Tax Darogah shall enter the details of the remittance on the payment side of his Cash Book (Form No. II). In the column "Details of challan" he will enter the different heads of revenue (corresponding with the heads in the Cash Abstract Register of Receipts (Form No. VII), and in the column "Amount of each head" he will enter the amounts to be credited to each of those heads.

He will then fill in Form No. III, the challan to accompany the remittance. In the foil of the form will be entered merely the name of the Municipality on account of which the money is sent, and details of the notes and coin of which the remittance is composed. On the counterfoil will be shown the details of the remittance according to the heads of account to which the amounts are to be credited, i.e., a copy of the entries on the payment side of the Cashier's or Tax Darogah's Cash-Book.

It is especially to be noticed that for statistical purposes the collections for the current year on account of the rate upon the annual value of holdings, or of the tax upon occupiers of holdings, and of the water, lighting, and latrine rates, are to be shown distinctly from the collections on account of the demand for previous years.

16. With the remittances shall be sent the pass book of the Municipality. Upon receipt of the money by the Treasury both sides of the pass book shall be written up to date by the Treasury accountant, the entry for the remittance just made shall be initialled by the Treasury officer, and the book returned at once to the Municipal office.

The pass book will be supplied gratis by the Treasury. It is not a Municipal account book, but is simply a copy of the account kept in the Treasury of the money paid in and taken out by the Municipality, and must therefore always be written up only by the Government Treasury department, by whom the original account is kept.

No entries or marks may, under any circumstances, be made in the pass book by any one connected with or working in the Municipal office. At the close of each month the balance in the pass book shall be struck, the amount written in words, and signed by the Treasury officer.

Payment of claims.

17. Claims against a Municipality shall ordinarily be discharged by cheques drawn upon the Municipal banker, that is, in the majority of cases, on the Treasury.

18. The Commissioners, however, may, if they think it desirable, authorize the advance to the Vice-Chairman, accountant, or cashier of the Municipality of a sum of money as an imprest to meet petty expenditure.

The amount of the imprest shall be fixed by the Commissioners.

The rules relating to the recoupment of the imprest, the form in which the transactions are to be recorded, and the periodical exhibition of the charges in the Cash Book of the Municipality will be found in Part II of these rules.

19. No claims shall, under any circumstances, be liquidated out of the cash realizations of the Municipality. All moneys received shall be forwarded intact to the Municipal banker, in the manner prescribed in section 15 of these rules.

Vouchers for payments.

20. Every bill or other claim for payment shall be presented in the first instance to the accountant, who will check and examine the figures, and if they be found correct and in order, will submit the bill for orders to the Chairman or Vice-Chairman. If payment of the bill so presented is to be made, an order for payment shall be endorsed on the document, that is to say, on the bill presented by the person who prefers the claim. The order for payment shall run as follows:—"Pay (Rs.) Rs. only," the amount being written in words as well as in figures, and the order shall be signed by the Vice-Chairman or Chairman, if the amount to be paid do not exceed Rs. 500. An order for the payment of a sum of money in excess of Rs. 500 shall be signed both by the Chairman and Vice-Chairman, or by the Chairman and another Commissioner. No officer of Government or Municipal Commissioner shall sign a payment order for and on behalf of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman. If the Chairman be absent, or from any cause be unable to sign, the Vice-Chairman shall sign; and if the Vice-Chairman be absent, or be unable to sign, the Chairman shall sign. If both Chairman and Vice-Chairman be absent, or be unable to sign, no order for payment shall be made on the bill.

21. If the bill is to be liquidated out of the imprest, the Vice-Chairman shall, before signing the payment order, see the bill stamped with the orders "Paid in cash" in conspicuous type, and shall then make it over to the accountant or cashier for payment. If the bill is to be liquidated by issue of a cheque, it shall be made over to the accountant or cashier and shall be stamped "Paid by cheque No. " in conspicuous type. In the latter case the amount shall be entered, as soon as the cheque is signed, in the appropriate column of the cash book of the municipality (Form No. VI).

22. Every payment made, either in cash or by cheque, shall be covered by a receipt, stamped if necessary, signed by the person to whom the money is due, and to whom it has actually been paid. A receipt signed by another person or by a Municipal employé is invalid.

23. The pay of the Municipal establishment shall be drawn in Bill Form No. IV, and every Municipal employé shall give a receipt in the appropriate column of the form for the sum paid to him. Each Municipal employé who receives a sum exceeding Rs. 20 shall affix a receipt stamp before signing. The cost of such receipt stamp must, of course, be borne by the person who receives the money, and not by the Municipality.

24. One bill, whether for establishment or other charges, shall ordinarily only contain details of charges to be taken against one of the budget heads in the Cash Abstract Register of Expenditure (Form No. VIII). If, however, it be convenient that a bill be presented which contains charges against more than one such head, the accountant shall enface in red ink on the bill itself, above the payment order, the details of the apportionment of the charges. These details shall be also shown in the "Head in cash abstract" column of the Cash Book (Form No. VI).

25. All bills and vouchers that have been paid shall be numbered consecutively for the year in order of payment, and shall be pasted in a guard book.

Sub-vouchers for payments made out of the imprest, however, shall be filed separately, and shall be attached to the periodical account submitted when the imprest is recouped (see rule 71).

Cheques.

26. Cheques drawn on a Government Treasury or Sub-treasury shall be in Form No. V. Cheque books will be supplied to the Chairmen of Municipalities by the officers in charge of Government Treasuries and Sub-treasuries.

27. On receipt of a cheque book from the Treasury or Bank, the officer whose duty it is to sign cheques shall count the cheques, and the cheque books shall remain in his custody.

28. The cheque book in use may be made over to the accountant or cashier whenever required to fill in the amounts passed and shall be returned for signature along with the orders themselves to the officer whose duty it is to sign the cheques. The latter should then satisfy himself that all unused cheques are in the book, and that none have been surreptitiously extracted.

29. No cheque shall ordinarily be signed unless required for immediate delivery to the person to whom the money is to be paid. The practice of retaining signed cheques in the office should not be permitted, except under very exceptional circumstances.

30. Every cheque shall be drawn in English in favour of the person to whom the money is actually due. Payment shall not be made to any other person except on production of a written authority from the creditor to receive it on his behalf. This rule does not apply in the case of a cheque issued for a sum of money distributable as pay or wages among a number of municipal employés, or in recoupment of the imprest.

31. The amount of every cheque drawn shall be written in words as well as in figures, both on the cheque itself and on the counterfoil, and the counterfoil shall be initialled by the person who signs the cheque.

32. Every cheque drawn for a sum in excess of Rs. 20 shall bear a receipt stamp of the value of one anna, and this receipt stamp shall be affixed before the cheque is signed. The cost of the stamp is payable by the Municipality which issues the cheque, and not by the person in whose favour the cheque is drawn.

Cancellation of cheques.

33. When a signed cheque is cancelled it shall be stamped "Cancelled" and initialled by the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or Secretary. The cancelled cheque shall be destroyed by the Government auditor as soon as the accounts for the month in which the cheque was drawn have been audited. The amount of the cancelled cheque shall be entered as a receipt on the debtor side of the Cash Book (Form No. VI) and shall be treated as a refund (see rule 46).

Cash Book.

34. The Cash Book of the Municipality shall be kept in English in Form No. VI by the Municipal accountant. It shall be a substantially bound volume containing a sufficient number of pages to contain at least one year's transactions. It shall be carefully paged before being brought into use.

35. The receipt or debtor side of the Cash Book shall be posted from the counterfoil of the challan (Form No. III) of moneys paid into the Treasury or Bank by the cashier or tax darogah.

36. It may sometimes happen that a sum of money will be found credited in the Municipal pass book which has not been paid in through the cashier or tax darogah of the Municipality. In this case the Vice-Chairman or Secretary shall ascertain the details of the credit, and the same shall be posted into the Cash Book of the Municipality.

In some cases also moneys may be paid direct into the Treasury, for credit to the Municipality, by Court Sub-inspectors or other officers on account of Municipal fines and Pound revenue. In these cases the Cash Book shall be posted from the copy of the challan with which the money has been remitted to the Treasury or Bank. This copy will be furnished to the Municipality by the officer by whom the money was paid in.

37. The payment side of the Cash Book shall be posted from the details of the vouchers and of the cheques drawn. The amount of each cheque shall be entered as soon as the cheque is signed (see rules 29 and 33).

38. The Cash Book shall be balanced at the close of every month, and signed by the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, or Secretary in token of the correctness of every entry made therein. The balance brought out shall be agreed with the balance shown in the pass book of the Municipality, thus :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Balance as per Cash Book
Add cheques drawn, but not yet cashed—
	Rs.	A.	P.
No. ...
No. ...
Total as per pass book

Cash Abstract Registers of Receipts and Expenditure.

39. All the entries on the receipt side of the Cash Book (Form No. VI) shall be posted by the accountant, one by one, direct from the Cash Book into the Cash Abstract Register of Receipts (Form No. VII), and all the entries on the payment side of the Cash Book shall be posted, one by one, into the Cash Abstract Register of Expenditure (Form No. VIII).

The Cash Abstract Registers shall be kept in English, and shall be posted as often as may be convenient, but in no case later than ten days after the close of the month to which the account relates.

40. Each item of receipt or payment appearing in the Cash Book shall be posted separately into the Cash Abstract Registers. Thus if there be two or three payments in one day on account of the same head of expenditure, there will similarly be two or three entries under the same head in the Cash Abstract Register, i.e., the separate items appearing in the Cash Book (Form No. VI), and not the totals of the daily receipts or expenditure for each head, shall be posted into the Cash Abstract Registers.

41. The columns of the Cash Abstract Registers shall be totalled every month, and the totals of the different heads of receipts and expenditure must necessarily be equal to, and shall be compared by the Vice-Chairman or Secretary with, the totals of receipts and payments in the Cash Book (Form No. VI).

42. The numerous detailed heads given in the Cash Abstract Registers (Forms Nos. VII and VIII) are not prescribed heads, but may be abridged or added to as the Commissioners may think desirable. The detailed heads must of course always correspond with the detailed heads shown in the Budget Estimate (Form No. I) (see rule 11).

ADJUSTMENTS.

43. At the foot of each month's account in the Cash Abstract Registers of Receipts and Expenditure (Forms Nos. VII and VIII) two lines are left blank for the purpose of entering therein and bringing upon the books of the Municipality the adjustments made during the month.

44. Adjustments are transactions which have to be recorded in the Monthly and Annual accounts of the Municipality, but which are not actual cash transactions, and which therefore do not in all cases appear in the Municipal Cash Book.

45. Adjustments are of four kinds:—

(1)—The transfer from one head to another of items of receipt or expenditure wrongly classified in the first instance in the Cash Abstract Registers.

(2)—The transfer of a sum of money from the head "Advances" to a head of expenditure for work done by a contractor or other person, the said contractor having originally been granted an advance to enable him to carry out the work.

(3)—Refunds of revenue received or of expenditure incurred during the current year of account.

(4)—The debit to a head of expenditure by credit to "Deposits received" of a sum of money due on a contractor's bill, but not paid, being retained as a security deposit for the due execution of future works.

46. In case (1) the adjustment shall be made by entering the amount in the line for "Adjustments by addition" in the column for the head to which the amount is to be added, and again in red ink in the line for "Adjustments by deduction" in the column for the head from which the amount is to be deducted. Both entries will be made on the Cash Abstract Register of Receipts if the amount is to be transferred from one head of revenue to another, and both will be made in the Cash Abstract Register of Expenditure if the amount is to be transferred from one head of expenditure to another.

In case (2) the adjustment shall be made by entering the amount in the line for "Adjustments by addition" in the column of the Cash Abstract Register of Expenditure for the head to which charges on account of the particular work executed are to be taken, and in the Cash Abstract Register of Receipts in the line for "Adjustments by addition" under the head "Advances recovered." A corresponding entry must of course be made on the receipt or credit side of the Advance Ledger (Form No. XVII—see rule 63) of the person by whom the work was executed and to whom the amount adjusted was originally advanced.

In case (3) the adjustment shall be made by entering the amount in the line "Adjustments by deduction" in the column of the Cash Abstract Register of Receipts or Expenditure for the head to which the amount refunded was originally credited or debited and in the Cash Abstract Register of Expenditure or Receipts in the line for "Adjustments by deduction" in the column for Refunds."

This procedure, however, shall not be followed when the refund made during the month is on account of revenue received during a previous year of account. In this case the amount refunded will remain at the debit of the head "Refunds," and no adjustment shall be made.

In case (4) the adjustment shall be made by entering the amount in the Cash Abstract Register of Expenditure in the line for "Adjustments by addition" in the column for the head to which the balance of the charges of the bill from which the deduction has been made has been taken, and in the Cash Abstract Register of Receipts in the line for "Adjustments by addition" under "Deposits received."

In every case of refund of revenue a note of the refund shall be made against the original entry of receipt in the Cash Book or other register, so as to guard against a second refund of the same amount being accidentally made.

47. Adjustments made by deduction in the Cash Abstract Registers shall always be exhibited in red ink.

Quarterly and Annual Account.

48. At the close of every month the grand totals under the various heads of account recorded in the Cash Abstract Registers (Forms Nos. VII and VIII) shall be entered in English by the accountant in the separate registers (Forms Nos. IX and X) against the corresponding heads under the appropriate month.

49. These two registers form the Quarterly Statement required under section 71 of the Act to be prepared immediately after the close of each quarter. Columns are provided to show the progressive totals for the half-year, the three quarters, and for the whole year, and, in addition, the figures of the sanctioned budget estimate under each head.

50. As soon as possible after the close of the year, and not later than the 15th April following, the totals of the receipts and expenditure of the year as worked out in the last columns of the registers (Forms Nos. IX and X) shall be posted in English by the accountant into the Annual Account (Form No. XI). The details of the expenditure shall be given in a separate schedule, similar in form to that attached to the Budget Estimate (Form No. I), exhibiting the actual and estimated figures in parallel columns. This statement (Form No. XI) will form the Annual Account required to be prepared by the last paragraph of section 71 of Act III (B.C.) of 1884, and by the Government of India in Financial Resolution No. 283, dated 31st August 1883. A copy of this Account shall be sent not later than the 30th April following to the Magistrate of the District in which the Municipality is situated.

51. To enable the Magistrate and the Commissioner of the Division to make the prescribed comparison between the estimates and the actual receipts and expenditure of the Municipality, the amounts by which the actual figures fall short of or exceed the estimated figures shall be shown in two separate columns provided for the purpose within the body of Form No. XI, and also in the schedule of expenditure to be annexed to the statement.

Tax upon Occupiers of Holdings or rate upon the Annual value of Holdings, Latrines Rate, Lighting Rate, and Water Rate.

52. It is not desirable to prescribe hard-and-fast rules as to the procedure to be adopted in the levy of the above rates, as the circumstances of the Municipalities to which these rules will apply vary so greatly. At the same time, it is necessary to record a general system which shall be more or less applicable to all Municipalities. Appendix A of these rules contains the details of two systems of procedure, both of which are already being successfully worked in Bengal. One or other of these systems should be adopted in every Municipality, with such modifications as may be found locally necessary.

53. The forms attached to the Appendix are prescribed forms, i.e., they may not be modified, except with the approval previously obtained of the Accountant-General, Bengal. All the forms, however, need not be adopted. It is expressly stated in Appendix A which of the forms shall be adopted in every Municipality and which are optional.

Tax on Carriages, Horses and other Animals.

54. The register prescribed in section 139 of the Act for the exhibition of the amount of taxes realized on account of carriages, horses, and other animals shall be maintained in Form No. XII.

55. As soon as a license fee or tax has been paid, and not before, the license shall be prepared in Form No. XIII and when the necessary particulars have been posted in the register (Form No. XII), both register and license shall be placed before the duly authorised Licensing Officer. The Licensing Officer shall sign the license and initial the register in the proper column.

Licenses.

56. License forms shall be bound in counterfoil books. No new book shall be brought into use until all the license forms and counterfoils have been consecutively numbered. The numbers shall, if possible, be printed.

57. Only one book shall be given out at a time, and until the book thus issued has been used up no new book shall be given out.

On no account shall loose unnumbered licenses be kept in the office.

Fees on the Registration of Carts.

58. In lieu of licenses, tin tickets may be issued to owners of carts which have been registered. These tin tickets may be of a different colour for each period of issue. They shall be of a size sufficiently large to be easily distinguishable, and they shall bear consecutive numbers.

59. As soon as the registration fee has been paid by the owner of the cart, the necessary particulars shall be entered in a register in Form No. XIV.

60. A stock book of the tin tickets received from the makers shall be kept in Form No. XV. The Vice-Chairman or Secretary shall, at such intervals as shall seem advisable, compare the balance of the tin tickets as brought out in the stock book with the unissued tickets actually in stock.

Miscellaneous receipts.

61. For money received by a Municipality on account of the tax upon Occupiers of Holdings, or Rate upon the Annual value of Holdings, Latrines Rate, Lighting Rate, and Water Rate a form of receipt has been prescribed in Appendix A (Form No. XLV). For money received on account of tax on carriages, horses, and other animals, the license issued will be a sufficient receipt.

For all other money received by the municipality under the rules in this part, a receipt shall be granted in Form No. XVI. The total amount received shall be written in words, both on the receipt itself and on the counterfoil: the latter need only be initialled by the officer who signs the receipt.

The forms shall be bound in books, and they shall be numbered before the book is brought into use.

62. For money received on account of fees for the Registration of Carts, a separate receipt book in the same form shall be used, and so also separate books shall be used for any other head of revenue, the receipts on account of which are numerous.

Advances.

63. All moneys advanced to contractors or to the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, Municipal Commissioners, or other individuals under whose personal superintendence a work is being executed, all sums paid without proper vouchers, the amount of the imprest, and any other advance that may be made shall, in the first instance, be charged to the head "Advances" and entered in the Advance Ledger (Form No. XVII). A separate account shall be opened in this Ledger for each person to whom an advance has been given, and this account shall be credited with the amount of any repayments that may be made.

64. In the case of advances made to contractors or others for the execution of works, the account shall be credited with the actual value of the work done upon receipt of audited detailed bills and proper vouchers for the expenditure incurred out of the advance. These adjustments shall be carried through the Cash Abstract Registers (see rule 45). Before the order for adjustment is made, the bills and vouchers put forward in support of the expenditure shall be passed in the same manner as other bills are passed. The passing order shall run thus:—"Passed for rupees . Adjust by credit to Advance account of and debit to ."

65. The different accounts in the Advance Ledger shall be balanced quarterly and signed by the officer responsible. The officer who signs the accounts shall at the same time satisfy himself that steps are being taken to recover or adjust advances which have been outstanding for more than three months.

Deposits.

66. All sums of money received by way of security deposit from contractors or others, and all sums received which are not the property of the Municipality, and have been placed with the Municipal authorities for a temporary purpose only shall be credited to the head "Deposits received" in the Cash Abstract Register of Receipts (Form No. VII), and shall be entered on the credit or receipt side of the Deposit Ledger (Form No. XVIII). As in the Advance Ledger, a separate account shall be opened for each depositor, and the accounts shall be balanced quarterly and signed by the proper officer.

67. It sometimes happens that deductions (usually ten per cent. of the total amount of the bills) are made from the bills of contractors as security for the due performance of work in the future.

In such cases the bills shall be passed for the full amount due on the bill, but only the net amount paid shall be entered in the Cash Book (Form No. VI). The amount deducted as security shall be brought upon the Municipal accounts and into the Ledger of Deposits (Form No. XVIII) through the medium of the Cash Abstract Register in the manner described in rule 46. The payment order shall run thus:—

Passed for rupees . Pay rupees by cheque and adjust rupees by debit to and credit to Deposits account of Embezzlements.

68. Every embezzlement or misappropriation of Municipal moneys shall be reported at once by the Chairman of the Municipality concerned to the Accountant-General, Bengal.

The report shall contain full details as to the total sum of money misappropriated, the method in which the embezzlement was effected, the absence of any rules by which the fraud was facilitated, and the steps taken to punish the offender.

PART II.

General.

69. The rules and forms in this part are of two classes, viz. those that are prescribed and those that are merely suggested. The former shall be adopted wherever the circumstances of a Municipality render them necessary, e.g., the form for the exhibition of the fees for Hackney Carriage Licenses shall be adopted wherever the provisions of Act V of 1866 (Hackney Carriage Act) are in force, and the form of Imprest Account shall be adopted wherever the Vice-Chairman or other Municipal officer has been granted an imprest for the liquidation of petty expenses.

The suggested forms are those which it is recommended shall be adopted wherever the circumstances of a Municipality permit. Many of the forms are already in use in various Municipalities in Bengal, and have been found to work well.

70. The following is a list of the forms prescribed and suggested under these rules.

IMPREST ACCOUNT—(Prescribed).

71. Whenever the Municipal Commissioners shall decide that an imprest is to be granted to the Vice-Chairman, Secretary, or other officer for the payment of petty charges, the account of the expenditure incurred out of the imprest shall be kept in Form No. XIX. Whenever it becomes necessary to recoup the imprest, the accountant shall copy out the detail of the charges on the counterfoil of the form, make an abstract in red ink of the different heads of account to which the charges are to be taken, and submit the account itself, supported by the sub-vouchers, for the signature of the Vice-Chairman or Secretary.

The sub-vouchers shall in all cases be passed by the Vice-Chairman, previous to payment, in the same manner as are other vouchers (see rule 20).

72. The cheque in recoupment of the imprest shall be drawn in favour of the Vice-Chairman or Secretary, and the abstract of the charges alluded to above shall be copied into the "Head in cash abstract" column of the cash book (Form No. VI).

HACKNEY CARRIAGE LICENSE REGISTER—(Prescribed).

HACKNEY CARRIAGE DRIVERS' REGISTER—(Ditto).

PALANQUIN LICENSE REGISTER—(Ditto).

PALANQUIN BEARERS' LICENSE REGISTER—(Ditto).

73. Fees on account of the above shall be recorded in Registers Nos. XX, XXI, XXII and XXIII respectively. The rules regarding the custody, issue, and record of cart registration tickets shall apply mutatis mutandis to the plates issued under the Acts to owners of hackney carriages, to drivers, and to palanquin bearers.

74. The licenses granted to owners of hackney carriages, to hackney carriage drivers, to owners of palanquins, and to palanquin bearers shall be in Forms Nos. XXIV, XXV, XXVI, and XXVII respectively.

GOVERNMENT SECURITY REGISTER—(Prescribed).

75. All Government securities which shall become by purchase or otherwise, the sole property of a Municipality shall be accounted for in Form No. XXVIII. They shall not be written off this form unless disposed of absolutely by sale or otherwise, e.g., Government Securities merely made over to the Accountant-General for safe custody under the rules contained in Chapter II of the Civil Account Code shall not be written off this account.

LOAN REGISTER—(Prescribed).

76. The transactions in regard to any Loan contracted by a Municipality shall be recorded in Form No. XXIX.

DISPENSARY SUBSCRIPTION REGISTER—(Prescribed).

77. The register for the record of donations and subscriptions for a Charitable Dispensary shall be kept in Form No. XXX. The column "Date of remittance to Municipal office" shall be filled in by the officer who makes the remittance.

MISCELLANEOUS SUBSCRIPTION REGISTER—(Prescribed).

78. It sometimes happens that a Municipality undertakes the collection of voluntary subscriptions to be devoted to a specific purpose, such as the erection of a Town Hall or Market. Subscriptions are frequently promised but are not paid up at once, and unless a systematic plan exists for the record and collection of promised subscriptions the Municipality is likely to incur serious loss.

The following system is therefore prescribed. The Subscription Book or books to be sent round with the appeal for subscriptions shall be in Form No. XXXI. If receipts are given to subscribers for their contributions, the Form No. XVI prescribed in these rules for the grant of miscellaneous receipts shall be brought into use. The contributions shall be credited to a distinct head in the Cash Abstract Register of Receipts.

At the end of each month or quarter the amounts (whether paid up or not) shown in the Subscription Books (Form No. XXXI) shall be totalled, and the total posted into an abstract in Form No. XXXII. The abstract shall be checked and signed by the Vice-Chairman or Secretary. The officer who signs the abstract shall at the same time satisfy himself that steps are being taken to realize the promised subscriptions.

Receipts on Account of Municipal Pounds.
Rent of Municipal Buildings, Lands, &c.

Separate registers shall be opened to show the details of each source from which periodical Municipal revenue is derived, for which there is a fixed monthly, quarterly, half-yearly, or annual demand.

The registers shall have columns to show—(1) serial number; (2) name or number of pound, building, plot of land, &c.; (3) term of lease; (4) name of lessee; (5) amount of monthly, quarterly, half-yearly, or annual rent; (6) number of bill; (7) initials of Vice-Chairman; (8) date of payment; (9) remarks, together with columns for any other particulars, which the special circumstances of the case may render necessary.

80. Whenever the number of buildings, land, &c., is large, it will be necessary to prepare a periodical abstract similar in form to Form No. XLIX (Progress Statement of Demands, Collection, &c., on account of the Tax upon the Occupiers of Holdings), so that the Vice-Chairman or Secretary may be enabled to exercise an efficient check over the outstanding dues.

Register of Security Deposits other than Cash.—(Prescribed).

81. Security deposited in cash shall be credited at once in the Cash Book of the Municipality to the head "Deposits received," and paid into the Bank or Treasury like revenue. All other forms of security, such as Government paper, Savings Bank balances deposited under the rules in paragraph 17 of Chapter 19 of the Civil Account Code, bonds for landed property, and the like, shall be recorded in a Register in Form No. XXXIII. When the security is surrendered the depositor shall give a receipt in the column provided for the purpose.

Bill Form—(Suggested).

82. It is suggested that miscellaneous bills for work done for, and for supplies made to, Municipalites should, as far as possible, be of a uniform pattern. Form No. XXXIV is suggested for this purpose. The bill may, of course, be prepared either in English or in the vernacular, and creditors of a Municipality might be invited to make out their bills in these forms, which would of course be supplied by the Municipality free of charge.

Sanction Register—(Suggested).

83. Under section 78 of Act III of 1884, the Municipal Act, the Commissioners are required to sanction at a meeting, by a general or special resolution, the expenditure of any or every sum provided in the Estimate for the year.

84. In most Municipalities it is the practice to sanction in one resolution the expenditure of the whole of the sum provided in the Estimate. In this case no separate Sanction Register will be necessary, but in Municipalities where portions of the expenditure provided in the Estimate are sanctioned from time to time it will be advisable to open a register to record these sanctions. Form No. XXXVI is recommended as suitable for the purpose.

ADJUSTMENT REGISTERS—(Suggested).

85. When the adjustments of Advances by bills for work executed (see rule 64) and the credit to Deposits by deduction from the total amounts of bills presented by contractors (see rule 67) are numerous, it will be advisable to open two Adjustment Registers for the daily record of these transactions as they occur, so that none may be omitted when the Cash Abstract Registers are posted at the end of the month.

86. It is suggested that the register to show adjustments of advances by bills for work done should be in Form No. XXXVI, and that the register to show the credits to deposits by debit to the different heads of expenditure should be in Form No. XXXVII.

Both registers should of course be totalled monthly.

NOTICE TO OWNERS OF CARRIAGES, HORSES, AND OTHER ANIMALS.—(Suggested).

87. Under section 133 of Act III of 1884, the Bengal Municipal Act, owners of carriages, horses, and other animals liable to the tax are required to forward to the Commissioners statements in writing containing descriptions of the carriages, horses, and other animals for which they are bound to take out licenses. To facilitate this procedure it is recommended that a supply of printed statements in Form No. XXXVIII should be obtained and distributed to the owners of vehicles which are taxable. These forms might with advantage be circulated by post to the owners of the different carriages, horses, &c., for which taxes were paid during the preceding half-year.

MISCELLANEOUS BILL REGISTER—(Suggested).

88. When the number of Miscellaneous Bills, for the record of which forms have not been prescribed or suggested in these rules, is large, it is recommended that Form No. XXXIX should be utilized. The Vice-Chairman or Secretary should initial the Register when he signs the bills, previous to their being issued, and again when the amounts are realized.

SERVICE BOOKS—(Suggested).

89. As, under section 47 of Act III of 1884, the Bengal Municipal Act, it is within the competence of the Commissioners, subject to the approval of Government, to make rules regulating the grant of pensions and gratuities out of the Municipal Fund, it is advisable, whenever such rules shall have been made and approved, that Municipal employés be required to keep up Service Books.

90. The opening page of the Service Book should be divided for entries in the following form:—

(1) Name.
(2) Race.
(3) Residence.
(4) Father's name and residence.
(5) Date of birth by Christian era, as nearly as can be ascertained.
(6) Exact height by measurement.
(7) Personal marks of identification.
(8) Signature of officer.
(9) Signature of Vice-Chairman.

The entries in this page should be renewed or re-attested at least every five years.

The remaining pages should be divided for entries in the following form:—

(1) Name of appointment.
(2) Whether substantive or acting.
(3) If acting, state the substantive appointment.
(4) Pay.
(5) Acting allowance.
(6) Date of appointment.
(7) Signature of officer.
(8) Reference to any recorded punishment or censure or reward or praise of the officer.

(9) Signature of Vice-Chairman.
(10) Date of termination of appointment.
(11) Reason of termination (such as promotion, dismissal, &c.)
(12) Signature of Vice-Chairman.

All the headings in the Service Book should be printed both in English and in the vernacular.

91. Service books should be maintained by every Municipal officer or servant in permanent employ. Every appointment, leave of every description (except casual), every period of suspension from employment, and every other breach of service should be noted in them, the date of the beginning and end of every employment or absence being certified at the time by the signature of the Vice-Chairman or Secretary. The Service Book should be a contemporary record in minute detail of a person's official career.

The Service Books should be kept in the custody of the Vice-Chairman or Secretary.

APPENDIX A.

Procedure to be adopted by Municipalities in Bengal for the collection of taxes upon occupiers of holdings, rates upon the annual value of holdings, latrine-rates, lighting-rates, and water-rates.

GENERAL.

1. The object of the rules detailed in this Appendix is to ensure the punctual and systematic delivery and service of all bills once in the course of the first month of the quarter for which the bills are due, and the collection and adjustment of the whole demand within the quarter for which the bills are issued.

2. Laxity in the supervision of the collections of the above rates, and the consequent accumulation of a heavy sum total of arrears, are the causes of nine-tenths of the embezzlements of Municipal funds, which are brought to light. If the collection of the rates is once allowed to fall into arrears, it becomes almost impossible even for the official auditors appointed by Government to detect misappropriations by the tax-collecting staff.

It is imperatively necessary, therefore, that Municipal Commissioners should enquire promptly into applications for revision or exemption from assessment under section 113, into the lists of irrecoverable taxes prepared from time to time by the tax darogah under section 130, and further that they should avail themselves, to the fullest extent, of the machinery provided in sections 120 to 129 of the Act for the realization of taxes from defaulters.

3. Taxes must either be collected or remitted, and if the Commissioners decide that a tax due by a defaulting owner or occupier of a holding is not to be remitted, they must take prompt steps for its immediate realization.

4. It is to be observed that applications for review of, or exemption from, assessment under section 113 can only be received, either before the expiration of one month from the date of publication of the notice required by section 112, relating to the list containing the assessment valuation or rating in respect of which the application is made, or after the expiration of fifteen days from the date of service of the first notice of demand for payment, at the rate in respect of which the application is made, whichever period shall last expire.

It follows, therefore, that the only time at which applications for revision of, or exemption from, assessment are likely to be numerous is within a month or six weeks of the publication of the list containing the assessments.

It is, therefore, recommended that, whenever a new assessment is made in a Municipality, a Commission, of not less than three Commissioners, be appointed under section 114 to enquire promptly into and decide applications.

DIVISION OF MUNICIPAL AREA INTO CIRCLES.

5. Each Municipality shall be divided into collecting circles by a calculation based on the area of ground to be traversed and the number of bills to be delivered, and to each circle shall be appointed a sircar. Endeavours should be made to render the collecting circles as compact as possible, and, as a rule, no collecting circle shall contain more houses than can be visited by one sircar during the working days of a month.

6. Under the general control of the tax darogah, each sircar shall have entire charge of, and be responsible for, the collection and disposal of the amounts of bills connected with the particular collecting circle assigned to him.

ASSESSMENT.

7. Assessments of the rate upon the annual value of holdings, or of the tax upon occupiers of holdings, are customarily framed for a period of three years, and, as it is unnecessary labour to copy year after year so bulky a volume, it will be more convenient if a permanent Assessment Register of the tax upon occupiers, or a permanent Valuation Register of the rate upon the value of holdings, be prepared for the period for which the assessment has to run.

8. Forms for these registers are prescribed (Form Nos. XL and XLI) and are attached to these rules. One or other of these registers shall be maintained in every Municipality. The registers are self-explanatory, and provide for the various stages of the procedure laid down in the Act, for the preparation of the assessment. The registers shall be kept in detail of collecting circles—one volume for each collecting circle—sub-divided into roads, villages, or streets as may be found most convenient. The amount assessed for each road, village, or street shall be separately totalled, and an abstract prepared at the commencement of the volume, bringing together these separate totals into one view. As the tax upon the annual value of holdings is leviable from the owners of holdings, while the water-rates, latrines-rates and lighting-rates are leviable from the occupiers of holdings, a separate set of all the registers and forms prescribed or suggested in this appendix must be used for the record of the collection on account of the latter descriptions of tax, i.e., one for owners and one for occupiers.

9. The Assessment Register shall be carefully compared by the Vice-Chairman, Secretary, or a Commissioner appointed for the purpose, with the assessment list or the valuation and rating list published under the Act, and each register shall be signed by the person by whom the comparison has been made The original assessment list or valuation and rating list will have included the names of all occupiers of holdings or details of every holding in the Municipality, whether the occupiers or owners are required to pay the tax or not. The Assessment Registers, however, will only contain the names of those occupiers or owners of holdings who it has been decided by the Commissioners shall pay the tax.

10. The Assessment Registers are the original records of the demand of the most important of the Muncipal taxes, and it is essential, therefore, that they be neatly kept, that erasures in them be absolutely prohibited, that all alterations be initialled by the Vice-Chairman or Secretary, and that the officer who signs the bills for the quarterly demand shall compare the amount of the bills with the corresponding figures in the Assessment Registers.

11. Petitions against the assessment should, if possible, be presented in forms of a uniform patern. The use of Form No. XLII is suggested for this purpose.

12. All new assessments made after the publication of the list under section 112, and all increases to the original assessments, shall be posted in a prescribed register in Form No. XLIII under the initial of the Vice-Chairman or Secretary. The two money columns headed "Amount of former quarterly instalment" and "Amount of future quarterly instalment" in this register shall be totalled at the end of every quarter, and the details of the new and increased assessments posted into the assessment or valuation registers in the section or sections devoted to the road, street, or village where the new or improved holdings are situated.

13. It must be remembered that the new and enhanced assessments can, under section 93 of the Act, only take effect from the beginning of the quarter next following that in which such new assessments or enhancements are made.

Remissions.

14. Decreases in the assessment take the form (1) either of reduction of assessment caused by the holding becoming uninhabitable; or (2) of a permanent remission in consequence of the extreme poverty of the occupier; or (3) of a temporary remission in consequence of the holding being vacant or unoccupied. In cases (1) and (2) the details of the remission granted must be posted from the Remission Register, Form No. XLIV (see next paragraph), into the Assessment or Valuation Register. In case (3) the details of the remission granted need not be posted into the Assessment or Valuation Register, the entry in the Bill Register, Form No. XLVI, being sufficient.

15. In all three cases full particulars of the remissions granted shall be entered in a register in prescribed Form No. XLVI, the Register of Remissions, under the initial of the Vice-Chairman or Secretary. The columns headed "Amount of original quarterly tax," "Amount remitted" and "Amount of future quarterly tax" shall be totalled at the end of every quarter, and as often as it may be found desirable to prepare the prescribed statement of demands, collections, remissions and outstanding balance (see Rule 23). The amount remitted for each quarter for each holding shall be shown in the column provided for the purpose in the Remission Register, but of course only one entry as to the amount of the future quarterly tax need be entered for each holding.

16. The only really effectual way of supervising the collection of the tax on holdings or on persons, and the latrines, lighting, and water-rates is to compare the balance of the rates shown to be outstanding according to the Municipal books with the actual aggregate of the counterfoil red receipts in the hands of the collecting agency. It is imperatively necessary, therefore, first, that the counterfoil bill forms (see Rule 18) be kept in a place of safety until required for use, so that none may be surreptitiously abstracted and filled in, and, secondly, that whenever a remission is granted, the counterfoil bill receipt upon which the remission has been made be put up with the list of remissions and stamped "Cancelled" in large type. It will then be impossible for the collecting agency either to prepare fraudulent receipts or to put up receipts which have really been remitted in support of the account of the outstanding balance of the demand.

Bills for Rates and Method of their Service.

17. Bills, in cheque form, of three parts, printed either in English, or in the vernacular, or both, shall be prepared in the prescribed Form No. XLV. They shall be filled up from the information recorded in the Assessment Registers, and they shall bear consecutive numbers, where possible, printed. The bills shall be signed or stamped with a fac simile signature by the Chairman, Vice-Chairman, Secretary, or the Municipal Commissioner for the Ward in which the bills are issued, and the details shall be entered in the Bill Register (prescribed Form No. XLVI). If a fac simile stamp be used for signing bills, care must be taken that it is always kept in a place of safety.

18. The Bill Register shall be totalled every quarter under the initials of the Vice-Chairman or Secretary.

19. The bills for each collecting circle shall be arranged in parcels, one for each sub-division as defined in Rule 8, and upon the last day of the quarter the collecting sircars shall present themselves at the Municipal office and each shall take away one or more parcels of bills for delivery. Should the tax be paid upon demand, the bill and the receipt duly receipted by the sircar shall be made over to the tax-payer, the date of payment noted by the sircar in the counterfoil of the bill, and the details for each paid bill entered in the sircar's Daily Receipt Register (prescribed Form No. XLVII).

20. If the tax be not paid upon demand, the sircar shall separate the bill from the receipt, which is printed in red ink for the purpose of reducing the chance of a mistake to a minimum, and serve the bill upon the assessee in the manner prescribed in section 356 of the Act. At the same time he shall, whenever possible, mention the date on which he will call again for the amount (see Rule 25).

21. When the sircar shall have served all the bills which formed the parcel or parcels received by him, he shall return to the office and deliver to the tax darogah all the money collected, together with the counterfoil bill book, and the receipts of the bills in his parcel which have not been paid, and also his account in Form No. XLVII duly totalled, and provided with an abstract at foot of the account, showing how much has been collected on account of the demand for each quarter separately. The total of his account should of course agree with the amount of money paid in and with the aggregate of the counterfoils of the bills which are missing from the bill cheque book. The tax darogah shall at once test the account by these counterfoils, also by counting the money paid in, and by checking the totals. If all is in order, he shall initial the account in token of having received the money. The parcel of bills appertaining to the next sub-division shall then be made over to the sircar for collection.

22. Each sircar shall be provided with two Daily Receipt Registers (Form No. XLVII), in which to exhibit his receipts; he shall take one book with him on his collecting rounds and leave the other in the office to enable the tax darogah to post up the necessary entries as to the date of payment of bills, &c., in the Bill Register (Form No. XLVI), and to prepare his Register of Collections and Remissions on account of the demand for each quarter (prescribed Form No. XLVIII) see next Rule.

Tax Darogah's Register of Collections and Remissions on account of the Demand for each Quarter.

23. A separate register, in prescribed Form No. XLVIII, shall be maintained by the tax darogah for the demand for each quarter. From this register the tax darogah shall prepare and lay before the Vice-Chairman, at not less intervals than once a month, the statement (prescribed Form XLIX), showing the progress made in the collections of the rate for each quarter. These statements shall be verified by the Vice-Chairman or Secretary, and Accountant, and shall be laid before the Commissioners each month at their ordinary monthly meeting held under section 38 of the Act.

Service of duplicate Bills and Notices of Demand and the Issue of Distress Warrants.

24. On the first day of the second month of the quarter, the sircar shall again serve, in the manner before described, the unpaid receipts together with notices of demand, which will, in the interval, have been attached to the receipts by the tax darogah in the office. If the demand still remains unpaid, the notices of demand shall be left with the assessees, and the unpaid receipts shall be returned to the tax darogah for the preparation of distress warrants, with a note of the date on which the notices of demand were served. When fifteen days shall have elapsed after the delivery of a notice of demand, the sircar shall proceed with the warrant of distress, and if the demand as well as the fee prescribed by law for the warrant expenses, be not then satisfied, he shall make an attachment of the defaulter's property, preparing an inventory of all goods and chattels so attached, and proclaiming a notice of sale by beat of drum.

Bills paid at Office.

25. In the event of any unpaid bill being brought to the Municipal office, and there satisfied, the tax darogah shall take the receipt out of the counterfoil bill-book, and hand it over to the payee, noting the payment on the counterfoil, and entering the amount in a daily account (Form No. XLVII), similar to that used by the sircars. The position of a tax darogah in regard to any collections realized at the office will be precisely that of a sircar in his collecting circle, and he will dispose of the account which he prepares in Form No. XLVII precisely as he does of those submitted to him by the sircars for their out-door collections.

COLLECTION OF TAXES AT THE MUNICIPAL OFFICE.

26. An alternative procedure is also suggested under which the division of the Municipal area into circles, the compilation of the assessment, and the preparation of the bills will be carried out in the same manner as under the procedure described above. The distinctive feature of the alternative procedure consists in the refusal to permit the sircars to collect any money. Their duty will be strictly limited to the service of the bills upon the assessees, and the service of the bills will be carried out precisely as described above; but as each bill will contain a caution against the payment of any money to the server of the bill, and a direction to the rate-payer to proceed to the Municipal office, and there to deposit the amount of the bill, it will only be necessary to arrange for the systematic service of the rate bills by the sircars upon each assessee during the course of the month.

27. At the close of each week the books containing the counterfoils of the bills and the receipts will be returned by the serving peons to the Municipal office with a certificate that every bill missing from the book has been properly served upon the assessee.

28. The tax darogah, assisted by any number of additional clerks, should remain in the Municipal office, at a counter, during certain fixed hours of each day, and upon presentation of a bill which has been served upon an assessee by the sircar, he should receive the amount tendered and make over to the tax-payer the receipt which corresponds to the number of the bill. The amount so received should be entered in a day book in Form No. XLVII, one book being used for each description of rate or tax. If two or three receiving clerks are employed to receive taxes, each should have a separate day book.

FORECAST OF CROPS IN BENGAL.

No. 161T—R, dated Darjeeling, the 3rd May 1886.

From—P. NOALN, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Revenue Dept.
To—The Director of the Agricultural Department, Bengal.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 321, dated 20th March 1886, in which, after discussing various suggestions which have been made for the preparation of forecasts of the rice and jute crops of Bengal, you propose that the Commissioners of the principal Divisions in which jute is grown, namely, Rajshahye, Dacca, Chittagong, the Presidency, and Bhagulpore, should be called on to select those gentlemen, European and native, who have the best means of giving the desired information, and that these gentlemen should report to you both as to the area sown and the prospects of the crop between the time of sowing and reaping; that the information thus collected should be edited in your office in communication with the Chamber of Commerce and Council of the Horticultural Society; and that it should then be published in the Calcutta Gazette, copies being supplied gratis to the reporters.

2. In reply, I am to state that the Lieutenant-Governor approves of your proposal, and desires that the steps necessary for giving effect to it may be taken at once, so that all the requisite arrangements may be made in time to publish a forecast of the coming jute crop. A copy of the correspondence will be forwarded to the Commissioners of the Divisions specified in your letter, and they will be requested to afford you such assistance as you may require.

3. In the eighth paragraph of your letter, you sketch a plan by which the quantity of jute produced in these provinces may be estimated on the basis of the imports into Calcutta and Chittagong, adding a percentage for consumption in the interior, and deducting the amount received from Burmah and Assam; and from the quantity produced the area under cultivation can be calculated, on the assumption that $15\frac{1}{3}$ maunds represents the average outturn per acre. Upon this point I am directed to observe that what is at present required under the instructions of the Government of India is a prospective indication of the outturn of the jute harvest in Bengal, and that this purpose cannot be attained by an estimate, which would be approximate only, made after the fibre had reached the exporting marts.

4. As it is important to secure the best possible forecast of the jute crop for the coming season, the Lieutenant-Governor wishes to limit your enquiries to that crop for the present. If the plan which you propose has in it the element of success, it can afterwards be extended so as to include rice, wheat, and perhaps other products.

5. The weekly reports at present submitted by Collectors on crops, weather, and prices should, under existing orders, show the agricultural condition of every district in Bengal, including the prospects of jute and rice. I am to request that you will at once arrange to make those reports serviceable as materials for forming for casts of the extent of rice under cultivation, and of the prospects of the different harvests. Upon this subject you can address the Commissioners of Divisions.

No. 321, dated Calcutta, the 20th March 1886.

From—M. FINUCANE, Esq., Director of the Agricultural Department, Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your endorsement No. 1800—107Agri., dated 13th August, forwarding Mr. Bayley's letter No. $\frac{549\text{-}50}{6-150}$A, dated the 14th July, and calling for an expression of my opinion as to the possibility of supplying forecasts of rice and jute crops in Bengal, similar to those furnished for the principal crops in other provinces of India.

2. With their letter No. 904-6—194A, dated the 22nd October 1885, the Government of India sent the Revenue Department of the Bengal Government a copy of a despatch No. 92, dated 10th September 1885, from Her Majesty's Secretary of State, with which was forwarded a letter from the Dundee Chamber of Commerce, dated 12th of August 1885. In that letter the Chamber represented that in 1873 a memorandum regarding the growth and cultivation of the jute crop was placed before the Hon'ble Sir George Campbell, Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal in 1873, in which it was represented that the publication by Government annually, between the sowing and reaping of the jute crop, of statistics of the quantity likely to be produced would be of very great importance. The Directors of the Chamber expressed themselves to be strongly of opinion that such statistics would be of great advantage to the trade. They understood, they added, that the proposal to publish such statistics was carried out at the time, but they were not aware whether such publication has been continued, and they requested that they should be furnished with the latest information on the subject. The Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State enquired, first, whether the statistics referred to by the Dundee Chamber have hitherto been compiled by the Government of Bengal; and secondly, can such statistics now be furnished. The Government of India has asked what steps the Government of Bengal propose to take in order to give effect to the requisition, and I have accordingly been asked to report on the subject. I now beg to reply to your communications of the 13th August and 10th of September, premising that I have hitherto been unable to do so, because I awaited an opportunity of ascertaining the views on the subject of the principal merchants interested in the jute trade, of which during the course of a recent visit to Naraingunge I have been able to avail myself.

3. The answer to the first question put by the Secretary of State is that no statistics of the area under cultivation with jute have been collected by the Bengal Government since the report of the Jute Commission, referred to by the Dundee Chamber of Commerce, was published in 1872-73, and that no such statistics were possible without a village agency for the purpose, such as exists in all other provinces of India, or at least without the imposition by law on landholders of an obligation to file returns of cropped areas in some public office, or otherwise to give information regarding the areas sown under jute or other crops. No such agency exists at present, and landholders are under no obligation to give any information regarding the areas sown with any particular crop. It is therefore impossible, without special legislation, and without the creation of some sort of special agency for the purpose, to give any statistics, worth the name, of the kind called for, showing areas sown in Bengal under jute, rice, and other crops.

4. It has been suggested that such statistics might be collected through the police or the Revenue authorities on the principle of showing for each village whether it grows much, little, or none of each product. The plan of collecting such information through the present staff of Revenue authorities on this principle seems to me to be impracticable. There are at present not more than some ten or twelve Revenue officials in an ordinary Bengal district, and they are responsible for the entire work of administration, extending over an area, on an average, as large as half of Wales, and for the government of a population equal to two-thirds of that of all Scotland. That these officers, already overburdened with work, should be able to devote their time to the ascertainment of the fact whether there is much, little, or none of a particular crop grown in every village in the vast areas under their control, is therefore, it will be seen, entirely out of the question. The magnitude of the task which would have to be undertaken in the compilation of such returns for the entire province will be understood from the fact that there are 264,765 villages in these provinces, and that a mere list of these villages, with the names written down an inch apart one from the other, would extend beyond a distance of four miles. But assuming that Revenue officers might show for each village, whether it contained "much," "little" or "none" of a particular crop, the information when obtained would not afford the means of preparing estimates of the areas under that crop, and would be of little practical value. A Collector of a district or Sub-Divisional Officer can now say in a general way whether his district or sub-division grows much, little, or none of any particular crop, and we should get no further by saying the same thing at the cost of much labour for each village.

5. Nor, it appears, can such statistics be collected through the agency of the Police. Apart from the consideration that it would be highly inexpedient to allow the Police to institute inquisitorial investigations in matters of the kind, and setting aside the objections which the Police authorities would certainly urge against the diversion of police constables from their legitimate police duties, there is the further objection that any statistics which the Police could collect would be mere guesses entirely unworthy of trust, and they would have the defect, as compared with the estimates of Revenue authorities, that they would be the guesses of untrustworthy and unintelligent persons instead of being the guesses of intelligent and disinterested authorities.

6. The position then is this, that there is not in Bengal any village agency for the collection of statistics of cropped areas such as exists in other provinces; that such statistics cannot be collected through the ordinary executive Revenue agency, nor through the Police. If, therefore, such statistics are to be collected at all, it follows that either an agency must be created and paid by Government for the purpose, or an obligation must be imposed on landholders to file returns in some public office, showing approximately the areas sown under such crops as may be desired, Government supplying the staff necessary for the examination and compilation of such returns. Legislation in this direction is now pending before the Bengal Council, and need not be discussed here. Without such legislation, it seems to me that the answer to the second question put by the Secretary of State must be that trustworthy statistics regarding the area under jute, or any other crop in Bengal, cannot be given. It may be said that forecasts of the area under wheat and other staple crops are prepared in the North-Western Provinces from information supplied by private landholders, and there would at first sight seem to be no reason why the same thing should not be done in Bengal. But I would beg to point out that the normal area under each crop is known from the settlement and putwari's record in the North-Western Provinces. When, therefore, we are told that the area in any particular year is so many annas, more or less, than the normal area, a definite idea of area is conveyed, and figured estimates can thus be formed; but there being no field maps, survey records, or returns of cropped areas in Bengal, the total area under cultivation is not known, much less is the normal area known which is sown under any particular crop. Therefore it is that information such as is supplied by private zemindars in the North-Western Provinces would not, if supplied in Bengal, afford the means of arriving at any conclusion as to the area under jute, rice, or any other crop at any particular time.

7. But though statistics of the area under jute or rice or other crop cannot be given, it does not, in my opinion, follow that no information whatever can be furnished which may be of value to persons interested in the jute trade, and this leads to the consideration of what may be done in this direction.

8 A systematic registration of the traffic of the imports to Calcutta and Chittagong was begun in 1876-77; the quantities imported since that time to these ports (which in reality represents the bulk of the total production of these provinces and of Assam) can therefore be ascertained. If to this quantity a certain percentage for the quantity consumed in the interior be added, and the quantity imported from Assam and Burmah, which is also known be deducted, the total quantity produced in these provinces year by year can be estimated. Allowing 15$\frac{1}{8}$ maunds—the quantity estimated by the Jute Commission of 1872-73—as the average outturn per acre, the total area grown under jute in each year can thus be ascertained with some approximation to truth; but the figures given can only be an approximation. They may be taken for what they are worth, and are of value only to this extent, that they indicate whether the area grown in any year is more or less than the area for any other year shown in the statement.

9. Working out the figures from these data, the area estimated to have been under cultivation with jute is shown in the note annexed, which contains all the information of the kind now called for which it is possible to give with the very imperfect materials at our disposal.

10. Turning to the subject of forecasts, it will be gathered from the preceding remarks that it is, in my opinion, totally impossible, as things now stand, to give anything like exact estimates of the areas cultivated with rice, jute, or other staple crops for every or any district in Bengal; but it does not appear that any such exact estimates are required in the interests of persons concerned in these articles of trade. What merchants really want to have is early and trustworthy information from disinterested sources as to whether more or less than the normal area, whatever that normal area may be, is sown in each year, and knowing the area sown to be more or less than the normal, they desire to be informed whether the prospects of the crop at the various stages of its growth are better or worse than usual.

11. Having personally ascertained the views of the principal jute merchants in Naraingunge, and consulted the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Council of the Agri-Horticultural Society regarding the possibility of furnishing information of this kind, and also on the point whether, when gathered, such information would be worth the labour involved in the collection of it, I am of opinion that there will be no great difficulty in collecting this kind of information, and to this extent publishing forecasts of the prospects of the jute crop, it being always understood that all that can be ascertained and published is, first, roughly, whether more or less than the normal area is sown each year, if so, by how many annas the area sown is more or less than the normal; and secondly, whether the prospects of the crop at the different stages of its growth are better or worse than usual.

12. If information of this kind is thought to be of value to the trade, as I am informed it is, then the arrangements I would suggest for the collection and publication of it is that the Commissioners of the principal divisions in which jute is grown, namely, Rajshahye, Dacca, Chittagong, Presidency and Bhagulpore, should be called upon to select those gentlemen—European and native—in their several divisions who have the best means of giving the desired information for the various local areas in which the crop is extensively grown; that these gentlemen should report to this office direct, or, if thought necessary, through the Commissioners of Divisions, both as to the area sown and the prospects of the crop between the time of sowing and reaping; that the information thus collected should be edited in my office in communication with the Chamber of Commerce and the Council of the Horticultural Society, and that it should then be published in the Calcutta Gazette, copies of the forecasts being supplied gratis to the reporters. It has been ascertained that the merchants at Naraingunge, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Council of the Horticultural Society, are willing to co-operate in carrying out these arrangements both by way of collecting the desired information, and by suggesting the names of persons who are competent and willing to report on the prospects of the crop; and as regards the latter bodies, also, by examining and collating the mofussil reports when received. If Government approves, action in the direction now indicated can be taken without delay.

13. Similar action might possibly be taken as regards the preparation of forecasts of the wheat crop. It has been suggested that forecasts of the rice crop might be prepared in the same way working through the agency of local unions; but the area covered under that crop is so vast, and the organisation of local unions is necessarily as yet so far from being in complete working order, that any attempt to prepare forecasts of that crop through the agency of local unions seems to me to be premature.

14. As regards tea and indigo, it would appear that sufficiently accurate returns of the estimated outturn and of the prospects of these crops are already compiled by Messrs. William Moran and Company, Calcutta, and the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, and no action for preparation of forecasts of these products on the part of Government would seem to be required.

15. In conclusion, I would add that, though I think it possible to prepare forecasts of crops in Bengal to the extent and upon the data mentioned in this letter, I am at the same time of the opinion that there is great danger that the limitations, subject to which such forecasts can alone be prepared in these provinces, are likely in time to be lost sight of; that a fictitious importance may be attached to these forecasts as being issued under official authority, and therefore that it may be questioned whether it is worth while to attempt to prepare them at all, unless and until a suitable agency is provided for the purpose, such as exists in all other provinces of India.

FORECASTS AND STATISTICS OF THE JUTE CROP IN BENGAL.

Statistics required by the Dundee Chamber of Commerce.

1. With their letter No. 904-6—194A, dated the 22nd October 1885, the Government of India sent the Revenue Department of the Bengal Government a copy of a despatch, No. 92, dated 10th September 1885, from Her Majesty's Secretary of State, with which was forwarded a letter from the Dundee Chamber of Commerce, dated 12th August 1885. In that letter the Chamber represented that a memorandum regarding the growth and cultivation of the jute crop was placed before the Hon'ble Sir George Campbell, Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, in 1873, in which it was represented that the publication by Government annually, between the sowing and reaping of the jute crop, of statistics of the quantity likely to be produced would be of very great importance. The Directors of the Chamber expressed themselves to be strongly of opinion that such statistics would be of great advantage to the trade. They understood, they added, that a proposal to publish statistics of the kind was carried out at the time, but they are not aware whether such publication has been continued, and they requested that they should be furnished with the latest information on the subject. The Right Hon'ble the Secretary of State enquired, first, whether the statistics referred to by the Dundee Chamber of Commerce have hitherto been compiled by the Government of Bengal; and secondly, can such statistics now be furnished. The Government of India has accordingly asked what steps the Government of Bengal propose to take in order to give effect to the requisition.

Accurate statistics of area under cultivation cannot be collected.

2. The answer to the first question is that no statistics of the area under cultivation with jute have been collected by the Bengal Government since the report of the Jute Commission, referred to by the Dundee Chamber of Commerce, was published in 1872-73, and that no such statistics were possible without a village agency for the purpose, such as exists in all other provinces of India, or at least without the imposition by law on landholders of a legal obligation to file returns of cropped areas, in some public office or otherwise, to give information regarding the areas sown under jute or other crops. No such agency exists at present, and landholders are under no obligation to give any information regarding the areas sown with any particular crop. It is therefore impossible, without special legislation, and without the creation of some sort of agency for their compilation, to give any statistics, worth the name, showing areas sown under jute, rice, and other crops in Bengal. It has been suggested that such statistics might be collected through the Police or the Revenue authorities on the principle of showing for each village whether it contains much, little or none of the crop. The plan of collecting such information through the present staff of Revenue authorities on this principle seems to me to be entirely impracticable. There are at present some ten or twelve Revenue officials in an ordinary Bengal district, and they are responsible for the entire work of administration, extending over an area, on an average, as large as half of Wales, and for the Government of a population equal to two-thirds of that of all Scotland. That these officers, already overburdened with work should be able to devote their time to the ascertainment of the fact whether there is much, little or none of a particular crop grown in every village in the vast areas under their control, is therefore, it will be seen, entirely out of the question. The magnitude of the task which would have to be undertaken in the compilation of such statements for all Bengal will be understood from the fact that there are 264,765 villages in these provinces, and that a mere list of these villages, with the names written down one inch each apart, would extend beyond a distance of four miles. But assuming that Revenue officers might show for each village, whether it contained "much," "little" or "none" of a particular crop, the information when obtained would not enable us to give the areas under any crop, and would be of little practical value. A Collector of a district or Sub-Divisional Officer can now say in a general way whether his district or subdivision grows much, little or none of any crop, and we should get no further by saying the same thing at the cost of much labour for each village.

3. Nor can such statistics be collected through the agency of the Police. Apart from the consideration that it would be highly inexpedient to allow the Police to institute inquisitorial investigations in matters of the kind, and setting aside the objections which the Police authorities would certainly urge against the diversion of police subordinates from their legitimate police duties, there is the further objection that any statistics which the Police could collect would be mere guesses, entirely unworthy of trust, and they would have this defect, as compared with the estimate of Revenue authorities, that they would be the guesses of untrustworthy or unintelligent persons instead of being the guesses of intelligent and disinterested authorities.

4. The position then is this, that there is not in Bengal any village agency for the collection of statistics of cropped areas such as exists in other provinces; that such statistics cannot be collected through the ordinary executive Revenue agency, nor through the Police. If, therefore, such statistics are to be collected at all, it follows that either an agency must be created and paid by Government for the purpose, or an obligation must be imposed on landholders to file returns in some public office showing approximately the areas sown under such crops as may be desired, Government supplying the staff necessary for the examination and compilation of such returns. But it may be said that forecasts of the area under wheat and other staple crops are prepared in the North-Western Provinces from information supplied by private landholders, and there would at first sight seem to be no reason why the same thing should not be done in Bengal. It may be remarked in reply that the normal area under each crop is known from the settlement and patwari's records in the North-Western Provinces. When therefore we are told that the area in any particular year is so many annas more or less than the normal area, a definite idea of area is conveyed, and figured estimates can thus be formed, but there being no field maps, survey records or returns of cropped areas in Bengal, the total area under cultivation is not known, much less is the normal area which is sown under any particular crop known. Therefore it is that information of a general character, such as is supplied by private zemindars in the North-Western Provinces, would not, if supplied in Bengal, afford the means of arriving at any conclusion as to the area under jute, rice, or any other crop at any particular time.

What can be done in the matter of ascertaining area sown under jute.

5. But though accurate statistics of the area under particular crop cannot be given, it does not follow that no information whatever can be furnished which may be of value to trade, and this leads to the consideration of what may be done in the matter of estimating the total area under jute. The total quantity of jute imported from the districts to Calcutta and Chittagong is registered and known. Adding to this quantity a certain percentage for the amount consumed in the interior, and deducting the quantity imported from Assam and Burmah, which is also known, the total quantity produced in these provinces year by year can be ascertained. Allowing fifteen and one-eighth* maunds to be the average outturn per acre, the total area grown under jute in each year can thus be ascertained with some approximation to truth. But the figures given can only be an approximation. They may be taken for what they are worth, and are of value to this extent, that they indicate whether the area grown in any year is more or less than the area for any other year.

In the way of forecasts.

6. Turning to the subject of forecasts, it may here be stated what can be done in this direction. It will be gathered from the preceding remarks that it is, in my opinion, totally impossible, as things now stand, to give anything like exact estimates of the areas cultivated with rice, jute, or other staple crops for every or any district in Bengal; but it does not appear that any such exact estimates are really required in the interests of persons concerned in these articles of trade. What merchants really want to have is early and trustworthy information from disinterested sources as to whether more or less than the normal area, whatever that normal area may be, is sown in each year, and knowing the area sown to be more or less than the normal, they desire to be informed whether the prospects of the crop at the various stages of its growth are better or worse than usual.

7. Having personally ascertained the views of the principal jute merchants in Naraingunge, and consulted the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the Council of the Agri-Horticultural Society regarding the possibility of furnishing information of this kind, and also on the point whether, when gathered, such information would be worth the labour involved in the collection of it, I am of opinion that there will not be much difficulty in collecting this kind of information and publishing to this extent forecasts of the prospects of the jute crop, it being always understood that all that can be ascertained and published is—first, roughly, whether more or less than the normal area is sown each year; if so, how many annas more or less; and secondly, whether the prospects of the crop at the different stages of its growth are better or worse than usual. If information of this kind is thought to be of value to the trade, as I am informed it is, then the arrangements suggested for the collection and publication of it, is, that the Commissioners of the principal divisions in which jute is grown, namely, of the Rajshahye, Dacca, Chittagong, Presidency and Bhagulpore Divisions, should be called upon to select those gentlemen—European and Native—in their several divisions who have the best means of giving the desired information for the various local areas in which the crop is extensively grown; that these gentlemen should report to Calcutta direct, or, if thought necessary, through the Commissioners of Divisions, both as to the area sown and the prospects of the crop between the time of sowing and reaping; that the information thus collected should be edited in this office in communication with the Chamber of Commerce and the Council of the Horticultural Society, and that it should then be published in the Calcutta Gazette, copies of the forecasts being supplied gratis to the reporters. As regards the rice crop, it has been suggested that forecasts might be prepared in a similar manner working through the agency of local unions, but the area covered under that crop is so vast, the organisation of local unions is as yet necessarily so far from being in complete working order, that any attempt to prepare forecasts of the rice crop through the agency of local unions seems to me to be premature.

Latest information available regarding quantity produced.

8. With reference to the requisition for the latest statistical information on the subject of area sown under jute, the figures worked out from the data and according to the method described in the preceding paragraphs will be found in the sequel.

The great bulk of the jute produced in Bengal is brought down to Calcutta by country boats, by steamer, and by railway. Of late years Chittagong has also begun to play an important part in the export trade, and considerable quantities of jute are now carried from the district direct to that port. Some jute is also taken to Bhuddessur in the Hooghly district, where a bazar exists which serves to meet the demands of the Calcutta market. There was no system of import traffic registration established in Calcutta before 1876-77, and there were no trustworthy data for even an approximate estimate of the total yield up to that year.

In 1876 an attempt to establish a system of traffic registration, internal and inter-provincial, was made under Sir Richard Temple's orders, but the attempt to register internal traffic was abandoned in 1878, when registration was limited to the imports into Calcutta, Chittagong and Orissa and Nuddea rivers and to the principal canals.

The river-borne and road traffic into Calcutta is registered by a cordon of stations round the town; the railway-borne traffic is registered by the Railway Companies, who supply the figures to the Bengal Office. The total quantity imported into Calcutta by all routes is therefore accurately known. The quantity carried to Chittagong and Bhuddessur is also registered and known. The imports to these three centres being known, and a percentage being added for consumption in the interior, the total outturn is ascertained with tolerable approach to accuracy.

The imports to Calcutta, Chittagong and Bhuddessur, ascertained in this way, are shown in the annexed statement:—

9. The imports being known, it remains to determine what quantity of jute is used for local consumption; by local consumption being meant (1) consumption in producing districts; (2) consumption in districts where jute is cultivated sparingly or is not grown at all; and (3) consumption of Bengal produced jute in districts outside the Lower Provinces. The extent of this local consumption has never been ascertained. The Jute Commission of 1872-73 were unable to furnish any statistics upon this subject. In paragraph 176 of their report (page 62) the following statement regarding the inter-district trade occurs:—

"The Commission has not been able to collect any satisfactory returns of the internal trade in jute. There is evidence enough to show that large quantities of the fibre pass from district to district for local consumption, for manufactures, and for despatch to other places, but no figured statements of the quantities which so circulate have come to hand.

* * * * * * * *

"No record has hitherto been kept of the extent and direction of the internal trade necessarily existing between districts which grow jute largely and districts which needing the fibre, grow it scantily, or do not grow it at all. There is, the Commission remarked, a strong trade jealousy which stands in the way of collecting information on the subject, and they regretted therefore their inability to submit any more detailed statement on the subject."

10. Broadly speaking, however, it will, it is believed, be within the mark to say that three-fourths of the jute produced annually in these provinces is exported, and one-fourth is left to meet demands of local consumption. If therefore to the total quantities imported, which have been given above, twenty-five per cent., be added, and a deduction be made for the quantity imported from Assam and Burmah, the total quantity produced in these provinces can be ascertained with some approximation to truth. Worked out from these data, the figures are as follows:—

Year.	Total imports into Calcutta, Bhuddessur and Chittagong from all sources.	Deduct supplies received from Assam, British Burmah and other Provinces.	Net imports from the Lower Provinces of Bengal.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.
1876-77	87,02,923	1,33,079	85,69,844
1877-78	1,07,03,173	1,51,876	1,05,51,297
1878-79	1,14,20,138	1,78,875	1,12,41,263

1884-85	1,51,15,940	1,85,518	1,49,30,422

* The quantity required for local consumption would vary according to the price, being larger when prices are low and smaller when prices are high; but it is hardly possible in an estimate of this kind to allow for such variations.
M. F.

11. Adding 25 per cent.* for local consumption in the districts, the total estimated production of raw jute for the whole province in each of those years will be as follows:—

Year.	Imports into Calcutta, Bhuddessur, and Chittagong from the Lower Provinces of Bengal.	Add 25 per cent. for local consumption.	Total estimated production of raw jute in Bengal.
	Mds.	Mds.	Mds.

1884-85	1,49,30,422	37,32,606	1,86,63,028

It will be seen that the average production for four years ending 1879-80 was 1,30,32,776 maunds, for four years ending 1883-84 it was 1,69,42,425 maunds, while in 1884-85 the yield was the largest since 1876-77, with the exception, however, of 1882-83, when the supply was unprecedentedly large.

Estimated area under jute worked out from their data.

12. The total area under jute cultivation in Bengal may now be estimated by a simple arithmetical process, allowing a certain number of maunds as the average outturn of an acre. Adopting the rate of outturn given by Baboo Hem Chunder Kerr in the report of the Jute Commission of 1873, namely, a little more than 15 maunds per acre, the result is as follows:—

Year.	Total estimated production of raw jute in Bengal.	Total area under jute cultivation calculated at the rate of five maunds per beegah.	Annual average of the four years ending 1879-80 and 1883-84.
			Outturn of jute.	Area under cultivation.

1884-85	1,86,63,028	1,233,913	.....	.....

13. In the calendar year 1872, the total area under jute, as set down in report of the Jute Commission (page 65), was 925,899 acres, and the total yield of jute 1,35,38,485 maunds; in 1873 the area aggregated 517,107 acres, and the total yield 77,56,105 maunds. These figures, however, include the area grown in Assam. Excluding Assam, the figures for the Lower Provinces stand thus:—

	Area under jute in acres.	Total yield of jute in maunds.
1872	908,225	1,33,03,303
1873	503,183	75,47,245

14. How these figures compare with the totals of the nine years, commencing from 1876-77, may be seen from the following statement :—

Year.		As compared with 1872.		As compared with 1873.
		Increase.	Decrease.	Increase.	Decrease.

	Yield of jute in maunds ...	53,59,725	.....	1,11,15,783	.....

The increase shown above in the area under cultivation during 1884-85 is worthy of notice. Compared with 1872, the increase in the total area sown was 35·86 per cent.

Mr. Field Wilson's estimate.

15. Mr. Field Wilson, of Naraingunge, than whom no body in Bengal has a more intimate knowledge of the jute trade, has favoured me with an estimate of the total yield of jute year by year since 1877-78. His estimate gives the number of bales of raw jute of 400lb each, exported year by year since 1877-78, to which he adds the quantity estimated to have been consumed in the jute mills in Bengal; but the estimate does not apparently take into account the local consumption of the jute in the interior. Making allowance for this omission, Mr. Field Wilson's figures, though it will be observed they are not based on the Custom House returns nor on the returns of import traffic registration stations, yet closely accord with the estimates above given, and afford confirmation of their substantial accuracy. The comparison stands thus :—

Year.	Total shipment of raw jute to all ports according to Mr. Wilson's estimate.		Total quantity of raw jute consumed in the jute mills in Bengal according to Mr. Wilson's figures.	Total of 2 and 3.	Add twenty-five per cent. for local consumption in the interior.	Total crop estimated according to Mr. Wilson's figures.	Total crop as estimated above by Statistical Department. If the annual average of the eight years ending 1884-85 be taken into consideration the difference between the two sets of figures is not considerable, the estimate worked out in this office from the data above described being only 3·97 per cent. less than that of Mr. Wilson.

16. The figures given in the preceding paragraphs relate to the estimated quantity produced, and the estimated area under cultivation for the entire province. It is impossible to distribute them over the producing districts separately with an approach to accuracy.

Although the results of the registration of the Calcutta and Chittagong traffic are tabulated according to districts and marts, the figures for each district represent the quantities shipped from the various marts in the district, which, of course, may or may not, and ordinarily is not, the quantity produced in that district. Therefore it is that it is impossible to give either the total quantity produced, or the area sown with jute in each separate district. All that can be done in the way of distributing the total quantity among the different districts is to give an estimate founded on individual opinion and the best information that could be obtained at the traffic stations regarding the localities in which the imported jute was produced which, as already remarked, is very imperfect. For this estimate no approach to accuracy can be claimed; it is put forward as being the best available for the purpose of inviting criticisms from local gentlemen whose opinions on the subject are valuable so far as their several districts are concerned, and must be understood to be nothing more than a guess.

17. Turning to the export trade, it is to be remarked as already stated that the exports from Calcutta to Foreign and Indian ports were registered in the Custom House before 1876, and that the Custom House returns were the only data on which, up to that time, an estimate of the quantity produced could be formed. The exports have continued to be registered since 1876. According to the Custom House returns the total exports of raw jute, gunny-bags and gunny-cloth to foreign ports from Calcutta since 1873-74* and from Chittagong since 1877-78 were as follow :—

18. During the period of five years, from 1873-74 to 1877-78, the average annual exportation of raw jute was 5,362,934 cwt, of gunny-bags 18,091,385 in number, and of gunny-cloth 3,789,724 yards; from 1878-79 to 1882-83 the average was 7,271,473 cwt. of raw jute, 50,269,287 bags and 3,913,513 yards of gunny-cloth. How these figures compare with the figures for the last two years may be seen from the statement below:—

19. The largest increase in the exports within the last 12 years occurred during the year 1882-83, when the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, wrote as follows:—

Jute, raw.—"The crop of jute in 1881-82 was a very large one, but last year's crop has exceeded it, by far a much greater area having been sown. This increase of supply has necessarily had a lowering effect upon prices, which fell steadily throughout the year. The exports too have in consequence of the large supply available greatly increased, and were about 33⅓ per cent. in excess of those of the previous year.

"These low prices reducing the cost at which jute fabrics could be produced, caused an increase in consumption, and the trade in Dundee generally has been satisfactory to all concerned. Extensions are being made in many mills, and old concerns that were standing idle have begun work again; paper-makers also are now using the commonest qualities of jute, and are likely to continue to do so if the present low prices are maintained."

Gunnies.—"The jute-mills in Bengal have had a most prosperous year. The crop of jute has been the largest ever known, and the prices the lowest yet reached, so that they have been able to produce at a very low cost, while at the same time there has been a large outturn of grain and wool in the countries that draw their supplies of gunny packing from Calcutta, and the requirements for the export trade of India itself have also been considerable."

In 1884-85 the exports were the largest on record next to 1882-83. The bulk of the year's crop was of inferior quality, while on the other hand there was an overproduction of gunnies in the local mills, which have suffered much loss thereby. On this point the Collector of Customs remarks as follows:—

Jute, raw.—"It was at one time anticipated that the crop would be quite as large as in the year 1882-83, which was the largest ever known, but in the end, though large, it was not up to the level of that year. The quality of the jute was not satisfactory, the bulk of the crop being very inferior.

"The jute trade in Dundee has not been in a flourishing condition in the past year, though the price of the raw material was fairly low during a considerable portion of it. As in Calcutta, a large increase in the outturn, due to additions made to mills already working, resulted in very low prices for both jute yarn and cloths; the supply of these exceeded the demand. The keen competition from Calcutta is no doubt being felt in markets that in former years were principally supplied by Dundee, and the competition of continued mills will also have had an adverse effect."

Gunny-cloth and bags.—"The exports of jute gunny-bags during last year were the largest since the trade began, being in advance of 1883-84, also a year of large exports, by 30¾ per cent.

"Under ordinary circumstances such a large development of any trade should indicate that the trade is in a prosperous condition, but this is very far from being the case in this instance. The increase in exports unfortunately represents overproduction; the outturn had some how to be disposed of, but it could not be disposed of profitably. The prosperous condition of the jute-manufacturing industry in 1882-83 brought about more mills and large increases in the producing capacity of those in existence, and the extra quantity of the manufactured article to be disposed of has accentuated the depression that began in 1883-84. The crop of jute last year, though large, did not reduce the cost of production sufficiently to ensure profits, for prices of bags also fell, with the result that nearly all the mills during the past year have been working at a loss, and in one case the company has gone into liquidation.

"Efforts have been made to arrange to work the mills short time, but for want of unanimity this arrangement, I understand, could not be carried out. A smaller production would probably result in higher prices, and might lower the price of raw jute, and both these things would, of course, be of advantage to the mills; but it should not be forgotten that the cost of the manufactured article would thereby be raised, the tendency of which would be to check consumption and place Calcutta at a disadvantage in competing with Dundee. The alternative course to which the force of circumstances has led appears to be to go on producing up to the capacity of the mills, and so spread the fixed expenses which must be met over the largest production possible; but this leads to heavy losses, and it so becomes a question of a mill being strong enough to hold out until the depression of trade which is general all over the world has passed away, when jute manufactures will no doubt again rise in value."

21. The following remarks regarding the condition of the crop in recent years, which have been extracted from the Commissioners' divisional reports, may be of interest to those concerned in the trade:—

Dacca Division.

1882-83.—"The season's crop was an abundant one, and the area under cultivation was greater than in the previous year. Owing to this largely increased cultivation, there was somewhat of a glut in the market, which, combined with the somewhat inferior quality of the fibre produced during the year, caused a falling off in prices. In Dacca prices fell from Rs. 3 and upwards to Rs. 2-2 and Rs. 2-8, and in Furreedpore from Rs. 2-4 to Rs. 1-8, and eventually to 12 annas per maund. In Daccaa large quantity had to be kept in stock unsold on the chance of better prices being hereafter obtained. The Collector of Mymensing does not state the extent of the falling off in the prices of his district, but there can be no doubt that the market was much affected by the excess of the supply over the demand.

"The Collector of Mymensing writes—'the growers of jute have not done so well during the year under review as in preceding years on account of there being a glut in the market, but I believe it is now looking up. The jute cultivators have been generally considered to be the most prosperous class among the rural population of this district, but they suffered considerably last year from the falling off in the price, caused by the turning out of an unprecedentedly large crop of jute, and the supply being consequently in excess of demand of the trader.'

"From what I hear, and have observed, I am led to believe that a very much smaller area will be brought under cultivation during the present year. The cultivators have been disgusted by the low prices prevailing, and say it is better to grow rice, which pays nearly as well, and does not give half the trouble that jute does, with its steeping, peeling, drying, and many other processes before the fibre is fit for the market."

1883-84.—"The jute crop was everywhere below the average both in quality and quantity, the result of an unfavourable season and of a smaller cultivation of the plant. In Dacca it was at most an 8-anna crop, and in Furreedpore the outturn also was not much more than half the average. In Mymensing it was considerably below that of the previous year."

1884-85.—"There was a very good jute crop in Dacca, Furreedpore and Mymensing. None is grown in Backergunge. Owing to the abundant crop grown during the year, prices in the division fell from Rs. 4-12 to Rs. 2-8 a maund. There was no alteration in the course of the trade; most of the jute was exported to Chittagong by sloops and schooners, and to Calcutta by the Eastern Bengal State Railway, by inland steamers, and by country boats. The trade is in a flourishing condition. There are several jute mills at work at Naraingunge and one at Dacca."

RAJSHAHYE DIVISION.

1882-83.—"Jute turned out a bumper crop in Dinagepore, Bogra, Rungpore and Julpigoree, and a good harvest in Rajshahye and Pubna, but a poor one in the Terai. Much, however, of the jute in Dinagepore was lost for want of water for steeping. The cultivation of jute was extended in Rajshahye. It is reported from Pubna that its cultivation was very extensive—probably greater than in any former year—the ryots having been induced to sow it largely by the high prices realized for fibre during the two previous years. It is said that probably the rice produced in the sub-division of Serajgunge was insufficient for the consumption of the people on account of the large area under jute; but this was immaterial, as rice is always imported there from the districts of Bogra and Dinagepore.

"The price of jute fell everywhere owing to abundance of supply, with the result, it is said, that the ryots obtained little profit from the abundant harvest. At the same time the crop was so large that it is difficult to believe that the general result was unsatisfactory to the cultivators."

1883-84. Dinagepore.—"The outturn of this crop was good during the year under report, and a large quantity of it was mainly exported to Calcutta by the Northern Bengal State Railway. The jute trade is being developed year by year, solely on account of the facilities for export given by the Northern Bengal State Railway. A large influx of itinerant traders come into the district in October and November of each year, when the harvesting of jute goes on. These merchants make large purchases. The local traders, too, buy as much as they can get hold of, and thus there is always a competition in the market, much to the advantage of the growers. The jute market was very favourable to the cultivators during the year under review. The average selling price of a maund of jute was over Rs. 3."

Rajshahye.—"The outturn of jute was about three-fourths of the average, and less land was cultivated. Jute is extensively cultivated in Nowgong, and exported chiefly from Atrai station (1,98,312 maunds) by railway."

Bogra.—"Jute, which stands next in order of importance to rice, is grown chiefly in the eastern part of the district, i.e., the tract lying on the eastern bank of the Karotya. The outturn was on the whole satisfactory. The principal centres of this trade are Chandaikona, Sherepore, Pechibari, Goshainbari, Ellangi, Mourerchur, Mathurapara, Hashraj, Sonatola, Sai gunge, Hili, Joypore and Sonamukhi. From Hili and other places close to the Northern Bengal State Railway jute is exported by railway. From Mourerchur on the Daokoha, from Mathurapore on the Belai, from Sonatola, Hashraj, and other places on the Bengal, and from Chandaikona on the Phuljore rivers, it is exported to Serajgunge by boat, and from there it is ultimately sent to Calcutta vid Goalundo by the Eastern Bengal Railway. About 1,50,000 maunds of jute were exported from this district. The price of jute during the year varied from Rs. 3 to Rs. 3-2 according to quality."

Rungpore.—"The trade in jute was briskly carried on by Burmese and up-countrymen, but no statistics as to the extent of export was collected. The low price obtained for jute during the previous year led to much less being grown during the year under report, but all the land that was sown with it yielded an excellent crop both in quantity and quality. The price of jute varied from Rs. 2-8 to Rs. 3-4 per maund."

Pubna.—"The jute sowings were limited on account of low price of jute in the previous year, and the consequence is said to have been that the price of jute rose considerably; in the course of the year the dealers, however, and not the ryots, reaping most of the profits, as the latter had sold the better part of their produce early. The most important jute market after Serajgunge is Bera, at the junction of Ooorasagur, Burral, and Ichamutty. The estimated export of jute from Bera in 1883-84 is 4,50,000 maunds. There is no other place of importance, but jute is stored at many places along the Ooorasagur, Phuljore, Burral and Pudma rivers, from whence it is taken by country boats to Goalundo or Calcutta. The prices of the year varied from Rs. 3 to Rs. 6 the maund. The employment given by this trade at various places where jute is collected attracts a great number of labourers, who can earn as much as 10 to 12 annas a day."

Julpigoree.—"The jute trade must have been affected by partial failure of the crops, and that there was a high demand is apparent from the fact that jute had reached the unprecedented price of Rs. 7 and Rs. 8 a maund at the close of the year. The area under cultivation was quite equal to, if not greater than, that of the previous year."

1884-85.—"The trade in jute flourished in the division notwithstanding the deficient rainfall of the year. In addition to a good crop in some of the producing districts, the traders, it is said, had kept in reserve a large stock of the previous year's produce in expectation of high prices, and the demand in Calcutta having risen, an impetus was given to the business.

"From the railway stations in Dinagepore 70,633 maunds were sent, while the produce of the northern tract, where jute is the principal crop, found its way to Domer and Haldibari stations for export. The Darwani station also attracted some portion of the traffic. The quantity exported from these stations is stated to have been 3,65,049 maunds, but it presumably includes a good portion of the Rungpore jute.

"In Rajshahye, where less jute is grown than in some other districts, the chief centre of the trade is Nowgong, whence 2,31,650 maunds were exported by rail to Calcutta, and about 16,000 maunds from elsewhere.

"At Serajgunge there was depression in the trade, for which no sufficient reason has been furnished by the Collector. A portion of the traffic may, however, have been diverted to Bera—a rising place conveniently situated at the junction of the Oroasigur, the Burial, and the Ichamutty. The goods from these places are taken by boats or steamers to Goalundo or to Calcutta direct.

"The trade in Bogra seems to have developed during the year beyond expectation: 1,43,960 maunds, or nearly the whole estimated export of the previous year, were carried by railway from the northern part of the district, while the whole produce of the eastern part was borne by water to Goalundo.

"In Rungpore there was also improvement, though the degree of it cannot be ascertained from what the Collector says on the subject.

"The Julpigoree jute seems to be regarded as better in quality than that produced in the southern districts, and this has no doubt contributed to the development of the trade, which is chiefly rail-borne.

"About 40,000 maunds of jute appear to have been exported from Darjeeling during the year."

22. The fluctuations in the price of raw jute since 1876-77 have been as follows:—

Year.	Average wholesale price in 12 selected districts in Bengal.	Average declared value as per Custom House returns.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
1876-77	3 0 0	4 4 0
1877 78	3 0 0	4 12 0
1878-79	4 0 0	4 10 0
1879-80	4 10 0	4 13 0
1880-81	4 8 0	4 14 0
1881-82	4 8 0	4 14 0
1882-83	3 8 0	4 1 0
1883-84	3 12 0	4 12 0
1884-85	3 4 0	4 1 0

	1872.		1873.
	From	To	From	To
	Rs A.	Rs A.	Rs. A.	Rs. A.
Uttaryia	4 0	6 4	2 8	4 0
Deswal	3 8	4 0	1 14	3 0
Desi	3 0	3 12	2 0	2 8
Deora	2 0	3 0	1 2	1 8
Narainganji	3 0	4 8	2 0	3 8
Bakrabadi	3 0	3 8	1 14	2 10
Jangipuri	2 12	3 4	2 0	2 8

23. The average price per maund of all sorts therefore was Rs. 3-8 in 1872 and Rs. 2-5 in 1873. The prices quoted by the Deputy Commissioner of Police for the purposes of trade statistics since 1880-81 are as follows:—

	Per maund.
	Rs. A. P.
1880-81	4 13 7
1881-82	4 8 0
1882-83	2 14 6
1883-84	4 0 0
1884-85	3 7 0

24. The principal jute-producing districts may, for the purposes of preparation of forecasts, be conveniently divided into three blocks as follows:—

Block I.—Comprising districts of North Bengal, namely—

1. Dinagepore.
2. Rajshahye.
3. Rungpore.
4. Bogra.
5. Pubna.
6. Julpigoree.
7. Cooch Behar.
8. Purneah.
9. Maldah.

Block II.—Comprising districts of East Bengal, namely—

1. Dacca.
2. Furreedpore.
3. Backergunge.
4. Mymensingh.
5. Tipperah.

Block III.—Comprising districts of Central and Western Bengal, namely—

1. Burdwan.
2. Hooghly.
3. 24-Pergunnahs.
4. Nuddea.
5. Jessore.
6. Khoolna.
7. Moorshedabad.
